INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF TEAMSTERS

AFL-CIO

OFFICE OF
JAMES P. HOFFA
GENERAL PRESIDENT

September 30, 2002

The Honorable Paul Sarbanes
Chairman

The Honorable Michael Oxley
Chairman
House Committee on Financial Services
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Chairmen Sarbanes and Oxley:

As the 107th Congress enters into its last few legislative days, we remain concerned that the Congress has yet to finish its business: passing much needed Terrorism Insurance legislation.

The legislation now being considered in conference is critical to getting the U.S. economy moving. The lack of terrorism insurance is having a profound consequence on job creation and economic growth. Nearly $16 billion in real estate transactions have been cancelled or delayed due to the lack of availability of terrorism insurance. Over 300,000 jobs in the construction industry have been lost or delayed. This situation cannot and must not continue.

In addition, we urge you to support the provision that protects innocent victims of terrorism from punitive damages. Punitive damages are designed to punish wrongdoers, not the innocent victims of a terrorist attack.

REV_00266255

For the sake of the U.S. economy and the prosperity of American workers, the Congress must reconcile the differences between the House and the Senate bills, and pass this legislation prior to its October adjournment.

Sincerely,

James P. Hoffa
General President

Dear Chairmen Sarbanes and Oxley:

On behalf of the 400,000 members of the International Union of Operating Engineers (IUOE), I write to urge continued effort by the House and Senate Conferees to reach conclusion on the Terrorism Insurance legislation.

Billions of dollars worth of commercial construction cannot proceed because of a lack of appropriate insurance coverage. Several hundred thousand jobs in the construction industry have been lost or postponed because of the uncertainty of this issue. Approximately $15 billion in real estate transactions have been placed in jeopardy by a lack of coverage.

Given the implications for the U.S. economy and the work opportunities for IUOE members and other construction workers, I strongly urge you to conclude negotiations over differences in the House and Senate bills, and pass this legislation before Congressional adjournment in October.

Sincerely,

Frank Hanley

Agriculture: The Heart of the Economy

"Agriculture is not just one industry among many. It is the heart of our economy. And it symbolizes some of the best and finest things about our nation: independence, hard work, risk-taking and sacrifice."

George W. Bush, September 1, 1999
Dallas Center, Iowa

I. Introduction

A. Summary

The President campaigned on major agricultural themes that included expanding the use of risk-management tools, opening new markets for U.S. agriculture and promoting free trade, eliminating the estate tax, advancing alternative use of agricultural products like ethanol and continuing reform of agriculture toward market-driven production. During the first two years of the Bush presidency, there has been real progress in all of these areas.

Agriculture Policy Principles

The Administration has worked to refocus the federal government's role in ensuring long-term prosperity of the U.S. agriculture sector. While working to ensure an ongoing safety net for farmers, the Administration has pursued policies that are predicated on the belief that markets better guide producer's operating and investment decisions, not artificial targets set by government programs. To this end, the President established the following core farm policy principles:

- Providing a safety net. Farm policy needs to be generous but affordable. It needs to offer a reliable safety net, while providing stable, predictable funding inside the boundaries of the Budget.
- Market oriented. Farm policy should result in minimal interference by farm programs on market forces, recognizing that poorly designed programs can stimulate overproduction and reduce prices.
- Enhancing conservation. Recognizing the unique role played by our nation's farmers and ranchers in safeguarding and enhancing the environment, farm policy should assist producers by providing incentives for better environmental practices – particularly on working lands.
- Expanding markets abroad. The Administration is pursuing the long-term work of opening foreign markets to U.S. agricultural exports through international trade negotiations. Farm policy needs to be trade-

(D.1) TARGET FARM SUBSIDIES TO LESS WEALTHY FARMERS

I. Description of Specific Initiative

Seek legislation to tighten the eligibility requirements for receiving USDA farm payments by means testing. A relatively generous version would be to restrict subsidy payments to individuals having off-farm income below $150,000. Applicants for farm subsidies would be required to self-certify at an USDA county office their eligibility and IRS taxpayer number. The proposal would not affect the size of the payment for those who are eligible.

II. Proposed Message/Theme

The 2002 farm bill is widely criticized as providing too much taxpayer money to rich people and corporations. The proposal would:

- Help to strengthen the rural community by restoring credibility and consolidating support for farm programs by targeting farm payments to real working farm families;
- Show a new kind of Republican by helping to dispel the popular impression that the Administration's reflexive sympathy is with the wealthy; rather, we'd favor results in federal programs rather than support "welfare" for the rich;
- Show the Administration keeping its word, after having taken public positions in favor of fairer treatment of farm payments

III. Anticipated Reaction

Non-farm interests, including the major editorial boards and conservative policy groups, will applaud the tightened limitations. A surprising extent of rural communities also will support it. Farm groups positions will vary by commodity and region but the American Farm Bureau will strongly oppose. Generally, southern growers of rice and cotton represented by Chairman Larry Combest will oppose it. During the farm bill deliberations, the Senate passed restrictive payment limitations proposed by Sen. Grassley that were loosened in the conference bill. The attached map shows USDA estimates of the impact from the restrictive Grassley legislation.

IV. Budget

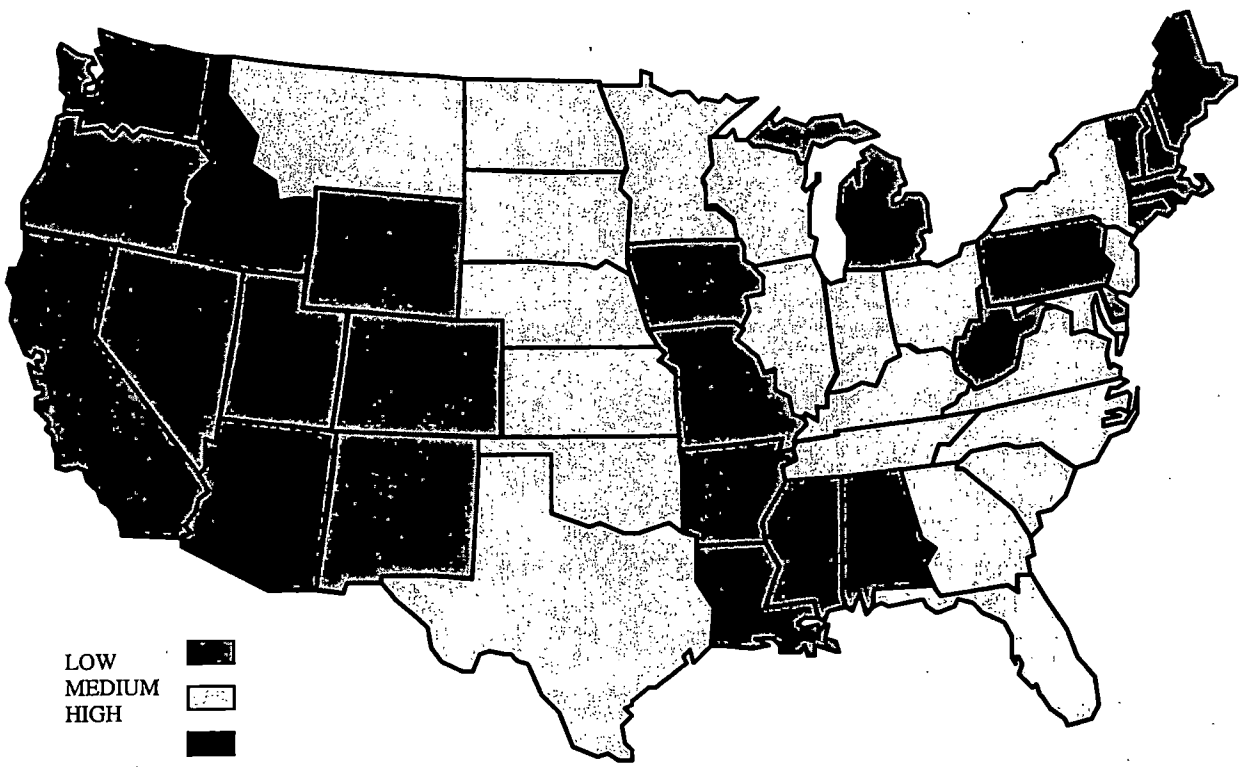
Estimated savings are about $100 million annually.

REV_00266269

Projected Effects of Proposed Grassley Payment Limits



REV_00266270

(D.2) AUTHORIZE ASSOCIATION HEALTH PLANS FOR FARMERS

I. Description of Specific Initiative

Association Health Plans (AHP) would enable more farmers to obtain quality health insurance. While commodity prices and market income for farmers has fallen in recent years, farm operating costs and health coverage costs are rising well above the general inflation rate. This has caused many farmers to buy inadequate or no health insurance, even while farming remains among the most dangerous occupations. Expanding AHPs through legislation to form larger pools of participants, for instance farmers from multiple states, would reduce premiums

II. Proposed Message/Theme

The President improved farmers' economic security by boosting their income with the 2002 farm bill. We can now reinforce farm income and rural economic security by reducing family expenditures for health care. The proposal would:

- Help to strengthen the rural community by building strong families through affordable, quality medical coverage.
- Display a market-based approach to a social problem.
- Show a new kind of Republican that cares about people needing solutions to problems in what is often perceived as a Democrat topic.

III. Anticipated Reaction

Positive all around. Many farm groups favor AHP proposals, but their preoccupation with the 2002 farm bill has delayed their promoting of the plans.

IV. Budget

This regulatory reform legislation is budget neutral.

V. Description of Related Proposals.

Link to Medical Savings Accounts

REV_00266271

(D.3) STRENGTHEN FINANCES FOR FARMERS AND RANCHERS

I. Description of Specific Initiative

Farm And Ranch Risk Management accounts (FARRM) would provide producers a tool to improve their self-managing of their own finances. FARRM accounts would allow producers to sequester 20% of annual income tax-deferred, for use in emergencies under certain conditions. Accounts would be available to all producers including ranchers, and not simply farmers of the traditional subsidized field crops.

II. Proposed Message/Theme

The Administration fought with limited success in the 2002 farm bill for a safety net for all producers and market approaches to farm income. Since the President signed the bill, critics have called for greater market-orientation, and at the same time, a wider income safety net to help producers with the drought. FARRM accounts do both. The proposal would:

- Help to strengthen the rural community by improving the management of financial risk.
- Show the President keeping his word on a campaign item, a central farm bill position, as well as his recent comments in the drought that ranchers lack sufficient risk management tools.
- Reinforce the message that the Administration had an important proposal, market-oriented and compassionate, and an enduring interest in America's producers,
- Continue the Administration's tax relief theme, offered with fairness to all producers.

III. Anticipated Reaction.

Positive and bipartisan. Sens. Grassley and Baucus proposed a version in 2001. In its most modest form (deferred tax on owner contributions with mandatory withdrawal schedule), it is unlikely to raise major objection. Enhanced versions, which would hold more financial benefit to producers, would likely provoke objections.

IV. Budget

Treasury estimates lost annual tax revenue to average about $100 million.

REV_00266272

(D.4) PROMOTE HEALTHY SCHOOL FEEDING

I. Description of Specific Initiative

The increasing incidence of obesity and adult diseases in school-age children calls for new Federal efforts to promote healthy eating in schools. The legislative initiative would include educating students about healthy food choices, incentives and demonstration projects, and new federal requirements to reduce access to high-fat, high-calorie foods—inside and outside the school meals program

II. Proposed Message/Theme

Problems of child nutrition are receiving a great deal of attention from the Administration, media, Congress, health professionals and school districts. Administration leadership is wanted. The initiative would:

- Demonstrate compassionate Republicans;
- Focus on solutions that allow flexibility and choice at the local level through promoting a health school environment rather than simply restrictions;
- Shows the Administration keeping its word by following through on the Presidential initiative "HealthierUS", the Surgeon General's "Call to Action to Prevent and Decrease Overweight and Obesity", and "Healthy People 2010".

III. Anticipated Reaction

Likely to receive support from health professional, local community advocates and parents. While the initiative would support efforts in States and local school districts that are acting on concerns (including Texas, California, Connecticut, and New York), the education community's reaction probably would be mixed. Some local administrators might resist the loss of revenue to schools selling junk food, especially sodas. Likely opponents include the junk food industry, and some school districts and school food service providers. Could receive considerable support in Congress, since both houses are considering legislation related to obesity and health

IV. Budget

The initiative can be conducted within existing budget resources.

REV_00266273

(D.5) RURAL REVITALIZATION

I. Description of Specific Initiative

Create a 21st Century Rural Capital initiative. It would consist of a new rural focus for SBA's LowDoc loan program and improvements in USDA credit programs as well as links to new Farm Bill programs promoting rural enterprise. The aim would be to increase availability of credit, projects, and business leaders. As a model, the LowDoc maximum loan amount would increase from $150,000 to $250,000. This action will allow the banks to make more loans, with reduced paperwork and rapid execution. Rural banks could charge a higher rate, offer a revolving line of credit, and provide 75%/85% guarantee.

II. Proposed Message/Theme

The needs of rural America's people, communities, and regions are increasingly distinct from those of traditional production agriculture. In the aftermath of a Farm Bill oriented towards land-based programs, the Administration can show its awareness of the aspirations of 65 million rural Americans who are not farmers or ranchers, many of whom are minorities. The initiative can go beyond providing government services to encouraging economic development based on the unique attributes of rural life. The proposal would:

- Help to strengthen rural communities, by promoting ownership and creating jobs.
- Build new coalitions, especially with Hispanic Americans.
- Focus on results.

III. Anticipated Reaction

Favorable. This area has been neglected.

IV. Budget

The initiative can be conducted within existing budget resources.

REV_00266274

(D.6) AGRICULTURE ANTI-DISCRIMINATION PROPOSAL

I. Description of Specific Initiative

Seek legislation to reform the Department of Agriculture to eliminate discrimination from the Department's programs and activities. Specifically, the legislation, if enacted, would accomplish the following:

1) improve technical assistance given by the Secretary to minority farmers
2) ensure fair and timely action by the Secretary on loan and loan servicing of applications of minority farmers
3) encourage the Secretary to develop more effective means of providing diversity training to employees, and
4) encourage the Secretary to resolve pending administrative claims arising within the programs at USDA.

V. Proposed Message/Theme

This proposal fits the theme of a "new kind of Republican." The Administration has inherited this seemingly intractable problem from the previous Administration. In Congress' haste to fashion a legislative fix, the consent decree known as the Pigford class has continued to languish and is perceived to be perpetuated by USDA and the Administration. In solving this problem, the Administration will bolster efforts to reach out to non-traditional Republican constituencies.

VI. Anticipated Reaction

While, the Farm Bill created a position of Assistant Secretary of Civil Rights at USDA, none of the usual groups in the Congress have shown leadership. House/Senate Agriculture Committees are expected to respond favorably. Congressional Black Caucus' reaction will be muted praise. National organizations such as the Black Farmers and Agriculturalist Association (BFAA) will applaud such an action.

VII. Budget

Estimate most of the cost can be covered through existing resources.

REV_00266275

friendly; and, its provisions should reinforce rather than undermine U.S. free trade leadership in the world.

The President's agenda for U.S. Agriculture has two parts: 1) the successful negotiation and implementation of the Farm Bill and 2) the opening of new markets for agricultural products.

Farm Bill Implementation. The President signed the Farm Security and Rural Investment Act of 2002 (Farm Bill) governing farm programs through 2007. The Farm Bill will spend $180 billion over ten years. By far, the major event in agriculture policy in this past year was the Farm Bill. After several years of low commodity prices, farmers have been looking to Washington for aid. Producers judge the President's farm policy almost exclusively by its effectiveness in delivering financial assistance. Secretary Veneman is implementing the Farm Bill to meet this standard. USDA is rapidly implementing the following programs:

- Sign up for several farm bill and disaster assistance programs (i.e. the $752 Livestock Compensation Program) have begun and checks are already being mailed. This also includes the implementation of the option for producers to update historical average bases and crop yields.
- Sign-up for the new Dairy Program (the Milk Income Loss Contract Program) is underway.
- Marketing allotments for the Sugar Program announced.
- 2002 national crop loan rates announced
- Peanut program overhaul and buyout.
- Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) payments of nearly $1.6 billion commence.

The major items of Farm Bill implementation will be completed by the beginning of 2003, with the exception of the conservation title. This leaves pursuit of new markets and enactment of the President's trade agenda as the primary focus of U.S. agriculture policy going forward. This position is enhanced by the achievement of Trade Promotion Authority.

Trade. The future of American agriculture is trade. Ninety-six percent of the U.S. potential customers for agricultural products are outside the United States. In addition, over twenty-five percent of U.S. farm income is generated by exports. U.S. producers export fifty percent of the wheat they grow, nearly forty percent of all cotton, and one third of soybeans. As the President said when he signed the Farm Bill, "Americans cannot eat all that American farmers and ranchers produce...access to foreign markets is crucial to the livelihood of our farmers and ranchers."

Pursuit of a broad agenda of agricultural trade liberalization will be a high priority for this Administration, including but not limited to, our multilateral World Trade Organization (WTO) negotiations and regional (FTAA/ Central America) and bilateral (Chile etc.) free trade initiatives. This multifaceted approach is necessary to address the existing trade distorting practices impacting U.S. exports and world trade -- not all of which can be adequately disciplined in Free Trade Agreements. Domestic support and export subsidies are examples requiring a multilateral solution.

Future Policy Opportunities

With the signing and implementation of the Farm Bill, the President continues to address the primary concern of America's producers -- their economic well being. Having fought effectively for farmers' interests in the conventional area of farm income, the Administration should pursue the President's long-term agenda for agriculture -- trade. Farmers and other rural Americans will look to the Administration for assurance of the future prosperity of the agricultural sector. The Administration efforts to address this need must go beyond traditional programs and government payments. The initiatives presented are meant to demonstrate the President's leadership in broad aspects of rural American life, ranging from health to finance. Additionally, this vision can be reinforced in the year ahead by policy actions in such areas as rural development and civil rights.

B. Participation

NEC staff developed these proposals. USDA Undersecretary Bost played a substantial role in developing the initiative relating to child nutrition. NEC staff also consulted with Undersecretary Penn in developing this document. Secretary Veneman will be briefed prior to the policy review.

II. Looking Back: Review of '01 and '02

A. Achievements

H.R. 2646: The Farm Security and Rural Investment Act of 2002

REV_00266262

- The Farm Bill re-authorized for six years federal agriculture, rural development and conservation and food assistance programs. The Senate adopted the bill on Wednesday, May 8 by a vote of 64 – 35, and the House completed action one week prior on May 2, with a vote of 280 – 141 to approve the bill.
- The Farm Bill improves the safety net for producers while adhering to the principles established by the President including being fiscally responsible, better balancing loan rates, adhering to U.S. commitments to the WTO and greater spending on conservation programs.
- The Farm Bill preserves the main market-oriented features of the '96 Freedom to Farm Act, including planting flexibility, no forced idling of cropland, no government stockpiling of crops, and price responsive payment programs.

Meeting the President's Principles:

- Budget. H.R. 2646 achieves fiscal responsibility because it does not exceed the limits of the Congressional Budget Resolution.
- Balances Loan Rates. H.R. 2646 provides a safety net for farmers and achieves it without encouraging overproduction and depressing prices. In the past, loan rates received by farmers and ranchers for some commodities were set too high. This bill better balances loan rates.
- Trade. The Administration worked to ensure that spending remains within the limits of our WTO agreements. H.R. 2646 contains a newly legislated "circuit breaker" to ensure our compliance with current and future international trade commitments. Recent estimates of farm payments should be well within WTO limits as a result of higher prices caused by the drought.
- Conservation. The legislation represents the single most significant commitment of resources toward conservation on private lands in the nation's history. The Administration argued for an additional $17.1 billion of funding to address a broad range of conservation challenges faced by farmers and ranchers, including soil erosion, wetlands, wildlife habitat, and farmland protection.
- An increase of nearly 10%, to 39.2 million acres, for the Conservation Reserve Program – idling environmentally critical land for species habitat, riparian buffers and soil protection.
- An additional 1.25 million acres of wetlands to be enrolled in the Wetlands Reserve Program. Wetland acreage the size of the state of Delaware will be restored and protected as a result of this Farm Bill. The amount of wetland protection provided by the Farm Bill will ensure that the Administration achieves or exceeds the goal of no net-loss wetlands.

- A new Grassland Reserve program will restore, improve, and protect 2 million acres of grassland, one of our nation's most fragile ecosystems.
- $597 million is committed toward preserving open space and protecting prime farmland from urban sprawl. This funding is provided through the Farmland Protection Program, which partners with state, and locally led efforts to preserve farms and ranches.
- Provides $200 million for a newly established forest conservation program on private lands.
- Provides $50 million in assistance for farmers and ranchers in the drought-stricken Klamath Basin.
- Food Stamps. This Farm Bill is compassionate as it allows legal immigrants residing the U.S. for 5 years the ability to be eligible for food stamp assistance.

$5.5 billion 2001 Agricultural Supplemental Assistance Package

- The Senate adopted a $7.5 billion supplemental assistance package for 2001 that would have severely endangered farmers' ability to actually receive assistance as well provide it in a fiscally irresponsible manner.
- By holding the package to $5.5 billion, the Administration achieved the desired balance of sufficient aid to producers and quick action that allowed funding to be fully distributed by the close of the 2001 fiscal year.
- The supplemental assistance represented a bi-partisan compromise and was supported by many national farm groups.

Launching A New Trade Round at Doha

On July 25, 2002, The U.S. Government announced an ambitious proposal to advance the agriculture negotiations in the Doha trade round. The proposal accomplishes the following:

- Requires all WTO members to reduce tariffs using a formula that would demand greater reductions for countries with higher tariffs than from countries with lower tariffs. Under this proposal, average agricultural tariffs would be reduced from 62 percent to 15 percent.

REV_00266264

- Caps trade distorting domestic supports at 5 percent of a country's total agricultural production. This would result in a global reduction in trade distorting supports of $100 billion.
- Eliminates export subsidies over a five-year period. The EU spends between $2-5 billion annually on export subsidies while the U.S. spends between $15-100 million annually.

Fiscally Responsible Drought Relief

- Following Congress' failure to pass fiscally responsible drought relief, the Administration responded with a generous but responsible livestock assistance program totaling $150 million. This program provided drought-stricken ranchers with access to low cost feed supplies.
- The Administration recently announced the creation of a new $752 million Livestock Compensation Program which will help mitigate the effects of the drought to livestock producers in 39 states.
- To date, the Administration has provided drought relief valued in excess of $1.3 billion. All drought relief has been delivered through existing USDA authorities and resources.

Biotechnology

The Administration established an Agricultural Biotechnology Working Group (ABWG) on a PCC level directed by the NEC to better coordinate regulatory issues associated with agricultural biotechnology products. The ABWG is comprised of representatives of USDA, EPA, FDA, Commerce, State and various offices of the EOP. The work of the ABWG has resulted in the following positive developments:

- StarLink. The Administration has aggressively and successfully addressed the issue of Cry9C protein from StarLink corn, which was not approved for food use, being detected at low levels in corn based food products, seeds, and grain destined for export. This involved a coordinated approach by FDA, USDA, and EPA.
- Plant Incorporated Protectants (PIP) Rule. EPA finalized the PIP rule, which governs how developers of biotechnology-derived crops that express pesticidal properties will be regulated and licensed under the Federal Fungicide, Insecticide, and Rodenticide Act and the Federal Food Drug and Cosmetic Act.
- Adventitious Presence Policy (OSTP FR notice). Under the direction of the ABWG, OSTP published in the Federal Register a set of proposals to address concerns associated with the presence of low levels of biotechnology products that have not completed all regulatory reviews.

- Marketing Proposals. The USDA published in the Federal Register proposals to facilitate commerce of biotechnology derived crops. These proposals included procedures to ensure identity preservation and testing.
- PharmaPlant Guidance. FDA and APHIS published draft guidance on regulatory matters concerning the testing and commercialization of pharmaceuticals derived from genetically engineered plants.
- APHIS Biotechnology Reorganization. To meet future demands, the USDA has centralized the biotechnology regulatory functions within APHIS. This will allow for a more coordinated approach, drawing on the very best science and public input to guide their programs.

B. Outstanding Commitments

Energy

- The Renewable Fuel Standard, which will result in 5 billion gallons in ethanol use by 2012, will be part of a final energy bill, if one is enacted.

Estate Taxes

- While Congress enacted the Administration sponsored Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001, the permanent repeal of the estate tax remains an important political issue for farmers and ranchers.

Farm Savings Accounts

- While the Administration supported Farm Savings Accounts throughout the Farm Bill negotiations, Senate Democrats kept them out of the final Conference agreement.

Trade

- The Administration expects to conclude free trade agreements with Central America, Chile, and Morocco that will be important to US agriculture. Export prospects in Central American and Morocco are good for US wheat, feed grains, and soybeans.

III. Looking Forward: '03 Agenda

REV_00266266

A. General Background

- The agricultural economy enters 2003 fundamentally strong, with low interest rates, moderate energy prices, manageable debt burden, and steady demand for farm products. However, farm income from market sources remains flat, with the prospect of modest improvement in 2003.
- Following four years of low commodity prices, the current drought has reduced this year's farm output significantly. Producers continue to rely heavily on federal payments, including offsets to drought losses this year.
- The weaker dollar and poor harvests abroad will help to boost demand for U.S. production in the months ahead. In the interim, U.S. farmers and ranchers increasingly look to Washington for their economic well being.

B. Legislative

- The Congress will debate reauthorization of the $10 billion child nutrition/school lunch program.
- The Congress will need to complete work on an Agriculture Appropriations Bill.
- Outstanding debate of the transfer of APHIS as well as Plum Island Laboratory to the Department of Homeland Security.

C. Regulatory

Confined Animal Feeding Operations (CAFO)

- The EPA has been working on new regulations to control discharges from livestock feeding operations. These highly controversial regulations are due to be published in mid-December.

Total Management Daily Load (TMDL)

- The EPA is also working on controversial regulations that would expand its regulatory authority – under the Clean Water Act of 1972 -- to govern non-point sources, such as agricultural runoff by individual farms, known as TMDL. A final rule is expected in mid to late 2003, but a decision to rescind a Clinton Administration rule could come as early as late November. EPA has been working with CEQ and OMB on this issue.

Implementation: Farm Bill Conservation Title

- The U.S. Department of Agriculture will propose regulations to implement the conservation title of the Farm Bill. These regulations will implement programs that will convert farmland to conservation uses, restore wetlands, and preserve prime farmland from urban sprawl. In addition, these regulations will result in significantly greater funding for the EQIP program that will help farmers comply with the aforementioned CAFO and TMDL regulations.

- The implementation of the conservation title will provide public opportunities for the Administration to bolster its pro-environment record, but in a manner also supported by farmers and ranchers.

Food Safety Initiative

- The U.S. Department of Agriculture will propose tough new standards for pathogens in many meat and poultry products.

D. Proposed New Policy

1) Payment Limits
2) Health Care for Farmers
3) Farm Saving Accounts
4) Child Nutrition Initiative
5) Rural Revitalization
6) Agriculture Anti-Discrimination Proposal

Mr. Karl Rove
Senior Advisor to the President
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Rove:

The International Mass Retail Association (IMRA) issued a press statement earlier this afternoon commending President Bush for his leadership in taking action that re-opened the West Coast ports. As we noted in the press release, re-opening the ports benefits the American consumers, workers and retailers.

We understand this was a very difficult decision to make. Unfortunately, because the two sides could not agree to a new deal, it was one that had to be made. We would have preferred a negotiated settlement to re-open the ports.

We appreciate and applaud the President stepping forward to re-open the ports. This action will ensure that the US economy will continue to grow.

Sincerely,

Robert J. Verdisco

IMRA Commends President for Action to Reopen West Coast Ports Today

ARLINGTON, Va. — October 9, 2002 — The International Mass Retail Association commends President Bush for his leadership on Tuesday to reopen the West Coast ports after an 11-day shutdown.

"IMRA is pleased that the President has imposed Taft-Hartley to ensure the West Coast ports reopen today," said IMRA President Robert J. Verdisco. "It's unfortunate that the situation required this action, but it was the only option the President had to reopen the ports and get commerce flowing once again for the benefit of American consumers, retailers and workers.

"We still encourage both parties to remain at the table and negotiate in good faith to conclude a deal as soon as possible. We hope that the ports will operate at normal productivity levels and that they can get through the backlog in enough time to ensure that merchandise is on the shelves for the holiday selling season. Hopefully consumers will now be able to enjoy a rewarding holiday shopping season."

Dear Karl,

As you may or may not know, many of our church ministries have lost the tuition benefit for their children to attend church-sponsored Christian schools. This was not a legislative problem, but an IRS administrative problem. Therefore, we are trying to solve this problem through legislation. HR4950 and S2683, the Equity in Education Act, will solve the problem. I am asking for the White House to help in the following ways:

1. Please send a letter stating the administration's approval (SAP) of this legislation.

2. Please personally write a letter to the House and Senate members urging support for HR4950 and S2683.

3. Please ask the President to place this legislation in his year end priorities to be presented to Congressional Leadership. This legislation could be included in year end packages such as an omnibus bill or continuing resolution.

Thank you for your help in this important issue for the constituency of the American Association of Christian Schools. If you have questions, you can contact our Washington, DC, office at 202-547-2991. Martin Hoyt is well versed on this issue and can give you more specifics.

We continue to pray for you, the President, and our country. We are also praying and working for the upcoming elections. May God continue to bless you.

Your friend and co-laborer,

Carl of Kansas City

Karl,

Just participated in small breakfast meeting hosted by the Aspen Institute Belin, in Paris, with Kissinger and top French defense officals, foreign affairs folks, and jounalists. He did a superb job allaying concerns of French and supporting Pres. Bush. They walked out of the room feeling a lot better about working with Administration on Iraq. K made clear there must be regieme change in Iraq.

It would be great if White House encouraged him to do same in Germany. It would put tremendous pressure on Shroeder.

Aspen continues to be the most effective pro-American institution in Europe.

Mr. Karl Rove
Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington DC 20500

Dear Mr. Rove:

On Saturday, October 26, the Portuguese American community will hold the sixth annual Portuguese American Leadership Council Gala Awards Dinner, at the Capitol Hilton, in Washington DC. The event is intended to highlight individuals of Portuguese ancestry who, through their careers or community service, have brought credit to their heritage and community at large.

For your information, PALCUS is the national organization representing the Portuguese community here in the United States and serves as the single reference and advocate for the more than two million citizens and residents who are heirs to Portugal's unique civilization. Serving the community at large for over 10 years, PALCUS has an established record of accomplishment on behalf of all Luso Americans.

This year, our gala award winners and categories include: Ms. Nelly Furtado, 2002 Grammy Award Winner - Entertainment; Ms. Ticha Penicheiro, WNBA All Star, Sacramento Monarchs - Sports; Ms. Meredith Vieira, ABC TV, The View - Television Journalism; Dr. Rui Machete, President Executive Council, Luso American Development Foundation - Portugal / US Relations.

On behalf of the Directors and Members of our organization I would like to invite you to join us on this most important evening to Portuguese Americans. I understand that on a weekly basis you receive numerous invitations to myriad social events. I also understand that your responsibilities to the President occupy a great deal of your time. Having said that, I am hopeful that this letter will have reached you personally and that you will favorably consider this particular invitation.

The Portuguese American community is a close knit, involved community. For many years they were known as the silent minority because of their resigned acceptance of what was offered. Over the course of the last 10 years however, political and community involvement within the Portuguese community at large has increased dramatically. At the same time, as is the case with other immigrant groups, only one party appears to take sufficient interest in Portuguese Americans to garner their support.

PALCUS was formed to serve as the single national advocate and reference for our community. As a non-partisan entity we strive to ensure that our community receives political messages from both sides of the aisle. It is for this reason that I believe your presence at this event, this year is most important. First and foremost, as the President's principal political adviser, it will afford you a unique opportunity to meet and mingle with leaders of this growing and involved segment of our country. Second, your position provides you a distinct opportunity to speak to our community from a position of firsthand knowledge. More important, I believe it would be a wonderful opportunity to spotlight the President, his Administration's efforts, and recognize the Portuguese community.

I realize that you will receive this letter without frame of reference or specific information of the Portuguese community in the United States. I would be pleased to provide you whatever additional material you may require. I would also emphasize that this is, in my opinion, a truly unique opportunity to have a direct impact on Portuguese Americans during this important time internationally, economically and politically in an election year.

I look forward to your favorable reply and my best wishes for your continued success and good health.

Sincerely,

Ronald J. Cruz
President

Barron's on Midterms

Jim McTague wrote in Barron's: "...only two presidents since the Civil War have picked up seats in Congress in midterm elections: Franklin Roosevelt in 1934 and Bill Clinton in 1998."

This is true for the House of Representatives.
However, presidents have picked up Senate seats in midterm elections 10 times, 4 times since direct election began in 1914 (~~1914~~, 1934, 1962, 1970).

House Seats

Seats Gained Three Elections in a Row:

- Democrats 1848, 1850, 1852
- Democrats 1866, 1868, 1870 (Both parties gained in 1868 with Republicans gaining more)
- Republicans 1884, 1886, 1888
- Republicans 1900, 1902, 1904 (Both parties gained in 1902 with Democrats gaining more)
- Democrats 1954, 1956, 1958
- Democrats 1968, 1970, 1972
- Democrats 1986, 1988, 1990
- Democrats 1996, 1998, 2000

Seats Gained Four Elections in a Row:

- Democrats 1800, 1802, 1804 (Both parties gained in 1802 with Democrats gaining more)
- Democrats 1906, 1908, 1910, 1912
- Republicans 1914, 1916, 1918, 1920
- Democrats 1930, 1932, 1934, 1936

Seats Gained Five Elections in a Row:

- Democrats 1810, 1812, 1814, 1816, 1818 (Both parties gained in 1812 with Federalists gaining more)
- Whigs 1830, 1832, 1834, 1836, 1838 (Both parties gained in 1832 with Democrats gaining more)

Taking Control of Senate in First Off-Year Election

Since direct election began in 1914, no party holding the White House has taken control of the Senate in its first off-year election.

Senate Seats Gained in First Off-Year Election

The party holding the White House has gained Senate seats in its first off-year elections eight times, four times since direct election began in 1914 (1914, 1934, 1962, 1970).

Dear Karl:

Thanks for the information about the tremendous job you're doing in mobilizing the evangelicals. As the article from ABC news said, you were "quietly flying under the radar."

I hope that these efforts bear great fruit.

A different Arizona welcomes Bush

OUR STAND: Presidential visit is special

For us, a presidential visit is always special.

No matter how frequently the nation's chief executive comes, no matter how brief the stay, Arizonans swell with pride whenever Air Force One lands here.

President George W. Bush has been here before. He was here in the summer, when fires raged in the high country.

He has spent time in Mesa, a place not unlike his hometown of Midland, Texas. Today, the president travels to Flagstaff and Phoenix.

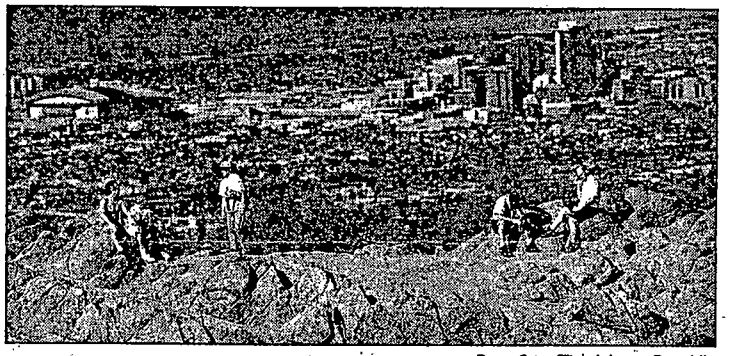
It's a different Arizona than the one his father knew, the state that two generations of Republicans could take for granted.

In 1988, his father won Arizona over Michael Dukakis, sweeping Maricopa County by 30 points. It marked the 10th consecutive Republican presidential victory in Arizona, a streak that ultimately spanned 44 years and nine presidencies.

That era has ended. It's not the old Arizona.

The president will see that as his motorcade passes from Sky Harbor International Airport to Phoenix Civic Plaza, where he will campaign for GOP gubernatorial candidate Matt Salmon.

The state is more Hispanic now than it was when Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan or even his father served as president.



Dave Cruz/The Arizona Republic

Viewed from Camelback Mountain, the changes in Arizona, with downtown Phoenix in the background, are apparent.

> Arizona now resembles 1980s California after Reagan — generally conservative but independent, populist, demographically in flux, with more urban professionals arriving every day.

Arizona now resembles 1980s California after Reagan — generally conservative but independent, populist, demographically in flux, with more urban professionals arriving every day, many of them from California.

The changing population has already made an impact on Election Day.

Throughout the 1990s, when a Republican governor and Legislature were trimming taxes, a populist, centrist electorate was voting to raise them for health care and education and to set aside state funds for parks, wildlife and land preservation programs.

By 1996, President Clinton became the first Democrat presidential candidate since Harry Truman to carry Arizona.

Bush knows all this. He carried our state in 2000 but with a margin much smaller than his father's 12 years before. He knows Latinos are a growing part of the electorate here, just as they are in Texas.

He knows Arizonans to be plain-spoken, patriotic, but with a strong libertarian strain, wary of international interventionism.

His message today likely will both reflect and balance these realities.

2 GOP candidates hope Bush visit helps efforts

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PHOENIX — The Republican candidates in two high-profile and hotly contested Arizona races said they're hoping President Bush's visit Friday will propel them past their opponents.

Bush will stop first for a midday rally in Flagstaff, where organizers hope thousands will turn out to welcome the president and to support gubernatorial candidate Matt Salmon and congressional candidate Rick Renzi. Bush is then scheduled to speak in Phoenix at a $700-a-plate fund-raising dinner for Salmon.

Both Salmon and Renzi, the Republican nominee for the 1st District congressional seat, hope Bush's endorsement will help them break away from their respective opponents.

"It's a huge boost to our campaign efforts," Renzi spokesman Joe Galli said Thursday. At the Flagstaff rally, "we'd anticipate that he's going to give a real rousing speech on behalf of our Republican candidates."

Nationally, Republicans and Democrats are closely watching Renzi's neck-and-neck race against Democrat George Cordova. The 1st District, one of two new seats in Arizona this year, covers a vast section of the state, including the Grand Canyon, Flagstaff, the Navajo Reservation and Casa Grande. Statistically, the district gives Democrats a slight edge, but a recent poll showed the two candidates virtually tied.

Supporters hope Bush's visit will help tip the scales in Salmon's favor over Democratic gubernatorial contender Janet Napolitano.

"It's the biggest shot in the arm a candidate can ever get to have the leader of the free world come in and endorse his candidacy," Salmon said.

Salmon is scheduled to introduce Bush at the rally in Flagstaff and to fly back to Phoenix for the fund-raiser on Air Force One, his spokeswoman, Camilla Strongin, said.

Dear Karl:

Now the press is after the administration about North Korea. You might remember what Lincoln said to Seward, when he proposed in 1861 that the US go to war with the French & England, etc. "One war at a time." That is still funny in 2002 & still true.

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION

KENTUCKY BAR ASSOCIATION
SECTION OF LITIGATION
STANDING COMITTEE ON FEDERAL JUDICIAL IMPROVEMENTS

REPORT TO THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

RECOMENDATION

RESOLVED, that the prompt filling of existing judicial vacancies in the federal courts of the United States is essential for the efficient, responsible, and effective administration of justice; and that undue delays in the nomination and confirmation of candidates for vacancies in the federal courts of the United States adversely affects such effective, responsible and timely administration of justice;

FURTHER RESOLVED, that the American Bar Association urges the following:

1. The president of the United States should promptly nominate candidates to fill vacancies in the federal courts of the United States.

2. The Senate Committee on the Judiciary should promptly act on nominees,

3. The Senate of the United States should promptly advise and consent to or reject the nominees.

FURTHER RESOLVED, that the American Bar Association urges its members and state, local and territorial bar associations to encourage the President to make prompt appointments to fill federal judicial vacancies and to contact the appropriate members of the Senate to urge prompt hearings and votes on pending nominations for the federal courts of the United States.

REPORT

Introduction

This report will be short on rhetoric and long on statistics. The number of judicial vacancies in the federal courts was termed "alarming" by the Chief Justice of the United States in his 2001 Year-End Report on the Federal Judiciary.[1] President George W. Bush, a Republican, began making judicial nominations on May 9, 2001. The Senate, controlled since June 2001 (after reorganization) by the Democrats, was responsible for the confirmation process. This process includes control of the setting of hearings at the Senate Judiciary Committee and control of the calendar of consent proceedings in the United States Senate as a whole. As noted by the Chief Justice, "When the Senate adjourned on December 20th [2001], 23 court of appeals nominees and 14 district court nominees were left awaiting action by the Judiciary Committee or the full Senate."[2]

The Present State of Affairs

Since the beginning of this year, the same delay in holding hearings and acting upon the nominees has continued: By July 19, 2002, President Bush nominated (or renominated) a total of 113 prospective Article III judges,[3] 59 of whom have been confirmed by the Senate. Here is the complete breakdown on pending nominations as of July 19, 2002:

- Total nominations pending before the Senate:
  - 21 Circuit Court
  - 32 District Court
  - 4 Claims Court
  - 1 International Trade Court.
- Nominations pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee awaiting a hearing:
  - 16 Circuit Court
  - 19 District Court
  - 4 Claims Court
  - 1 International Trade Court.
- Nominations pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee awaiting a vote:
  - 1 Circuit Court
  - 5 District Court
- Nominations scheduled for a hearing:
  - 0 Circuit Court

[3] Also nominated were four nominees for the U.S. Court of Claims and one for the International Trade Court.

REV_00266307

- 0 District Court
- 0 Claims Court

- Nominations pending before the full Senate awaiting a vote:
  - 3 Circuit Court
  - 12 District Court
- Nominations Confirmed by the Senate:
  - 11 Circuit Court
  - 48 District court.[4]

As of July 19, 2002, there were 91 existing Article III federal judicial vacancies. Of these 91 vacancies, 29 are circuit seats and 62 are district seats. These 91 vacancies constitute 10.6 percent of the federal judiciary. Thirty-five of the 91 vacancies are so-called "judicial emergency" vacancies. Twenty-six nominees pending are for positions designated as "judicial emergency" vacancies.[5] Nothing has changed.

Indeed, data recently released by the bipartisan Constitution Project at Georgetown University and Professor Wendy Martinek of Binghampton University, points out that in the first year of President George W. Bush's term in office, successful

[4] Figures are taken from the website of the U. S. Department of Justice's Office of Legal Policy. For a review of that site and the information on federal judicial vacancies and confirmations, see www.usdoj.gov/olp/judicialnominations.htm.

[5] The formulation by which a judicial vacancy is determined to be a "judicial emergency" is quite convoluted: In its simplest format any court with more than one authorized judgeship and only one active judge has a "judicial emergency."

nominees took an average of 112 days from nomination to confirmation. On May 9, 2002, the anniversary of his first judicial nominations, President Bush met with members of the Senate Judiciary Committee to take stock of the situation. Of the 11 circuit court nominees who were named 365 days previously, only 3 had been granted hearings at the Senate Judiciary Committee. Nothing came of the meeting.[6] Those 8 have still not had hearings.[7] By July 19, 2002, President Bush had nominated 32 individuals to serve on circuit courts, but only 11 were confirmed, for a confirmation rate of less than 35 percent. Finally, there are more judicial vacancies today than when President Bush took office.

The Damage

The purpose of this Report and Resolution is not to excoriate either Democrats or Republicans; as the Chief Justice has pointed out, in the second term of President Clinton, a Democrat, the Senate, then controlled by Republicans, confirmed only 17 judges in 1996 and 36 in 1997.[8] The fact is that whoever may bear responsibility for delays in the process, it is the federal courts that suffer, and so does the rule of law. As noted recently by Senator Arlen Specter in a published letter in Legal Times, "filling vacancies is the most pressing issue facing our lower courts – due to the correlation between judicial vacancies and delays in processing cases."[9] The Senator goes on to cite examples of hardship arising from the present situation:

- 50% vacancy rate on the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals, resulting in a death penalty appeal left pending for eight years, and a plaintiff in a civil case dying after having waited more than 15 months just to have an oral argument in a job discrimination suit.
- More than a quarter of the seats vacant in the 4th Circuit court of Appeals despite four declared judicial emergencies and one seat vacant for eight years. A municipality in South Carolina is waiting 39 months for clarification of the constitutionality of a municipal ordinance. A maritime Longshoremen's Act claim has been pending for 38 months.[10]

9 Senator Arlen Specter, "Let's Agree on a Timely Basis," Legal Times, July 8, 2002.

10 Ibid.

REV_00266310

A real possibility arising from the often lengthy and unpleasant nature of the confirmation process is that successful lawyers in private practice will become reluctant to serve. As the Chief Justice notes, "for lawyers coming directly from private practice, there is both a strong financial disincentive and the possibility of losing clients in the course of the wait for a confirmation vote."[11] We simply cannot lose this component from the reservoir of available and willing candidates for judicial office. In the words of the Chief Justice, "The Senate ought to act with reasonable promptness and to vote each nominee up or down. The Senate is not, of course, obliged to confirm any particular nominee. But it ought to act on each nominee and to do so within a reasonable time."[12] We respectfully agree: Vote them up or down, but don't hang them out to dry.

Prior House of Delegates Action

As noted above, the situation arising from the state of judicial vacancies is not unique to our time, and the House has dealt with it previously: In February 1990, at its Mid-Year Meeting, the House passed Report No. 8F, sponsored by the Virgin Islands Bar Association and the Standing Committee on Judicial Selection, Tenure, and Compensation. The Resolution, inter alia, urged "the President of the United States to expedite the appointment to vacancies existing in the United States judicial system and that the Senate take prompt action in considering confirmation of such nominees."

[11] 2001 Year-End Report, p. 4.

REV_00266311

In 1998, at the Mid-Year Meeting, the House passed Report No. 8A, sponsored by numerous bar associations and Sections. The Resolution, inter alia, urged, "the President of the United States promptly to advance nominations for current vacancies for federal judicial positions and the Senate of the United States to hear and vote on those nominations in an expeditious manner."

In October of 1997, at a meeting of the Board of Governors attended by Senator Patrick Leahy, now Chairman of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary, the Board approved the following Resolution:

> Resolved, That the Board of Governors of the American Bar Association, which includes members of both political parties, urges the United States Senate promptly to hear and vote on pending nominations for United States District Courts and Courts of Appeal.
> Further Resolved, That such action is essential for the effective and efficient administration of justice in the United States.

The present report recognizes the existence of the prior actions by the House and the Board of Governors. We believe, however, the present resolution is required by the emergency situation existent in the federal courts. In addition, the present resolution focuses with greater emphasis on the role of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary as a cause of the blockage in the confirmation process: The notion that that Committee, by the simple expedient of refusing to hold timely hearings may avoid confirmation proceedings in the full Senate, is simply unacceptable to our notion of an appropriate and constitutional nomination process.

12 Id. At p. 3.

Finally, this resolution is presently timely because Report No. 112, which will be considered by the House at the August 2002 Session, and presented by ABA member C. Boyden Gray, contains unsatisfactory language which can only be overcome by House approval of the present resolution. The most unacceptable portion of the Gray Report is its insistence upon urging that the Senate Committee on the Judiciary clear nominees for a full Senate vote within a specific time period. We believe that urging such a requirement upon a full committee of the Senate by the ABA is, to say the least, presumptuous. Note that Senator Specter, in the protocol he would require of the Senate Committee requests precisely such a time limitation. We believe Senator Specter's proposal is a reasonable one for a United States Senator who is himself a Member of that Committee.

Rome, June 13, 2002

Dear Karl:

Thank you for your nice note of May 28. It was good to see you, too.

I return to Washington in August to take a position in the State Department as the Deputy Coordinator for Counter-Terrorism. There is not a more important topic today, and I would love to talk to you about it, once I get settled a bit. I read about your role in putting together the new Cabinet department.

Thanks again. See you in September.

* The Foundation for Historic New Amsterdam is a public, not-for-profit, 501 (C) (3) organization that seeks to establish a National Heritage Triangle in New York harbor. The Triangle would represent America's fundamental values of tolerance, freedom and welcome as embodied by Governors Island, Liberty Island and Ellis Island, respectively. The notion of tolerance will be symbolized by a not-for-profit Historic New Amsterdam park as a national monument. Tolerance was planted as a legal-political condition on American shore by New York's first official settlers who disembarked on Governors Island in 1624 - the birth date of, amongst other, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. It was America's earliest pluralistic community - an unprecedented enlightened culture of inclusion and diversity. It constitutes the basis of New York's cultural history. Freedom has no meaning in an intolerant society. Tolerance, therefore, precedes liberty. It is New York's unique contribution to the nation and requires one's considerateness as an implicit gift to another.

Transcript of letter from the Norwegian Minister of Foreign Affairs
Dated Oslo 16 October 2002
Original letter will follow.

Dear Mr. Rove,

I very much enjoyed meeting you during the Washington IDU Party Leaders meeting in June this year. I was pleased to find such a high ranking "Norwegian" in the White House.

It is in my opinion important to maintain the close ties between Norway and Americans of Norwegian origin. I am, therefore, very interested in keeping in touch with the Norwegian-American communities. As you may already be aware, I will be visiting some of them in the last week of October. I am very much looking forward to this opportunity to strengthen the ties between Norway and the Norwegian America, and thereby also the relations between our two countries.

Another important aspect of our bilateral relations is our ongoing, open discussion of issues of concern to both Norway and the United States. It is in this context that I would like to invite you to Norway at a time convenient to you.

Ambassador Vollebaek will be available to discuss the details of a visit.

Looking forward to receiving you in Oslo, I remain

Yours sincerely.

Mr. REID. ... I have great respect for the AARP. It is a great organization, but they don't run the Senate or this country. There are many people in the State of Nevada, and all over the country, who badly need this Medicare give-back. So I am willing to take my chances with AARP because the Republicans would not let us pass a prescription drug bill, a generic drug bill. I will take my chances with AARP and go with the Senator from Montana. Let's pass the Medicare give-back bill to help millions of people in America--rural America and urban America--people who badly need this. I am going to have convalescent centers going broke in Nevada, filing bankruptcy.

Is that what we want? We had a convalescent center in rural Nevada. They had all kinds of problems. They did not know what to do with the people in the center because they were going broke. What do they do with them? It was the only center in town. This legislation would direct money to that situation.

AARP is a great organization, but they can take that letter and carpet floors with it because that is not how we run the Senate. We do what is best for the people of our States, and the best for our States is to do what the Senator from Montana said to do. We tried to pass all kinds of legislation, and we have had the big stall. So do not have anyone lecture me on enough time to do things. I have spent days, weeks, and probably months of my life sitting here doing nothing because they would not let us do anything.

Hagel: Bush Should Pay More Attention To Economy
By SHARON THEIMER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON -- A leading Republican senator on Sunday joined Democrats in urging President Bush to pay attention to the struggling economy as he considers an attack on Iraq.
··I think the president is going to have to focus on the economy," said Sen. Chuck Hagel, R-Neb. ··I think this thing is starting to tilt very much the wrong way, at least the perception of Americans, that the president is not paying attention."
A White House spokesman said Bush is ··very focused" on the economy, pointing to the president's Saturday radio address, in which he said, ··America's economic security, especially the creation of good jobs, is also an urgent matter." Spokesman Jimmy Orr also said Bush sought an 80-day cooling-off period in the West Coast port workers' lockout to protect the economy.
On CNN's ··Late Edition," Hagel said, ··I fear that we are so hell-bent on the Iraqi war invasion that this is going to hurt the president for the long term as well."
Hagel, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Congress could help the economy by reaching compromise on a plan to boost the nation's energy supply, legislation long sought by Bush.
The president said on the radio that he is concerned about those without jobs and wants Congress to help laid-off workers in the construction industry by approving his proposal to guarantee terrorism insurance for building projects.

In the Democratic response, Missouri Sen. Jean Carnahan said a possible war with Iraq and the fight against terrorism should not take away from government's response to the sluggish economy.
A recent Pew Research Center poll found that voters by a 2-to-1 margin think Bush could do more to help the economy and want candidates to focus on domestic problems rather than national security issues.
Democratic Sen. John Edwards of North Carolina said on CNN that Bush should work with Congress to turn the economy around. Edwards, a potential 2004 presidential candidate, said Congress could provide short-term help to struggling families by providing $500 refunds on their energy costs.
··The president's responsibility and the Congress' responsibility is to be able to do two things at once," Edwards said. ··The president has focused abroad, and he's not done anything about a very serious problem that's affecting the lives of the American people, which is the economy."
Edwards said he also wants to extend unemployment insurance, provide tax incentives to help businesses buy more capital goods and roll back the top layer of the president's income tax cut in 2004 for the wealthiest 1 percent of taxpayers.
Hagel said he opposed such a rollback, and said the cuts instead should be made permanent.

Dear Karl:

AT&T is delighted to again be a charter sponsor for the National Book Festival, October 12, 2002 on the West Lawn of the U.S. Capitol and on the Mall. We applaud the First Lady and the Library of Congress for the tremendous success of the first National Book Festival, in 2001, and we look forward to another success this year.

Sponsoring the National Book Festival is one way AT&T shows its continued commitment to education and life-long learning. Hope to see you there!

GEORGE BUSH PRESIDENTIAL LIBRARY FOUNDATION

AMBASSADOR ROMAN POPADIUK
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Mr. Rove,

Please look carefully at the George Bush Presidential Library Foundation Membership Card I've enclosed for you. Your card features a simple design – the Library's official seal and the signature of America's 41st President, George Bush.

Your Membership Card is a dignified yet powerful tribute to President Bush's understated, effective leadership. President Bush was never "flashy." He never rushed to claim credit for his accomplishments. He was – and still is – a public servant, working to shine the light of freedom and democracy around the world . . . and to strengthen America for all generations.

Mr. Rove, your limited edition Membership Card is also a lasting memento of your devotion to our country, and your leadership in America's time of crisis.

You see, I believe George Bush exemplifies America's greatness – through his love of freedom and democracy . . . his defense of liberty and justice for all . . . his devotion to his family . . . and especially, through his determination to make the future even brighter for all of our citizens, and for the entire world.

And as we wage war against the forces of evil, you are one American I'm counting on to help teach all generations the story of our nation's inspiring history – and the story of President Bush's extraordinary public service – so we may learn from and take pride in our past.

That's why I took the extra step of commissioning your personalized George Bush Presidential Library Foundation Membership Card and am rushing it to you today.

Because I commissioned this limited edition Card exclusively for you, I need to know that you received it in excellent condition. So please complete the Membership Verification I've enclosed for you and return it to me right away with your most generous membership gift of $35, $50, $100, $500 or even $1,000.

Mr. Rove, with your gift of at least $35, you will receive special privileges and opportunities available only to Library supporters, including:

- Unlimited free admission to the George Bush Presidential Library and Museum
- A members-only 10% discount in the Museum Gift Shop
- A free subscription to the Museum's informative, entertaining newsletter – so you will be the first to know about the Museum's extraordinary exhibits.

Just as important: Your support today will help continue the Library's conferences and seminars, interactive exhibits and comprehensive research facilities. Your leadership will help bring pivotal turning points of our nation's history to life for all generations of Americans.

- Your support will help tell the story of the Cold War.

One of my favorite displays here at the museum is the twelve-foot tall piece of the Berlin Wall – the barrier that separated West Germany from East, freedom from Communism, at the height of the Cold War. This giant slab of stone speaks a thousand words. It tells a story of freedom and democracy. A story of war and peace. A story of triumph over adversity.

- Your support will help tell the story of the Gulf War.

The Museum features an innovative, interactive exhibit that takes visitors "behind the scenes" of Operation Desert Shield and Desert Storm – from the moment of Iraq's invasion of Kuwait to the United States-led coalition to the inspiring stories of the American soldiers who fought to keep Kuwait a free and sovereign nation.

- Your contribution will help support many lectures and educational programs.

We sponsored an incredible lecture – titled "Democracy: The Never-Ending Battle" by Lech Walesa, the first democratically elected president of Poland and one of President Bush's key allies in the battle against Communism.

With America fighting the forces of terror and defending our cherished freedoms, I believe President Bush's example of leadership, patriotism and public service is more important than ever.

I hope you agree. And I hope you will help teach all generations the vital lessons of the past – and the vital lessons of leadership we all can learn from President Bush – by supporting the George Bush Presidential Library and Museum today.

Please don't delay: Return your Membership Verification today, so I will know your limited edition Membership Card arrived in excellent condition. And please include your most generous gift to join the George Bush Presidential Library Foundation.

Dear Mr. President,

On December 12, the National Republican Legislators Association will hold its annual holiday party in Washington, D.C. during the ALEC and NCSL meeting.

The NRLA represents the 3,500 state legislators across the country. In addition to the legislator involvement, the participants at the NRLA events are private sector supporters of the organization.

As President of the NRLA, I would like you to consider being the guest of honor at this dinner, and the details are outlined below.

DATE: December 11, 2002

TIME: 6:00 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.

LOCATION: Washington, D.C. (tbd)

EVENT DESCRIPTION - The NRLA Holiday Party is an annual event that is scheduled around the state legislator winter meetings held in Washington, D.C. The agenda consists of you as keynote speaker and a photo opportunity with the private sector members. There will be approximately 200 guests in attendance.

I hope you are able to attend this event and look forward to your participation. Your office may reach Mary Heitman at (202) 549-8808 to discuss further details about the holiday party. I would request that we receive a response by November 1 so we have enough time to inform our members of your attendance. Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Sincerely,

Florence Shapiro

The Honorable George W. Bush
President of the United States of America
The White House
Washington, DC 20502

Dear Mr. President,

In this decisive hour of our nation's history we are writing to express our deep appreciation for your bold, courageous, and visionary leadership. Americans everywhere have been inspired by your eloquent and clear articulation of our nation's highest ideals of freedom and of our resolve to defend that freedom both here and across the globe.

We believe that your policies concerning the ongoing international terrorist campaign against America are both right and just. Specifically, we believe that your stated policies concerning Saddam Hussein and his headlong pursuit and development of biochemical and nuclear weapons of mass destruction are prudent and fall well within the time-honored criteria of just war theory as developed by Christian theologians in the late fourth and early fifth centuries A.D.

First, your stated policy concerning using military force if necessary to disarm Saddam Hussein and his weapons of mass destruction is a just cause. In just war theory only defensive war is defensible; and if military force is used against Saddam Hussein it will be because he has attacked his neighbors, used weapons of mass destruction against his own people, and harbored terrorists from the Al Qaeda terrorist network that attacked our nation so viciously and violently on September 11, 2001. As you stated in your address to the U.N. September 12th:

> "We can harbor no illusions. . . . Saddam Hussein attacked Iran in 1980 and Kuwait in 1990. He's fired ballistic missiles at Iran and Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, and Israel. His regime once ordered the killing of every person between the ages of 15 and 70 in certain Kurdish villages in Northern Iraq. He has gassed many Iranians and forty Iraqi villages."

Disarming and neutralizing Saddam Hussein is to defend freedom and freedom-loving people from state-sponsored terror and death.

Second, just war must have just intent. Our nation does not intend to destroy, conquer, or exploit Iraq. As you declared forthrightly in your speech to the U.N. General Assembly:

REV_00266345

> "The United States has no quarrel with the Iraqi people. . . . Liberty for the Iraqi people is a great moral cause, and a great strategic goal. The people of Iraq deserve it; the security of all nations requires it. Free societies do not intimidate through cruelty and conquest, and open societies do not threaten the world with mass murder. The United States supports political and economic liberty in a unified Iraq."

This is clearly a just and noble intent.

Third, just war may only be commenced as a last resort. As you so clearly enumerated before the U.N., Saddam Hussein has for more than a decade ignored Security Council resolutions or defied them while breaking virtually every agreement into which he has entered. He stands convicted by his own record as a brutal dictator who cannot be trusted to abide by any agreement he makes. And while he prevaricates and obfuscates, he continues to obtain and develop the weapons of mass destruction which he will use to terrorize the world community of nations.

The world has been waiting for more than a decade for the Iraqi regime to fulfill its agreement to destroy all of its weapons of mass destruction, to cease producing them or the long-range missiles to deliver them in the future, and to allow thorough and rigorous inspections to verify their compliance. They have not, and will not, do so and any further delay in forcing the regime's compliance would be reckless irresponsibility in the face of grave and growing danger.

Fourth, just war requires authorization by legitimate authority. We believe it was wise and prudent for you to go before the U.N. General Assembly and ask the U.N. Security Council to enforce its own resolutions. However, as American citizens we believe that, however helpful a U.N. Security Council vote might be, the legitimate authority to authorize the use of U.S. military force is the government of the United States and that the authorizing vehicle is a declaration of war or a joint resolution of the Congress.

When the threat of Soviet nuclear missiles in Cuba presented a grave threat to America's security, President Kennedy asked for the support of the U.N. and the Organization of American States, but made it clear, with or without their support, those missiles would either be removed by the Soviets, or we would neutralize them ourselves. The American people expected no less from their president and their government.

Fifth, just war requires limited goals and the resort to armed force must have a reasonable expectation of success. In other words, "total war" is unacceptable and the war's goals must be achievable. We believe your stated policies for disarming the murderous Iraqi dictator and destroying his weapons of mass destruction, while liberating the Iraqi people for his cruel and barbarous grip, more than meet those criteria.

Sixth, just war theory requires noncombatant immunity. We are confident that our government, unlike Hussein, will not target civilians and will do all that it can to minimize noncombatant casualties.

Seventh, just war theory requires the question of proportionality be addressed. Will the human cost of the armed conflict to both sides be proportionate to the stated objectives and goals? Does the good gained by resort to armed conflict justify the cost of lives lost and bodies maimed? We believe that the cost of not dealing with this threat now will only succeed in greatly increasing the cost in human lives and suffering when an even more heavily armed and dangerous Saddam Hussein must be confronted at some date in the not too distant future. We believe that every day of delay significantly increases the risk of far greater human suffering in the future than acting now would entail.

How different and how much safer would the history of the twentieth century have been had the allies confronted Hitler when he illegally reoccupied the Rhineland in 1936 in clear violation of Germany's treaty agreements? It is at least possible that tens of millions of the lives lost in World War II might not have been lost if the Allies had enforced treaty compliance then instead of appeasing a murderous dictator.

We are extremely grateful that we have a president who has learned the costly lessons of the twentieth century and who is determined to lead America and the world to a far different and better future in the twenty first century. As you told the world's leaders at the U.N.:

> "We must choose between a world of fear and a world of progress. We cannot stand by and do nothing while dangers gather. We must stand up for our security, and for the permanent rights and hopes of mankind. By heritage and by choice, the United States of America will make that stand."

Mr. President, we make that stand with you. In so doing, while we cannot speak for all of our constituents, we are supremely confident that we are voicing the convictions and concerns of the great preponderance of those we are privileged to serve.

Please know that we join tens of millions of our fellow Americans in praying for you and your family daily.

Mr. Karl Rove

October 20th,2002

DearKarl,
Thank-you so much for passing along my request to perform at the White House- Thanks to you we have some good news about a special trip to Washington D.C. and wondered if you might be in town.
I am going to be singing at the White House the afternoon of Saturday, December 21st with my two children, Casey and James, our friend Richard Dennison from Dolly Parton's band, his daughter Hannah, and my new friend from your part of the world, Tony Snow on the flute. It is for the special tours they give VIP guests to see the decorations-We perform at 12:00 and then at 2:00 for an hour each. Would you and or your family like to come and see us or sing a song with us? Punch and cookies follow! We are so grateful to do this as it creates incredible memories for our families!
Another reason for my letter besides saying hello is to ask if you know of any Christmas or Holiday events that might be willing to hire a version of what I'm doing at the White House on Dec. 21st. (I know you're not a booking agent and have many more things on your mind, but I thought I'd be bold and ask anyway) We all fly to Baltimore on Friday afternoon and leave Monday afternoon. We would be available to perform on Saturday evening and or Sunday afternoon / evening.
I'm basically trying to cover some expenses, as the White House opportunity is a benefit> for us of course and hopefully for them.
If you know of any dinner parties, or special events that might want some music from the mountains of Colorado and the hills of Tennessee, would you please think of me?
I am performing in Annapolis at the Maryland Hall with the Hard Travelers this coming Friday Oct. 25th- We are doing a benefit for the Maryland Therapeutic Riding Association. Please call me if you'd like to attend and I'll get you or your friends tickets.
Last but not least... as I hope you know it goes without saying, we'd be completely thrilled to say hello to President Bush and or his family- I sang at a memorial service for families that lost loved ones on the plane that hit the Pentagon and that Mrs. Bush attended at the Bertie Bachus Middle School on Nov 7th 2001.
I am in your debt Sir, thank-you so much for opening the doors for these incredible memories.

Jim

HEADLINE: McCain Is Considering Leaving GOP; Arizona Senator Might Launch a Third-Party Challenge to Bush in 2004

BYLINE: Thomas B. Edsall and Dana Milbank, Washington Post Staff Writers

BODY:

Maverick Republican Sen. John McCain of Arizona, in a widening rift with President Bush and his party's dominant conservative wing, is talking with advisers about leaving the GOP and launching a third-party challenge to Bush in 2004, those close to the senator say.

Such a move is not imminent, they say. For the near term, McCain, who upset Bush in the 2000 New Hampshire primary and won 5 million primary-season votes, will work to build a centrist faction within the GOP to mirror the moderate "New Democrats."

But if Bush struggles as president, and if McCain loses on key issues such as defense funding and campaign finance reform, advisers say he may challenge Bush in the same way the reformist Teddy Roosevelt, McCain's hero, battled a conservative Republican, William Howard Taft, in 1912.

This weekend, McCain is hosting the Senate Democratic leader, Thomas A. Daschle (S.D.), at his home in Sedona, Ariz. His office called it a "social event," but McCain has met privately to discuss party switching with at least three Democratic senators -- Daschle, Edward M. Kennedy (Mass.) and John Edwards (N.C.). On Thursday, four McCain loyalists -- campaign strategist John Weaver, legislative director Daniel McKivergan, Weekly Standard magazine publisher William Kristol and Hudson Institute scholar Marshall Wittmann -- met over lunch to debate whether McCain should quit the GOP.

McCain met in recent weeks with Will Marshall, a top official of the Democratic Leadership Council, to discuss similarities over national service, tax and environmental policies. "I was struck by how much we were in common," Marshall said. "It's an intriguing development."

Over the last two years, McCain has undergone a virtual ideological conversion, severing almost all ties to the right wing of the GOP. In addition to supporting legislation adamantly opposed by most of his Republican colleagues, he has joined Democrats in becoming a leading sponsor of patients' rights, fewer tax breaks for the rich and new gun control measures.

Asked if he plans to run for president again as a Republican or independent, McCain said, "I don't envision running again." He said Democrats "approached me a couple of times" to discuss party switching, but he said he told them he has "no cause to leave the Republican Party, period." He said his willingness to talk should not be interpreted as a signal of his willingness to abandon the GOP.

But McCain's confidants and advisers -- some of the same people who persuaded him to launch his presidential candidacy for 2000 -- are pushing him in that direction.

"I would say it's fifty-fifty right now -- it's an open question right down the middle," said Wittmann. If Bush were to veto campaign finance reform or the House were to kill it, "that could be a precipitating event," he said.

Kristol added: "I think McCain honestly doesn't know what he's going to do but is open to all possibilities."

Whether or not McCain leaves the GOP, he has transformed himself from quirky conservative before the 2000 campaign to spokesman for an embattled progressive wing of the Republican Party today. Whatever McCain does, it is clear he will continue to be a thorn in the side of Bush, who is already weakened by the defection from the GOP of moderate Sen. James M. Jeffords of Vermont.

"John McCain was radicalized by the [2000] primary process in two ways," said former party chairman Richard N. Bond. "First, he was totally alienated by the conservative wing of the Republican Party. Second, with the influx of independents who came into his campaign, he moved from center-right to center-left."

McCain was deeply angered during the South Carolina primary because he thought Bush authorized an attack on his Vietnam War credentials and a sustained assault on his commitment to conservative social values by the locally powerful Christian right.

Pressure on McCain to bolt his party intensified yesterday with the report in Human Events, a conservative weekly, of plans by Arizona Republicans to run a challenger to McCain in the 2004 Senate primary.

McCain's outspoken support of campaign finance reform and other legislation favored by Democrats has turned him into a pariah among conservatives. On FreeRepublic.com's "Conservative News Forum," McCain is referred to as "Komrade McCain," "McLame" and "McBigHead." Contributors to the Web site regularly challenge the patriotism of the former prisoner of war: "The man, far from being the war hero he pompously claims to be, was actually a traitor."

Further exacerbating tensions, his key backers are charging with growing vehemence that the Bush White House and GOP Senate and House leaders are conducting a vendetta against McCain loyalists -- cutting them off from government and political jobs, undermining their status with current employers and excluding McCain from key Republican parlays.

The senator's allies also charge that a person who gave the McCain campaign $ 250 said he had been up for a post in the State Department, but, when he was interviewed by White House staff, he was told a "red flag" had come up: the $ 250 donation.

They also say that in New Hampshire, pro-Bush forces conducted a failed bid to recall the state's two Republican National Committee members, who had backed McCain. Also, Weaver has told associates that Karl Rove, a top aide to Bush, intervened and prevented Weaver from being hired as a consultant to the reelection campaign of Jeff Sessions (R-Ala.). Rove declined to comment, and the chairman of the Sessions campaign said he was never pressured by Rove.

In an interview, McCain said, "I don't mind any criticism of me, but I don't think someone in their twenties should not be allowed to pursue a career in public service" because of past in their twenties should not be allowed to pursue a career in public service" because of past political commitments.

White House officials adamantly deny the charges and offered a detailed rebuttal of the complaints. They provided a list of McCain donors and supporters who have gotten high-level administration jobs, and they contended that a contribution to McCain is not treated as a "red flag." Some of McCain's top advisers, White House officials said, are perpetually portraying themselves as "victims" of power wielded unfairly by Bush.

"The president and the senator have a good relationship, and I see nothing that will change that," said Ari Fleischer, Bush's press secretary. Asked about discrimination against McCain loyalists, Fleischer pointed to Torie Clark, a former McCain aide who is now Pentagon spokeswoman.

"Senator McCain also has been invited to the White House on seven occasions since the administration took office," Fleischer added.

McCain has been rebuffed by the GOP House and Senate leadership on a number of fronts, and he faces major hurdles trying to become a force within the GOP.

A veteran Republican strategist remarked: "I don't know what he is trying to do, but if you were trying to offend everybody, this is the way to go about it in the things he says, in the things his staff and political operatives say, and of course in becoming the favorite co-sponsor with every liberal Democrat of legislation that the vast majority of Republicans oppose."

Grover Norquist, a GOP strategist and a Bush ally, said: "He is not drifting right. He is not drifting left. He is drifting in front of the television cameras. He will do whatever gets him the most attention, and two weeks from now I don't have a clue where he will be."

"He seems to be changing rapidly before our eyes," said Robert McIntyre, head of Citizens for Tax Justice and a major critic of the Bush tax cut. "It's very interesting. It's almost like he stopped hanging around with the wrong people, and has woken up."

McCain's advisers position their man as a progressive and a populist in the Teddy Roosevelt image, with a dash of John F. Kennedy's national service and Ronald Reagan's folksiness.

The superficial similarities with Roosevelt are obvious: Roosevelt, too, was a larger-than-life personality and a war hero who had a reputation as the public's protector against corporate greed. His Republican rival, like Bush today, appeared sympathetic to business interests. There were charges that the Taft White House was mistreating Roosevelt appointees and family members. Roosevelt campaigned on disclosure of campaign expenditures, regulating interstate industry, a minimum wage, unemployment insurance and old-age pensions.

The Roosevelt-McCain parallel is disputed by some.

"The fundamental difference is he [Roosevelt] went to war [with the party] after he was president," said Steven Rosenstone, a University of Minnesota expert on third parties. The Roosevelt-McCain comparison "sounds like a stretch to me."

McCain's agenda, and that of a prospective McCain-led third party, is a hawkish foreign policy, domestic reform and a call for universal national service for young Americans.

McCain sees each party held hostage by its base -- Democrats wedded to entitlements and Republicans dominated by corporate interests -- thus leaving room for a centrist populism.

A couple of McCain's advisers have convinced themselves he could win the presidency in 2004 as a third-party candidate. Others suggest that even if he lost, he could reshape politics more to his liking for years to come.

"You have deadlock between the parties, and the ideological forces that drove the two parties are somewhat spent and exhausted," Kristol said.

The conservative era that began with Richard Nixon is waning. "It feels like we're at the end of this period in American politics," Kristol said.

Background

Biography of Keith Nahigian, President

For the past decade, Keith Nahigian has fulfilled communications objectives for a wealth of prominent individuals, companies and governmental entities. Keith has a proven track record of success, including the design of political campaigns and the development of crisis response strategies. Among his services are image management and enhancement, media strategy, event planning and recruiting and training of communications teams.

Keith began his career in the business of communications while serving in the White House as Vice President Dan Quayle's Lead Advance Representative, which involved managing the Vice President's budget; maximizing media coverage; coordinating his schedule; arranging transportation and security; and managing logistical arrangements with foreign, state and local governments. In addition, Keith was responsible for the planning and preparation of events, trips and trade missions all over the world. These events included, among many others, an award ceremony on an aircraft carrier off the coast of Japan, the signing of a peace treaty in El Salvador, political campaign speeches and Gulf War victory celebrations.

Following his tour of duty in the White House, Keith worked on Christine Todd Whitman's 1994 and 1997 New Jersey gubernatorial campaigns. As the Director of Candidate Operations, Keith was responsible for campaign strategy, the supervision of all public and media appearances and the production and direction of all national appearances, including commercials, inaugural events and town hall meetings. Keith also trained a 24-person communications team, developed field operations and strategies, managed a $1.2 million campaign budget and designed Governor Whitman's public image.

After her victory in the 1994 gubernatorial race, Governor Whitman appointed Keith as the Deputy Director of Communications, Director of Special Projects, and winning again in 1997, she appointed him Director of Advance. In these positions, Keith created media strategies to publicize and build support for major policy initiatives, directed trade missions to foreign nations, trained and managed a 15-member staff and produced all public events, such as the World Cup soccer tournament, the visit of Pope John Paul II to New Jersey and the Republican response to President Bill Clinton's State of the Union address.

Between the 1994 and 1997 New Jersey gubernatorial campaigns, Keith worked on the 1996 presidential campaigns of Steve Forbes and Senator Bob Dole as the Director of Candidate Operations and the Deputy Director of Candidate Operations/Director of Advance, respectively. As such, Keith managed budgets of $12 million, trained and supervised large communications teams (25 to 80 staff members) and coordinated the logistical movements of the candidates, their staffs and the traveling press corps throughout the United States. In addition, Keith designed and produced all national media events, including the award-winning arrival ceremony for the nominee of the Republican convention, eight bus tours and the "96-Hour Tour" which reached 36 cities nationwide.

Following his return to work for Governor Whitman from 1997 to 1999, Keith was asked to join Senator John McCain's 2000 presidential campaign. As Director of Strategic Planning and Senior Political Advisor, Keith invented the thematic aspects of the campaign, managed a $7 million budget, designed all aspects of Senator McCain's book tour, created a media strategy to disseminate major policy initiatives, and served as a liaison between the policy, political, press and fundraising components of the campaign. In addition, Keith recruited, trained and managed a 50-person staff; coordinated the logistical movements of Senator McCain, his family, his staff and a large traveling press corps; created and implemented a media program directed towards specific states; and designed and produced unique national events that graced the covers of the New York Times, Washington Post, Time magazine, Newsweek and other national news publications.

In May 2000, Keith established his own communications firm in order to better serve his corporate, governmental and individual clients. To date, Nahigian Strategies has advised clients CXO Media, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. Department of Labor, the Amelior Foundation, the SANS Institute, the Kanter Family Foundation, U.S.-Mexico Chamber of Commerce, Merrill Lynch, the Center for Internet Security, and Multicity.com on implementing national media plans, developing national earned media strategies and producing and directing large media events.

BODY:

Victorious presidential campaigns usually pick over the carcasses of the defeated. This is an ugly way to put it, but it's the red-blooded truth. It can mean new employment opportunities for beaten campaign workers, but the process is awkward.

The winners are sometimes a tad too arrogant for their own good, not even recognizing where they are weak and could use help. The losers are sometimes too swollen with pride--or is that death?--to switch allegiances right away. Which pretty much explains the tension between the campaigns of George W. Bush and John McCain. A bitter fight is not easily forgotten. Never mind the candidates' bury-the-hatchet meeting in Pittsburgh the other day--cordial but standoffish--after which there was a ritual endorsement and a few thin smiles. The fact is, the Bush campaign has not hired a single McCain staffer.

"We've made overtures to one or two of them, and they've made very clear that they are happy where they are," explains Bush spokesman Ari Fleischer.

Pouty McCain aides unwilling to join the larger Republican cause of electing Bush?

"I don't think they think they need any change," explains Keith Nahigian, who was in charge of scheduling and advance work for the McCain campaign. "They won. It's like asking the Yankees if they need some players from the Indians."

Pssst: Before we let this go any further, we happen to know there have been back-channel efforts to gauge Nahigian's interest in joining the Bush team. Coy overtures from Bush intimates, coy responses from our man Keith.

Which brings us to our featured presentation, "Cool Campaign Confetti Tales."

Of all the signature McCain things that have been touted--the war-hero thing, the maverick thing, the Straight Talk Express thing--the one thing every presidential campaign quietly envied about the senator, and that includes the Bushies, is the confetti thing. John McCain is the king of colored-paper special effects usage.

There was the time, for instance, in Peterborough, N.H., when the crowd at an overflow town hall meeting was showered with red-white-and-blue confetti for more than three minutes. (Note for the uninitiated: Campaign confetti showers usually last seconds.) Pictures from that event landed on the front pages of seven major newspapers and the cover of Time magazine.

Then there was the 3 a.m. New Hampshire victory rally at an airport hangar in Greenville, S.C. The hangar was transformed into a rave--strobe lighting danced across the crowd to the beat of the music and Day-Glo confetti.

And then there was the finale to an outdoor rally in Little Saigon in Orange County, Calif., where tens of thousands of yellow butterfly-shaped pieces of confetti floated above the crowd.

Behind all this work was Greg Crossey, a partner in the Balloon Co., a Pittsburgh outfit that produces large-scale balloon and confetti effects. Crossey performs his magic at fancy Washington galas, sporting events and political gigs. He has been involved in presidential campaigns since 1988, but never anything like the McCain campaign, where he became known simply as McCain's "confetti guy."

"I'd give them the most crazy idea for confetti," Crossey recalls, "knowing if I did, it wouldn't look like a presidential campaign."

Such as?

"Flood an arena with black light and launch confetti from six different locations in the arena," he says. "Use real cheesy colors, like lemon yellow, lime green and cobalt blue."

Use different shapes: circles, stars. Do themed confetti: black-and-white checks at a NASCAR Cafe event. Add in other effects: thousands of feet of streamers that explode like paper fireworks.

He'd tell the McCain people what he was thinking, and usually they'd go: Cool.

Crossey got so psyched.

"A lot of people will tell you that, but very few campaigns will let you do that."

Which gets us back to Nahigian, whose job was to plan McCain's events. He's the one who brought the Confetti Guy into the campaign, took him on the road, made him feel special, teamed him up with the sound and light guys. Essentially, Nahigian would take the ideas of the campaign's political strategists and try to design an event that looked good on television. "Make the right picture," as he puts it.

It became known as the McCain confetti look.

"It got to a point where if we didn't do it, the crowd would be mad," recalls Nahigian. " 'Where's our confetti?' It was like a Vegas show. The thing I would push them on is, I want different, weird. Every day."

The Bush campaign does not do different, weird, every day. Which is why Nahigian always hesitates when asked about joining Bush's squad.

"Their events are the same," he says. "What they can't understand is the confetti's part of a whole package." Meaning music by Fatboy Slim and Van Halen. Meaning a 100-foot boardwalk that led McCain from the stage into the crowd. Meaning black floodlights. "You can't just shoot confetti off at the end of a Salon E event in a ballroom."

REV_00266378

Crossey concurs: "The Bush campaign needs to create more excitement."

That said, will it happen?

"They've decided they are not going to use our services yet," says Crossey, who has had discussions with the Bush campaign and would like to help.

As for Nahigian, all of 32 years old and doing this stuff for politicians since 1990, he is not sure he wants to continue on. He's already worked for Dan Quayle, Steve Forbes, Bob Dole, New Jersey Gov. Christine Todd Whitman and the Republican National Convention. "I'm trying to figure out where I want to go next, if I even want to stay involved in this campaign cycle."

Perhaps, in the back of his mind, Nahigian is still stewing.

As for the Bushies, they won. Maybe they don't need a confetti operation.

"This is not the confetti season," says Fleischer. "This is the policy season. There is a time for rallies, a time for crowds. This is a time for policy."

Nahigian -- McCain's staff members recommended the small neighborhood bookshop up the order. "Trust us," they said.

The 1,000 copies the Trovers had on hand were going fast, but the line was orderly. "I've never been to a book signing before," confessed one Hill worker a little nervously. "But I figured since I planned to read his book, I might as well get a signed copy."

"I came down from the Pentagon," said a Navy commander who asked not to be named, since he was "playing hooky" from his job. "I'm buying two. One for me, and one for my mother for Christmas."

"Look at all the different kinds of people on line," Nahigian said proudly, noting the book's strong sales on Amazon.com. "I think the pull is that it's not your typical political book. It's more personal."

According to Nahigian, George W. Bush may have a lead in the polls, but on the literary trail, it's McCain who's looking over his shoulder and laughing. "George W. has a book coming out soon. What's he going to say?" chortled the aide. "Maybe the first 40 pages will just be blank."

A Guide for Local Officials

citizen corps

REV_00266406

II. Citizen Corps Councils

Organizing a Citizen Corps Council

Communities all across America already embrace the principles of Citizen Corps. There are many elected officials, business leaders, and involved citizens already doing their part to make their community a great place to live. Many communities also already have an organization that promotes public health and safety, disaster preparedness, and crime prevention in the community. No doubt, there is a strong base already involved in this effort in your own community. These activities are at the heart of Citizen Corps.

The Citizen Corps Councils will bring together leaders from the relevant sectors of your community to coordinate the Citizen Corps effort. The purpose of the council is to have all decision makers at the table to manage existing volunteer resources, to leverage mutually supportive endeavors among the represented groups, and to direct the overall local plans to implement Citizen Corps in the community. Each community should have only one group that has the lead role in implementing Citizen Corps.

Each community and region will have to determine its geographic boundaries and its own membership. Suggested membership of the Citizen Corps Council, or similar entity, includes the following:

* Leadership from elected officials, such as the mayor, city council members, county commissioners, or the tribal government leaders;

* Leadership from emergency management and from the first responder community: law enforcement, fire, and emergency medical services, and health care providers;

* Leadership from volunteer, community service, and faith-based groups, including a local VOAD group and Volunteer Center, if you have one;

* Leadership from any existing community substructure, such as advisory neighborhood commissions, wards, voting districts, census tracts, water and sewer districts, or other groups that represent a large cross-section of the community; and

* Leadership from major industries or other groups in the area, such as community leaders from educational institutions and school boards, the business community, environmental and transportation groups, including airports, and utility providers. Other representatives could be from specific segments of the community, such as the elderly, minority populations, non-English speakers, and local media executives.

The primary qualification to participating on the council is making a commitment to educate the public on safety, to help citizens take an active role in protecting themselves from harm, to teach citizens what to do in the event of a crisis, and to expand volunteer opportunities that will make the community safer.

You do not need to create a new organization to start Citizen Corps. Leveraging existing resources is strongly encouraged. If your community already has a strong team that brings together all sectors of your community, including first responders and volunteer groups, you may want to ask this group to take on the responsibility of promoting Citizen Corps and to acknowledge this group as affiliated with Citizen Corps.

There may be an existing group in your community that includes many of the appropriate participants, such as local emergency planning committees, that could take the lead in joining with additional relevant parties to implement Citizen Corps.

There are a number of national organizations, such as the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army, that could be key participants in your local management structure. If your community does not have local representation of these groups, you may want to contact the national organization to see how you can start a local affiliate.

However you choose to establish the local management structure, this group should be charged with managing all aspects of Citizen Corps at the local level and with bringing Citizen Corps programs and principles to residents of the community.

The purpose of the Citizen Corps Council, or similar coordinating group, is to develop a systematic, efficient, and effective method for providing public education and training opportunities, stimulating wide-spread participation, and organizing volunteer programs to increase the safety of your community. Having duplicative efforts or competing entities is not productive.

Depending on the size of your community, you may need to have a steering committee within the Citizen Corps Council and subcommittees to focus on particular efforts. Subcommittees could be assigned a particular function, such as marketing and communications, or a particular focus, such as K-12 education on emergency preparedness.

The Importance of Leadership

Leadership within the council is critical for success. This leader could be an elected community official, an executive with one of your community's major employers, the head of your community's economic development group, or a leader from the volunteer community. Because of the first responder's role in the event of an emergency, it is suggested that first responder representatives not take the lead role for the council.

The most important qualifications for the leader of the council are the ability to motivate team members to reach your collective goal of making your community a safer place to live, work, and play and of providing opportunities for all citizens to participate; and a commitment to broad community representation. If the local elected official is not the operational leader of the council, it will be critical that he or she provide clear and public support to the council through public endorsements and be kept informed of council activities.

Responsibilities of the Citizen Corps Council

While this initiative provides tremendous flexibility for you to implement Citizen Corps in a way that best suits your community, some general responsibilities of the local organizing group include:

* Creating an action plan to involve the community in prevention, preparedness, and response activities and to mobilize the community in a large-scale event;

* Identifying ways in which the community's volunteer resources can help meet the needs of its first responders;

* Working with existing neighborhood leaders, or creating a neighborhood leadership structure, to design a systematic approach to educate the public and encourage Citizen Corps participation throughout the community;

* Spearheading efforts to offer citizens new and existing volunteer opportunities, educational information, and training courses to address crime, terrorism, public health issues, and natural disaster risks;

* Recognizing all activities that promote prevention, preparedness and response training as a part of Citizen Corps and encouraging new endeavors;

* Organizing special projects and community events to promote Citizen Corps activities and recruiting volunteers to participate;

* Fostering a spirit of mutual support by working with Citizen Corps Councils in neighboring communities and jurisdictions to be able to share resources in times of need;

* Capturing innovative practices and reporting accomplishments to the state coordinator for Citizen Corps; and

* Surveying your community to assess increased awareness and Citizen Corps participation.

Liability Issues

Councils should consult with a local attorney regarding any risks or liabilities that might arise from its activities. Most local bar associations encourage members to provide pro bono (free of charge) services to worthwhile causes. A council's potential exposure to liability for acts or omissions of its staff or volunteers will vary from state to state.

Individuals who participate in council activities should be advised of their potential risks of liability under state law as well. Some volunteer activities may be covered by so-called Good Samaritan laws in the various states, these laws protect volunteers who render assistance in limited circumstances. Councils may consider obtaining release from liability and similar instruments if the local counsel deems it necessary. A compendium of state liability laws is available at www.citizencorps.gov/ccorps.■

Initial Meetings

Creating a Citizen Corps Council or asking an existing organizing group to expand their mission and take on this responsibility is an easy first step to making Citizen Corps an active part of your community. You may want to hold one or more brainstorming sessions, where council members can collectively identify goals for your community and develop a better understanding of the risks your community faces. Topics that the Citizen Corps Council might address can include:

* Educating council members on the roles, responsibilities, and practices of the first responders, volunteer organizations, and any existing neighborhood organizational structure in the community;

* Identifying the existing activities and resources within your community that support Citizen Corps principles;

* Identifying volunteer groups and opportunities within your community that could assist in reducing risk or that could supplement resources in an emergency;

* Creating a menu of volunteer opportunities in which community residents could easily participate or partnering with the local Volunteer Center, if you have one, to design volunteer recruitment strategies;

* Assessing resources within your community that could be drawn on to support volunteerism and public education in your community;

* Identifying possible resources to support Citizen Corps, including local private sector support and contributions from foundations and non-profit organizations;

* Discussing opportunities to build public awareness and to educate the community about Citizen Corps opportunities within your community; and

* Developing a wish list of additional resources that your community might need to support a comprehensive Citizen Corps effort.

Developing a Citizen Corps Action Plan

As you begin to assess your needs and resources, you should work toward developing a clear mission statement and an action plan. Your Citizen Corps Council action plan could include short and long-term goals, a community communication system for emergency warnings, and a community mobilization plan with a specific plan outlining how to meet these goals.

Short-term goals could include having working smoke alarms and emergency kits in every household by the time school starts again in the fall, having each business in the community practice their evacuation plans within a month, training all senior high school students in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), or having Neighborhood Watch groups in all neighborhoods of the community. You may also want to target specific groups within your community, such as people living in high-risk areas, the youth population, and Americans with disabilities or disadvantaged populations.

It will be important for you to set meaningful, attainable goals, to make them public, to meet them, and then to recognize and celebrate your success.

Linking Local Activities with the National Effort

It will also be important for you to link local activities to the national effort. Although you may have an existing organization take on this responsibility and not create a new Citizen Corps Council, it is critical that all activities at the local level that encompass citizen participation in emergency preparedness, response capability training, crime prevention, and skill-based volunteer programs related to community safety be identified with Citizen Corps.

A great way to get started is to have a public event to recognize the activities that volunteers, first responders, and residents in your community are already doing that relate to Citizen Corps. Explain that there is a new national initiative to link all these activities and to introduce other activities to promote personal and community safety. Make a commitment to help each resident in the community participate in Citizen Corps. Citizen participation can include:

* Becoming better prepared and taking measures to reduce risk within their home, such as putting together a family emergency preparedness plan and kit, installing smoke detectors or elevating electrical appliances above flood stage, securing free standing shelving to a wall or strapping down a water heater;

* Being a part of a Neighborhood Watch Program group;

* Becoming a volunteer firefighter or emergency medical technician;

* Volunteering their particular skills to help with community risk assessments; and

* Volunteering with community organizations already active in disaster preparedness and response.

The goal is to include everyone in your community. One of your first steps to support Citizen Corps is to promote the initiative and to expand the range of opportunities available to the residents of your community. Other opportunities for Citizen Corps volunteers are listed in Appendix C.

There is no standard way to approach promoting your local efforts; each community is encouraged to be creative and to use the Citizen Corps message to promote participation. Your community may host community-wide Citizen Corps community preparedness days to challenge everyone in the community to put together a home emergency preparedness kit. Another may put the Citizen Corps logo on appropriate local websites. Another may use the local media outlets to promote local Citizen Corps activities and to educate the public. Another may focus on the school system to disseminate information. And some communities will do all of these and more.

Information Sharing

A critical part of making Citizen Corps a success is building a network of communities that are committed to engaging their citizens in making their neighborhoods safer, stronger, and better prepared for all situations. To facilitate this network, FEMA maintains a web-based directory of Citizen Corps Councils. Through this directory you will be able to contact other Citizen Corps Councils throughout the nation and have a direct exchange of information with your counterparts. This directory will also enable your state and federal partners to contact you with updated information as the programs evolve nationally and to collect innovative local practices for national promotion.

As soon as you have designated a group to coordinate Citizen Corps in your community, please log on to www.citizencorps.gov/ccorps and register your Citizen Corps Council contact information by clicking on the registration link. In providing this information to FEMA, you will be agreeing to be part of a list to be shared with other community leaders working to create Citizen Corps in their community.

National Citizen Corps Programs in Your Community

The current five federal Citizen Corps programs will be implemented nationwide by fall 2002.

Right now, every community can start Neighborhood Watch groups. Guidance on how to begin is available from your local sheriff's department, your local police department, or from the National Sheriffs' Association. (Visit the National Sheriffs' Association at www.usaonwatch.org for more information.) A strong network of Neighborhood Watch groups can also serve as a delivery system for other Citizen Corps materials, such as emergency communications, Community Emergency Response Team training, or a family preparedness checklist.

FEMA's Are You Ready? A Guide to Citizen Preparedness provides practical information on how your family can prepare for any disaster. Available on the Citizen Corps website, www.citizencorps.gov, this guide can be used to help everyone in your community be better prepared.

The Community Emergency Response Team training program is a 20-hour course, typically conducted over a seven-week period. Training sessions cover disaster preparedness, fire suppression, basic disaster medical services, light search and rescue, team organization, and a module on protection against terrorist threats.

The training also includes a disaster simulation in which participants practice skills that they learned throughout the course. Your local fire and emergency medical services departments (EMS) may have a key role in bringing CERT to your community. Many states already have experienced CERT trainers who could come to your community and provide training. Soon, every state will have this capability.

VIPS was launched nationwide in May 2002 and examples of best practices are available at www.policevolunteers.org. The Medical Reserve Corps guidance will be launched nationwide in falll 2002. Operation TIPS is in development. ■

Available Resources

Fortunately, implementing Citizen Corps in your community can be accomplished with resources that you may already have available. Volunteer agencies in your community and your Volunteer Center, if you have one, can help you better direct volunteer interest to Citizen Corps activities. There are many low-cost ways for local businesses to participate; by donating the cost of a publication, by sponsoring a Citizen Corps volunteer fair, by sponsoring training for employees or neighborhood residents, and by practicing emergency preparedness plans for the business. The federal and state governments will provide training materials and technical assistance to help you get started and to help you sustain the momentum.

The Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS), a federal agency that operates nationwide service programs, may make available to Citizen Corps Councils volunteers that participate in AmeriCorps, Senior Corps, and Learn and Serve America programs. Many of these participants are already active in disaster-related programs with other voluntary agencies. Volunteers could serve to help communities establish a training and information delivery system in neighborhoods, schools, and businesses, and could help with family preparedness and crime prevention initiatives in the community or across a region.

Volunteer support and participation in Citizen Corps can come from a variety of sources. Encourage your council members to be creative when thinking about potential resources that exist throughout the community. Appendix A is a list of government, emergency management, and first responder community websites that may be helpful to you as you expand your volunteer base. Appendix B includes a list of questions to help your council identify possible resources, including people, materials, and financial.

President Bush has requested more than $230 million from Congress in Fiscal Year 2003 to support and expand Citizen Corps initiatives. This amount includes funds for FEMA, DOJ, and HHS to support the five national Citizen Corps programs, including nationwide CERT training, and grants to communities through the state to support local activities that foster preparedness programs and partnerships between the first responder organizations and the volunteers. ■

Communicating Success

Communicating success is a key element of sustaining momentum. It is important to share your success with the residents of your community as well as with your state and federal partners. By sharing ideas and practices that work in one community, similar actions can be embraced by other communities and can inspire further creativity.

Developing a strong Citizen Corps Council will require significant proactive communication with residents of your community. Identifying creative ways to get the message out about opportunities available through Citizen Corps, as well as calling your citizens to action and communicating success, will require an ongoing communications strategy that can include media coverage, events, and presentations.

You may want to consider forming a communications committee within your council that includes local media representatives, public relations and marketing executives, and talented spokespersons who will help you to effectively recruit and educate the members of your community.

The communications committee may want to consider:

* Developing a presentation about Citizen Corps in your community that can be shared at meetings held by groups within your community. Once a presentation has been developed, council members can fan out to present Citizen Corps to community groups, local parent/teacher associations, volunteer clubs and other groups that are interested in Citizen Corps.

* Planning a media outreach strategy that will tap into and develop relationships with your community's local media to educate them on Citizen Corps. Media opportunities might include interviews with participants active in Neighborhood Watch, coverage of your local government's proclamation of Citizen Corps week, letters to the editor, or meeting with the editorial board about Citizen Corps. Local media could also sponsor a regular newspaper or television spot to feature volunteer opportunities and Citizen Corps activities/success stories.

* Designating contacts for speaking to the media and working with these contacts to develop a consistent message for promoting Citizen Corps within your community.

* Incorporating Citizen Corps into newsletters and other publications developed by your community's local government, Chamber of Commerce, or neighborhood associations.

* Planning a community Citizen Corps fair to bring together specific volunteer opportunities in your community with citizens interested in contributing. By inviting a local radio station to sponsor it, they could also provide public service announcements in advance to promote the fair and broadcasting live from the fair on the day of the event. Your local Volunteer Center may be able to help arrange such an event.

* Contacting members of Congress and their local staff to help promote Citizen Corps activities within your community.

You may also want to create a recognition committee to provide support and recognition to Citizen Corps volunteers. Your local Volunteer Center can assist you with ideas for appropriate public recognition. ■

VI. Government Roles

Federal Government

Citizen Corps is a vital component of President Bush's new USA Freedom Corps initiative, through which he wants to inspire every American to answer the call to service and to strengthen and expand service opportunities to protect our homeland, to support our communities, and to extend American compassion around the world. President Bush will continue to echo his call to service and encourage Americans to serve their communities through Citizen Corps.

Additional aspects of the federal government role in Citizen Corps will include:

* Promoting Citizen Corps at the national level and providing a national message, a logo, and a brand;

* Fostering state and community participation, overseeing progress, recognizing accomplishments, and providing opportunities for mentoring and sharing ideas and resources;

* Compiling accurate information and developing training standards and training materials for Citizen Corps activities;

* Conducting train-the-trainers courses to develop state training capabilities and providing on-line educational opportunities, as appropriate;

* Helping identify volunteer programs and initiatives that support the goals of Citizen Corps;

* Helping secure national partnerships to promote Citizen Corps throughout the country; and

* Developing financial incentives and tie-ins with other federal programs to encourage local government participation in Citizen Corps.

At the national level, Citizen Corps is coordinated by FEMA, in collaboration with DOJ, and HHS and is supported by CNCS. In addition, FEMA is working with other federal agencies, national volunteer organizations, and representatives from first responders associations. FEMA's regional offices will work with states and communities to help make Citizen Corps a success.

State Government

The responsibilities of state governments mirror those of the federal government and include the mission to encourage every community in the state to participate in Citizen Corps.

Local Citizen Corps Councils will be supported by a state coordinator for Citizen Corps. States are also encouraged to create a state Citizen Corps Council to bring together a number of state, local, and community organizations to discuss opportunities for collaboration and ways to address the needs of communities across the state and to share innovative practices and ways to avoid pitfalls. Since this is primarily a local government initiative, it is critical that the state coordinator has a good working relationship with the local governments and serves as an advocate.

Key state responsibilities include: identifying needs and developing a statewide strategy for increasing the first responder and volunteer collaboration; developing statewide marketing strategies; matching Citizen Corps training needs with other major state training initiatives; reporting statewide accomplishments; and ensuring that Citizen Corps communities receive consideration for any relevant grant funding administered by the state.

States could also support Citizen Corps by developing relevant state policies and practices. To lend their support, governors and other state representatives could also promote Citizen Corps in public speaking engagements, press conferences, and media events.

V. Conclusion

Conclusion

We have experienced many changes as a nation since September 11, 2001. We are now more aware of our vulnerabilities, more appreciative of the freedoms we are protecting, and more understanding that we have a personal responsibility for the safety of our families, our neighbors, and our communities. Citizen Corps was created to engage all Americans in making our communities safer, stronger, and better prepared for any situation.

This is an exciting time in our nation's history. We have the opportunity to reinvigorate our national identity and to build an American culture of service, citizenship, and responsibility. We must not miss this opportunity to harness the innumerable acts of kindness taking place in our communities everyday and to make them a part of this profound cultural change. ■

WASHINGTON

April 4, 2002

Dear Fellow Americans:

Americans are responding to the evil and horror of the terrorist attacks of September 11 with a renewed commitment to doing good. In communities around the country people are serving others in countless ways, from helping their local fire department, to volunteering with the local Red Cross, to joining a neighborhood or community watch program.

To capture the spirit of service that has emerged throughout our communities, we launched the USA Freedom Corps initiative earlier this year. As part of that initiative, we created Citizen Corps to help coordinate volunteer activities that will make our communities safer, stronger, and better prepared to respond to any emergency situation.

Our local mayors, council members, and county commissioners know best what risks their communities face. They also know how best to use the talents and the time of their citizens to prevent, prepare for, and respond to those risks. Because every community is different, we are asking cities and counties across the country to create Citizen Corps Councils of their own design, bringing together first responders, volunteer organizations, law enforcement agencies, and community-serving institutions, such as schools, hospitals, and houses of worship.

Some Citizen Corps Councils will feature local activities that reflect new and existing national programs such as Neighborhood Watch, Community Emergency Response Teams, Terrorism Information Protection System, Volunteers in Police Service, and the Medical Reserve Corps. Some will include local programs that involve partnerships with law enforcement agencies, hospitals, first responders, and schools.

What all Citizen Corps Councils will have in common is that our local leaders will be working to expand opportunities for their community members to engage in volunteer service that will support emergency preparation, prevention, and response. This guide offers a suggested framework for community activity that will allow local government leaders to begin their own Citizen Corps Council and activities.

Together, we can protect our communities and make them places where responsibility and service are reflected in the good we do for others.

Thank you for your service,

George W. Bush

Appendix B Potential Resources for Citizen Corps Councils

These questions may help you identify resources to help you implement Citizen Corps.

GENERAL

1. Who could champion this initiative in your community? Who might champion it within segments of your community? What is the best way to foster city/county/regional collaboration?

2. What organizations are already active in programs relevant to Citizen Corps objectives?

3. Which organizations usually sponsor or participate in various events that happen in your community (e.g., days of service, parades, fairs, block parties, speakers, carnivals, etc.)?

4. What federal, state, or non-profit agencies serve your community? Could they provide staff, guidance, or training to participate in Citizen Corps activities, such as United Way?

5. Does a regional planning council or a related organization include your community within its sphere of interest?

6. What current preparedness activities are in progress in your communities? How can you involve youth organizations, such Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts or Explorers in Citizen Corps activities?

VOLUNTEER

7. Do you have a Volunteer Center in your community where volunteer opportunities can be registered and where you can receive assistance with recruitment efforts? What do you need to do to start one?

8. Is there a state or local VOAD that could provide training and planning assistance for emergency preparedness, mitigation, response, and recovery?

9. How can you involve organizations such as the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army that are already active in disaster preparedness and response?

10. Are there courses and programs already being provided in your community by voluntary organizations?

11. What volunteer groups are already in active in the community that can be called upon to serve as Citizen Corps Council partners, including community service groups, faith-based groups, and high school civic groups?

12. Is your community served by AmeriCorps volunteers? Does your community have an active Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP)?

13. Are there volunteers already working and trained with organizations whose missions complement the goals of Citizen Corps? How can you tap into organizations that already recruit, manage, and place volunteers?

14. What other organizations, such as universities, volunteer groups, civic organizations, business councils, mosques, churches, or synagogues, can be tapped to sponsor volunteer participation or community events?

SCHOOLS AND UNIVERSITIES

15. Are there colleges, universities, or vocational/technical schools in your community that have sponsored or participated in local preparedness activities?

16. Do any of these institutions have curricula or degrees of study programs related to civic administration or emergency management? Do they have an internship program that you could tap to support council efforts?

17. What other resources might your community's colleges, universities or vocational/technical schools provide to your Citizen Corps Councils?

18. Do your local high schools incorporate a community service element as part of their graduation requirement? How can you involve high school clubs' members or their leaders in Citizen Corps?

Appendix B Potential Resources for Citizen Corps Councils

BUSINESS SECTOR

19. Which businesses in your community have corporate policies and value statements that encourage worker participation in community life?

20. Are there businesses in your community that have a good fit with the goals of Citizen Corps, such as insurance companies, security firms, training facilities, or manufacturers of preparedness kit items?

MEDIA

21. Are there individuals or local celebrities in your community who would be willing to serve as motivational speakers to encourage people to participate in Citizen Corps?

22. Which TV, radio, print, or other media outlets in your area are community-service oriented?

23. Which journalists or reporters in your community frequently cover human interest stories or stories on disaster and emergency management?

24. Is there a local weather forecaster or news anchor who could be encouraged to serve as a Citizen Corps Council member?

Appendix C Opportunities for Citizen Corps Volunteers

The following are examples of how citizens can engage in volunteer opportunities that support the efforts of Citizen Corps. This is by no means an exhaustive list but is intended to give you some ideas for getting your citizens involved.

Neighborhood Watch Program

* Arrange for home security inspections by crime prevention officers to identify security vulnerabilities
* Upgrade locks, security hardware, and lighting
* Train family members to keep valuables secure and to lock windows when leaving home
* Train family members on identifying suspicious behaviors that could indicate terrorist activity
* Ask neighbors to watch for suspicious activity when the house is vacant
* Organize block WATCH groups to assist children, the elderly, and other especially vulnerable persons if they appear to be distressed, in danger, or lost
* Organize meetings with neighborhood groups and trained crime prevention officers to discuss security needs and crime prevention strategies
* Obtain and study informative materials from the National Sheriffs' Association, the National Crime Prevention Council, and local law enforcement agencies

Community Emergency Response Teams (CERT)

* Staff a community education booth at community events
* Identify safety needs and vulnerable individuals in your neighborhood
* Distribute disaster education material in your neighborhood, in multiple languages if appropriate
* Assist with writing and distributing a CERT newsletter
* Help organize drills, activities, and supplemental training for your team
* Participate in a speaker's bureau to schools and clubs
* Assist emergency management officials and fire departments with installing smoke alarms and other special projects
* Help with CERT administrative duties by maintaining databases, helping with class registration, and assisting with class logistics
* Organize recognition activities for volunteers
* After CERT training, assist in evacuation, shelter management, donations management, care of responders at fires or emergencies, mass care of victims from a large event, damage assessment, and perimeter control

Volunteers in Police Service (VIPS)

* Take police reports
* Make follow-up telephone calls to victims
* Conduct fingerprinting
* Engage in crowd/parking control at special events
* Participate in search and rescue missions
* Participate in mounted patrols in parking lots at high school football games
* Operate metal detectors at a courthouse
* Serve subpoenas

Medical Reserve Corps

During emergencies, members of the Medical Reserve Corps could:

* Assess and monitor the condition of patients
* Counsel patients
* Perform support and management activities (e.g., inventory and distribution of pharmaceuticals, supplies, and food, and facilitating patient transfers)
* Administer and distribute medication

In non-emergency situations, local agencies could request volunteers to assist them in performing their routine duties. Volunteers could:

* Distribute educational materials about the need for immunizations
* Give immunizations

* Assist with health education

* Provide additional support for community screening efforts (e.g., breast cancer, hypertension, diabetes, etc.)

Fire Department

* Become a volunteer firefighter or emergency medical services technician

* Offer to help the fire department in its fundraising efforts. Help with bingo or bake sales or other department fundraising programs

* Help the department with its financial matters if you have a business background or special skills in this area

* Help with correspondence, public outreach, and records management

* Assist the fire department and fire prevention experts with fire prevention education in your neighborhood, place of business, schools, and community organizations

* Assist the department with its canteen service so they will have water and food for major fires

What is Citizen Corps?

President Bush's new Citizen Corps initiative offers the means for citizens to help make our communities safer, stronger, and better prepared from the threats of terrorism, crime, and disasters of all kinds.

Citizen Corps brings together leaders from law enforcement, fire, emergency medical and other emergency management, volunteer organizations, local elected officials, and the private sector to form Citizen Corps Councils. These Councils provide local oversight for engaging citizens in homeland security and for promoting community and family safety in three principle ways: through public education and outreach, through training opportunities, and through volunteer programs that draw on special skills and interests.

Citizen Corps is composed of existing and new federally sponsored programs and other activities that share the common goal of helping communities prevent, prepare for and respond to crime, disasters, pressing public health needs and emergencies of all kinds. It encourages all Americans to take an active role in building safer, stronger, and better-prepared communities one neighborhood at a time!

Community Emergency Response Team

Community Emergency Response Team training is a Federal Emergency Management Agency program that educates citizens about the hazards they face in their community and trains them in lifesaving skills. If needed following a disaster, these citizen-responders use their training as part of a neighborhood or workplace team to help others when professional responders are overwhelmed or not immediately available. CERT members provide immediate assistance to victims in their area, organize spontaneous volunteers who have not had the training, and collect disaster intelligence that will assist professional responders with prioritization and allocation of resources when they arrive.

PURPOSE OF THE PROGRAM

CERT promotes a partnering between emergency management and response agencies and the people in the community that they serve. The goal is to train members of neighborhoods and workplaces in basic response skills. Then CERT teams are formed and maintained as part of the emergency response capability for their area.

If there is a natural or man-made event that overwhelms or delays the community's professional responders, CERT members can assist others by applying the basic response and organizational skills that they learned during their CERT training. These skills can help save and sustain lives until help arrives. CERT members also can volunteer for special projects that improve a community's preparedness.

HOW IT WORKS

The basic CERT training program is a 20-hour course, typically delivered one evening per week over a 7-week period. Training sessions cover disaster preparedness, fire suppression, basic disaster medical operations, light search and rescue, disaster psychology, team organization, and a new module on terrorism to educate CERT members about BNICE agents: Biological, Nuclear, Incendiary, Chemical, and Explosive. This module will help CERT members identify situations where these agents may have been used and protective actions that they should take.

The training concludes with a disaster simulation in which participants practice skills that they learned throughout the course.

CERT information including a CERT Instructor Guide and Student Guide is located on the web at http://training.fema.gov/emiweb/cert/index.htm.

What is Citizen Corps?

President Bush's new Citizen Corps initiative offers the means for citizens to help make our communities safer, stronger, and better prepared from the threats of terrorism, crime, and disasters of all kinds.

Citizen Corps brings together leaders from law enforcement, fire, emergency medical and other emergency management, volunteer organizations, local elected officials, and the private sector to form Citizen Corps Councils. These Councils provide local oversight for engaging citizens in homeland security and for promoting community and family safety in three principle ways: through public education and outreach, through training opportunities, and through volunteer programs that draw on special skills and interests.

Citizen Corps is composed of existing and new federally sponsored programs and other activities that share the common goal of helping communities prevent, prepare for and respond to crime, disasters, pressing public health needs and emergencies of all kinds. It encourages all Americans to take an active role in building safer, stronger, and better-prepared communities one neighborhood at a time!

Neighborhood Watch Program

The Neighborhood Watch Program is already a strong force in community protection in America's neighborhoods. President Bush and Attorney General Ashcroft have announced that the National Sheriffs' Association will expand the Neighborhood Watch Program so that it serves more community groups, and offers community members new information about how to recognize and report signs of potential terrorist activity in their neighborhoods. These residents are critical in the detection, prevention, and disruption of terrorism. Many neighborhoods already have Neighborhood Watch programs. For those that do not, this new initiative may provide the incentive for them to start one as part of Citizen Corps.

Over the next 2 years, the National Sheriffs' Association will help to double the number of Neighborhood Watch Programs operating throughout the country from approximately 7,500 to more than 15,000. Neighborhood Watch materials and training will also be revised to teach individuals how they can assist in the war against terrorism by incorporating preparedness in their daily lives. Neighborhood Watch will continue to work to reduce crime in neighborhoods nationwide by encouraging businesses, the faith community, schools, and citizens to cooperate and assist local law enforcement by reporting suspicious activity.

RESOURCES AVAILABLE

The National Crime Prevention Council, in partnership with the U.S. Department of Justice, has developed a Citizen Preparedness Guide for use in this and other Citizen Corps programs. The guide provides specific actions that citizens can take in their communities to reduce crime. The guide outlines five specific themes: protecting one's self and family; protecting and comforting children; knowing and caring for neighbors; reporting crimes and suspicious activity; and emergency preparedness. Get a free copy of the guide at www.citizencorps.gov/guidebook, or by calling 1-800-WE-PREVENT.

NATIONAL SHERIFFS' ASSOCIATION

The Neighborhood Watch Program is a highly successful crime prevention effort that has been in existence for more than thirty years in cities across America. Neighborhood Watch brings together local officials, law enforcement, and citizens for the protection of communities. Developed in response to a multitude of requests from sheriffs and police chiefs nationwide looking for a crime prevention program that would incorporate citizen involvement, Neighborhood Watch became a national program under the auspices of the National Sheriffs' Association (NSA). NSA has been instrumental in launching the expanded Neighborhood Watch Program.

More information about the Neighborhood Watch Program and how to start one in your neighborhood is available at www.usaonwatch.org.

Terrorism Information and Prevention System (Operation TIPS) Citizen Corps

What is Citizen Corps?

President Bush's new Citizen Corps initiative offers the means for citizens to help make our communities safer, stronger, and better prepared from the threats of terrorism, crime, and disasters of all kinds.

Citizen Corps brings together leaders from law enforcement, fire, emergency medical and other emergency management, volunteer organizations, local elected officials, and the private sector to form Citizen Corps Councils. These Councils provide local oversight for engaging citizens in homeland security and for promoting community and family safety in three principle ways: through public education and outreach, through training opportunities, and through volunteer programs that draw on special skills and interests.

Citizen Corps is composed of existing and new federally sponsored programs and other activities that share the common goal of helping communities prevent, prepare for and respond to crime, disasters, pressing public health needs and emergencies of all kinds. It encourages all Americans to take an active role in building safer, stronger, and better-prepared communities one neighborhood at a time!

Operation TIPS

Operation TIPS, administered by the U.S. Department of Justice and developed in partnership with several other federal agencies, is one of the five component programs of the Citizen Corps.

PURPOSE OF THE PROGRAM

Operation TIPS will be a national system for reporting suspicious, and potentially terrorist-related activity. The program will involve the American workers who, in the daily course of their work, are in a unique position to see unusual or suspicious activity in public places.

The Department of Justice is discussing participation with members of the trucking, shipping, maritime, railway, and port industries whose workers are ideally suited to help in the anti-terrorism effort because their routines allow them to recognize unusual events.

This program offers a way for these workers to report what they see in public areas and along transportation routes. Information can be reported on the toll-free hotline or online. Information received will be referred electronically to points of contact in each state as appropriate. This is not a national 911 center, and callers are expected to dial 911 for emergency local response.

HOW IT WILL WORK

Industries that are interested in participating in this program will be given printed guidance material (e.g., flyers and brochures) about the program and how to contact the Operation TIPS reporting center. Industries will determine how this information will be disseminated to workers.

The information provided to the volunteers will include: how to access the hotline; warnings that the hotline is intended only for reporting suspicious activities, not individuals whose appearance or dress is of concern to the caller; a reminder that, in case of a true emergency, the caller should use the 911 system; and prohibitions against invasion of privacy, conducting investigations, or performing any law enforcement function.

Operation TIPS will be phased in across the country to allow each state to determine which law enforcement agencies should receive the information that the call center disseminates. As states identify their point(s) of contact, which can be a single point or multiple points of contact, they will be added to the system and start receiving referrals.

President Bush's new Citizen Corps initiative offers the means for citizens to help make our communities safer, stronger, and better prepared from the threats of terrorism, crime, and disasters of all kinds.

Citizen Corps brings together leaders from law enforcement, fire, emergency medical and other emergency management, volunteer organizations, local elected officials, and the private sector to form Citizen Corps Councils. These Councils provide local oversight for engaging citizens in homeland security and for promoting community and family safety in three principle ways: through public education and outreach, through training opportunities, and through volunteer programs that draw on special skills and interests.

Citizen Corps is composed of existing and new federally sponsored programs and other activities that share the common goal of helping communities prevent, prepare for and respond to crime, disasters, pressing public health needs and emergencies of all kinds. It encourages all Americans to take an active role in building safer, stronger, and better-prepared communities one neighborhood at a time!

Medical Reserve Corps

The Medical Reserve Corps will provide local communities with volunteer health professionals who can assist health professionals during a large-scale local emergency (e.g., pandemic influenza or a hazardous materials spill). Practicing and retired health care professionals will be on a medical reserve list, ready to be called up to duty in the event of an emergency. In addition to playing an important role during a large-scale local emergency, Medical Reserve Corps volunteers would also be active in promoting public health in their communities throughout the year.

PURPOSE OF THE PROGRAM

Medical Reserve Corps will usually be affiliated with a local Citizen Corps Council. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) will support coordination and training for volunteer health professionals so that they are ready to assist their community in the event of a local emergency. Medical Reserve Corps volunteers can assist with emergency response teams, provide care to victims with non- serious injuries, and provide additional manpower/staffing to increase the effectiveness of physicians, nurses and other health professionals in a major crisis.

Medical Reserve Corps seeks to:

- Draw Americans into volunteer service;
- Create a framework to match volunteers' skills with their communities' needs;
- Train a cadre of health professionals to respond better to the needs of their communities; enhancing their skills and teaching them their roles in support of local emergency response efforts; and
- Provide reserve capacity at the community level to respond to health needs for emergencies and/or for locally identified public health needs and priorities.

HOW IT WILL WORK

Local leaders will develop their own reserve of medical professionals based on their community's needs. Once established, local leaders will decide if and when to activate their Medical Reserve Corps during an emergency.

Medical reserve volunteers will receive assignments based on their skills and qualifications. After each local community develops its own Medical Reserve Corps unit, these volunteers will be able to respond to local emergencies within a few hours of being called into action.

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services is the lead federal agency for the Medical Reserve Corps. HHS has worked with health professions' organizations, non-professional organizations, and local and state agencies to develop the program guidelines and a resource manual, and to provide technical assistance to local communities who choose to develop their own Medical Reserve Corps.

What is Citizen Corps?

President Bush's new Citizen Corps initiative offers the means for citizens to help make our communities safer, stronger, and better prepared from the threats of terrorism, crime, and disasters of all kinds.

Citizen Corps brings together leaders from law enforcement, fire, emergency medical and other emergency management, volunteer organizations, local elected officials, and the private sector to form Citizen Corps Councils. These Councils provide local oversight for engaging citizens in homeland security and for promoting community and family safety in three principle ways: through public education and outreach, through training opportunities, and through volunteer programs that draw on special skills and interests.

Citizen Corps is composed of existing and new federally sponsored programs and other activities that share the common goal of helping communities prevent, prepare for and respond to crime, disasters, pressing public health needs and emergencies of all kinds. It encourages all Americans to take an active role in building safer, stronger, and better-prepared communities one neighborhood at a time!

Volunteers in Police Service (VIPS)

The Volunteers in Police Service (VIPS) program is being developed by the U.S. Department of Justice in partnership with the International Association of Chiefs of Police. VIPS is one of three Citizen Corps programs administered by the Department of Justice.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAM

The VIPS program is designed to address the increasing demands on state and local law enforcement agencies. In the aftermath of the terrorist attacks of September 11, already limited law enforcement resources are being stretched further at a time when this country needs every available officer out on the beat. Some police departments are turning to civilian volunteers to enable police officers to be on the front lines, working to make communities safer. These volunteer outreach efforts will receive new support through VIPS.

Examples of volunteer support activities include:

- Assisting with traffic control;
- Impounding and storing marked abandoned vehicles;
- Searching for missing persons;
- Booking property;
- Transporting department vehicles;
- Enforcing handicapped parking; and
- Processing paperwork.

RESOURCES & CURRENT PRACTICES

The VIPS program was launched in May 2002. The program will provide resources to assist local law enforcement in incorporating community volunteers into the activities of law enforcement agencies.

A tool kit for state and local law enforcement agencies will outline a series of promising practices to help them design strategies to recruit, train, and deploy citizen volunteers in their departments.

There are already many police departments across the country utilizing the talents and commitment of volunteers in their communities to support the work of their officers. Examples of some of these programs are available on the Citizens Corps website.

Go to www.policevolunteers.org or contact your local law enforcement agency to find out if they have a VIPS program you can join today.

USA Freedom Corps

Executive Summary

Since the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, Americans have acted with courage, compassion, and unity. To capture this spirit and to foster an American culture of service, citizenship, and responsibility, President George W. Bush has called upon all Americans to dedicate at least two years of their lives—the equivalent of 4,000 hours—in service to others. He launched the USA Freedom Corps initiative to inspire and enable all Americans to find ways to serve their community, their country, or the world.

Citizen Corps is the component of USA Freedom Corps that creates opportunities for individuals to volunteer to help their communities prepare for and respond to emergencies by bringing together local leaders, citizen volunteers and the network of first responder organizations, such as fire departments, police departments and emergency medical personnel. The goal is to have all citizens participate in making their communities safer, stronger, and better prepared for preventing and handling threats of terrorism, crime, and disasters of all kinds.

Citizen Corps Leadership

The Citizen Corps effort will be coordinated at the local level by Citizen Corps Councils, or a similar coordinating body, which will bring together leaders from the relevant sectors of your community. The purpose of the council is to have all decision makers at the table to manage existing volunteer resources, to leverage mutually supportive endeavors among the represented groups, and to direct the overall local plans to implement Citizen Corps in the community.

At the state level, all Governors have appointed a state coordinator for Citizen Corps to facilitate this locally driven initiative. The state coordinator will work closely with the local governments, other state organizations, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), the Department of Justice (DOJ), the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), and other federal agencies to implement a successful Citizen Corps program for the state.

Key state responsibilities include: identifying needs and developing a statewide strategy for increasing the first responder and volunteer collaboration; developing statewide marketing strategies; matching Citizen Corps training needs with other major state training initiatives; reporting statewide accomplishments; and ensuring that Citizen Corps communities receive considerations for relevant grant funding administered by the state.

President Bush has requested more than $230 million from Congress in Fiscal Year 2003 to support and expand Citizen Corps initiatives. This amount includes funds to support the five national Citizen Corps programs, including nationwide training and grants to communities through the state to support local activities that foster preparedness programs and partnerships between the first responder organizations and the volunteers.

Citizen Corps Programs

Citizen Corps programs build on the successful efforts that are in place in many communities around the country to prevent crime and respond to emergencies. Programs that started through local innovation are the foundation for Citizen Corps and this national approach to citizen participation in community safety.

Currently three federal agencies, FEMA, DOJ, and HHS, administer five programs that are being promoted at the national level as part of Citizen Corps. These programs will be implemented nationwide by fall 2002. FEMA coordinates the overall effort of helping communities establish local Citizen Corps programs.

The five national Citizen Corps programs are:

* The Neighborhood Watch Program, funded by the Department of Justice (DOJ) and administered by the National Sheriffs' Association, has been reinvigorated to increase the number of groups involved in crime prevention and homeland security and preparedness efforts. The goal is to double the number of groups participating in Neighborhood Watch by 2004. Additional information about registering a watch group or obtaining resources to support Neighborhood Watch efforts is available www.usaonwatch.org.

* FEMA's Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) program provides training in emergency preparedness and in basic response techniques to local trainers who in turn train citizens, enabling them to take a more active role in personal and public safety. The goal is to triple the number of citizens who are CERT trained, increasing the number nationwide to 600,000 by 2004. Additional information on CERT is available at www.training.fema.gov/emiweb/cert.

* Volunteers in Police Service (VIPS) is a program administered by DOJ. The program, which was launched nationwide in spring 2002, provides training for volunteers to perform administrative and non-intervention policing activities to free up law enforcement professionals for frontline duty. Additional information is available at www.policevolunteers.org.

* HHS will administer a community-based Medical Reserve Corps that will be launched in fall 2002. Through this program, currently practicing and retired volunteers trained in healthcare will be able to assist during large-scale emergencies and will augment the emergency medical response community. Medical Reserve Corps volunteers can also play a productive role in meeting pressing but non-emergency public health needs of the community throughout the year. Additional information is available at www.medicalreservecorps.gov.

* Terrorism Information and Prevention System (Operation TIPS), under development by DOJ, Operation TIPS would provide a hotline and referral system for workers in the trucking, shipping, maritime, and mass transit industries to report suspicious, and potentially terrorism-related, activities occurring in public areas to local, state, and federal law enforcement. The initiative's design is based on existing programs, such as Highway Watch and Coast Watch, that allow truckers and ship captains to report dangerous conditions along their routes.

There are also many other opportunities for participating in Citizen Corps. There is a vast array of educational and volunteer activities already underway across the country that focus on making communities safer, stronger, and better prepared. These activities are also part of Citizen Corps.

Local Government Implementation

Citizen Corps is designed to be tailored to each community and will be managed at the local level by Citizen Corps Councils, or a similar entity, comprised of leaders from: emergency management and the first responder community; volunteer, community service, faith- and community-based organizations; educational institutions; medical facilities; business and industry; and the community's neighborhood networks.

Each community that is implementing Citizen Corps should consider creating a Citizen Corps Council. This guide will help your community join the many others across the country that have already started Citizen Corps Councils in order to be prepared to fully implement the Citizen Corps programs in their communities.

The primary objectives of the councils are to:

* Match the needs of first responders with the skills and abilities of volunteers to make their families, their homes, and their communities safer from the threats of terrorism, crime, and disasters.

* Educate the public on safety, help citizens take an active role in protecting themselves from harm, and teach citizens what to do in the event of a crisis.

* Spearhead efforts to offer citizens new and existing volunteer opportunities, educational information, and training courses to address crime, terrorism, and natural disaster risks.

REV_00266410

* Promote all Citizen Corps programs and activities across the community.

* Capture innovative practices and report accomplishments that can be replicated in other communities nationwide.

* Survey the community to assess increased awareness and Citizen Corps participation.

Creating a new organization to start Citizen Corps is not required. If your community already has a strong team that brings together all sectors of your community, including first responders and volunteer groups, you may want to ask this group to take on the responsibility of promoting Citizen Corps and to acknowledge this group as affiliated with Citizen Corps. You are strongly encouraged to leverage existing resources and build on current successful programs whenever possible.

Benefits to the Community

Major disasters in a community can overload the capability of first responders, especially during the first 12 to 72 hours of the response. Having citizens who are better prepared to take care of themselves and others during times of crisis will allow first responders to focus their efforts on the most critical, life-threatening situations.

In addition, there are many tasks that a well-trained and organized group of volunteers could perform on an ongoing basis that would free up sworn officers, licensed health professionals, and professional firefighters so that they could focus more on immediate emergency response needs and less on the routine or administrative aspects of their responsibilities. Successful models of such activity exist throughout the country and are primed to be taken nationwide.

Citizen Corps will help citizens take a more active role in crime prevention, risk reduction, and emergency preparedness. It will bring together all sectors of the community involved in first responder issues and will enable them to establish ongoing working relationships and to work together in times of crisis. As a component of President Bush's call to service, Citizen Corps will also help build a community's sense of pride and cohesion.■

I. Citizen Corps

Overview

During his 2002 State of the Union address, President George W. Bush called upon every American to commit at least two years of their lives - the equivalent of 4,000 hours - to the service of others. Through the USA Freedom Corps, he wants to help every American answer that call to service by strengthening and expanding service opportunities to protect our homeland, to support our communities, and to extend American compassion around the world.

Coordinated by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), Citizen Corps is the component of the USA Freedom Corps that focuses on opportunities for people across the country to participate in a range of measures to make their families, homes, and communities safer from the threats of terrorism, crime, and disasters of all kinds. Citizen Corps also brings together a community's first responders, firefighters, emergency health care providers, law enforcement, and emergency managers with its volunteer resources.

Citizen Corps will help people across America take a more active role in crime prevention, support the emergency medical community, and be better trained in a wide range of emergency preparedness and disaster response activities. The events of this past year have motivated many Americans to want to help others more and to strengthen their communities. Citizen Corps offers the means for citizens to help make our communities safer, stronger, and better prepared and to answer the President's call to service.

Components of Citizen Corps

The Citizen Corps effort will be coordinated at the local level by Citizen Corps Councils, or a similar coordinating body, which will bring together leaders from the relevant sectors of your community. The purpose of the Council is to have all decision makers at the table to manage existing volunteer resources, to leverage mutually supportive endeavors among the represented groups, and to direct the overall local plans to implement Citizen Corps in the community.

Additional explanation of the Citizen Corps Councils is provided in Section II.

Current National Programs

Currently, there are five federal programs that are being promoted at the national level to be implemented locally as part of Citizen Corps. The long-term goal is to have every community implement all five programs.

* The Neighborhood Watch Program, funded by the Department of Justice (DOJ) and administered by the National Sheriffs' Association, has been reinvigorated to increase the number of groups involved in crime prevention and homeland security and preparedness efforts. The goal is to double the number of groups participating in Neighborhood Watch by 2004. Additional information about registering a watch group or obtaining resources to support Neighborhood Watch efforts is available at www.usaonwatch.org.

* FEMA's Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) program provides training in emergency preparedness and in basic response techniques to local trainers who in turn train citizens, enabling them to take a more active role in personal and public safety. The goal is to triple the number of citizens who are CERT trained, increasing the number nationwide to 600,000 by 2004. Additional information on CERT is available at www.training.fema.gov/EMIWeb/cert.

* The Volunteers in Police Service (VIPS) is a program administered by DOJ. The program, which was launched nationwide in spring 2002, provides training for volunteers to perform administrative and non-intervention policing activities to free up law enforcement professionals for frontline duty. Additional information is available at www.policevolunteers.org.

* The Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) will administer a community-based Medical Reserve Corps that will be launched in fall 2002. Through this program, currently practicing and retired volunteers trained in medicine will be able to assist during large-scale emergencies and will augment the emergency medical response community. Medical Reserve Corps volunteers can also play a productive role in meeting pressing but non-emergency public health needs of the community throughout the year. Additional information is available at www.medicalreservecorps.gov.

* Terrorism Information and Prevention System (Operation TIPS), under development by DOJ, Operation TIPS would provide a hotline and referral system for workers in the trucking, shipping, maritime, and mass transit industries to report suspicious, and potentially terrorism-related, activities occuring in public areas to local, state, and federal law enforcement. The initiative's design is based on existing programs, such as Highway Watch and Coast Watch, that allow truckers and ship captains to report dangerous conditions along their routes.

Additional Citizen Corps resources include:

* Are You Ready? A Guide to Citizen Preparedness, produced by FEMA, this guide provides comprehensive practical information on how your family can prepare for any disaster. It includeds up-to-date hazard specific safety tips, including natural and technological disasters, and newly updated information on terrorism. Are You Ready? is available on the Citizen Corps website, www.citizencorps.gov.

* The Citizens' Preparedness Guidebook, produced by the National Crime Prevention Council (NCPC) with support from DOJ, provides current crime and disaster preparedness techniques, as well as the latest information on terrorism, to give Americans guidance on how to prepare in our homes, neighborhoods, at work, at the airport, in places of worship, and in public spaces. The guide is available on the Citizen Corps website www.citizencorps.gov or by calling NCPC at 1-800-WE-PREVENT (1-800-937-7383).

* Appendix A provides the website address of other federal agencies and organizations that have useful information relating to the Citizen Corps mission.

Other Activities

There are many other opportunities for participating in Citizen Corps. There is a vast array of educational and volunteer activities already underway across the country that focus on making communities safer, stronger, and better prepared. They can be either interest-based programs or broad, community-wide initiatives. If your community participates in such activities, you may choose to integrate these efforts into the local Citizen Corps right away. Examples could include:

* Local activities that are similar to Neighborhood Watch, CERT, or VIPS, but may have different names in your community;

* Family preparedness materials being taught and distributed in neighborhoods, in the workplace, and throughout the school system;

* Community, faith-based, and youth programs that establish neighborhood support networks and disseminate disaster preparedness educational materials and preparedness kits to disadvantaged, elderly, non-English speaking, and persons with disabilities;

* Programs that involve volunteer medical professionals in an organized response to emergencies, such as those administered by the American Red Cross;

* Volunteer amateur radio operators serving as reserve communications experts in times of crisis;

* Volunteer engineers and engineering students performing structural analysis on critical infrastructure, lifelines, schools, and at-risk buildings;

* Programs for volunteers to participate in projects to reduce the damage to schools, hospitals, and other public buildings from known hazards in your area, such as floods, tornados, earthquakes, and hurricanes;

* Community and family disaster preparedness efforts conducted by established volunteer groups such as local Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (VOAD) and Volunteer Centers, or community service organizations, churches and faith-based organizations already active in your community;

* Volunteer fire departments and emergency medical teams;

* Programs supported by the local Chamber of Commerce to train business owners and employees on disaster preparedness and emergency response measures;

* High schools and college community service groups that promote Citizen Corps principles; and

* Volunteer participation in developing a community communications system for the color-coded Homeland Security Advisory System.

Every community is different. Citizen Corps calls on your community's creativity and inventiveness to develop other programs or activities that work in your area and that encompass all sectors of your community. Successful programs or approaches to citizen participation that start in one community can spread nationwide through the Citizen Corps network.

Benefits to your Community

Securing our safety and freedom requires that we all work together. Every American has a critical role to play. Major disasters in a community can overload the capability of first responders, especially during the first critical 12 to 72 hours of the event. Citizen Corps will provide the community with a well-trained, readily available pool of local people who know their community and who can help during this critical time when outside assistance may have not yet arrived.

On a day-to-day basis, your council will help citizens take a more active role in crime prevention, risk reduction, emergency preparedness, and public health issues. Citizen Corps Councils and the programs they oversee will make your community a safer, better place to live. Specific benefits include:

* Supplementing a community's professional police, fire, emergency management, public health, and public safety capabilities where appropriate, especially in times of emergency;

* Giving the residents of your community a greater sense of security, responsibility, and personal control;

* Showcasing your community's efforts in crime prevention, public health and safety, emergency medical response, risk reduction and mitigation practices, emergency preparedness, and emergency response as part of the national Citizen Corps initiative;

* Bringing together the volunteer and the first responder communities to promote the concept that everyone has a role in making their community safer, stronger, and better prepared;

* Demonstrating your leadership and your personal commitment to the safety of your community;

* Building community pride and patriotism; and

* Preparing us all for the vital role of caring for ourselves and others in times of crisis. ■

Dear Karl:

Please convey to the president The Lincoln Club of Orange County's respect for the determination which he showed during last night's press conference and for his long-standing courage in confronting Saddam Hussein.

We have heard that you are planning a trip to California in April. California will welcome you.

Allow us to renew our invitation to address The Lincoln Club of Orange County while you are here.

As you recall, our membership is comprised of 250 of southern California's leading conservative businessmen and women. We are committed to the president's reelection. Our membership would love to hear from you.

Please consider visiting us.

Very truly yours,

Michael D. Capaldi,
President

THE LINCOLN CLUB OF ORANGE COUNTY

FOUNDED 1962

The Lincoln Club is the largest and most active political club in the United States. Its has shaped California and national politics for almost forty years. Many of southern California's most successful businessmen are among its members.

Like many good stories, The Lincoln Club of Orange County's begins with bloodshed. In 1962, Richard Nixon returned to California to run for Governor. He was considered a heavy favorite to beat Governor Pat Brown, but he had to get by the primary challenge of Orange County native Joe Shell in order to win the nomination. The primary campaign was nasty. Many observers believed that, even though he survived to win the nomination, Nixon had been so bloodied in the primary that he lost the general election against Pat Brown.

The business elite of Orange County, many of whom supported Nixon, believed that they should try to impose a business-like order on state politics and avoid such primary battles. But, instead of shunning Shell supporters, they reached out to them. The Nixon boosters offered the Shell men membership in the new Lincoln Club of Orange County.

Its founders included the most prominent businessmen in Orange County, including Dr. Arnold O. Beckman, the founder of Beckman Instruments, Walter Knott, the founder of Knott's Berry Farm, and Si Fluor of the Fluor Corporation.

The club membership is still comprised of the most public-spirited and prominent business men and women in our community today, including Donald Kennedy of First American Financial Corporation, William Foley of Fidelity National Title Company, Donald Sodaro of Hanford Hotels, and George Argyros of Arnel Development, and The Irvine Company. The club has approximately 300 members.

Hundreds of candidates throughout Orange County, our state, and across the nation owe their start to the Lincoln Club. The club has played a pivotal role in the candidacies of Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan, Pete Wilson, and George Deukmejian. Richard Nixon and John Wayne were once members.

The Lincoln Club works to reduce the power and scope of government. It pushes for lower taxes, smaller bureaucracies, and more freedom for us all.

MEMORANDUM FOR KEN MEHLMAN

FROM: PAUL DYCK

SUBJECT: CUBA ARTICLES

Attached are articles regarding Fidel Castro's most recent threat to shut the U.S. Interests Section in Havana, and the Congressional delegation that arrived in Cuba the same day the State Department protested Castro's remarks.

Members of the delegation have publicly criticized the United States' Cuba policy, and are expected to submit legislation to ease restrictions on travel and trade with Cuba. While in Cuba, the group met with Cuban government officials and sought permission from Castro for a 25-member Congressional delegation to conduct a live town hall meeting with the Cuban people later this year. The delegation of eight included four Republicans – Jo Ann Emerson (MO-08), Jeff Flake (AZ-06), Butch Otter (ID-01), and Dennis Rehberg (MT-AL). The Congressional delegation was the largest to ever visit Cuba.

A brief timeline follows:

- March 6, 2003: Fidel Castro personally insulted James Cason, America's top diplomat in Havana, for meeting with Cuban dissidents. Castro also threatened to shut down the U.S. Interests Section in Cuba.

- March 7, 2003: The State Department protested Castro's remarks.

- March 7, 2003: Congressional delegation arrived in Havana for five-day trip.

Castro threatens to shut U.S. interests office; Assembly picks Cuban President for another term

Fort Lauderdale Sun-Sentinel
March 7, 2003

President Fidel Castro threatened Thursday to close the U.S. diplomatic mission in Havana, saying it was a breeding ground for his opponents.

The U.S. government said it considered Castro's remarks to be "very unfortunate."

Castro attacked U.S. diplomats for actively backing Cuba's small but growing dissident movement in a speech to the National Assembly after the rubber-stamp parliament re-elected him for another five years as head of state.

The renewal of the ruling Council of State left the one-party communist state's hierarchy intact, though Economy Minister Jose Luis Rodriguez was dropped from the 31-member council, pointing to his possible replacement.

"In the face of political threats and aggression from abroad, our determination to defend our homeland and socialism will never be weakened in the slightest," said Castro, 76.

His brother and designated successor, Defense Minister Raul Castro, 71, was also re-elected as first vice president.

Castro, the world's longest-serving leader with 44 years in power, accused the Bush administration of trying to undermine his one-party communist state with stepped-up support for the dissidents.

Cuba and the United States have not had normal diplomatic relations for four decades and the mission operates as the U.S. Interests Section of the Swiss Embassy in Havana.

"Cuba can easily do without this office, an incubator for counterrevolutionaries and a command post for the most offensive subversive actions against our country," he said.

Castro's threat to close the mission was prompted by a visit the top U.S. diplomat in Havana, James Cason, made on Feb. 24 to the home of a leading dissident, Martha Beatriz Roque. Cason accused Cuba of suppressing human rights and freedom of expression.

U.S. sources said that Castro's remarks did not constitute a serious threat to close the Havana office, but rather were part of the Cuban leader's habitual rhetoric.

Information from EFE News was used to supplement this report.

U.S. Protests Castro's Criticism of Diplomat

The Associated Press
March 7, 2003

The United States on Friday protested derogatory remarks by Cuban President Fidel Castro about the presence of a U.S. diplomat at a recent meeting of dissidents in Havana.

"Anyone can see that this is a shameless and defiant provocation," Castro said Thursday during a speech following his election by Cuba's parliament to a sixth term as head of state.

On Feb. 24, James Cason, who heads the U.S. diplomatic mission in Cuba, showed up at the meeting of dissidents and spoke to a group of international reporters.

Castro seemed to take special exception to Cason's declaration that "the Cuban government is afraid, afraid of freedom of conscience, afraid of freedom of expression, afraid of human rights."

In rebuttal, Castro said Thursday, "Actually, Cuba is so afraid that it will calmly take all the time needed to decide on its course of action regarding this bizarre official."

State Department spokesman Philip Reeker replied that Castro's "defamatory language and criticism of Mr. Cason's comments in support of democracy and freedom underscore yet again that Castro abhors freedom of expression and fears any measure of support for human rights in Cuba."

Reeker said the United States supports Cason's work in Havana and reaffirmed U.S. support for a peaceful transition to democracy in Cuba.

The word "protest" appears in Reeker's statement, but a U.S. official said it was not clear whether a protest note will be delivered to Cuban authorities.

In his remarks Thursday, Castro hinted - as he has several times before - that he may shut down the U.S. office in Cuba, formally known as the U.S. Interests Section.

"Perhaps the numerous U.S. intelligence agents working at the Interests Section could explain to him (Cason) that Cuba can easily do without this office - a breeding ground for counterrevolutionaries and a command post for the most offensive subversive actions against our country," Castro said.

The comments recalled the circumstances 42 years ago when Castro said the U.S. Embassy in Havana was filled with spies and demanded that the embassy staff be reduced from 87 to 11. President Dwight Eisenhower broke diplomatic relations the next day.

Diplomatic relations have never been restored, but each country opened an interests section in each other's capital in 1977. These offices have a lower diplomatic standing than embassies.

On Wednesday, the United States protested a Cuban decision not to allow the Interests Section to import literature and text books from the United States for distribution to Cuban citizens.

The State Department had tried to ship 5,101 books late last month, but they were confiscated on arrival by the Cuban government. The shipment included works by Martin Luther King Jr., John Steinbeck and Groucho Marx.

State Department spokesman Richard Boucher called the decision unfortunate and noted that Cuban representatives in the United States distribute books and other published materials regularly to U.S. citizens.

The United States had hoped to distribute 25,000 books this year in Cuba, mostly for use by children. One goal was to encourage respect for the opinions of others.

Cuba, U.S. trade vile accusations as relations worsen; Castro hints diplomat is a drunk; America says officials' homes targeted

The Dallas Morning News
March 8, 2003

HAVANA - U.S.-Cuba relations, mostly bad over the last 44 years, have hit a nasty low.

Cuban President Fidel Castro says America's top diplomat in Havana is a bully and provocateur who must be swilling alcohol at meetings with dissidents, because otherwise his behavior wouldn't be so strange.

The United States, for its part, says Cuban agents harass its officials based in Havana, leaving urine and feces in their homes, slashing their tires and trying to lure married officials into affairs.

It's not a battle fought with soldiers, tanks and laser-guided missiles but an old-fashioned Cold War struggle that some say is replete with covert action, dirty tricks, psychological warfare and melodramatic speeches.

In his latest such speech, Mr. Castro, following his pro-forma election Thursday to a sixth presidential term, immediately blasted James Cason, chief of the U.S. mission in Havana, for meeting with dissidents Feb. 24 - a day marking the beginning of Cuba's last war of independence in 1895.

It was "a shameless and defiant provocation by this bully with diplomatic immunity this bizarre official," Mr. Castro said. "His behavior was so odd that anyone could rightly be wondering how much alcohol was served at that patriotic event."

Mr. Cason had no immediate comment, but State Department spokesman Philip Reeker said in a statement that "Castro's defamatory language and his criticism of Mr. Cason's comments in support of democracy and freedom underscore yet again that Castro abhors freedom of expression and fears any measure of support for human rights in Cuba."

Helping dissidents

Mr. Cason, a career diplomat, began as mission chief about six months ago and has since traveled more than 6,200 miles all over Cuba, getting to know the island and visiting the homes of 40 to 50 members of the political opposition. At the February meeting with dissidents, Mr. Cason told reporters he was there as a guest.

"We as a country always support democracy and people who fight for a better life," he said in English. Then he added in fluent Spanish, "Sadly, the Cuban government is afraid - afraid of freedom of expression."

Mr. Castro scoffed at that Thursday, but issued a veiled threat to close the American mission, known as the U.S. Interests Section. The Cuban president said American "spies" working at the Interests Section ought to explain to Mr. Cason "that Cuba can easily do without this office - a breeding ground for counterrevolutionaries and a command post for the most offensive subversive actions."

Mr. Reeker responded that, despite Mr. Castro's threats to close the Interests Section, the United States would "continue to reach out to Cubans to assure them that they are not alone as they work toward a free, democratic and prosperous future."

Castro loyalists contend that dissidents have no support in Cuba and are financed by the U.S. government. Mr. Cason denies giving any cash to the opposition. But U.S. and Cuban officials agree that the Interests Section has expanded its programs to help the political opposition over the past year. And some American officials say that has prompted Cuban agents to become more aggressive.

Alleged actions taken against U.S. officials in Havana are detailed in a three-page declassified cable that was leaked to The Miami Herald and The Washington Times. The document said that Cuban agents harass American officials, sneaking into their homes and "leaving not-so-subtle messages including unwelcome calling cards like urine and feces."

Diplomats "are denied rest or relaxation by house alarms triggered in the middle of the night phones that ring at all hours, and by cellphones that ring every half hour for no apparent reason," the document said. Cuban agents also allegedly plant bugs, tap into diplomats' home computers and break into their cars, leaving the radios tuned to pro-Castro stations, the cable said.

A high-level Cuban official called the report a pack of lies.

What's clear is that the U.S.-Cuba grudge match that began after Mr. Castro took power in 1959 is still in full swing.

Both claiming the lead

American hard-line policies are starting to pay off, one senior U.S. official said. The island's socialist government is "sinking," he said on condition of anonymity. "We're certainly not going to throw them a lifeline."

Cuban officials deny that and say their American foes are showing signs of desperation.

"They feel cornered, defeated," said Ricardo Alarcn, president of Cuba's National Assembly.

The Cold War battle over Cuba has been overshadowed by the prospect of war in Iraq. But for Mr. Castro's enemies and supporters, it remains at the forefront.

President Bush "has set the course on Cuba and is not likely to change it without good reason," said Steve Johnson, a Latin American analyst at the Heritage Foundation, a conservative research organization in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Bush recognizes that "an overnight remake of the Cuban state is not very likely," Mr. Johnson said. So his strategy, outlined in May, gives Cuba incentives in exchange for modest democratic reforms.

Cubans say the American approach is not quite so forgiving.

That was underscored recently, they say, when U.S. officials expelled four Cuban diplomats from New York and Washington, D.C., and again accused the island nation of developing biological weapons.

"They're trying to fabricate an incident to counter the growing opposition to the U.S. embargo," said Mr. Alarcn, one of Cuba's highest-ranking officials.

Mr. Castro vowed not to give up the fight, telling supporters: "I promise that I will be with you, if you so wish, for as long as I can be useful. Now I understand that it was not my destiny to rest at the end of my life."

Congressmen of the U.S.A. will present/display project against prohibition trips to Cuba

HALF hundred of congressmen of the United States will present/display the week next in the House of Representatives of Washington a project against the prohibition to travel to Cuba, announced this Monday in Havana eight North American legislators.

The initiative, that is sponsored by 25 republican representatives and equal number of democrats, describes as " absurd " who a American citizen can travel to Iraq or Korea of the North " without restrictions and cannot do it to Cuba ", said Jeff Flanke in press conference.

" We commit ourselves to continue with our efforts to change the American policy towards Cuba ", assure in addition the politicians in an official notice spread in Havana before finalizing a visit from four days to this Caribbean nation.

" We needed to demolish the wall that we have constructed and that separates the Americans of Cuba ", it adds the comunidado one subscribed by Flake, William Delahunt (D Massachussets), Jo Ann Emerson (R Missouri), Nita Lowey (D New York), Dennis Moore (D Kansas), Butch Otter (R Idaho), Denny Rechberg (R Montana) and John Tanner (D Kentucky).

The prohibition of the trips has been effective for four decades.

Also they criticized the embargo (blockade) tax more ago than four decades after the proclamation of the socialist character of the revolution headed by president Fidel I castrate.

The group of legislators, one of most numerous than visits Cuba since both countries broke their diplomatic relations in 1961, entrevistó with the chancellor Felipe Perez Roque and the minister of Foreign trade, Raul of the Nut, among others. (DPA)

American lawmakers propose a town hall meeting with U.S. Congress members in Cuba

The Associated Press
March 10, 2003

Eight American lawmakers working to change U.S. policies toward Cuba said Monday they will ask the communist government to let as many as 25 U.S. Congress members hold a town hall meeting with the Cuban people later this year.

"It would be a demonstration of American democracy," said U.S. Rep. William Delahunt, a Democrat from Massachusetts.

Ideally, Delahunt said, the town hall meeting would be broadcast live on Cuban television and radio across the island - just as former U.S. President Jimmy Carter's speech to the Cuban people was aired live last year.

"It is time to forget the rancor, the bitterness of the past," Delahunt told a news conference. He said it was time to "have a civil and respectful discourse" between the two nations.

There was no immediate indication from Cuban authorities whether they would support the proposal.

During his visit to Cuba last May, Carter spoke to the Cuban people in a live, uncensored broadcast, revealing to them the existence of a grass roots campaign to guarantees civil liberties on the Caribbean island.

While calling on America to drop its embargo, Carter also called on Cuba to join the democracies of the Western Hemisphere.

Members of the congressional delegation said they would formally submit their proposal to Fidel Castro's government before returning to the United States on Tuesday.

U.S. Rep. Jeff Flake, a Republican from Arizona, said the delegation next week would submit new legislation calling for an end to restrictions that effectively bar most Americans from visiting Cuba. The bill is co-sponsored by 50 lawmakers, half of them Democrats and half of them Republics, he said.

"We believe that the embargo, and the travel ban in particular, is a sanction not on Cuba, but on Americans," said Flake.

The group arrived here Friday for a five-day trip aimed at better understanding the island's politics and economy.

All eight lawmakers belong to the Cuba Working Group, which is pushing for an end to travel restrictions for U.S. citizens and an easing of four decades of trade sanctions.

Both organizers and Cuban officials described the group as the largest single delegation of American lawmakers to ever visit communist Cuba.

In addition to Delahunt and Flake, the lawmakers include Democratic U.S. Reps. John Tanner, of Tennessee; Nita Lowey, of New York; and Dennis Moore, of Kansas; Also in the delegation are Republican U.S. Reps. Jo Ann Emerson, of Missouri; Dennis Rehberg, of Montana; and C.L. "Butch" Otter, of Idaho.

The group was organized by the Lexington Institute, an Arlington, Virginia, policy group.

During their time here, the lawmakers have met with numerous Cuban officials, including the foreign minister, the trade minister, the head of the government's food-import company and the speaker of the parliament.

They also have met with a number of dissidents, talked with people in the street, toured a farmer's market and visited a primary school.

Dear Mr. Fleischer,

Salem Communications is a publicly held corporation (NASDAQ: SALM), providing religious & family themes programming distributed through four different platforms. These include Salem Radio, which owns and operates 89 radio stations, including 55 stations in the top 25 markets. In addition to its radio properties, Salem owns the Salem Radio Network (SRN), which syndicates talk, news and music programming to over 1,600 affiliated radio stations throughout the United States; Salem Radio Representatives (SRR), a national sales force; OnePlace.com and Crosswalk.com, leading Internet providers of Christian focused content; and Salem Publishing, a leading producer of contemporary Christian music trade and consumer publications.

There are three key radio formats on the Salem Radio Network including Christian teaching and talk, conservative talk, and adult contemporary Christian music (the FISH). Most of our Christian teaching and conservative talk stations have national and local talk personalities. You may be familiar with Salem's Washington D.C. station, WAVA-FM 105.1, which features talk show hosts Janet Parshall and Don Kroah. As the leading provider of religious and family themes radio programming, we believe Salem offers a strategic forum for political and public policy issues.

Each year, Salem Communications hosts an annual talk show conference for all our local and national hosts, as well as their producers. Our next conference will be held March 20-22, 2003 in Washington, D.C. at the Loew's L'Enfant Plaza Hotel.

We would like to extend an invitation to you to address our gathering on the evening of Thursday, March 20th or Friday, March 21st at 8:00pm. Our hosts would greatly benefit from your insight into the President's leadership during this historic and challenging time in our nation.

It is our sincere hope that you will be able to accept our invitation.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Nancy Pelosi
Democratic Leader
United States House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Speaker Hastert and Democratic Leader Pelosi:

The undersigned organizations write to express our concern and strong opposition to the fiscal year 2004 budget resolution adopted by the House Budget Committee.

As you are aware, farmers and ranchers did not participate in the economic growth and prosperity that characterized much of the last decade for many Americans. In addition, as a result of poor commodity prices, reduced market competition and opportunity, and natural disasters, agricultural producers continue to be caught in an economic crisis. In response, Congress committed to address the long and continued economic hardship in rural America through the 2001 budget act and the farm bill enacted less than one year ago.

We believe the severe reductions in agricultural spending required by the House Budget Committee's proposal clearly suggest that some in Congress are willing to renege on that long-term commitment to agriculture.

In an attempt to achieve a balanced budget in the future while accommodating the majority of the President's new tax cut and economic growth initiative, the Committee resolution requires substantial reductions in both mandatory and discretionary spending that supports a wide range of federal agriculture programs.

The Budget Committee approach would require $19.17 billion in mandatory and discretionary program cuts. This represents in excess of a 25 percent reduction in the additional resources Congress provided to enhance the economic safety net, nutrition programs, resource conservation and rural development. Compliance with the reconciliation instructions would require the House Agriculture Committee to reduce authorized farm bill spending by approximately 10 percent over the next ten years.

We believe it is disingenuous to suggest that a balanced budget coupled with substantial tax reductions achieved at the expense of farmers, ranchers, and their communities represent our national priorities for economic growth.

We urge you to reject the Committee's fiscal year 2004 federal budget proposal and support fulfilling the commitments made by Congress to our nation's farmers and ranchers. Thank for your consideration of these issues.

Here are some materials left me by Cong. Tauzin re reversing/amending the FCC's decision on switching, which Josh will call you about.

REV_00266458

NATIONAL FRAMEWORK FOR DETERMINING IMPAIRMENT FOR SWITCHING

- The FCC must perform the granular, market-by-market analysis required by the D.C. Circuit.

- The FCC may not delegate its authority to perform this analysis to state public utility commissions.

- The impairment analysis would evaluate:

  - Have competitive local exchange carriers deployed fewer than three circuit switches in a serving wire center?

  - Can an incumbent local exchange carrier perform "hot cuts" on a scalable basis in a reasonable amount of time?

  - Has an incumbent local exchange carrier modified its operator support system (OSS) in a manner that permits a competitive local exchange carrier to serve customers using its own switch and an incumbent local exchange carrier's loop?

- The FCC may enlist state public utility commissions to make factual determinations regarding where the FCC's impairment criteria have been met.

- If the FCC determines that none of the impairment criteria have been met, then no impairment exists and circuit switching shall not be required as an unbundled network element for that serving wire center.

THE FINANCIAL COMMUNITY'S REACTION TO THE FCC's FEBRUARY 20TH TRIENNIAL REVIEW ORDER

WALL STREET'S COMMENTS

Bernstein Research – February 21, 2003

- "The FCC failed to ease the uncertainty clouding sentiment around telecom regulation when it issued a summary order on the unbundling requirements of the regional bells lacking sufficient details for the investment community to make well informed decisions and driving a significant sell-off in the large-cap names."
- "The ruling will undoubtedly spawn a flurry of lawsuits by the RBOCs calling into question the legality of the FCC's continued inclusion of switching in the UNE platform through misapplication of the CLEC impairment standard and will likely rely heavily on the Chairman's own dissenting comments for support of their position."

Precursor Group – February 24, 2003

- "Contrary to our deregulatory expectations, the prevailing Democratic majority coalition increased phone regulation, expanded UNE-P, and added investment uncertainty to the core business that comprises most of the telecom industry's profitability. Simply, the FCC majority chose more government price reductions for consumers over stimulating job creation and investment. The FCC also increased its anti-investment bias by favoring resellers over infrastructure owners and equipment suppliers."
- "We no longer believe investors should rotate into the telecom sector because of increasing government price regulation and investment uncertainty."
- "We also advise an underweight of telecom equipment, because their primary customers face more profit pressure..."

Morgan Keegan Equity Research – February 21, 2003

- "In our opinion, based on this FCC decision, we would expect the following trends:
  1. It's good to be a telecom lawyer
  2. More uncertainty
  3. Near term lowering of capital spending
  4. Long term transition to broadband
  5. No change in financial trends"

Morgan Stanley – February 20, 2003

- "Net net the decision is negative for the Bells and arguably the entire industry as it injects further uncertainty in the market and perpetuates an unsustainable business model."
- "Usually a decision of this magnitude would bring with it greater certainty and clarity. Yet, in this instance, we believe the issue is as confused and uncertain as ever."
- "The FCC believes that making new investment free from the UNE-P rules will spur new investment and the build-out of fiber to the curb. We cannot imagine why that would be the case. There is virtually no incentive for the Bells to spend billions of dollars building out local fiber for two reasons: 1) Line sharing is no longer that big of a competitive threat due to the numerous bankruptcies of the DLECs so the Bells will be content to offer broadband over existing copper loops, and 2) the FCC did not provide UNE-P relief for switching, which was the most important element for the Bells. We would not expect the Bells to react so favorably to such a decision as to go out and invest in a local fiber build."

Goldman Sachs – February 21, 2003

- "A discussion of valuations wouldn't be complete without acknowledging that one is hard pressed to find fundamental reasons why investors should want to be at all exposed to this group. We think many investors who don't need to be in U.S. telecoms won't and shouldn't stay here."
- "The majority's stated goal in the Broadband ruling was to try to incent upgraded investment from the RBOCs, with the logic that the Bells will simply upgrade faster and more broadly in order to maximize the number of DSL lines that are not subject to unbundling. We don't believe that this will have the intended effect, and see only a slight amount of incremental spending, specifically from VZ and SBC. We think that it is naïve to think that the Bells, facing such a negative UNE-P decision will turn around and step up spending on a part of their business that only produces long term incremental returns. In the short term they need to respond to the damage that the FCC has imposed on their existing business."
- "In our view, the most profound effect of this decision is the increased uncertainty it has re-introduced into the equation. Appeals at the federal level will take time and lead to an unpredictable outcome. Implementation of the order at the state level will be unchartable, and inevitably lead to an unending series of appeals."
- 'The UNE-P decision provides no incentive for either the Bell's, who, barring a successful appeal, could continue to have to rent their switches to competitors, or for the IXCs, who can continue to lease facilities and thus do not need to build them out. In addition, it probably dis-incents cable companies from moving into telephony."

Leman Brothers – Feberuary 20, 2003

- "In sum, this ruling effectively maintains the status quo on the vast majority of the UNE-P market, and is likely to embolden the IXCs to continue their economically inefficient UNE-P customer acquisition efforts. It highlights a fractured, dysfunctional FCC, which is likely to create much regulatory uncertainty on this and many other issues, leading to lower industry multiples in the intermediate term."

Utendahl US Equity Research – February 20, 2003

- "FCC Triennial Review: What a mess! A lawyer's dream come true."
- "The latest ruling creates far more uncertainty than it resolves. This uncertainty is likely to depress valuations not only for the bells, but for CLECs as well, who will be unable to make long term plans until the legal battles are resolved."
- "Perhaps the most disturbing element of the FCC order pertaining to switching is the broad role it gives to the states."

UBS Warburg – February 21, 2003

- "The Bells: Triennial Review Mirrors Our Worst Case Scenario."
- "While this could (broadband portion of the Order) potentially improve the economics of building out these facilities for the bells, we believe there remains little incentive for the Bells to take on additional cost in this capital constrained environment."

REV_00266461

Merrill Lynch – February 21, 2003

- "Indeed, arguably we are in a more messy situation now than before."
- "While Chairman Powell has made clear his view that the FCC should shift the UNE resale regulations to promote greater facilities based competition for local exchange service, he was unable to secure the two other votes needed to move his agenda forward."

Credit Suisse First Boston – February 20, 2003

- "We believe that today's decision clearly puts greater control of the administration of UNE-P in particular into the hands of the states. That decision will drive on-going litigation at both the federal level as well as all 50 states driving a more complex regulatory process to follow."

Lazard U.S. Equity Research – February 21, 2003

- "A disappointing ruling with negative consequences for the stocks."
- "...the commission, essentially, ceded responsibility for designing and implementing reform to state regulators, a setback for the RBOCs in two ways: 1) material change to the existing UNE-P regime is likely to be slow to come; and 2) the regulatory outlook has grown murkier because UNE-P policy will be set (and therefore contested) on a state-by-state basis rather than by uniform national policy. Additionally, it appears that the FCC intends to broaden access to low-priced enhanced extended links (EELs), a potential negative for the RBOCs as broader access thereto could reduce demand for retail-priced special access circuits."
- "...significant legal challenges are likely to delay full implementation of the new rules."

Seeking Justice. Ending Hunger.

March 13, 2003

Dear President Bush,

The Senate Budget Committee is moving to cut your FY 2004 request for the Millennium Challenge Account from $1.3 billion to $300 million and delay your promised $5 billion level from 2006 to 2008. Similarly, the House Budget Committee is proposing to cut foreign aid spending by $700 million.

Tomorrow will make it exactly one year ago that you proposed the MCA. Your party members in the congressional budget committees are attacking your proposal and undercutting your credibility.

Right now you are promising aid to various countries that ally themselves with the United States against Iraq. If you don't make good on your MCA pledge, why should countries believe the aid promises you are making now?

Bread for the World is urging our members and churches across the country to support your MCA proposal. We have been lobbying Democrats to work with you on the MCA. But the credibility of your commitment to the MCA will be strained if Republicans in the House and Senate pass budget resolutions that cut foreign aid funding and, in the case of the Senate, specifically slash the MCA.

Please take action to defend your MCA proposal and, more generally, your proposed increase in poverty-focused development assistance.

Sincerely yours,

David Beckmann

EXEC. OFC. PRESIDENT
WH STRATEGIC INITIATIVES
2003 MAR 13 AM 10: 41

Dear Mr. Rove:

I just wanted to take an opportunity to express my gratitude to the President and his administration for ensuring the availability of funds for the Help America Vote Act. As one of many election officials in the country, I can say that the use of federal funds will certainly spur and assist the upgrade of voting equipment throughout the country. As a Republican, I know how difficult it was for the President to agree to a spending bill above his recommended ceiling, but please be assured that election officials will see the funds put to good use.

I only wish to convey the need for ensuring that the Help America Vote Act receives the appropriate level of spending in future years to continue the process of upgrading equipment and assist with future improvements in the field of election administration. Election officials are just now beginning to receive the recognition and funding levels they deserve so it would be a disappointment to take one step toward progress, only to take two steps toward apathy.

Once again, please extend my gratitude to the President and the rest of the administration for agreeing to the omnibus appropriations bill and its inclusion of $1.5 billion for the Help America Vote Act.

Sincerely,

Beverly

Mr. Karl Rove
Senior Advisor to the President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue N.W.
Second Floor, West Wing
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Rove:

The organization on whose board we serve, World T.E.A.M. Sports, will host the 7th Annual Charity Celebrity Bicycle Auction in Washington, D.C. This unique and exciting event will honor six distinguished Americans who have made a difference in the worlds of diplomacy, commerce and sports. The event will take place at The Sports Club/LA at The Ritz-Carlton on May 13 or 14, 2003, with a confirmation on the date very soon.

This year marks the 10th anniversary of World T.E.A.M. Sports. Since our beginning, we have been providing creative ways for all persons to be involved in sports and recreation – with a very special emphasis on building diverse teams, taking on challenging endeavors and providing equal access for persons with and without disabilities. Each person brings their unique talents and skills to our events and everyone draws on this collective pool of talent. Our events have taken place in every corner of the world and have been chronicled through four documentary films, all of them garnering awards – two of which won Emmy Awards. With each event we have a powerful educational outreach component and in many cases we build a very purposeful medical initiative. The power of sports as a means to build communities – to bridge a path of understanding and goodwill is self-evident in our work. And the results are profound.

This special event in May will not only celebrate our 10th anniversary, but will raise funds for our on-going work and for our September event called Face of America. Just two years after the September 11 event, we will embark on a journey, by bicycles and handcycles, from New York City to Washington, D.C. Last year this commemorative event attracted more than 1,200 participants. We expect no less enthusiasm this year. Face of America will be an event of unity and solidarity that will include family members, firefighters, police officers, friends and colleagues of those who were lost. It will also include Americans, with foreign team members, who value sports as a tool to mobilize people in proclaiming good will, understanding and a desire to connect with disparate groups of people.

During the evening of the event, we will auction off silently, but with great enthusiasm and spirit, a fine collection of bicycles from notable individuals in politics, business, entertainment and professional sports. We have attached a list of past bicycle donors for your review – an amazing group of friends like Robin Williams, Madonna, Elizabeth Taylor, Yoko Ono, Tom Brokaw and Shaq----to name a few.

If you can help us by donating your bicycle, the staff of World T.E.A.M. Sports will make this an easy process for you. The attached form is the first step. From there we will collect the bicycle, even clean it up, and showcase it at the grand event in May. We do ask that you autograph the frame or bicycle seat. The proceeds will benefit the organization outreach programs and will bolster our efforts for the Face of America event in September. In addition to the bicycle donation, we welcome your attendance that evening.

We know that you are often asked to support important causes and activities. We hope, however, that you find our work compelling and ever more important at this particular time in our history. Plus, you will be supporting one of the best fundraisers we've ever been involved with. We will be honored to have you among the notable celebrities at our May auction.

Should you have any questions, please feel free to call Laura Foxx or Steve Whisnant at the World T.E.A.M. Sports office – 704.370.6070.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Greg LeMond

Arkansas Political Briefing
Background on David Sanders

BACKGROUND ON DAVID SANDERS

David J. Sanders is a freelance columnist whose work is distributed by Donkey News in Little Rock, Arkansas. Sanders has been involved in state politics since before his 1997 graduation from Ouachita Baptist University. While a student pursuing a communications and political science degree, he was a member of then Lieutenant Governor Mike Huckabee's 1996 transition team and became a policy and communications aide to the governor after graduation. He left the governor's office in 1998 to serve as press secretary to Fay Boozman during Boozman's failed U.S. Senate campaign.

Sanders is married to the former Becca Leach of Fort Smith. They and their two children live in Little Rock, where Sanders heads a health care services group when he is not writing.

The Honorable George W. Bush
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

The high- technology industry is a driving force in our economy, employing 5.6 million people and accounting for $150 billion in exports. Since 1989, the Computer Systems Policy Project (CSPP), a group of leading technology CEOs, has served as a vital link between the technology industry and policymakers in ensuring we achieve common goals. We appreciate your administration's willingness to engage us in a consistent dialogue and the opportunity to work with Vice President Cheney and Andrew Card on high-technology issues.

As the Chairman of CSPP, I'm writing to request a meeting with you this coming February 5th to discuss the key role that American high-technology companies play in our national security and prosperity, particularly in these critical times. Other CEOs who have confirmed for this meeting are Sam Palmisano of IBM, Carly Fiorina of Hewlett Packard, Craig Barrett of Intel, Lars Nyberg of NCR, Joe Tucci of EMC, and Larry Weinbach of Unisys.

We would like to discuss issues with you that are critical to the future success of our industry and that will be before your administration and the 108th Congress. As you know, the widespread deployment of broadband and the implementation of a more modern export control system are both critical to the future stability of the information technology industry, and thus the prosperity of our economy as a whole. Also, the proposal by some that Congress mandate a technology fix to piracy issues could have the unintended consequences of stalling innovation in our industry and increasing costs. We appreciate your leadership in these areas and look forward to discussing these matters and any other issues you may wish to raise with our group.

We are grateful for your administration's continued leadership and look forward to seeing you in February. Thank you for considering this request.

Sincerely,

Michael S. Dell

Subject: Update

Ken- hope you are well. We haven't spoken in a while but I wanted to update you on the great successes of the RJC and our efforts in the Jewish community over the last few weeks.
* Our Winter mtg. In Boca was a huge success. We had a record turnout of our leadership from around the country. Norm Coleman, John Cornyn, and Tom DeLay attended. All gave great speeches. We generated both local and national press from the event (esp. DeLay's remarks)
* We had Norm Coleman speak to a SRO crowd of over 400 people last weekend in Aventura, Fl. He was awesome and is a real superstar. He is a great speaker, and is a forceful advocate for the President and the RJC. We are going to have him travel all around the country with trips scheduled for LA and Philly (an event with/for Sam Katz)
* We did a several events in LA with Arlen Specter- this will be a priority for us.
* We have a large DC event planned with Eric Cantor on March 25.
* Plans are getting finalized to open the NY office and the office in Ohio in the near future

On another note, you should be aware that Edsall is looking to do a big story in advance of the AIPAC conference about the momentum for the GOP in the Jewish community. I am optimistic that this will be a positive piece.

Also, Dennis Prager will be coming to DC toward the end of the month to talk about the Senate race. Can you and Karl find some time to meet with him while he is in town.

Is there anything else you'd like to see us doing?

Best-

-Matt - att1.htm

Thank you very much for suggesting that Karl send me your son's first documentary film, Adams County USA. What an eye for detail he has, and what a fascinating story of the Gettysburg area. You can certainly be proud of his efforts.

I will keep the tape and pass it on to whomever I think might benefit from Jake's young, fresh talent.

Each year I produce the opening to the annual Army-Navy telecast, which this year will be on December 7th. I would like to know if the President would be available to tape a message that would become the body of this piece. We have written a script that the White House can amend as they see fit. The President would be on camera periodically throughout the piece, which will be around a minute and a half. I am filming scenes at both Academies in the next week that would be the thread of this feature,

To do this would involve myself, a cameraman, and an audio person to film the President, and if there is an in house teleprompter person we would use him also, at a location of your choice, at a time that is convenient between Monday December 2nd and Thursday December 5th.

Could you please contact me as soon as you can if you have any questions and let me know if this is something that the White House would be interested in doing.

Obviously, I am well aware of the current atmosphere and situation overseas, and know there are far more important issues on President Bush's mind. However, I feel this would be a tremendous morale boost for not only the Corps of Cadets and the Midshipmen, but for the nation as a whole.

Thank you for your time.

Dear Mr. President:

On the evening of January 14, 2003, the Texas Senate will honor our mutual friend, Governor Bill Ratliff, for his historic two-year term as Lt. Governor.

We plan to play a brief video that evening that includes some of the highlights of last session. Knowing it will be impossible for you to attend this event in person, we would be most honored if you would agree to participate by videotape or audiotape.

Attached is the script for the videotape that was previously produced for another event. In bold, we've inserted the names of the people who will be interviewed and added to this existing tape. If we could add your comments to the end of the video, it would be a fitting tribute to this great man.

If you are able to participate, please have your office contact my administrative assistant, Robyn Hadley, at 512-463-0131. We hope you can join us "in spirit" for this event.

Sincerely,

Bill Ratliff was elected the 41st Lieutenant Governor of Texas by his colleagues in the Texas Senate on December 28, 2000 when Rick Perry became governor after the election of President George W. Bush.

Governor Ratliff's election marked the first time in Texas history that state lawmakers exercised their constitutional duty to choose a fellow senator to serve as the next Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate.

In addition to assuming the duties of Lieutenant Governor, Governor Ratliff continued to represent Senate District 1 in northeast Texas where he was first elected in 1988.

-- Mrs. Sally Ratliff sound bite will be added here--

Texas Monthly magazine has named Governor Ratliff one of the state's ten best legislators many times. At the close of the 77th Regular Session he presided over last year, it praised him again-calling him "an unwavering North Star in a political universe in serious need of guidance."

Throughout his career, Governor Ratliff has built a solid reputation of tackling the toughest issues facing Texas, from public education to the state budget.

-- Speaker Pete Laney sound bite will be added here --

In his first year as a senator, he passed a bill to allow local communities in Texas to use part of their sales tax revenue to encourage economic development. Governor Ratliff also focused on highly-controversial workers' compensation reform in his first session and attended negotiations between the Senate and the House.

--Former Lt. Governor Bill Hobby sound bite will be added here--

He was named chairman of the Senate Education Committee in 1992 by former Lieutenant Governor Bob Bullock. For the next four years, he led the state in public education legislation and emerged as the architect of former Governor George W. Bush's education reforms.

Governor Ratliff re-wrote the entire Texas public education code on his laptop computer. His proposal-which emphasized local control-became law in 1995 and served as the centerpiece of Governor Bush's widely-acclaimed Texas education package.

-- Mrs. Jan Bullock's sound bite will be added here (tentative) --

A long-time advocate for higher school standards, Governor Ratliff also developed one of the first-and one of the most comprehensive-public school accountability programs in the country. His system has served as a model for other states.

Governor Ratliff chaired the powerful Senate Finance Committee from 1997 to 2000 and became a master of the intricate state budget. He designed new higher education funding formulas, met the growing need for state services and kept the budget balanced for four years-all without the need for a tax increase.

-- Rep. Rob Junell's sound bite will be added here --

In his autobiography, A Charge to Keep, President George W. Bush called Governor Ratliff, "the gray eminence of the Texas Senate. A calm, ramrod-straight, low-key Southern gentleman affectionately known to his colleagues as Obi-Wan Kenobi, after the wise adviser in Star Wars."

Governor Ratliff often credits the analytical skills he perfected in a 35-year career as a consulting engineer for his success in guiding public policy. He has served as president of the American Consulting Engineers Council and testified before Congress on the nation's infrastructure. He has won state and national professional awards and served as an adjunct engineering professor.

This is where we hope to add a videotaped "hello" from President George W. Bush.

TO: Brad Blakeman
Deputy Assistant to the President for Appointments and Scheduling

FROM: Margaret Spellings
Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy

Jim Connaughton
Chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality

REQUEST: Public Service Announcement Filming

PURPOSE: To film a portion of a public service announcement commemorating the 100th year of the National Wildlife Refuge System and highlighting the President's commitment to environmental excellence within the Refuge System.

BACKGROUND: Five acres, known as Pelican Island, started what is now known as our National Wildlife Refuge System. The System now encompasses more than 93 million acres and 575 national wildlife refuges and wetland management districts nationwide.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's plans for the Centennial Anniversary of the National Wildlife Refuge System include considerable attention to showcasing and strengthening the entire agency's programs.

Congress has declared 2003 as "The Year of the National Wildlife Refuge," and the President is requested to issue a proclamation calling on the people of the United States to conduct appropriate programs, ceremonies and activities to accomplish the goal of such a year. On March 14, 2003, Americans will celebrate a century of wildlife conservation that began when President Theodore Roosevelt declared Pelican Island to be protected forever as a safe haven for pelicans and other species of birds.

This PSA would broadcast in January and February, leading up to the Centennial Anniversary in March when President Bush will announce correlating environmental policy.

Message:

Dear Mr. Hager:

Tom Craddick is a native Midlander who graduated from Texas Tech University with an MBA. He has been a Texas state representative for thirty-five years and has been elected to be the first Republican Speaker of the House since re-construction. He takes office in early January and all of Tom's friends, as well as many of the President's, are having a send-off celebration on Tuesday, January 7, 2003 here in Midland. We would like a personal videotaped address from the President for Tom. We would need the videotape probably by Friday, January 3, 2003. Would this be possible and could you please let me know as soon as possible the decision?

Thanks.

RE: Holiday Concert

The purpose of this note is to memorialize our conversation earlier today about having the President tape brief remarks that will air during America Salutes the Troops, our holiday concert on December 13, 2002 at the DC National Guard Armory in Washington, DC held on behalf of the USO and EANGUS's We Care for America Foundation.

We understand and will accept responsibility for the payment of any production costs normally associated with such a taping.

As we discussed, in the next few weeks, we will forward to your office some talking points that the President's staff might wish to consider in preparing his remarks.

Thank you very much for your help. The President's participation – by video tape – will be very much appreciated by the more than 9000 enlisted personnel and officers at the Armory and by tens of thousands of others listening and watching the program on Armed Forces Radio and Television around the world. Needless to say, should the Office of the President later determine that his schedule will permit him to attend the event, we would be pleased to rearrange our seating chart.

Thank you. Should you have questions are need additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me by calling 703.836.1300.

Dear Karl and Tim:

Tim, per our discussion I am enclosing a video clip of former President Bush congratulating Vice President Cheney for an award he is due to receive at an upcoming gala. The award will be known as the "Richard B. Cheney Defender of Freedom Award." The date of the event is still being negotiated with the Vice President's scheduling office.

Karl, I am also enclosing copies of two letters. The first was sent to you in January of this year requesting your help to facilitate a similar congratulatory note from President George W. Bush. The second is your response. Unfortunately my attempts to engage Israel have been unsuccessful.

As it appears we may be nearing a firm date for the event, we are anxious to complete work on the video. Additional clips are coming from President Ford, Sec. Def. Rumsfeld, and others. However, it will not be complete without a short message from our current President. We all know how much it would mean.

I hope you will both take a moment to watch the enclosed clip, it is less than 90 seconds in length but is well worth the viewing. Former President Bush does a wonderful job and he was truly honored to participate.

Please advise on how we might proceed.

Sincerely,

Jason Wright

Re: Video for Tribute Gala featuring Vice President Cheney

Dear Karl:

First, I'd like to thank you for your efforts in setting up the "State House Meets the White House" briefings with Kerri Houston at ACU. I know those meetings, most importantly the 20 minute session with the President, would not have happened without you turning some wheels. We thank you for it. It was a fantastic experience for my staff.

Second, I'd like to inform you that this spring we will be holding an awards gala featuring my good friend -- Vice President Cheney. On this memorable evening he will be presented the first annual "Richard B. Cheney Defender of Freedom Award." As part of this evening of celebration for a man and his brilliant career, we will be showing a 10-15 minute video featuring personal tributes from a handful of his closest friends and allies.

We know it is simply not possible for the President to attend. However, having him as our cleanup hitter on the video would be an extraordinary substitute. "I remember the first time I met the Vice President" or "What I admire most..." will be common refrains from other contributors to the video. The President would obviously be free to share his affection or appreciation for the Vice President in any way he deemed appropriate. We hope for 2-3 minutes of his personal commentary. Of note, the video will not be for public use.

I am sure you understand how having President Bush participate would take this evening from being a simple success to being outstanding, unforgettable. He would choose whatever format and location is most comfortable and convenient. Sitting at a desk looking into the camera, traditional "60 Minutes" interview style, we defer to you. We could accomplish our goals by spending 10-15 minutes of his time. You would approve the final video if desired.

I hope you will consider this. We know how pre-occupied the White House is right now and that his time, and yours, is precious. We will make ourselves available to accommodate your schedule at any time of day. Frontiers Vice President, Jason Wright, is spearheading the project. Please have your staff contact him 703-246-0110.

Sincerely,

Malcolm Wallop

MEMORANDUM FOR: BRETT KAVANAUGH
WHITE HOUSE COUNSEL

THROUGH: TERRY GOOD
WHITE HOUSE OFFICE OF RECORDS MANAGEMENT

FROM: RUSSELL F. LOISELLE
WHITE HOUSE OFFICE OF RECORDS MANAGEMENT

RE: U.S.S.S. WAVES ELECTRONIC DATA

The United States Secret Service (U.S.S.S.) has an arrangement with the White House Office of Records Management (ORM) to provide the WAVES system data in both paper and electronic formats at the end of every month. This arrangement took its current form sometime in 1995. Prior to this arrangement, the U.S.S.S. had periodically transferred its WAVES records to ORM and mostly in paper format. The data provided includes data pertaining to following 4 types of entry into the complex:

- Access list – includes staff awaiting passes, volunteers, and interns.
- Visitors list – includes visitors and individuals having appointments with staff.
- Workers list – includes contractors and workers having been cleared for access into the complex.
- Press list – includes members of the press and their support staff.

The WAVES data contained on the CDs provided by the Secret Service every month have been exported from their database into a Microsoft Access 97 format. This data is provided to ORM by the U.S.S.S. on recordable CDs. ORM in turn compiles the monthly data into yearly tables for each of the four data types and provides a copy to the White House Counsel's Office, which in the previous administration searched them in response to certain legal matters. ORM also retains a compilation CD for use when searching and to serve as a backup for the Counsel's office copy. This process provides an easier to search format for both ORM and Counsel's office when responding to requests for information as well as ensuring that the original CDs provided by the U.S.S.S. are circulated as little as possible. The limiting of their circulation and use is a necessary part of our preservation process. If needed, data can be verified by ORM against the U.S.S.S. CD originals or against the paper copies. We feel this process provides a reasonable level of assurance to any party in an oversight role that the records are authentic and reliable.

I would appreciate it if you would notify our office and let us know if you would like to establish a similar agreement with our office, and if so, who our point of contact would be.

Please indicate your response by checking one of the following choices.

☐ No, Counsel's Office does not wish to continue this arrangement.

☒ Yes, Counsel's Office would like to continue this arrangement

Your point of contact would be Brett Kavanaugh ext. 6-7984

☐ Please contact me so we can discuss this more.

S.F. asks U.S. to forgive accrued debt
$400,000 refund demanded for project involving mosque

Lance Williams, Chronicle Staff Writer
Friday, March 29, 2002
©2002 San Francisco Chronicle

URL: http://www.sfgate.com/cgi-bin/article.cgi?file=/c/a/2002/03/29/MN179586.DTL

Mayor Willie Brown's office is asking the Bush administration to forgive the bulk of a $400,000 city debt that was incurred when federal funds were used to buy a mosque for the Black Muslims.

Behind the city's plea is a politically embarrassing real estate transaction initiated with public funds by a nonprofit organization headed by convicted felon Charlie Walker, one of Brown's most avid political supporters.

In a 1999 transaction that the city admits was fraught with problems, a $51, 000 federal grant administered by the mayor's office was used by Walker's organization to buy a Hunters Point property that subsequently was sold to a Nation of Islam affiliate and used as a mosque and community center, city records show.

Last year, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development ruled that the unusual deal violated strictures against using federal funds to support religion. It ordered the city to pay back the current market value of the property -- as much as $400,000, by city estimates.

The city hasn't complied. Instead, in a Feb. 6 letter, a Brown aide appealed to HUD to forgive the bulk of the debt, citing a Bush administration policy of allowing faith-based organizations to obtain federal funds for social programs.

Black Muslims are providing "a variety of religious and nonreligious community-serving activities" at the mosque, wrote Pamela David, who is director of the Mayor's Office of Community Development.

"It seems unreasonably punitive for HUD . . . to profit from this situation at the expense of a faith-based organization, and its associated nonprofit, that has made positive contributions to the Bayview-Hunters Point neighborhood, " she wrote.

Complicating matters further, public records show that the nonprofit corporation that wound up with the deed to the mosque property -- the Center for Self Improvement -- has failed to pay more than $17,000 in real estate taxes and also has been suspended from operating by the state Franchise Tax Board for failing to file tax returns.

The Chronicle obtained David's letter via San Francisco's Sunshine Ordinance. David didn't respond to a request for comment for this story. A reporter's call to the mosque was not returned.

David's letter represents the city's latest attempt to close the books on this unusual transaction involving Mayor Brown's controversial friend Walker, known as the "mayor of Hunters Point."

Walker is a trucking contractor who served three years in prison in the 1980s for abusing the city's minority contracting program.

In 1997 -- with Brown's assistance, according to city records -- he founded a nonprofit called the Third Street Economic Development Corp., which during Brown's first term sponsored gala parties honoring the mayor.

That same year, Walker's nonprofit obtained a $100,000 federal grant via the mayor's office to help buy the Bayview Plaza shopping center on Third Street.

The deal fell through, and two years later, Walker's nonprofit instead used $51,000 of the grant money to buy a former Wells Fargo Bank building on Third Street.

The bank was being used by another organization as a community center but was about to be auctioned off for failure to pay real estate taxes.

Shortly after it bought the building, and without telling the city, Walker's nonprofit resold the building to the Nation of Islam affiliate.

Soon after that, Walker's nonprofit was suspended from operation for failure to file tax returns, state records show. Walker's nonprofit also never obtained tax-exempt status from the IRS, according to federal records, even though it was supposed to provide the city proof of that before receiving federal funds.

In her letter, David conceded that the city broke HUD rules when it allowed Walker's nonprofit group to buy the bank. She also agreed it was wrong for Walker's group to resell the property.

David said Walker's nonprofit and the Center for Self Improvement both have since been banned from getting any more grants.

Nevertheless, David argued that the remedy imposed by HUD on the city was too tough.

She said the center had put $51,000 -- the amount of the original grant -- in an escrow account while the dispute was playing out, and she asked HUD to accept that money to resolve the matter.

If HUD insists on recouping more, the city would face messy and unproductive lawsuits, she wrote: Walker's nonprofit has no assets, while the Muslim affiliate might successfully argue that it was "unconscionable" for the city to collect hundreds of thousands in damages in the dispute.

WILLIE LEWIS BROWN, JR.
MAYOR

PAMELA H. DAVID DIRECTOR

February 6, 2002

The Honorable Roy A. Bernardi
Assistant Secretary, Community Planning and Development
U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
451 7th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20410

RE: Third Street Economic Development Corporation
Disposition of 5048 Third Street, San Francisco
Request for Reconsideration

Dear Assistant Secretary Bernardi:

It was a pleasure to meet you at the National Community Development Association meeting in Washington two weeks ago. I am writing this request for reconsideration of the above-referenced matter after hearing your comments, including those on regulatory issues and faith-based partnerships, and after consultation with our City Attorney.

This issue has a very long history, and there has been a significant amount of correspondence between my office, HUD, and the other parties. We are assuming you have access to this correspondence, particularly our letters of March 24 and August 8, 2001 that contain the text and rationale for our proposal to bring this matter to a satisfactory and just resolution, along with numerous supporting documents. I will, thus, only provide a brief recap of the situation.

A number of years ago Wells Fargo Bank decided to close its branch in the Bayview-Hunter's Point neighborhood of San Francisco. Located in the southeast sector of San Francisco, Bayview-Hunter's Point has been an historically African-American neighborhood with high levels of poverty and distress. In 1990, in light of community protests regarding the bank closure, Wells Fargo chose to summarily transfer ownership of the actual bank branch building (5048 Third Street) to an ad-hoc consortium called the Bayview Hunters Point Association of Community Organizations. After a lengthy period of vacancy and sporadic use, during which the building condition deteriorated, the Association leased the building to Mohammed Mosque #26, a branch of the Nation of Islam, for a 10-year term as of 1996. The Mosque, according to community members, used the building for a variety of purposes, including educational and human service activities. No public dollars were involved.

here are some quick items for the weekly report

Issues:

Ann Sudduth, Fresno Office Manager, and CPD Staff (Steve Sachs and Richie Post) have been working with the City of Fresno to address the issue of expanding the boundaries of the recently designated Fresno EZ. Prior to the designation being made, the City was requested to delete to non-contiguous areas and modify the three developable areas. Fruitful discussions have been held with the City. Upon receipt of the Memorandum of Agreement from Headquarters, which is expected to be mailed next week, the City is expected to submit a letter to Headquarters requesting the contiguous designated area be expanded to include some of the prior identified developable areas. The areas proposed to be added meet program requirements and will address the City's concern to include a good portion of the areas that weren't included in the designation.

The City of San Francisco for the third time has sent an appeal to Headquarters requesting relief from the requirement to repay its CDBG program the full market value for a property that was acquired with CDBG funds but is being used by a religious institution. City staff met with the Deputy Secretary who indicated that the Department is willing to waive regulations that impede carrying out the intent of HUD programs.

Meetings

CPD staff held a focus group meeting with representatives of local continuum of care organizations to develop an implementation plan for providing TA to local continuums on developing and implementing Homeless Management Information Systems (HMIS). The development and implementation of HMISs is a critical issue for local continuums as Congress has mandated that HMISs be in place by January 2004.
Information received will be the basis for TA to be provided over the next six months.

Headquarters is looking at ways to streamline the Consolidated Plan process to make it more results oriented. The SF CPD staff is part of a small working group looking at this issue. On February 19th, SF CPD will be holding a focus group meeting with 19 entitlement grantees and the State of California to get input/suggestion from grantees on ways to streamline/change the Consolidated Plan process to make it useful. The group will also look at ways that the Consolidated Plan can be linked with other planning documents/processes such as the general plan, the Public Housing Plan and the Continuum of Care strategy required to be prepared.

On February 22nd, CPD staff will participate in a one-day meeting being held by Headquarters Office of University Partnerships for Hispanic Speaking Institutions.
The meeting is being held in San Jose and will provide information about the CDBG funds available to Hispanic Speaking Institutions to carry out community development activities. Most institutions attending are from outside of Pacific Hawaii.
CPD staff will be available to discuss CDBG and other community development programs. Local CDBG staffs are also being invited.

Richie Post, Senior Economic Development Specialist is meeting on February 15th in Modesto with a group interested in creating a Community Devepoment entity for the San Joaquin Valley area. The entity is being created as a vehicle to take advantage of the New Market Tax Credits and to support the newly awarded empowerment zone and renewal communities in the Van Joaquin valley.

Dear Judge Bybee:

I congratulate you on your appointment as a United States Circuit Judge. As you know, you now have a vital role in ensuring that our judicial system and the rule of law in our country allow justice, security, and prosperity to flourish not just for some in our Nation, but for all. I am sure you will have a distinguished tenure as you fulfill the promises of our Federal judicial system.

I nominated you to serve because your character, experience, and hard work demonstrated that you would fulfill the duties of the bench with wisdom, discernment, courage, independence, and humility. I appreciate your willingness to undertake this essential work for our Nation.

Laura joins me in wishing you and your family the very best. May God bless you and yours, and may God continue to bless America.

Dear Mr. President:

It is an honor to enclose the nomination of Carlos T. Bea, of California, to be United States Circuit Judge for the Ninth Circuit, vice Charles E. Wiggins, retired.

Judge Bea was born April 18, 1934, in San Sebastian, Spain, became a naturalized citizen on July 8, 1958, is married and has four children. He received a B.A. degree in 1956 from Stanford University and a J.D. degree in 1958 from Stanford Law School. He was admitted to the California State Bar in 1959.

Since 1990, Judge Bea has served on the San Francisco Superior Court. Prior to his appointment to the court, he was the sole proprietor of Carlos Bea Law Corporation, 1975-1990; and was an associate, 1959-1966, and a partner, 1967-1975, with Dunne, Phelps & Mills.

Judge Bea has an excellent reputation as to character and integrity, possesses judicial temperament and is, I believe, worthy of appointment as a United States Circuit Judge.

I recommend the nomination.

Washington, D.C. 20530

June 9, 2003

Dear Mr. President:

It is an honor to enclose the nomination of Robert C. Jones, of Nevada, to be United States District Judge for the District of Nevada, vice David W. Hagen, retiring.

Judge Jones was born July 21, 1947, in Las Vegas, Nevada, is married and has four children. He received a B.S. degree, cum laude, in 1971 from Brigham Young University and a J.D. degree in 1975 from UCLA Law School. He was admitted to the California State Bar in 1975 and Nevada State Bar in 1976. He served in the United States Army National Guard, 1971-1972, and the United States Air National Guard, 1972-1977, until he was honorable discharged as a Staff Sargent.

Since 1983, Judge Jones has served as a United States Bankruptcy Judge for the District of Nevada. Prior to his appointment to the court, he was a partner with Jones & Holt, 1977-1982; an attorney with Albright & McGimsey, 1976-1977; a CPA with Deloitte, Hasjubs & Sells, 1976; and a law clerk to the Honorable J. Clifford Wallace of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, 1975. In addition, Judge Jones served on the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel for the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, 1986-1999.

Judge Jones has an excellent reputation as to character and integrity, possesses judicial temperament and is, I believe, worthy of appointment as a United States District Judge.

I recommend the nomination.

Respectfully,

John Ashcroft
Attorney General

OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR

June 26, 2003

Dear Mr. President:

I hereby tender my resignation as Deputy Administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, effective July 11, 2003.

It has been a rare privilege to serve as a member of your Administration and under the leadership of Governor Whitman. I am proud of the work this Agency has done to preserve and protect our precious natural environment and the health of the American people, whom we all have the honor to serve.

I am also proud that, as Deputy Administrator, I have had the opportunity to contribute to the long record of environmental protection achieved by this Agency under seven presidents over more than three decades. The work of this Agency, and its many talented and dedicated employees, has made a real difference for our country and its people.

I will always be grateful for the opportunity to serve your Administration at the EPA. While much work remains to be done, I look forward, at this time in my life, to spending more time with my two young children.

I wish you continued success in all your undertakings in the days ahead.

Sincerely,

Linda J. Fisher

Congresswoman

Connie Morella

Meet Connie Morella

Widely respected for her tenacity and independence, the people of Maryland's Eighth Congressional District have consistently chosen Connie Morella as their representative in Congress. In her tenure, she has championed the causes of women, children, and the disadvantaged. Congresswoman Morella exemplifies experience, effective leadership, and common-sense thought.

Connie has an established record on important issues like reforming public schools, strengthening our homeland security, and cleaning up our campaign system. Her work on environmental protection has earned Connie strong endorsements from the nation's leading environmental organizations, including the Sierra Club and the League of Conservation Voters.

Connie's record on protecting and promoting small business and high-tech development has earned her the endorsement of the United States Chamber of Commerce and many awards from small business advocates, including the NFIB's Spirit of Enterprise Award.

As a former Co-Chair of the Congressional Caucus for Women's Issues, Connie is nationally recognized as a leader in the areas of domestic violence, women's health and education. For her efforts, the women of Maryland inducted Connie into the Maryland Women's Hall of Fame. Glamour Magazine honored her as "Woman of the Year" for "fighting women's fights and winning." The New York Times has recognized Connie as "one of a dozen who have risen to prominence" in women's health.

In her current role as Chair of the Subcommittee on the District of Columbia, Connie oversees all aspects of the D.C. government, with the exception of appropriations.

Before her election to Congress in 1986, Connie served for eight years in the Maryland House of Delegates. From 1970 to 1985, she was a professor in the English Department at Montgomery College in Rockville, Maryland.

Connie has an A.B. from Boston University, an M.A. from American University, and nine honorary doctoral degrees. She has been a resident of Bethesda for 44 years. Along with her husband, Tony, a law professor, she has raised nine children, including her late sister's six children.

Connie's recent achievements in Congress include:

- $8.5 Million in Emergency Funding for Montgomery County
  At Congresswoman Morella's request, the Federal government provided $8.5 million to strengthen Montgomery County's major incident preparedness.
- $18.9 Million in Bioterrorism Funding for Maryland
  Congresswoman Morella fought to provide Maryland and Montgomery County with the resources needed to ensure security, safety, and response to threats of bioterrorism.
- Federal Transportation Funding for Montgomery County
  At the request of Congresswoman Morella, Congress passed legislation bringing:
  - $12 million for Maryland MARC commuter rail improvements, including Silver Spring Intermodal Transit Center.
  - $1 million for the planning and reconstruction of Rt.117 and Rt.124 in Montgomery County.
  - $1 million to co-locate Montgomery County's Transportation Management Center with the new Emergency Communications Center.
  - $800,000 to Montgomery County Access to Jobs Program, providing transportation services for low-income workers.
- Author of Landmark Violence Against Women Act Reauthorization and Expansion
  - Strongest commitment Congress has made to evaluate violence against women and child abuse.
  - Succeeded in establishing permanent Violence Against Women Office at Department of Justice.
- Sponsored *The Shays-Meehan (Campaign Finance Reform) Bill
  Congresswoman Morella's strong standing against "soft money" in politics, helped pass the most significant campaign finance reform legislation in decades.

REV_00266888

- Supported Passage of the Bipartisan, Comprehensive Education Legislation, *"No Child Left Behind"
  This legislation increases Title 1 grants from $11.6 million to $14.8 million in Montgomery County. Non-title 1 funds for technology, teacher quality, and safe and drug free schools increases to $4.7 million.
- Leading Advocate of Environmental Causes in Congress
  Congresswoman Morella scored an "A" on the 2001 National Environmental Scorecard recently released by the non-partisan League of Conservation Voters.
- Continues Long Record of Support for Federal Families
  - Instrumental in long term care insurance law for federal and military families.
  - Responsible for child-care assistance for low-income federal employees.
  - Fighter for pay parity.
  - Sponsor of premium conversion for federal retirees.
- Introduced Successful Bills to Establish the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. National Memorial in Washington, D.C.
  Named to the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. National Memorial Congressional Committee.
- Pushed to Reopen Reagan National Airport
  Congresswoman Morella urged President Bush and the FAA to resume full normal operations at the airport, an economic engine for our region.
- Authored the *Computer Security Enhancement Act
  The Congresswoman's legislation, passed by the House last fall, gave National Institute of Standards and Technology the authority to develop and promote computer security standards with the Federal government. In addition, the Congresswoman sponsored The Cyber Security Research And Development Act, authorizing critical funding for computer and network security education, research, and development.
- Active Leader in Human Rights Causes Around the Globe
  - Member of Congressional Bipartisan Caucuses.
  - Author of GAINS Act, the most comprehensive legislation on international women's development ever introduced in Congress.
  - Introduced The Access for Afghan Women Act, setting guidelines for post-war humanitarian aid activities carried out in Afghanistan by the U.S.
- Led Successful Congressional Efforts to Double the National Institute of Health Budget by 2003.
  - $27.3 billion for NIH in the 2003 fiscal year.
  - Sponsor of Genetic Nondiscrimination in Health Insurance and Employment Act, which has 259 co-sponsors.
- Obtained More Than $12 Million for Local Parks
  Congresswoman Morella secured over $6 Million over the past three years to restore Glen Echo Park, as well as $6 million to rehabilitate the Monocacy Aqueduct in C&O Canal National Historical Park.
- Formulated National Policies Addressing the Under-Representation of Women, Minorities, and Persons with Disabilities in Science, Engineering, and Technology.

Mr. President and Mrs. Bush,

This little package contains two DVD's. They are 12 minute spiritual parables communicated by our "senior" pastor, a rather hip 32 year old. This format is a new way to address spiritual ideas. These "NOOMAS" are currently making their way around our military, as well as places where religion is rarely, if ever talked about.

I had intended to give these to you aboard Air Force One on Wednesday - but I forgot.

If you don't enjoy them, I think maybe your girls would. Anyway - not a very elegant way to write about or present these, but it will have to do for today.

Best wishes,

Betsy DeVos

Subject: gift from Betsy DeVos

Mrs. DeVos tried to hand the President a gift (two 12 minute CDs with spiritual parables) in the photo line at the RNC reception last Friday. It ended up in my hands and so I wanted to know if there is a special person in the gift office that will get a note out quickly? The gift was also addressed to Mrs. Bush - do you want it to go to her office? Or would you prefer, I just bring it over to one of you. Thanks.

Our gift unit has recently rcvd. gifts from individuals in the following circumstances:
( We want to make sure it is appropriate for us to respond with a POTUS letter from the White House - instead of OPA)

- The NRCC provided people on their mailing list with Christmas cards to be sent to the President. Some individuals have sent gifts along with these cards to the NRCC. The NRCC has forwarded these gifts to us.

- Individuals who attend RNC receptions bringing gifts for the President.

- The Chairperson of the RNHA sent a gift to the President.

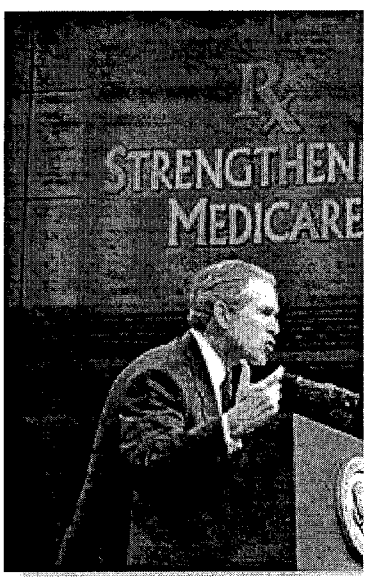
THE PRESIDENT: Thank you all. I'm anxious to get started. (Laughter.) So I woke morning, and Laura said, "Where are you going? I said, "Grand Rapids, thankfully." (Applause.) And she said, "Home of a great American, Gerald Ford." And home to many great Americans.

I want to thank you for your hospitality. She said, "I've got a suggestion for you, your speech." (Laughter.) I want to share some of my thoughts about that speec last night. It's important for me to come to parts of our country and explain why I said, so that you and others around our country clearly understand some things country and the problems we face.

First thing I want you to know is that there's no doubt in my mind that we can ac our objectives, because we're the finest nation, full of the greatest people on the Earth. (Applause.)



Thanks for coming. I also want to thank my friend, Tommy Thompson, who is the Secretary of Health and Human Services, for leaving a comfortable life and serving our nation. You may remember, he was the governor of Wisconsin. Don't hold it against him, here in Michigan. (Laughter.) He's a great governor and he's a great Secretary of Health and Human Service. And I'm honored Tommy is serving with me. (Applause.)

And I want to thank your Governor and Attorney General and Secretary of State for joining us today. I'm honored you all are here. Thanks for taking time out of your schedules to come and greet the President and hear what I have to say.

I travel today from Washington with members of the mighty Michigan congressional delegation -- your Congressman, Vern Ehlers. (Applause.) Neighboring Congressman Peter Hoekstra (Applause.) Dave Camp and Nick Smith, also of the congressional delegation. (Ap appreciate these members traveling with me. I was honored to speak in their cha night. I talked about things that mattered to the future of this country.

Today, before I came here, I had the honor of going to Spectrum Hospital, where with docs and hospital administrators and Medicare -- folks on Medicare, people v and heard their stories. I will share some of that with you, because I believe part sure that we've got a great country is we've got a great health care system that a the needs of all our citizens.

Our biggest need at home, seems like to me, is to make sure that anybody who v and can't find one -- and if they can't find a job, we've got a problem. We've got sure this economy is as strong as it possibly can be.

My philosophy is the role of government is not to create wealth, but an environm which the small business owner can grow to be a big business owner; in which th entrepreneur feels confident about the future; in which people are willing to take invest, which will equal jobs. And that's why I feel so strongly about making sure people get to keep more of their own money. (Applause.)

We've come out of a recession. We've withstood terrorist attacks. We had some c citizens think they could fudge the books, and we're routing them out and bringir justice, because we believe in honesty in America. And our economy is still kind o along, in spite of those setbacks. But there's more we need to do.

When a fellow American has more money in his or her pocket, they're more likely demand a good or a service. And in the marketplace which we have in America, v somebody demands a good or a service, somebody is more likely willing to produ good or a service. And when somebody produces a good or a service, it means so more likely to find work. That's why tax relief is such an important component at creating the environment for economic growth. It is important for the people of M and America to know that when I talk about tax relief, it equals jobs. (Applause.)

You hear a lot of rhetoric in Washington, D.C. about tax relief. You hear a lot of r about tax relief in Washington, D.C., the old rhetoric of class warfare. My attitude pay taxes, you ought to get relief; the government ought not to try to pick and c (Applause.)

Seventy percent of new jobs in America are created by small business owners. It sense to try to create an environment in which the small business owner feels co about the future, is willing to take risks and expand jobs. It just so happens that businesses in America pay taxes at the income tax level because they're sole pro or limited partnerships or sub-chapter S's.

So when you hear me talk about tax relief, I want you to know that that will help small business growth in America. More money in the pockets of our small busine means it's more likely somebody in western Michigan is able to find work. (Appla

We're trying to get rid of the effects of the marriage penalty. It doesn't make any me that we tax marriage. (Laughter and applause.) It seems like we ought to en marriage in America. (Applause.) We ought to accelerate the increase of the child from $600 to $1,000 as quickly as possible. (Applause.) We ought to drop that lo from 15 percent to 10 percent. (Applause.) All these measures have been passed what I'm talking about today is what I argued for to Congress two years ago. The law. Congress decided these were good measures. It's just that they phased ther three or five or seven years. We need some life in this economy. We've got peopl for jobs who can't find them. If the tax relief is good five years from now, it make for jobs who can't find them. If the tax relief is good five years from now, it make sense to put the tax relief in today. For the sake of our economic vitality, Congre act. (Applause.)

Ten million seniors receive dividends. It's a part of their retirement package. It's making sure the quality of life is high. A dividend is a part of a dollar that has go our system that has been taxed twice. A company first pays taxes on profits, and right. And then they distribute the money out to a shareholder, somebody who h in that company, and then the shareholder gets to pay it again. The double taxat dividends is not fair, it hurts our seniors. Congress needs to end the double taxat dividends, for the sake of capital formation and for the sake of the quality of life seniors in America. (Applause.)

These measures will help our economy grow, and that's important for the federal It's important for state budgets. If you're worried about budgets, which we shoul worried about budgets, the first question you ask is, how do you create growth ir economy? The more growth there is, the more likely it is you'll have tax revenue that stimulate growth ought to be the centerplace of public policy, not policies wl discourage growth. And the growth packages I talk about will encourage econom means more tax revenues at the federal level.

But there's two equations when it comes to deficits and balanced budgets. There' revenue side, and then there's the spending side. I call upon the United States C set clear and important priorities and not overspend the people's money. (Applau

And we have some important priorities that's reflected in my budget, not only th this year, but the budget the last couple of years. A significant, important, vital p education. Our federal government has substantially increased the amount of fed we have spent on education, particularly over the last two years. We've increase another 6 percent in the budget I've submitted to Congress.

Spending money is important for education, but so is making sure that every chil educated. It's important to spend money on priorities. It is essential that we set standards for our children; that we challenge the soft bigotry of low expectations insist that states measure so we can determine whether programs are working, s whether or not children are learning to read and write and add and subtract. And important, it is essential that when we find children trapped in schools which will and will not change, we give parents different opportunities for their children. (A Yesterday, I talked about an immeasurable part of America's strength, and that i hearts. Compassion in this country runs deep. It's one of the really great blessing President of a country where people love their neighbor like they'd like to be love themselves -- and it doesn't even require a government program. (Laughter and

I do think there's a role of government, though, when it comes to helping people The government ought to help people who cannot help themselves. And we need recognize in Washington that there are pockets of despair and hopelessness all a country; that in this land of plenty there are those who hurt, there are neighborh the concept of the American Dream just doesn't exist. There are people who nee affection and direction. There are people who are hopelessly addicted to drugs.

The government can spend money, and should. But government cannot put hope hearts or a sense of purpose in people's lives. That happens when a fellow neighl their arm around somebody who hurts and says, I love you, can I help you, what help you, young lady or young man, understand that this country belongs to you future if you make the right decisions, and I'm here to help you make those right

Yesterday, I talked about the need to rally the great compassion of America to fo those who hurt. Think about what it must be to be a child whose mother or dad i Imagine what kind of life that would be, growing up in this society. I have hope f citizens because I know there is somebody there in our society who can provide t and direction and guidance to make sure that child has a chance to succeed.

Today, I came out -- when I landed here at the Ford Airport, I had the honor of n Jerry Nienhuis. He works for Kids Hope USA. I want my fellow -- (applause.) Hi, program, as Vern Ehlers was telling me, is an inspiration to many here in Grand Michigan. I think Vern said it started right here. It shows the great social entrepr spirit of our country. It's a faith-based program. It's a program -- a call went out churches in the area; they said, if you truly love the Almighty, help somebody wh mentor a child. Mentor a child.

I said last night that we can save our society one heart, one soul, one conscience Each of can be somebody helping. I urge you to mentor, just like Jerry has done. those who are addicted to find a program that will help heal your heart. People c you in our society. A better America is a compassionate America, where we save country, one person at a time. And I'm confident it will happen. (Applause.)

A better America is one in which our health care systems work. One of the comm have made to our seniors is that they get good health care. This system is called Medicare has been used as a political football, however. It's old -- it's important hadn't changed. I like to remind people, medicine has changed, and Medicare ha stuck in the past. It requires all kinds of bureaucracies to allow new medicines to so our seniors can take advantage of the technologies and changes in medicine.

I urged the Congress last night to put aside all the politics and to make sure the system fulfills its promise to our seniors. I believe that seniors, if they're happy v current Medicare system, should stay on the current Medicare system. That mak you like the way things are, you shouldn't change. However, Medicare must be m flexible. Medicare must include prescription drugs. Medicare must be available to a variety of forms.

The Congress has got a good health care system for themselves and their emplo other federal employees, which is fine. It's based upon trusting each member of make decisions for his or her family. There's a variety of plans from which to cho believe it's very important for seniors to be given the same opportunities that me the Congress, members of the Senate have. They ought to be able to choose thei health care plan, including fee-for-service plans. If it's good enough for the Cong good enough for the senior citizens of America. (Applause.)

Any good plan provides options, and any good plan makes sure seniors who canr help receive help from the federal government. I proposed a budget where the di spending grew at 4 percent. Within that budget I proposed last night is a substar increase in Medicare funding of $400 billion on top of what we already spend, ov 10 years. This is a commitment that America must make to our seniors. A reform strengthened Medicare system, plus a healthy dosage of Medicare spending in th will make us say firmly, we fulfilled our promise to the seniors of America. (Appl

We want health care to be affordable and accessible for our all our citizens, of co of the problems we have in our society is we've got too many junk lawsuits. (App many lawsuits against docs and hospitals; too many frivolous lawsuits which cau to practice preventative medicine. Procedure after procedure, just in case they g Too many people being forced to settle out of court just to get rid of the lawsuits

Too many people being forced to settle out of court just to get rid of the lawsuits drives up your cost, and drives doctors and nurses out of the practice of medicine (Applause.)

And it's a problem. I visited states where it's a real problem, where I've had docs see me and say, I can't practice medicine anymore. I remember a baby doc that see me when I was in Pennsylvania. She had tears in her eyes. She said, I love t babies, I can't do it anymore. I'm being sued so much, my premiums are out of s

It is essential, it is essential that Congress understand what excessive litigation i patients. It's driving up the cost. It makes it hard for people to get access to care there's fewer providers.

I've come to the conclusion that this is a federal issue, because excessive lawsuit driving up the cost of health care at the federal level. Medicare costs more, Medic more, veterans benefits cost more. We need a national, federal medical liability p (Applause.)

We can get one, but I need your help. The trial lawyers are powerful. They don't problem the way we see it. You need to write your senators and make it clear to you, like me, expect people who have had injury to be able to have their day in c that's what we want. We want a judicial system that works.

If somebody is hurt, they ought to have their day in court. But we need reasonat We need to make sure that this lottery, this lawsuit lottery doesn't ruin the healt citizens all across our country. It's an important piece of legislation, to help get c costs that are running out of sight here in the medical industry today.

Domestic policy is incredibly important, and I'll spend a lot of time on it. But ther more important than protecting the American people from harm. (Applause.) I kr challenges was going to be to make sure people understood that distance betwee September the 11th, 2001, did not necessarily mean war had ended and your go can relax. War has not ended. The war that people brought to our soil still goes c

We're doing everything we can in Washington to protect our soil. We've got a ne Department of Homeland Security that will be up and running here pretty quickly better way to coordinate all the assets at our disposal, to protect our borders anc our airports, protect our infrastructure -- if need be, respond in an efficient way c behalf.

Our intelligence services, FBI, are working a lot better than ever before. The FBI culture has changed from one that, we will haul you in, to one that says, we'll pr danger from happening in the first place as best we can. In other words, we're or

We know that there is still an enemy which lurks -- and there is; there is. And th nothing but a bunch of cold-blooded killers, by the way. (Applause.) You know, t don't value life like we do. The great thing about America is we say every life is p everybody counts. (Applause.) Everybody has worth. And they just don't view it t They kill in a name of a false ideology based upon hatred.

And as I told the Congress last night, and the country, we're winning this war. W chasing them down one by one and bringing them to justice. (Applause.) Make n about it, we are slowly but surely dismantling their organization.

Yesterday, some of them bunched up in parts of Afghanistan. They, unfortunatel United States military had an. (Applause.) Unfortunately for them, (laughter.)

REV_00266910

United States military head on. (Applause.) Unfortunately for them. (Laughter.) I bring that up is our troops are still in Afghanistan, and they're doing a great job country needs our presence and will have our presence -- needs our presence to sure that those remnants of al Qaeda that still lurk around the area are brought t And they will be, they will be.

Our coalition is still strong. The doctrine says that either you're with us, or you're enemy, that still exists. (Applause.) And there are a lot of good people working h across the world to bring these people to justice. The Brits hauled in a bunch the You'll see the Spanish. We're sharing intelligence, and we're watching them. And pop their heads up, we're getting them, one by one. (Applause.)

And it doesn't matter how long it's going to take. It just doesn't matter. Slowly b we will bring them to justice. Because this country understands and this generati understands, we have an obligation to protect our land. That's our most importar do.

And by the way, in Afghanistan, we're not leaving for another reason. We didn't g Afghanistan as conquerors, we went in as liberators. (Applause.) We liberated pe the clutches of one of the most barbaric regimes imaginable. And we're helping t schools and health care centers. Tommy was telling me they're fixing to open on couple of months in Afghanistan. And we're building highways. We're helping the people get back on their feet.

That's the great compassion about our country. We're strong in our might, we're compassionate in our vision. Everybody matters. Everybody has worth in the eye American people. It doesn't matter where you're from, the nature of your religior everybody counts. (Applause.)

Including the millions who suffer from AIDS in Africa. This is a moral nation, we'r nation. We have a chance to use our wealth and our abilities to help cure that ep plagues a group of people. I call upon the generosity of the American people, at t tragedy, where thousands are dying, where thousands of children are being orph join in a great cause, a great humanitarian cause, a cause beyond all imaginable to solve unimaginable problems, to help the people who are needlessly dying. We a huge difference, a significant difference in the lives of thousands of our fellow h beings. I want people to step back at some point in time and say, thank God for and our generosity as lives were saved. (Applause.)

My point is, our presence in the world is more than just our might; but our might in the world right now to make the world a more peaceful place. The war on terr confined strictly to the al Qaeda that we're chasing. The war on terror extends be shadowy terrorist network. The war on terror involves Saddam Hussein because nature of Saddam Hussein, the history of Saddam Hussein and his willingness to himself.

Saddam Hussein has terrorized his own people. He's terrorized his own neighborh a danger not only to countries in the region, but as I explained last night, becaus Qaeda connections, because of his history, he's a danger to the American people. got to deal with him. We've got to deal with him before it is too late. (Applause.)

Before September the 11th, during a period when a lot of us thought oceans wou us forever from gathering threats far from our land, the thought of containing so like Saddam Hussein made sense -- so we could step back in America and say, g don't worry, he's only a threat to somebody in the neighborhood, and we might p choose whether or not we're going to help in the neighborhood.

But, see, our fellow citizens must understand that September the 11th, 2001 cha equation. It's changed the strategic outlook of this country, because we're not pr oceans. The battlefield is here. And therefore, we must address threats today as gather, before they become acute.

There's a reason why the world asked Saddam Hussein to disarm -- for 12 years. (Laughter.) And the reason why is because he's dangerous. He's used them. He t own people. He's gassed his own people. He's attacked people in the neighborho

What's changed for America -- besides the fact that he's still dangerous and can havoc with friends in the neighborhood -- is that there's now a shadowy terrorist which he could use as a forward army, attacking his worst enemy and never leav fingerprint behind, with deadly, deadly weapons. And that's what's changed.

We're having an honest debate in this country, and we should, about peace and l achieve the peace. It should be clear to you now, though, that in my judgment y contain Saddam Hussein. You don't hope that therapy will somehow change his e (laughter) -- that you deal with Saddam Hussein. I hope we can do this peacefull

I went to the United Nations for a reason. One, I wanted the United Nations to be other than an empty debating society. (Applause.) I wanted it to address this thr 15-0 vote in the Security Council, they said, yes, it's a problem and he must disa fundamental question is, when. There's a lot of focus on the inspectors, and we v well. But the role of the inspectors is not to play hide-and-seek with Saddam Hus country the size of California. There's 108 inspectors running around a country tr stumble into something; 108 people who are being misled by a person who's ma of fooling inspectors.

See, the role of the inspectors are not to play "gotcha." He's better at playing "gc obviously -- for 12 years he's played "gotcha." The role of the inspectors are to w disarm. That's the role of the inspectors. They're to report back and say, gosh, h getting rid of all his mustard gas or sarin gas. He started getting rid of these wea mass destruction. He's now getting rid of the biological laboratories. That's the rc inspectors.

And it's clear he's not disarming. I'm convinced that this still can be done peacefi certainly hope so. The idea of committing troops is my last option, not my first. I understand the terrible price of war. I understand what it means to put somebod combat. I know what it means to hug mothers and wives. But I've got to tell you I've thought long and hard about this. The risks of doing nothing, the risks of ass best from Saddam Hussein, it's just not a risk worth taking.

So I call upon the world to come together and insist that this dangerous man dis should they choose not to continue to pressure Saddam, and should he continue world, for the sake of our peace, for the sake of the security, this country will lea coalition of other willing nations and we will disarm Saddam Hussein. If need be, brought upon us like I said last night, I want to assure you, particularly those wh uniform and those who have a loved one in the military, we will commit the full f might of the United States military. And for the name of peace, we will prevail. (

We will free people. This great, powerful nation is motivated not by power for po but because of our values. If everybody matters, if every life counts, then we shc everybody has the great God's gift of freedom. We go into Iraq to disarm the cou will also go in to make sure that those who are hungry are fed, those who need h will have health care, those youngsters who need education will get education. B all, we will uphold our values. And the biggest value we hold dear is the value of (Applause.) As I said last night, freedom and liberty, they are not America's gifts world. They are God's gift to humanity. We hold that thought dear to our hearts.

This is a great nation. America is a strong nation. America is a nation full of peop compassionate. America is a nation that is willing to serve causes greater than o There's no question we face challenges ahead of us -- challenges at home, challe abroad. But as I said last night, history has called the right nation into action. Hi called the United States into action, and we will not let history down.

Thank you all for coming. May God bless. (Applause.)

January 27, 2003

Dear Mr. President,

Deep in the Heart of God is dedicated to you. We made it for your birthday. We continue to pray every day for you.

Deep in the Heart of God was made by a group of home schooled children from Texas who want you to hear their prayers to God on your behalf. The girls are all members of "Faith Keepers," a faith-based organization that promotes God, family, and country. The boys are brothers of the girls. Running time is 13:24.

We hope the prayers will be an encouragement to you today and in the future.

Sincerely,

Sherry Hickerson

Dear Mr President
George W. Bush;

I am taking this opposturnity to congratulate you for all the wonderful work you are doing to everyone in the world, no matter how delicate or difficult it is.

I am so proud of our President, Vice Pres. as well as Mrs. Laura Bush.

I'd like to let you know, that I am not a politician; but a good and strong prayer with an incredible faith, just like many others.

For example in July 1st, 02. I finally went to Guatemala to pay the visit I offered to St. Simon for asking Him also to intercede to God for your triumph of being the President of this Country. And now I am very grateful for having this favor granted, because you deserve it.

My next petition is wishing the Californians to get the perfect Governor, who has the same last name as (Saint Simon)

Mr. Bill Simon

(Olé)

Thank you and God bless you all.

Sincerely

A Teresa Barrera

The NRCC Christmas mailing included a holiday greeting response card for each recipient addressed to the president. Although the majority of the personalized and returned cards were forwarded to you in boxes, two cards in particular merit special attention.

These two cards each included a gift for the president: an antique "GOP" handkerchief presented by Ms. Larita Nelson of Mount Vernon, WA and a hand-crocheted "God Bless America" sign on behalf of Mrs. Irene Mecklenburg of Shrewsbury, MA. These presents and their respective personalized cards are enclosed.

Thank you in advance for acknowledging receipt and appreciation for the thoughtful gifts of Ms. Nelson and Mrs. Mecklenburg.

Dwight D. Eisenhower (Ike) Campaign Handkerchief

I Like Ike. Win With Ike. These were campaign slogans that were short and simple and fit easily on pins and bumper stickers. This souvenir campaign handkerchief or textile was made for the 1956 presidential campaign, when Eisenhower was up for re-election. He was opposed for the second time by Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic Party nominee. The textile measures approximately 27" square. It is in excellent condition. (Stock number 003ike908a) $70.00

MEMORANDUM FOR: JENNIFER NEWSTEAD
ASSOCIATE COUNSEL

FROM: TERRY GOOD
OFFICE OF RECORDS MANAGEMENT

RE: DOCUMENT REQUEST FROM THE NATIONAL COMMISSION ON TERRORIST ATTACKS

I am responding to your email request of June 13 in which you asked for inventories of certain White House staff.

Of those individuals on your list, we have received boxed files from Joshua Bolton, Larry Lindsey, and John Bridgeland.

Copies of potentially relevant documents from their files have been submitted to you by ORM staffer, Tom Taggart, on June 11. These would have been among those documents Tom found in the course of his search of all the files in ORM custody. I should add that searches of this magnitude are not uniformly comprehensive. We are dependent upon staff to provide inventories of boxed files. Our computer searches of these boxes are only as precise as the submitted inventories which are, at best, folder inventories. From our experience, it is safe to say that the accuracy and completeness of the folder labels vary enormously.

In contrast, those documents that we receive individually receive individual attention, to the extent that we are able to search data that we have keyed or optically scanned into two data bases. This allows us to conduct a far more comprehensive and exhaustive search than is possible with boxed files.

Mitch Daniels, being an OMB employee, would have deposited any of his files with the Records Office of that agency.

In my telephone conversation with you a short time ago, I mentioned that Mr. Bridgeland has reviewed his box inventories and requested certain folders to peruse. We have provided them to him this afternoon.

I am attaching background notes on this request for reference purposes.

MEMORANDUM FOR WHITE HOUSE OFFICE STAFF
OFFICE OF POLICY DEVELOPMENT STAFF
NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL STAFF

FROM: ALBERTO R. GONZALES, COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: NATIONAL COMMISSION ON TERRORIST ATTACKS "EOP DOCUMENT REQUEST NO. 2"

Please read this entire memorandum carefully. It deals with legal obligations that apply to you.

The National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States ("Commission") was established in the legislative branch, principally to inquire into, and report to the President and Congress on, the terrorists attacks of September 11, 2001 and the extent of U.S. preparedness for and immediate response to the attacks (Public Law 107-306, November 27, 2002). The Executive Office of the President (EOP) is cooperating with the Commission effort, consistent with the policy set forth in the memorandum of March 19, 2003 from the President's Chief of Staff.

The Commission has submitted "EOP Document Request No. 2" (attached) seeking executive materials from the EOP. The first category of materials sought by "EOP Document Request No. 2" will be the subject of a separate memorandum. The remaining categories are:

2. The President's Daily Diary for September 11, 2001, and logs from the White House Situation Room, the Presidential Emergency Operations Center (PEOC), and the White House Military Office for September 11, 2001.

3. Contemporaneous notes of individuals present in the PEOC or accompanying the President on September 11, 2001, including notes of White House officials other than the President.

4. The briefing materials prepared or compiled by White House staff and distributed to attendees for; any summaries prepared or compiled by White House staff and distributed to attendees of the discussions held at and/or conclusions emerging from; and any minutes prepared or compiled by White House staff of meetings at the principals or deputies level, including the Domestic Consequences Principals Committee, from September 11 through September 20, 2001 that concerned domestic policy responses to the terrorist attacks upon the United States.

5. Information sufficient to describe the activation and implementation of continuity of operations and emergency response plans and measures for the White House complex on September 11, 2001.

You must complete the following steps expeditiously:

1. Search for all materials you possess or control that fall within any of the categories set forth above. Your search for materials must be reasonable, diligent, and conducted in good faith, and must include any materials which may previously have been sent to the Office of Records Management. Retrieve all materials that fall within any of the categories set forth above and photocopy them.

2. Complete the attached certification, attach any photocopies produced under Step 1, and submit the certification and photocopies to Elizabeth Farrell 456-5942, EEOB Room 154, as early as possible but in all events not later than the close of business on Monday, June 16, 2003. NSC staff should submit their signed certification, along with any photocopies produced under Step 1, to William Leary, in the NSC Records Directorate, EEOP Room 392, 456-9201, as early as possible but in all events not later than the close of business on Monday, June 16, 2003.

Also, please be aware that we anticipate additional Commission requests for information concerning the extent of U.S. preparedness for and immediate response to the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001. It is important that you and your staff preserve all records which may potentially be responsive to this or a future request.

Please call Jennifer Newstead, Associate White House Counsel, at 456-1984, if you have any questions. Thank you for your assistance.

March 18, 2002

MEMORANDUM FOR PERSONNEL IN THE WHITE HOUSE OFFICE,
THE OFFICE OF POLICY DEVELOPMENT,
AND THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL

FROM: TIMOTHY E. FLANIGAN
DEPUTY COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: COOPERATION WITH DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION

The White House is cooperating with a criminal investigation being conducted by the United States Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois and the Federal Bureau of Investigation relating to the unauthorized disclosure last year of confidential government information concerning the blocking and freezing of the assets of the Global Relief Foundation, the Benevolence International Foundation, and the Holy Land Foundation. The White House is one of several government offices that have been asked to assist in this investigation.

To assist the Justice Department's investigation, we ask that you complete the Certification attached hereto and return it to my office (2nd Floor, West Wing) no later than March 25, 2002.

You are also asked to produce all official documents in your possession (including any e-mails and internal memoranda you have) that:

(a) were created (or are dated) between September 11, 2001 and on or before September 30, 2001, and indicate that the Global Relief Foundation and/or the Benevolence International Foundation was being considered for inclusion on a list of organizations whose assets would by frozen by the United States government; or

(b) were created (or are dated) on or before December 4, 2001, and indicate that the Holy Land Foundation was being considered for inclusion on a list of suspected terrorist fund-raising organizations or would otherwise have its assets blocked or frozen by the United States government; or

(c) were created (or are dated) on or before December 14, 2001, and indicate that the Global Relief Foundation was to be searched or would have its assets frozen or blocked on or about December 14, 2001 or which discusses the expected date and time of any such action.

Please deliver all responsive documents to my office no later than March 25, 2002.

If you have any questions, please call me (6-6611), Brett Kavanaugh (6-7984) or Chris Bartolomucci (6-7963).

CERTIFICATION

WASHINGTON

March 18, 2002

MEMORANDUM FOR PERSONNEL IN THE WHITE HOUSE OFFICE,
THE OFFICE OF POLICY DEVELOPMENT,
AND THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL

FROM: TIMOTHY E. FLANIGAN
DEPUTY COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: COOPERATION WITH DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION

The White House is cooperating with a criminal investigation being conducted by the United States Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois and the Federal Bureau of Investigation relating to the unauthorized disclosure last year of confidential government information concerning the blocking and freezing of the assets of the Global Relief Foundation, the Benevolence International Foundation, and the Holy Land Foundation. The White House is one of several government offices that have been asked to assist in this investigation.

To assist the Justice Department's investigation, we ask that you complete the Certification attached hereto and return it to my office (2nd Floor, West Wing) no later than March 25, 2002.

You are also asked to produce all official documents in your possession (including any e-mails and internal memoranda you have) that:

(a) were created (or are dated) between September 11, 2001 and on or before September 30, 2001, and indicate that the Global Relief Foundation and/or the Benevolence International Foundation was being considered for inclusion on a list of organizations whose assets would by frozen by the United States government; or

(b) were created (or are dated) on or before December 4, 2001, and indicate that the Holy Land Foundation was being considered for inclusion on a list of suspected terrorist fund-raising organizations or would otherwise have its assets blocked or frozen by the United States government; or

(c) were created (or are dated) on or before December 14, 2001, and indicate that the Global Relief Foundation was to be searched or would have its assets frozen or blocked on or about December 14, 2001 or which discusses the expected date and time of any such action.

Please deliver all responsive documents to my office no later than March 25, 2002.

If you have any questions, please call me (6-6611), Brett Kavanaugh (6-7984) or Chris Bartolomucci (6-7963).

We have reached the final milestone for one of Sun's most successful capital projects ever, Project Zeta. All punchlist items have been addressed, and we are ready for close-out. Your contribution as a member of the "extended team" has helped make a successful investment in Sun's future through the use of the latest technology in increasing our polymer-grade propylene production at Marcus Hook. This new facility recently set a monthly propylene production record of over 11,000 BPD, which has contributed significantly to our company's improved bottom line during 1997.

As a final and lasting momento of this project team's achievement, we are pleased to present you with a desktop replica of the Flour-Daniel Project Excellence Award for 1996. This prestigious recognition was awarded to Sun's Project Zeta for overall excellence in project goal achievement, including schedule, budget, customer satisfaction, and production results. I encourage you to display it in a prominent place as a reminder of what is possible when people are focused on working together for a common goal.

Please accept my personal thanks for your efforts, and I look forward to working with you on future investments for our company.

EXCELLENCE AWARD

PROJECT ZETA

Within Fluor Daniel the highest honor given to projects is the EXCELLENCE Award. At least ten different factors are considered for evaluation when assessing the performance of the nominated projects.

Since the inception of this Award six years ago, only 27 projects have met the criteria and been awarded this honor.

To lend some perspective of this accompolishment, in 1996 approximately 2000 projects were eligible for consideration in the voting for the EXCELLENCE Award... five projects won the award.

As a result of your efforts, Project Zeta was on of the five recipients of this award. To receive this award is a real tribute to the entire Fluor Daniel, Morrison Knudsen, and Sun Project Team.

Message from Don Morel

OUR SYMPATHIES, PRAYERS AND THANKS

On behalf of West Pharmaceutical Services employees around the world, I would like to express our deepest sympathies to the families, friends and loved ones of our four fallen co-workers who lost their lives in the Kinston plant tragedy on January 29. The sudden loss of James Byrd, Lenni 'Faye' Wilkins, William Gray, and Kevin Cruiess creates a void that can never be filled in the many lives that they touched.

To the many fire fighters, police, emergency workers, doctors, nurses, clergy and community volunteers who have more than risen to the occasion at a time of acute need, we offer our gratitude. Your skill, courage and generosity of spirit under the most stressful and challenging conditions are a monumental tribute to the collective strength and character of this community.

While we grieve, West also stands together with the community in prayer for the injured. We pray for a fast and complete recovery, and wish strength and comfort to your families during this most difficult time.

Sincerely,
Dr. Donald Morel

January 21, 2003

(from MA)

Dear Brother Bush,

As you may be aware, in the early hours of Friday morning, a vehicle containing 9 Phi Dekes was involved in a collision on I95 near Bridgeport. Four brothers are now dead and three remain seriously injured in the hospital.

It appears that they were returning from a New York City "pledge event" and that it was a freak accident resulting from a semi truck losing control and spinning out.

Details are being updated as they are available on our web site www.dke.org . I immediately went to New Haven and did what I could. Funerals are in process. We have arranged transportation for the Chapter and are working to put together group meals and counseling and other activities for the chapter. Yale has been spectacular in its efforts to heal the Yale Community as have the baseball and football teams and coaches.

Condolences can be sent to Nick Sinatra, President DKE, 79 Lake Place, New Haven, CT 06511-3615. We are getting together a contact list of bereaved families, etc. Check the web site for continuing details, contact people, etc.

We need your help on almost every level. We will be putting together some sort of lasting memorial to the fallen brothers, probably a plaque and a scholarship. If you care to help now with the immediate expenses of helping out the active chapter or the long range memorial fund, feel free to make a contribution either to DKE or the Rampant Lion Foundation in the enclosed envelope.

As things develop, I will keep you further posted. This is an unbelievable tragedy. Please help.

In the bonds,

NRV

Tragic Accident of 17 January 2003

USA Today
February 5, 2003, Wednesday, First Edition
SECTION: SPORTS; Pg. 10C
BYLINE: Olivia Barker
DATELINE: NEW HAVEN, Conn.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. -- The tributes have been understated but constant.

Calls from Whitey Herzog, the former major league manager, and Kenny Macha, the Oakland A's new manager. Emails from Bulldog players who graduated back in the '70s. A crimson Louisville Slugger, signed in silver ink by members of this year's Harvard baseball team and dedicated, in wobbly print, to the "memory of Kyle and Nick." It's been more than two weeks since sophomore Yale pitchers Kyle Burnat and Nick Grass, along with two of their fraternity brothers, perished in a pre-dawn car accident along Interstate 95 in Fairfield, Conn., about 20 miles south of this Ivy League campus.

Heading back from a pledge event in New York, five other members of Delta Kappa Epsilon, including sophomore infielder Zac Bradley, were injured. Two remain hospitalized. The brothers' Chevy Tahoe slammed into a jackknifed tractor trailer. Officials are blaming icy road conditions, coupled with the failure of a mile-long stretch of highway lights.

A week after the accident, two bouquets of flowers, weathered to the color of concrete, lay atop the I-95 median just before Exit 24, at the site of the tragedy, their ribbons and plastic sheaths fluttering in the wind.

It goes almost without saying that a student death is devastating at any college. But at a place like Yale, a school of 5,200 undergraduates where the administrators consider themselves aunts and uncles and take seriously the ministry component of their job titles, loss is palpable. Particularly now.

"Every tragedy is horrific and indelibly imprinted on your mind," says Linda Lorimer, Yale's vice president and secretary. "But losing so many students at one time, this puts it in a class by itself."

Community response has been tremendous, and diverse. Yale is the kind of school where Phi Beta Kappa biochemistry major jocks aren't uncommon, where athletes aren't the untouchable superstars of the elite conferences.

REV_00267030

More than 20 people spoke extemporaneously at the memorial service for Sean Fenton, a football player turned computer whiz, "from big, strapping football players to a little string-bean computer guy with thick glasses," says Harvey Goldblatt, a master of one of the university's 12 residential colleges, smiling at the memory.

For baseball coach John Stuper, a former pitcher for the Cardinals and the Reds, that first week was one of hospital visits, memorial services and funerals, from Atlanta to Holyoke, Mass. "I'm used to saying goodbye to players after four years," he says. "I'm not used to having them leave in the middle of their sophomore year."

Life only started to inch back to normal last Saturday, the first day of baseball practice. Stuper, a.k.a. Stupe, made a point of starting on schedule, his squad -- now 25 strong -- hitting balls inside Cox Cage. This season, Stuper's 11th, "Cox Cage will be a refuge for all of us," he says.

This spring will be dedicated to the memory of Burnat and Grass, and there's talk of affixing their numbers, 36 and 19, respectively, to the teams' jerseys.

But for right now, Burnat and Grass are still very visible. Their profiles remain on the Bulldog baseball Web site. Stuper predicts that Burnat "could be a valuable asset." He gushes that Grass's "stuff is excellent," that "he will be a big winner for us."

At Grass's funeral, in front of nearly 1,100 friends and family, Stuper lamented the hole in his roster and the one in his pitching staff. But "the largest hole of all," he said, "resides right here in my heart."

Due to inclement weather, the memorial service for the victims from the explosion at the Kinston, North Carolina plant of West Pharmaceuticals, originally scheduled for earlier in the week, has been rescheduled for today, February 20, 2003, at 5:30 p.m.

Regrettably another victim, Milton Murrell, passed away in the interim. Senator Dole is scheduled to attend today's service and does have the President's original message in hand.

We thought you might wish to alter the message given the circumstances. Please see attached article from the Raleigh News and Observer, for reference.

BYLINE: Anne Blythe, Staff Writer

BODY:

The release of one hospitalized West Pharmaceutical blast victim Tuesday brought Kinston cause for celebration, but that was quickly tempered by grief for the death of another.

Milton A. Murrell, 57, of Cove City died at 10:03 a.m. at the N.C. Jaycees Burn Center in UNC Hospitals in Chapel Hill. The death brought the toll in the West Pharmaceutical Services plant explosion to five. Meanwhile, David Lee Williams of Snow Hill, a National Guardsman and a patient at the burn center since the Jan. 29 accident, had improved enough Tuesday to go home.

Six blast victims remained hospitalized in Chapel Hill, with four listed in critical condition.

Efforts to reach the Murrell and Williams families were unsuccessful Tuesday.

Murrell, a general helper who worked at West Pharmaceutical for at least 15 years, was remembered by his co-workers as a good-natured man who was always quick to flash a smile.

"He was a nice person," said co-worker Clementine Dunn.

Investigators have not determined what triggered the explosion of flammable dust in the plant, and company officials have not said for certain that they will rebuild the Kinston plant. Since the blast, plant workers have had to cope with losses, take comfort in small triumphs and weather the uncertainty of what they will be doing months from now.

"The town is beginning to heal slowly," said Mayor Johnnie Mosley. "But the process won't be close to complete until we hopefully hear that they're going to rebuild here."

Because of the Presidents Day ice storm, the company rescheduled a private memorial service for Thursday afternoon to honor survivors and commemorate the lives of the employees who were fatally injured.

"The problem we have now is ... we really don't know what is going to happen," said Sam Phillips, a cost analyst who worked at the plant for 26 years. "They haven't made a decision about whether they're going to rebuild in Kinston, or whether they're going to rebuild at all. Some of us are going into the office, but we keep getting news, like today we found out about Milton, and it seems like it's just one of those things that keeps going on forever.

"Hopefully Milton will be the last one we lose, but there are others up there in Chapel Hill in pretty bad shape," Phillips said. "Anything like this that drags on for so long, you can't get it out of your mind. You just want things to get finalized."

OUR SYMPATHIES, PRAYERS AND THANKS

On behalf of West Pharmaceutical Services employees around the world, I would like to express our deepest sympathies to the families, friends and loved ones of our four fallen co-workers who lost their lives in the Kinston plant tragedy on January 29. The sudden loss of James Byrd, Lenni 'Faye' Wilkins, William Gray, and Kevin Cruiess creates a void that can never be filled in the many lives that they touched.

To the many fire fighters, police, emergency workers, doctors, nurses, clergy and community volunteers who have more than risen to the occasion at a time of acute need, we offer our gratitude. Your skill, courage and generosity of spirit under the most stressful and challenging conditions are a monumental tribute to the collective strength and character of this community.

While we grieve, West also stands together with the community in prayer for the injured. We pray for a fast and complete recovery, and wish strength and comfort to your families during this most difficult time.

Sincerely,
Dr. Donald Morel

RE: Presidential Remarks for Memorial Service on February 17, 2003

On Wednesday, January 29, 2003 the 140,000 square-foot West Pharmaceutical Services plant in Kinston, North Carolina was rocked by a fatal blast that left 4 workers dead and eight (8) people hospitalized of which six (6) remain critical and two (2) have been upgraded to stable condition. All are hospitalized at the North Carolina Jaycee Burn Center at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

On Monday, February 17, 2003 at 5:30 p.m. a memorial service entitled: "A Community Service of Healing and Remembrance" will be held at the Lenoir Community College in Kinston, North Carolina. As of this writing North Carolina Governor Mike Easley (D-NC) and United State Senator's Elizabeth Dole (R-NC) and John Edwards (D-NC) are arranging their schedules to speak to the six-hundred and fifty employees and their families expected to gather for this memorial. Arrangements have been made to have the service broadcast via Satellite to the patients and families at the burn center.

We would appreciate it if President Bush could send remarks to be read and distributed at the service.

The West plant in Kinston is one of the largest employers in a city of 25,000.

There have been no previous fatalities at this facility.

West Pharmaceuticals has been a leader in the rubber compounding business since 1923, the Kinston, North Carolina plant was built in 1975, with the addition of an Automated Compounding System (ACS) in 1986. At the Kinston site, rubber material is compounded and then used to manufacture syringe plungers, IV Fitments, and blood collection components. Kinston is one of West's five U.S. rubber-compounding facilities and one of ten worldwide.

West has 17 manufacturing facilities worldwide. In the U.S., there are four in Pennsylvania (Montgomery, Jersey Shore, Williamsport and Lititz), one in North Carolina, two in Florida and one in Nebraska. The remaining plants exist in global West locations. The plants that conduct the same work as the Kinston Plant are the following: Kearney, Nebraska; St. Petersburg, Florida; Lionville, Pennsylvania; and Lititz, Pennsylvania.

As discussed on our call, I will be the contact for this event.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 20, 2001

When I took office this year, my message to foreign governments on behalf of American steel was clear: we are committed to ensuring that American industry and American workers can compete on a level playing field.

After a thorough review of the problems facing America's steel industry, I have directed my Administration to undertake a three-part plan. I am confident this plan will help the working families who make their living from steel, and it will reinforce my commitment to helping the steel industry through these difficult times.

We will address the current overcapacity in the world steel market. Simply put, not all producers in all countries face the full cost of producing their steel, which leads them to expand production beyond market incentives alone. This produces low prices and hurts our workers and their companies; and this cannot continue. I have therefore directed the Department of Commerce, assisted by other cabinet agencies, to begin international negotiations that address this over-capacity. We will work together with our trading partners to establish new rules that remove government subsidies and open foreign markets so trade in steel is fair.

I have asked the International Trade Commission (ITC) to conduct a review of the steel trade. If the ITC's investigation reveals that serious harm has been caused by unfairly subsidized steel imports, then we will take strong steps to help our industry get back on its feet.

Our common goal is fairness for America's steel industry and workers. I believe the course on which we have embarked is the best one to restore this great American industry and to help the families and communities it supports meet the challenges ahead.

This leads to low prices, hurts our workers and their companies, and this cannot continue. I have therefore directed the Department of Commerce, assisted by other cabinet agencies, to begin negotiations to address this overcapacity."

Rationale: The main issue is that there will not be "more steel than buyers of that steel" – if there is excess steel supply prices of steel will drop. The rewording focuses on the economic source of large capacity and low prices – subsidies to the costs of producing steel in some countries.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE STAFF SECRETARY

FROM: Douglas Holtz-Eakin

SUBJECT: Letter to Steel Workers

---

Suggestion: CEA suggests replacing the third paragraph with the following:

"First, we will address the current overcapacity in the world steel market. Simply put, not all producers in all countries face the full cost of producing their steel, leading them to expand production beyond market incentives alone. This leads to low prices, hurts our workers and their companies, and this cannot continue. I have therefore directed the Department of Commerce, assisted by other cabinet agencies, to begin negotiations to address this overcapacity."

Rationale: The main issue is that there will not be "more steel than buyers of that steel" – if there is excess steel supply prices of steel will drop. The rewording focuses on the economic source of large capacity and low prices – subsidies to the costs of producing steel in some countries.

I am pleased to send warm greetings to those attending the Judicial Conference of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

In 1982, President Ronald Reagan signed into law the Federal Courts Improvement Act, creating the Federal Circuit to hear appeals based on legally defined subject-matter jurisdiction. For the last 20 years, this specialized court has promoted uniformity and stability in vital and complex areas of the law, while lessening the burden on the twelve geographically based courts of appeal. Today, the Federal Circuit has national jurisdiction over appeals involving a variety of specialized bodies of law.

On the Court's 20th anniversary, I commend those whose dedication and hard work make the Federal Circuit an invaluable part of our judicial system. Your efforts help the court achieve its mission and contribute to the fair and impartial resolution of disputes. Best wishes for a successful event.

Dear Misty:

On behalf of the court, I request that the President send a letter recognizing the 20th Anniversary of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit at its Judicial Conference. The Conference will be held on April 8, 2002, at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in Washington. It typically has 1,000 to 1,500 judges, senior government officials, government lawyers, private practitioners, and academics from across the country in attendance. We may have a larger number of attendees for this conference because it commemorates the 20th anniversary of the founding of the court.

The court was created by the Federal Courts Improvement Act of 1982, which President Reagan signed into law. It has national jurisdiction over appeals involving intellectual property, government contracts, international trade, federal employees, veterans, taxes, and takings arising under the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution. In the past, our speakers have included Chief Justice Burger, Vice President Quayle, and Justice Scalia. Chief Justice Rehnquist and Solicitor General Olson have agreed to speak at this conference.

I have taken the liberty of enclosing a suggested draft of a Presidential message. If a message is forthcoming and is to be read at the Conference by a Presidential representative, the requested due date is April 8. In that regard, I have approached Tim Flanigan, Deputy Counsel to the President. If not, we would request that it be provided by April 2 so that we might reproduce it for the attendees. If you need further information about the Conference or the court feel free to call Ms. Pam Twiford at (202) 312-5522 or me at (202) 633-6556. Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Sincerely yours,

H. Robert Mayer

SUGGESTED DRAFT

April 8, 2002

I am very pleased to forward my best wishes to those attending the Judicial Conference of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in this year of the court's twentieth anniversary.

On April 2, 1982, in a rose garden ceremony at the White House, President Reagan signed into law the Federal Courts Improvement Act. The Act created the Federal Circuit from the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals and the United States Court of Claims, putting the new, replacement court into effect on October 1 of that year. Unlike its twelve sister circuit courts of appeals, the new court was to have national subject matter, not geographic, jurisdiction. That jurisdiction was a combination of jurisdiction inherited from its two predecessor courts and other, new areas initially given to it by Congress. The jurisdiction was to be of a civil -- not criminal -- nature, would often involve potentially large damage awards and a variety of economic issues, and would cover diverse areas such as patent law, international trade, and suits against the federal government. The hope twenty years ago was that the court would promote uniformity and stability in vital areas of the law and ease the burden on other federal courts. Since its inception, not only has the new court fulfilled that hope, but Congress has seen fit to give it important additional jurisdiction, including appeals concerning the rights of our nation's veterans.

My congratulations to all those who have made the Federal Circuit a success, from those who conceived it to the court employees who have implemented its daily operations, from past judges to present judges, from attorneys who have litigated before it to scholars and others who have commented upon it. You have all helped the court achieve its mission and contribute to a vital judicial role – the fair, impartial, and peaceful resolution of disputes in a civilized society.

For that, and for your two decades of serving the public interest, I thank you on behalf of all Americans. Keep up the good work!

I send greetings to those participating in the 27th Annual Marine Corps Marathon.

The Marine Corps Marathon challenges participants from around the world to come to our Nation's Capital to complete a 26.2-mile test of strength and endurance. Every year thousands of people approach the starting line in Arlington, Virginia, to achieve this personal goal that required countless hours of training and sacrifice.

I commend participants for your determination to complete this race. Health and fitness are individual responsibilities, and I applaud athletes for promoting these important national goals and organizers, volunteers, and spectators for making this marathon a success.

Laura joins me in sending our best wishes for an enjoyable and memorable event.

COURSE

MCM Rock Creek Park stays on course and Hains Point remains out due to popular demand.

Mainly the course will remain the same as in previous years - the only change is that a portion of the course no longer goes into Hains Point; instead it will go into Rock Creek Park.

MCM Start Line

The Marine Corps Marathon, "The People's Marathon" ®, starts and ends at the Marine Corps War Memorial in Arlington, Virginia. (FURTHER INFORMATION AND DIRECTIONS.) The Marine Corps Marathon will host its first 5K race presented by Deer Park in conjunction with the Special Olympics' competion starting at 9:10 am at the Iwo Jima Monument on Sunday, October 27, 2002. The field is limited to 1,000 runners. Please call the Marine Corps Marathon office for an application and further information. The cost is $25.00.

MCM The Course

NEW 27th Marine Corps Marathon INTERACTIVE COURSE MAP.

The 26 mile, 385 yard, USATF certified course is relatively flat, winding through Arlington, Georgetown and the District of Columbia. Passing many of the area's attractions, including the Capitol, Union Station, the Jefferson, Lincoln and FDR Memorials, the Pentagon, the Smithsonian Museums and the Kennedy Center, it is truly a beautiful course that has been aptly nicknamed the "Marathon of the Monuments."

MCM Finish Line

DEER PARK
ULTIMA

Once the runner goes through the chutes after the finish line, they will be given a finisher's medal, marathon space blanket and a "goodie" bag with refreshments. Water is available at the end of the chute area. Runners may then proceed to the hospitality area for hot and cold beverages.

Deer Park Hospitality Tent: Post-race refreshments, such as Lender's Bagels, Ultima, Deer Park water, cookies, and fresh fruit and much more will be offered at the end of the finish line chutes to help runners replenish and recover!

Runners can rendezvous with their family and friends at the link-up

REV_00267144

Runners can rendezvous with their family and friends at the link-up area. Signage will be posted to mark these areas, depicting the first letter in their last name. The link-up areas are designated as follows:

- L-1 -- Link-up Area 1 -- A-F
- L-2 -- Link-up Area 2 -- G-L
- L-3 -- Link-up Area 3 -- M-R
- L-4 -- Link-up Area 4 -- S-Z

Please check the Marine Corps Marathon Race Site Map for exact locations. You will receive one in your race packet.

MCM Water/Aid Stations

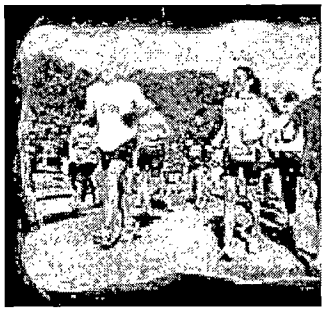
Water Points: Water points are located about every two miles along the course. We encourage all runners to drink at least one cup of liquid at each water point and at least 12 ounces of water before the start of the race.



- Water Point 1: On 15th Street (Arlington) between Eads and Fern Streets.
- Water Point 2 & 12 / Aid Station 1 & 9: On the southeast side of Pentagon South Parking Lot on east side of Eads Street.
- Water Point 3/ Aid Station 2: In Pentagon North Parking Lot along Poac Rd.
- Aid Station 3: At the turn around, top of Rock Creek Parkway.
- Water Point 4: In Georgetown, on M Street between 33rd and 34th Streets.
- Water Point 5 /6 Aid Station 4: Upper side of Rock Creek Parkway.
- Water Point 7 / Aid Station 5: Near Kennedy Center on Potomac River side of Rock Creek Parkway.
- Water Point 8 / Aid Station 6: On Madison Ave. and 1st Street near the National Gallery of Art.
- Water Point 9: 1st Street and Jefferson across from the National Air and Space Museum.
- Water Point 10 / Aid Station7: On the National Mall near the Reflecting Pool.
- Water Point 11 / Aid Station 8: On Maine Street between Mile 22 and the 14th Street Bridge
- Water Point 13: At mile 25 on Route 110, approaching the War Memorial.
- Water Point 14: Near Capitol Hill

On-Course Replenishment:

DEER PARK NATURAL SPRING WATER
- Deer Park Natural Spring Water will be dispensed to runners at water stops. For further information go to www.deerparkwater.com.

New this year: Two Deer Park Hydration Zones are placed at Milemarkers 10 and 24.

ULTIMA REPLENISHER
- The Ultimate sports replacement drink, Ultima Replenisher will be dispensed in their lemon/lime flavor. Ultima contains no simple sugars and over 90 nutrients. To find a retailer, go to www.ultimareplenisher.com.

REV_00267145

CLIF SHOT
- CLIF BAR's great tasting, natural Energy Gel, Clif SHOT will be at miles 9 and 18 at the Clif Shot energy zones
Flavors include: Sonic Strawberry (with caffeine), Mmm... Chocolate, Razz Sorbet™, Viva Vanilla, Mocha Mocha (with caffeine).

ADDITIONAL REPLENISHMENT STOPS
- Mile markers 8 and 24 will provide you fruits and cookies.

RUNNER'S MIST STATIONS
- Two spray mist tents will be set up in the latter stages of the race to keep runners cool. Look for the Mist stations before (Mile 21) and after (Mile 23) the infamous 14th Street Bridge.

Medical Facilities: The Marine Corps Marathon boasts an outstanding group of Navy and civilian medical volunteers. Over 13 ambulance units from a three-state area, Navy active duty and reserve units, all create a vital link to make sure our race is one of the safest in the nation. Medical doctors, physician assistants, podiatrists and other medical volunteers, to include trained American Red Cross personnel, will be positioned at two medical aid stations. Runners with medical problems or requiring special attention can get assistance at any of these places. Additional MEDICAL SUPPORT information.

Primary Medical Station: Adjacent to chutes, immediately past the FINISH LINE.

August 6, 2002

I send greetings to those participating in the 27th Annual Marine Corps Marathon.

The Marine Corps Marathon challenges participants from around the world to come to our Nation's Capital to complete a 26.2-mile test of strength and endurance. Every year thousands of people approach the starting line in Arlington, Virginia, to achieve this personal goal that required countless hours of training and sacrifice.

I commend participants for your determination to complete this race. Health and fitness are individual responsibilities, and I applaud athletes for promoting these important national goals and organizers, volunteers, and spectators for making this marathon a success.

Laura joins me in sending our best wishes for an enjoyable and memorable event.

Dear Sir/Madam:

We are requesting your assistance in obtaining a Presidential Message for the 27th Marine Corps Marathon. This year, the Marine Corps Marathon will be held on October 27, 2002. This event is the seventh-largest marathon in the country and promotes physical fitness and community goodwill. The Marine Corps Marathon attracts close to 18,000 runners from all 50 states and many foreign countries.

For the past 21 years, the President has honored the Marine Corps Marathon with a message. We greatly appreciate the acknowledged support and added prestige this brings to our marathon. We hope that President Bush will honor us with a message this year. It will appear in our race program received by every runner, supporter, spectator, and member of the media. If approved, we would like to receive ~~it by July 10, 2002.~~ Please mail the message to P.O. Box 188, Quantico, Virginia 22134 → changed to Aug 16

If further information is needed, please contact Mrs. Angela Huff, Business Manager, Marine Corps Marathon, at (703) 784-2225/2720 extension 299.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

R. G. NEALIS

Laura and I join those gathered at the New York State Shields Memorial Breakfast in honoring the families of law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty. Our thoughts and prayers are with you.

Law enforcement officers have always been among America's greatest heroes. Selflessly risking their lives to protect our citizens and our communities, these brave public servants set an example of courage and commitment that reflects the best of America. Every law enforcement officer chooses their profession knowing that theirs is a dangerous job. Yet they accept these risks, answer the call of duty, and place themselves in harm's way to ensure the safety of their fellow citizens.

Today, we remember those who have made the ultimate sacrifice in defense of others, and we stand with the families of these fallen heroes. Those who have given their lives have earned our Nation's respect and gratitude, and they will forever hold a cherished place in our hearts. For their families, nothing can replace your loss, but I hope you can take comfort in knowing that your loved ones' service and sacrifice will never be forgotten.

Laura and I join those gathered at the New York Shield Memorial Breakfast in honoring law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty. Our thoughts and prayers are with you.

Law enforcement officers have always been among America's greatest heroes. As they selflessly risk their lives to protect our citizens and our communities, these brave public servants set an example of courage and commitment that reflects the best of America. Every law enforcement officer chooses their profession knowing that theirs is a dangerous job. Yet they accept these risks, answer the call of duty, and place themselves in harm's way to stand watch over their fellow citizens.

Today, we honor those who have made the ultimate sacrifice in defense of others. These fallen heroes have earned our Nation's respect and gratitude, and they will forever hold a cherished place in our hearts. We also stand with the families of those who have given their lives. Nothing can replace your loss, but I hope you can take comfort in knowing that your loved ones' service and sacrifice will never be forgotten.

Dar President Bush:

I am sorry to hear that you are unable to attend the New York State Shields annual Memorial breakfast on Sunday, May 4, 2003 on board the USS Intrepid. As one of the most widely attended and visible events in the New York Law Enforcement community, I would appreciate it if you could send a letter of recognition as this year's event will honor the families of those officers slain In the Line of Duty.

Every day the men and women of Law Enforcement put their lives on the line protection of this great nation. As you well know, these safety officers are critical to our homeland security in order to protect our families and communities. Unfortunately, too many make the "Ultimate Sacrifice," their own lives. The New York State Shields offer a strong support system to the families of those heroes who gave their lives in the line of duty. A message from you, will help them know that we do not and will not ever forget what their loved ones have sacrificed for us.

This breakfast will honor those officers and civilians who have exemplified the highest traditions of law enforcement and selfless acts of heroism and bravery. I would greatly appreciate your efforts in recognizing all the work the New York State Shields do in part to pay tribute to all the heroes in New York who will never be forgotten.

Laura and I are pleased to send greetings to the New York Shields Memorial Breakfast as you remember law enforcement officers who have made the supreme sacrifice -- including those lost on September 11. We join you in honoring the families of these fallen heroes. All Americans have suffered as a result of the tragedies of September 11; but their loss has been particularly great.

It has been said that every day a police officer can save someone's life -- or lose his own. Too many officers gave their last full measure on September 11, proving again that there is no greater love than to lay down your life for another. All Americans have drawn strength and courage from their heroic actions.

For those who remain, you have been resilient in the face of tragedy, resolute in your compassion to the victims' families, and reassuring to the entire Nation. No evil will ever change the essential goodness of the American character.

As you gather, I ask you to join me in praying that Almighty God, who is our refuge and our strength during these challenging times, will continue to watch over our Nation and grant us patience, resolve, and wisdom in all that is to come. We pray for healing and for the strength to serve and encourage one another in hope and faith. May God bless the souls of the departed. May He continue to comfort our people, and may He always guide our Country.

Dear Friends,

The New York State Shields, Inc. is a non-profit organization, comprised of law enforcement officers active and retired from all ranks throughout the New York State area.

Established in 1990 as the New York Shields, Inc., we have now expanded ourselves and changed our name to the New York State Shields and have opened our membership up to all members of the Law Enforcement community throughout the United States. Every day the men and women of Law Enforcement put their lives on the line in protection of this great state and country of ours. Unfortunately, too many of them make the "Ultimate Sacrifice", their own lives. Our purpose is to offer a strong support system to the families of those Heroes who gave their lives "In the Line of Duty", and to let them know that we do not and will not ever forget what they or their loved one's have sacrificed for us.

Throughout the year we also honor those officers who were injured in the line of duty and offer support to their families while they recover. At our General Meetings, held throughout the year at various locations, we honor officers and civilians who have exemplified the highest traditions of law enforcement and selfless acts of heroism by presenting them with a Hero of the Month Award, and the Purple Heart, for those officers who have been shot in the line of duty. Besides offering counseling and an on call chaplain and rabbi, as well as legal advice, we see that these families are never forgotten. This is done by sponsoring events and outings for the families, such as Pocahontas On Ice, Garth Brooks at Central Park, the Radio City Music Hall Christmas Spectacular, the WWF Wrestling matches at Madison Square Garden, NY Yankee and NY Islander Hockey games and our annual Rye Playland outing, to name a few.

I send greetings to those gathered for the [firefighter/police event].

We know that heroism is found in a moment, or sometimes in a lifetime, of serving something larger than ourselves. [Firefighters/Law Enforcement Officials/Rescue Workers] have always been among America's greatest heroes. As they selflessly risk their lives to protect our citizens and our communities, these brave public servants help to secure our homeland. During these extraordinary times, Americans have drawn great strength from their example of courage, sacrifice, and honor.

I commend these dedicated men and women for their hard work and willingness to serve others. Their commitment reflects the true character of our Nation.

Laura joins me in sending our best wishes.

Remarks by the President During 20th Annual Peace Officers Memorial Service

Capitol Hill
Washington, D.C.

Speaks - Great Laughter

Listen to the President's Remarks

12:36 P.M. EDT

THE PRESIDENT: Thank you all very much. Please be seated. Gil, thank you very much for your friendship and your eloquence. It's my honor to be here. I'm pleased to be joined by three fine members of my Cabinet: General Ashcroft and Secretary O'Neill and Secretary Chao, I thank you all for joining us. I appreciate the members of the United States Congress being here. Thank you for letting us share these beautiful grounds.

I'm so thankful for the beautiful voices that are here today. Officer Rodriguez, I've heard a lot of National Anthems in my day. That was one of the greatest. Thank you very much, sir. (Applause.) Not bad for a New York cop. (Laughter.) And, Billy, thank you very much for sharing your God-given talents with us as well. (Applause.)

It is an honor to welcome you all here on these beautiful grounds, and it's a honor to be among the people in law enforcement who are here today. And it's a special privilege to be able to say hello and God bless to the many widows and family members of the fallen officers. It's truly my privilege.

As President, I feel a special connection with the officers of the law. I meet many of you as I travel around our country. And, of course, on a daily basis I'm surrounded by some of the finest men and women I have ever met in my life.

The same is true for all Americans, but in a less visible way. Everywhere, from the greatest city to the quietest of crossroads in America, there is someone working long, hard hours to protect our citizens. Someone who, when we're in trouble, will face a threat in our defense. Someone who, when we are in danger, will rush to our aid, even in complete disregard to his or her own safety.

One of the names recorded on the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial is that of Patrolman Mickey Cullinane of Sea Island City, New Jersey. He died trying to rescue a man lying at the bottom of a deep pit. A witness described the obvious dangers at the scene. He recalled everybody said, you can't go down there. But some people can't see someone in trouble and walk away. Mickey did -- he didn't walk away. He did what the courageous do.

In the daily lives of Americans, such moments of emergency are rare, thankfully rare. For most, the violent moments never come at all. And there's a reason for this. And it's simply not good fortune. The reason is you, the officers of the law, your bravery, and the courage you show every day in wearing the uniform.

And it's always been that way. Every generation of Americans has produced men and women willing to stand watch over the rest of us. Every generation has lived under your protection. And we must never take for granted the police officers of America. (Applause.)

We have a solemn obligation to give thanks and credit to law enforcement officers who are no longer with us. We honor as well the ones who have so bravely faced injury and disability. And we're so grateful to those who have retired after honorable careers, and of course to those who are on the job this very day. At times, law enforcement must seem like the most thankless work you could ever do. But I'm here to tell you that yours is one of the great callings. And your country thanks you for it.

A Texas State Trooper spoke for many last year after a colleague was struck down in the line of duty. America must hear what this man said. He said, "It's a rough thing, and people ask, 'Why do you do it?' It's the profession I chose, and I honestly think good officers are called by God." (Applause.)

For too many officers and their families, that calling has come at the highest price -- in lives ended and hopes destroyed. For those who suffer it, this loss can never be measured. But long ago, we were told how to measure the men and women who make this sacrifice. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

Each one of you chose your profession, understanding the risks. This memorial stands as a reminder of those dangers and of how men and women died facing them. For each name, there was a family left behind. We must never forget how suddenly their pain comes and how long it lingers.

The widow of a U.S. marshall said, "Whenever men who spend their lives serving their country are killed in the line of duty, we all lose a piece of ourself. I lost a bigger piece than others."

We cannot today cover the grief or repay the sacrifice, but it is a way -- a lasting way -- to acknowledge the debt. And that is the best we can do, after others had given all there was to give. America honors their memory today, and we always will.

God bless. (Applause.)

President Honors Fallen Peace Officers at Memorial Service

Remarks by the President at 21st Annual Peace Officers Association Memorial Service
U.S. Capitol
Washington, D.C.

12:45 P.M. EDT

President's Remarks

THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much. Thank you all. Please be seated. Thank you for that kind welcome, and thank you for the privilege of joining you today at this annual tribute.

Today, and every May 15th, the American flag flies at half-staff in grateful memory -- in grateful memory -- of thousands of fallen police officers. This year we pay special homage to 480 men and women whose names are being added to the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial. We do so with enormous respect and appreciation for the courage and character of all who have answered the call to be a law enforcement officer.

I want to thank my friend, Steve Young, the President of the FOP, for inviting me to be here, and I want to thank him for his leadership. I want to thank members of my Cabinet who are here. I want to thank the members of the United States Congress who have joined us on the stage and who are here with us, as well. Thank you all for coming.

I appreciate Aliza Clark and those who work so hard to help the families of the fallen. I want to thank the United States Capitol Police -- Vernon Baker. I want to thank Daniel Rodriguez for lending his fabulous voice in tribute after tribute to the greatness of America. (Applause.) And I want to thank Marc Anthony, as well. (Applause.)

So many family members of fallen officers have come to Washington for this service, and I want you to know we are honored by your presence. Standing by you today, and always, are brother and sister officers who are faithful to the memory of lost friends.

I thank all the officers in attendance, and the departments you represent. Thank you for your loyalty to one another and for your service to America. The loyalty of police officers is seen in the neighborhoods of America when our officers are on duty and whenever one of your comrades is suddenly taken from us. That happens on average about three times a week in the life of our nation. And each time we witness the powerful family that unites the police officers of America.

When an officer dies in the line of duty, an entire community will pause in sorrow and in admiration with the depth of feeling Americans reserve for people who protect us every day.

Last September the 11th, our entire nation grieved at the loss of 72 police officers. It was a loss unlike any we have known before, all in one moment, all at one place. More than 300 firefighters and rescue workers died, as well in New York, along with thousands they were trying to save. As the buildings fell, the sound, said one survivor, "was like the roar of the devil."

September the 11th was a day of great horror and great heroism. It was the first day of a long struggle against determined enemies. It was the first day in which this mighty nation will hunt down the killers and their like one by one and bring them to justice. (Applause.)

It's the saddest day in the history of law enforcement. In his final moments, trapped in rubble, Officer Dominick Pezzulo called out to one of his fellows, and he said, "Just remember me." The last voice he heard was Officer

Will Jimeno, promising him they would never forget. So, Dominick, today we remember -- we remember courage and bravery and sacrifice.

Sacrifice like that of John -- Police Officer John Perry, who retired on September the 11th. Early that morning, he had turned in his badge at the 40th Precinct. A moment later, he heard the sound of the first attack and the radio traffic that followed. He put his badge back on and was last seen directing people to safety at the bottom of the tower.

I have the police shield of another officer who died on that day. His name was George G. Howard. His mother gave me this badge. She gave it to me in love for George, but she gave it to me because I'm confident she wanted her President never to forget what took place. (Applause.)

We call all those we honor today, those who lost their life in 9/11 and those who lost their life before and after 9/11, heroes -- because they are heroes. Their families are proud of them, and always will be. Yet there's not a husband or wife here today, or a parent or child, who would not trade the honor to have them back. In a eulogy for his son who died on September the 11th, one father said, "I know he's in good hands, but I wish he was in my hands." We know how you feel.

There are more than 700,000 sworn law officers across America. When the oath is administered they accept responsibilities -- and accept great risk. Even in the most routine moments on watch or patrol, you protect us. Even on the quietest day, the next call may send you into extremes of danger. America is grateful. You just need to know, America is grateful.

We have confidence in our law enforcement because we know the kind of men and women we select and we know the nature of the men and women we train for the job. They're the ones who face down threats, who place themselves between the innocent and the guilty, who step into scenes of chaos and violence thinking only of whom they can help.

No one goes into police work for the money, nor does anybody put on the uniform expecting a life of ease. You take the job because you respect the law and you know that someone has to do the challenging work of enforcing it. Fortunately, this great country -- America -- has never been short of such men and women and your devoted service, and we are very grateful.

Every day in everyplace in America we can be thankful for the integrity and courage of our officers of our law. Today we give thanks for the special courage of the fallen
-- those whose watch ended with their lives. America cannot fully repay our debt to them and to the families. We can only acknowledge that debt, which we do today with pride and affection of an entire nation.

May God bless you all, and may God bless America. (Applause.)

President Speaks at 20th Annual National Fallen Firefighters Memorial Tribute

Remarks by the President at 20th Annual National Fallen Firefighters Memorial Tribute
National Emergency Training Center
Emmitsburg, Maryland

9:48 A.M. EDT

THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much. Joe, thank you for those kind words, and thank you for your outstanding service in a difficult time for our great land.

I want to thank Hal Bruno and the directors of the National Fallen Firefighters Foundation for the outstanding leadership they have shown in recognizing America's heroes.

I want to say thanks to the members of the Maryland delegation who are here -- Senator Sarbanes, Senator Mikulski, Congressman Hoyer and Congressman Bartlett. I want to thank you all for being here. I want to thank the local officials who are here. I want to thank the firefighters from all around America who have come to comfort the families of the fallen.

I want to say hello to moms and dads and husbands and wives and sons and daughters of the fallen. Laura and I are honored to be here with you today, as we remember the lives and sacrifices of your brave relatives.

Two years ago this weekend, I attended a memorial ceremony in New York City honoring fallen firefighters. And standing nearby were Chief Peter Ganci and many others who are now gone. None of us on that day could have imagined what was to come, the scale of the emergency, the enormity of the danger, the magnitude of the evil. Yet, each one of those firefighters felt a strong calling and knew its risks.

On September 11th, that calling led them into burning towers on a mission of rescue. Within a single hour, more than 300 firefighters were lost. And our nation still mourns. They did not live to know who had caused the destruction, or why. They only knew their duty. And that was to go in, to follow the faintest cry, to search for the trapped and helpless, and to save those who could be saved.

A few days ago, one New Yorker described firefighters as "the kinds of guys you look up to." Every one of you here knew exactly what he meant. The courage and loss we saw in New York is found in every community that has laid a firefighter to rest. Hardly a week passes in America when a career or a volunteer firefighter does not fall in the line of duty.

Fire-fighting is a hard and demanding job. And it may at any moment send a person to the high heat or thick smoke. It's been said that a firefighter's first act of bravery is taking the oath to serve. And all of them serve, knowing that one day they may not come home.

Today we honor 101 who did not come home. They were all people who accepted the dangers of fire-fighting, and were last seen on duty. We add their names to this national monument. We do so with pride, and with deep gratitude.

The nation pays respect to them for their service and their sacrifice. And we respect you, their families, for your sacrifice -- for the heavy burden you carry to this day. The McCormicks of Arkansas; the Hendricks of Kentucky; the Pascatores of Pennsylvania -- each lost a son who was not yet 20 years old. The families of Bo Rathbun of Wyoming; Jim Reavis of Missouri; Fred Brain and Pete Scannell of New York; Kenneth Jesse of Pennslyvania. Lost loved ones who were willing to serve, even in the latter years of life.

Many were taken during the fullest days of life, that time when we are needed most by the people we love. Kimberly Smith of Texas was engaged to be married. Robert Crump of Colorado was home after honorable service in the Marine Corps. Marvin Bartholemew of Florida had paid his way through college and was working his way up the ranks of the department.

Roger Bookout was 34 years old when he died, and he was a loving dad. He had a great outlook, and it was summed up on a sign he kept on his locker -- "Love your wife; love your life." All these firefighters loved life. And Scripture teaches, there is no greater love than to lay down one's life for another.

Sometimes a person cannot know for sure what mark he or she has left on the world. That will never be said of the people we remember today, or of their kind. They were strong and caring people, brave and upright. You could always count on them. You could always look up to them.

This firefighters monument belongs to the nation, and represents a national loss. The firefighters belong to you. And I know that loss can never be recovered.

A fireman's widow recently said that her husband was her hero, "and there's nothing I wouldn't do to have my hero here." That same feeling is shared by many here today, and time won't ever take it away. But the years can bring comfort -- and they can bring hope. You'll always know that your hero died in the service of others. You can give one another the strength to go on. You can find the comfort of God, who is with us, especially in sorrow. And you can know today that your loved ones are not forgotten. They hold an honored, cherished place in the memories of their comrades, and an honored place in the memory of our country.

God bless you all. (Applause.)

REV_00267204

October 3, 2002

I send greetings to those gathered for the National Fallen Firefighters Memorial Service. Special thanks to the National Fallen Firefighters Foundation for your important work to honor the memory of our fallen heroes, and to support their families.

We know that heroism is found in a moment, or sometimes in a lifetime, of serving something larger than ourselves. The events of this past year have clearly demonstrated that firefighters, rescue workers, and all first responders are among America's greatest heroes. During these extraordinary times, Americans have drawn great strength from their example of courage, sacrifice, and dedication. We are grateful for the commitment of these brave men and women, who selflessly risk their lives to protect our families, our communities, and our Nation.

Today, I join you in honoring the 446 heroes who died in the line of duty last year while serving their communities. Each of these who have fallen will forever hold a cherished place in our hearts, and in the memory of our country. Their willingness to sacrifice for others reflects the true character of America.

During this solemn time of remembrance, Laura's and my thoughts and prayers are with you.

Laura and I are saddened by the loss of Kyle Burnat, Sean Fenton, Nick Grass, and Andrew Dwyer. We send our heartfelt condolences to those gathered at Delta Kappa Epsilon at Yale. Our thoughts and prayers are with you.

As you remember these four lives of great promise, I hope you will take comfort in your memories of them and the love and support of families and friends.

May God bless you and grant you peace, strength, and courage during this difficult time. May He also continue to watch over Eric Wenzel and Brett Smith in their recovery.

Laura and I are saddened by the loss of life in the tragic fire in West Warwick, Rhode Island. We send our heartfelt condolences to those gathered for this memorial service. Our thoughts and prayers are with you.

As you remember the lives of your loved ones, I hope you will take comfort in their memory and in the support of your family, friends, and community. As with last week's tragedy in Chicago, our Nation joins you in mourning this loss and we stand with you during this difficult time.

May God bless you and grant you peace, strength, and courage. May He also continue to watch over all those who were injured, as they recover.

I send greetings to those gathered for the 2003 National Convention of the Gold Star Wives of America, Inc.

Throughout America's history, many brave men and women in uniform have served with honor and dedication to protect the ideals that define our Nation. Behind these courageous individuals are their families whose love and support are critical to the morale of our Armed Forces. Our Nation is grateful to our military members and their families for the sacrifices they make to secure our country, defend our freedoms, and preserve the values of our democracy.

As we continue to advance the universal hope of freedom and fight to rid the world of terrorism, I am grateful to our Gold Star Wives for your continued support of our veterans, service members, and their families. Your volunteer work in local hospitals, educational programs, and other important services help make our communities better places and honor the lives of your spouses.

Laura joins me in sending our best wishes. May God bless you, and may God continue to bless America and all who defend her.

Laura and I join those gathered at the New York State Shields Memorial Breakfast in honoring the families of law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty. Our thoughts and prayers are with you.

Law enforcement officers have always been among America's greatest heroes. Selflessly risking their lives to protect our citizens and our communities, these brave public servants set an example of courage and commitment that reflects the best of America. Every law enforcement officer chooses their profession knowing that theirs is a dangerous job. Yet they accept these risks, answer the call of duty, and place themselves in harm's way to ensure the safety of their fellow citizens.

Today, we remember those who have made the ultimate sacrifice in defense of others, and we stand with the families of these fallen heroes. Those who have given their lives have earned our Nation's respect and gratitude, and they will forever hold a cherished place in our hearts. For their families, nothing can replace your loss, but I hope you can take comfort in knowing that your loved ones' service and sacrifice will never be forgotten.

SEC. 2005. RESTRICTION ON UNITED STATES PARTICIPATION IN CERTAIN UNITED NATIONS PEACEKEEPING OPERATIONS.

(a) POLICY- Effective beginning on the date on which the Rome Statute enters into force pursuant to Article 126 of the Rome Statute, the President should use the voice and vote of the United States in the United Nations Security Council to ensure that each resolution of the Security Council authorizing any peacekeeping operation under chapter VI of the charter of the United Nations or peace enforcement operation under chapter VII of the charter of the United Nations permanently exempts, at a minimum, members of the Armed Forces of the United States participating in such operation from criminal prosecution or other assertion of jurisdiction by the International Criminal Court for actions undertaken by such personnel in connection with the operation.

(b) RESTRICTION- Members of the Armed Forces of the United States may not participate in any peacekeeping operation under chapter VI of the charter of the United Nations or peace enforcement operation under chapter VII of the charter of the United Nations, the creation of which is authorized by the United Nations Security Council on or after the date that the Rome Statute enters into effect pursuant to Article 126 of the Rome Statute, unless the President has submitted to the appropriate congressional committees a certification described in subsection (c) with respect to such operation.

(c) CERTIFICATION- The certification referred to in subsection (b) is a certification by the President that--

(1) members of the Armed Forces of the United States are able to participate in the peacekeeping or peace enforcement operation without risk of criminal prosecution or other assertion of jurisdiction by the International Criminal Court because, in authorizing the operation, the United Nations Security Council permanently exempted, at a minimum, members of the Armed Forces of the United States participating in the operation from criminal prosecution or other assertion of jurisdiction by the International Criminal Court for actions undertaken by them in connection with the operation;

(2) members of the Armed Forces of the United States are able to participate in the peacekeeping or peace enforcement operation without risk of criminal prosecution or other assertion of jurisdiction by the International Criminal Court because each country in which members of the Armed Forces of the United States participating in the operation will be present either is not a party to the International Criminal Court and has not invoked the jurisdiction of the International Criminal Court pursuant to Article 12 of the Rome Statute, or has entered into an agreement in accordance with Article 98 of the Rome Statute preventing the International Criminal Court from proceeding against members of the Armed Forces of the United States present in that country; or

(3) the national interests of the United States justify participation by members of the Armed Forces of the United States in the peacekeeping or peace enforcement operation.

REV_00267239

SEC. 2007. PROHIBITION OF UNITED STATES MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO PARTIES TO THE INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL COURT.

(a) PROHIBITION OF MILITARY ASSISTANCE- Subject to subsections (b) and (c), and effective 1 year after the date on which the Rome Statute enters into force pursuant to Article 126 of the Rome Statute, no United States military assistance may be provided to the government of a country that is a party to the International Criminal Court.

(b) NATIONAL INTEREST WAIVER- The President may, without prior notice to Congress, waive the prohibition of subsection (a) with respect to a particular country if he determines and reports to the appropriate congressional committees that it is important to the national interest of the United States to waive such prohibition.

(c) ARTICLE 98 WAIVER- The President may, without prior notice to Congress, waive the prohibition of subsection (a) with respect to a particular country if he determines and reports to the appropriate congressional committees that such country has entered into an agreement with the United States pursuant to Article 98 of the Rome Statute preventing the International Criminal court from proceeding against United States personnel present in such country.

(d) EXEMPTION- The prohibition of subsection (a) shall not apply to the government of--

(1) a NATO member country;

(2) a major non-NATO ally (including Australia, Egypt, Israel, Japan, Jordan, Argentina, the Republic of Korea, and New Zealand); or

(3) Taiwan.

For Immediate Release July 1, 2003

June 30, 2003

Presidential Determination
No. 2003-27

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY OF STATE

SUBJECT: Waiving Prohibition on United States Military Assistance to Parties to the Rome Statute Establishing the International Criminal Court

Consistent with the authority vested in me by section 2007 of the American Servicemembers' Protection Act of 2002, title II of Public Law 107-206 (22 U.S.C. 7421 et seq.), I hereby determine that:

(1) Gabon, the Gambia, Mongolia, Senegal, Sierra Leone, and Tajikistan have each entered into an agreement with the United States pursuant to Article 98 of the Rome Statute preventing the International Criminal Court from proceeding against U.S. personnel present in such countries and waive the prohibition of section 2007(a) of the American Servicemembers' Protection Act with respect to these countries for as long as such agreement remains in force;

(2) it is important to the national interest of the United States to waive, until November 1, 2003, the prohibition of section 2007(a) with respect to Afghanistan, Djibouti, Democratic Republic of Congo, East Timor, Ghana, Honduras, and Romania, and waive that prohibition with respect to these countries until that date; and

(3) it is important to the national interest of the United States to waive, until January 1, 2004, the prohibition of section 2007(a) with respect to Albania, Bolivia, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Botswana, Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Mauritius, Nigeria, Panama, and Uganda, and waive that prohibition with respect to these countries until that date.

You are authorized and directed to report this determination to the Congress, and to arrange for its publication in the Federal Register.

National Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve Week, 2002

By the President of the United States of America
A Proclamation

Our National Guard and Reserve units comprise 38 percent of America's military forces, and we are grateful for the commitment of these brave men and women. During National Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve Week, we pay tribute to those serving our Nation in the National Guard and Reserve, and to the civilian employers whose continued support enables our Reserve component soldiers, sailors, airmen, marines, and coast guardsmen to defend our country with honor and distinction.

Through their service, National Guard and Reserve personnel play an important role in our efforts to advance democracy, peace, and freedom across our Nation and around the world. These dedicated men and women train vigorously and work closely with our active-duty forces, serving as equal partners in our integrated Armed Forces. As our need for their efforts expands, these citizen-soldiers will spend more time away from their families, homes, and workplaces protecting our Nation and the ideals that make us strong.

As we face new challenges and welcome new opportunities, the continued support of patriotic employers remains vital to the success of our National Guard and Reserve. Our volunteer National Guardsmen and Reservists rely on their employers for essential support and encouragement that often come at the employer's expense. These employers reflect the spirit of our Nation, and during this week I join with members of our Armed Forces and all our citizens in recognizing those who serve in our National Guard and Reserve and all who support them, and all Americans whose contributions and sacrifices help our military remain the finest fighting force in the world.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GEORGE W. BUSH, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim November 10 through November 16, 2002, as National Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve Week. I encourage all Americans to join me in expressing our heartfelt thanks to the civilian employers of the members of our National Guard and Reserve for their extraordinary sacrifices on behalf of our Nation. I also call upon State and local officials, private organizations, businesses, and all military commanders to observe this week with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this eighth day of November, in the year of our Lord two thousand two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and twenty-seventh.

MICHELLE VAN CLEAVE

Michelle Van Cleave is Special Assistant to the Under Secretary for Policy, Department of Defense. She joined DoD in September, 2001 from her position as co-founder and President of National Security Concepts, Inc., a Washington D.C. firm especially noted for strategic planning and policy analysis supporting government agencies responsible for information operations, intelligence, space policy and crisis management.

In the 105th Congress, Ms. Van Cleave was the staff director and chief counsel of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Technology, Terrorism and Government Information, which encompassed legislative and oversight work on counter-terrorism, encryption policy, and the bridge between law enforcement and intelligence concerns. The Subcommittee was also the central forum in the Senate for hearings on critical infrastructure protection and the new threats of information warfare.

From 1993 to 1997, Ms. Van Cleave was of Counsel to the Washington law firm of Feith & Zell, P.C. During this time, she also worked as a consultant to several government agencies including Los Alamos National Laboratory and the Central Intelligence Agency.

For a cumulative period of five years from 1987 through 1993, Ms. Van Cleave held the positions of General Counsel and Assistant Director for National Security Affairs in the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy (OSTP). In the President's executive office, she was responsible for developing and coordinating science and technology policy in the areas of defense, intelligence, arms control, military space, technology transfer, emergency preparedness, continuity of government, telecommunications, and the security disciplines.

Ms. Van Cleave has also served on the staff of the U.S. House of Representatives. During 1989, she was Minority Counsel to the Committee on Science, Space, and Technology, with responsibility for overall policy and legislative strategy development. From 1981 through 1987, Ms. Van Cleave was assistant for defense and foreign policy to Congressman Jack Kemp (R-NY), serving concurrently as national security assistant to the House Republican Conference and staff member, House Appropriations Subcommittee on Foreign Operations.

Prior to moving to Washington, Ms. Van Cleave was an associate with the Los Angeles law firm of Horvitz and Greines, specializing in appellate advocacy. She holds Master of Arts and Bachelor of Arts degrees in International Relations from the University of Southern California (U.S.C.), and a Juris Doctorate degree from the U.S.C. School of Law. Ms. Van Cleave is a member of the bar associations of the State of California and the District of Columbia.

Ann had been the state Republican Party's Vice Chairman and serves as the Republican Committeewoman for Lafayette Township in West St. Louis County. She was unanimously elected Co-Chairman of the Republican National Committee at the R Winter Meeting in Washington, D.C. on January 18th, 2001.

Ann is a longtime party activist who served as the GOP's Director of the House and Senate Redistricting Commission ir Ann's successes in that process have enabled the Republican Party to gain numerous seats in the Missouri Legislature She served as the Missouri State Executive Director of the Bush/Quayle Campaign in 1992, the 2nd Congressional Dis of the Dole for President Campaign in 1996 and as an advisor for the Ashcroft for Senate Campaign in 1994. Ann has substantial experience in raising money for a variety of campaigns.

Ann is a common-sense conservative who values teamwork and a strong, pro-active grassroots organization. In 1998, Ann was recognized at State Lincoln Days as the Republican of the Year. She fully understands that winning elections i first and most critical step toward shaping public policy.

Ann is a graduate of the University of Missouri-Columbia where she earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration in 1984. She attended college on a vocal music scholarship. Ann held management positions at Hallmar Cards in Kansas City and Ralston Purina in St. Louis before entering Republican politics.

Ann is married to Mr. Ray Wagner who is Vice President of Legal and Legislative Affairs for Enterprise Rent-A-Car. The Wagners have three children: Raymond III, Stephen and Mary Ruth.

The letter can be faxed to the Missouri Republican Party: 573-636-3273

FROM: TERRY GOOD

RE: SUBPOENA FROM THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The Office of Records Management, with the assistance of the Office of the Chief Information Officer, has searched and compiled two listings relevant to the request of Perham Gorgji, the Attorney for the Government, in the case of the United States vs. Edwardo Ramos, which is assigned the case number M591-03.

This information was abstracted from the Worker and Visitor Entrance System (WAVES) data base of the United States Secret Service.

The Subpoena requests a "list of individuals authorized for entry at the White House on January 24, 2003." One of the two lists responds to this demand. It contains information about the people who were cleared into the Complex on January 24, 2003, as either visitors, workers, or members of the Press Corps. It does not include staff. It is arranged alphabetically by last name and includes the following additional information in columns, reading from left to right, first name, middle initial, date of birth, Social Security number, USSS identifying number, USSS badge number, access type (visitor, worker, press), time of arrival, USSS post of arrival, time of departure, USSS post of departure, date appointment was made, date and time of appointment, and date and time of departure. No one with the surname "RAMOS" appears in this listing.

The second list contains the names of people surnamed "RAMOS" who were cleared in to the Complex for all days in January, 2003. No "EDWARDO's" appear on this list. This information was pulled from the same data base as the first list. Given the much smaller number of people, it was possible to include more of the fields in this list.

It should be emphasized that the Office of Records Management merely performs a custodial role for this information. Questions regarding the design, the completeness and the accuracy of the data should be addressed to the USSS, having designed and maintained the system.

MEMORANDUM FOR BRETT KAVANAUGH

FROM: CAROL CLEVELAND

SUBJECT: Agreement Regarding the Use of the Presidential Template

Brett –

I apologize for not sending this over to you with the original agreement signed by Loretta Jones of the Trophy Mart.

Also, I thought that you would like to know that on the day I was making the arrangements with Ms. Jones to send the paperwork to her, she told me that they had sold the business. I don't know if this would have any bearing on the validity of this agreement but thought I should pass it on for your information.

Entire package sent to Brett Kavanaugh on May 9, 2002

2002 CRIME VICTIM SERVICE AWARD NOMINEES

Aid for Victims of Crime, Inc.
St. Louis, Missouri

Established in 1972, Aid for Victims of Crime, Inc. is the first full scale victim assistance program in the United States. A volunteer centered enterprise from its inception, Aid relies heavily on the help of community members in reaching out to victims in the highest crime areas of St. Louis. Seeing that victims of some of the most violent crimes had nowhere to turn for help, its founder, Carol Vittert, set up shop in her home, copied the bylaws of the Sickle Cell Anemia Foundation, and began looking for donations from friends and local corporations. Her efforts led to an organization whose 70 volunteers now serve thousands of victims in a three county area of Missouri, providing counseling, crisis response, court advocacy, a 24-hour hotline, and training and technical assistance for allied professionals and volunteer groups. Recognized as leaders in both state and national victim advocacy efforts, its staff contributed heavily to the establishment of the Missouri Victim Assistance Network, which led the push for a state victims' rights constitutional amendment, and was called on to testify before Ronald Reagan's Task Force on Victims of Crime. In 1993, it formed the state's first crisis response team, which has since responded to three dozen communities and has lent its expertise to crisis response efforts in Oklahoma City. Aid for Victims of Crime, the victim assistance field's maiden program, celebrates its 30th anniversary this year, a point that will be recognized during National Crime Victims' Rights Week events across the country.

David and Ann Scoville
Victim Advocates
Canandaigua, New York

On October 21, 1991, Patricia Ann Scoville was raped, murdered, and buried in a shallow grave near Moss Glen Falls in Stowe, Vermont. The crime remains unsolved to this day. Patricia's parents, David and Ann, began advocating for the establishment of state and national DNA databases and data banks, working closely with Parents of Murdered Children and other victim support groups. Their lobbying efforts led first to the establishment of DNA databases in Vermont and Rhode Island and then to passage of the Federal DNA Identification Act. Through media outreach and numerous speaking engagements, Mr. and Mrs. Scoville now work to strengthen state and national databases and to call attention to enhancing the collection of forensic evidence. They used the opportunity of memorializing their daughter to reach out to the citizens of the community in which she was murdered, undertaking the beautification of the site where she was found. In marking the fifth and tenth anniversaries of her death at the memorial site, the Scovilles spoke out about the importance of DNA evidence as they have continued to do at gatherings in Vermont and across the nation.

Chaplain Mindi Russell
Executive Director
Law Enforcement Chaplaincy-Sacramento
Sacramento, California

Chaplain Mindi Russell has been involved in providing chaplaincy services to victims since 1993. In her role as Executive Director of and Senior Chaplain for the Law Enforcement Chaplaincy-Sacramento, Chaplain Russell supervises a team of nearly 75 volunteer chaplains that work around the clock with 14 police departments, city and county government agencies, corporations, businesses, schools, and individuals and families. Through her affiliation with the National Transportation Safety Board, Chaplain Russell provided her services to victims of the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon, instructing more than 500 chaplains from across the country on mass disaster care. The Red Cross assigned her the task of validating the credentials of each chaplain and she spent two weeks at Ground Zero working with first responders and the families of victims. Chaplain Russell also reaches out to those who provide care in times of crisis, offering debriefing intervention for chaplains and service providers. Her leadership has earned her a role as senior chaplain on the Peace Officer Standards Training Advisory Board, which is developing the standardized training criteria for all California law enforcement chaplains. Under her direction, Sacramento has become a training center for law enforcement and community chaplains in her region and a model for the nation.

Carolyn Clayton
Tupelo, Mississippi

Carolyn Clayton was driven into victim advocacy by the murder of her daughter Amy, who was raped and stabbed to death while jogging in July of 1986. Angered by the attention paid to the rights of the offender while her own were ignored, and frustrated by the lack of support services available in her own state, she joined forces with other survivors to form Mississippi Advocates for Crime Victims. After helping to win legislative victories for victims, the group went on to obtain not-for-profit status as Survival, Inc. As Executive Director of Survival, Ms. Clayton oversees an array of services for victims of violent crime, including crisis intervention, court advocacy, in-home visits, and group support. Survival now provides services to victims in 23 counties in Mississippi.

SUSAN LAURENCE MEMORIAL AWARD FOR PROFESSIONAL INNOVATION IN VICTIM SERVICES NOMINEES

Washington State's Address Confidentiality Program
Olympia, Washington

Initiated in 1991 and the first of its kind in the nation, the Address Confidentiality Program was designed to ensure that victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking cannot be tracked through the state's public records. The program works by serving as the victim's legal agent for receipt of mail, providing a substitute address on government related documents. Free of charge and secure, it allows victims to retain confidentiality while relieving government agencies of the difficult and costly task of maintaining confidential records. One component of the program has set up special voter registration and marriage licensing procedures that prevent public access through those records. The program now provides services to underserved populations, including tribal members, deaf and hard-of-hearing victims, and Spanish speaking clients. Now that similar programs have been instituted in other states, Washington's is frequently called upon to provide technical assistance, bill drafting suggestions, budget planning, and other guidance. It is currently undertaking an effort to draft legislation that would require federal government agencies to accept such a program.

CRIME VICTIMS FUND AWARD

Financial Litigation Unit
District of Puerto Rico
Hato Rey, Puerto Rico

The Financial Litigation Unit (FLU) for the District of Puerto Rico has been creative in its use of existing procedures and laws and has developed new procedures to promote awareness of the objectives of the Crime Victims Fund. In cases entailing situations where the supervised release term was about to expire and defendants alleged no ability to pay, the FLU coordinated with the Court and the U.S. Probation Office to revise procedures so that payment of restitution would not be a condition of supervised release. As a result, defendants continue to be liable for payment of their debt and the FLU can continue with collection enforcement. In cases where the defendant posted bail, the Unit was able to request the Court to forfeit the bail money and credit it towards the satisfaction of the criminal imposition, thus promoting awareness of the Fund. In other cases where there were not real properties from which to collect, the FLU team conferred with the Property Registries and collected against the defendant's surety, resulting in payments toward the Fund. In addition, the FLU revisited the Debt Collection Act which provides various civil procedures for collecting debts owed to the federal government. The FLU team prepared pleadings for a "voluntary" garnishment as a procedure to collect in criminal cases. The voluntary garnishment procedure eliminates the need for the U.S. Marshals Service in effecting the collections, thereby making it a faster and more cost efficient method than regular garnishment. The same technique is now being successfully used in the collection of civil judgments as well.

United States v. Peggy Rurup* Team, U.S. Attorney's Office
Northern District of Iowa
Cedar Rapids, Iowa

The combined efforts of the U.S. Attorney's Office and the District Court of the Northern District of Iowa have resulted in a new policy that allows victim restitution to be paid directly into the Crime Victims Fund. The new policy was used most effectively in United States v. Peggy Rurup, a fraud case that involved multiple victims. Together, the group devised a form and policy that outlined the provisions of the Mandatory Victims Restitution Act. Before sentencing, an informational sheet and form were provided to the victims that they could return to the U.S. Attorney's Office with directions for payment of their restitution. All Assistant U.S. Attorneys, Victim Witness Coordinators, and FLU units in the District have been trained on the new policy as it has proven to be effective in reducing the amount of time necessary to locate victims and the number and amount of checks issued by the Clerk of the Court. This new proactive approach was presented as a model at the 2001 Federal Symposium and has since been adopted by districts outside of Iowa. When considering the cumulative impact of the funds added to the Crime Victims Fund, the expenses saved by the government, and the number of districts who have or could implement the new procedure, the results are significant.

FEDERAL SERVICE AWARD

Lynne Ward Crout
Victim Witness Coordinator
Western District of North Carolina
Asheville, North Carolina

Over the last three years, the area under the jurisdiction of the Western District of North Carolina has been the scene of three sensational murder cases, one involving a park ranger who was ambushed and shot on the Blue Ridge Parkway, a second involving the robbery and thrill killing of a young couple while camping in the Pisgah National Forest, and a third involving a track star and honor student who was raped, tortured and murdered in Pisgah. Lynne Crout's efforts to reach out to the victims in these three capital cases have resulted in friendships with families of each of the victims and have demonstrated the enormous and emotionally wrenching commitment Lynne has made to these victims and witnesses. In addition, Lynne's efforts have assisted in the development of new law in this Circuit regarding the garnishment of tribal funds for restitution to victims. As a direct result of Lynne's efforts, the standard procedure for the U.S. Probation Office is to include in the pre-sentence information the entitlement to tribal funds in order to allow the court to include garnishment language in the judgement.

Stuart:

Thank you for including me in the update on the question of autopenning of political documents. I appreciate your balanced approach, weighing the legal, political and public relations factors in the decision.

Every Admnistration has taken a similar path. None has ever requested that we machine-sign large numbers of documents occasionally or small quantities frequently. Each wished to avoid even the appearance of a political project interfering with the official business of the office. (The previous administratioin, for a while, even waited until after 5:30, after the nominal end of the business day, to autopen. However, it was found to be unsatisfactory, for we were unable to provide the support and oversight that was felt necessary.) Each has been willing to send someone to operate the machine in these instances. Each has accepted the tradition that Lee and I, as the heads of the Office, will sign a few occasionally. Over time, another acceptable approach has evolved; we will hold documents requiring a political signature until someone from the Office of Political Affairs can sign them. The ORM staff can set up the machine, explain the procedure, and let the political staffer actually operate the machine.

I talked with Doug Hoelscher this afternoon about this approach and he is quite comfortable with sending interns to perform this task. Properly instructed and supervised by ORM, we are also comfortable with this option.

Unless you see some problems with this arrangement. I will pursue this with Doug.

Terry

Dear Brook,

I spoke to about a week ago concerning a letter sent by the President to one of our constituents. Her name was misspelled and she was hoping to frame the letter. You advised me to return the original and you would have a corrected letter sent. The original letter from the President is enclosed. Please note the correct spelling of her name is:

Joyce K. Somers, Mayor
Municipality of Murrsyville ← Murrysville

Thank you so much for your kind attention to this matter. If I can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to call me at 412-562-0533.

Sincerely,

Dear Senator Santorum:

I very much appreciate your offer to correct the spelling of my name on the enclosed letter from President Bush. It was certainly a highlight in my political career to host the President when he came to Pittsburgh last year and I treasure the photos and the letter I received. When I recently spoke with Keith Schmidt about the misspelling of my name in the letter, he graciously invited me to submit a copy to your office for a corrected letter. Today, I received a call from Karen asking for the original and it is enclosed.

I look forward to receiving the corrected copy and I appreciate the efforts of all who are involved in helping with this. The letter will become more meaningful over the years with my name spelled correctly.

Sincerely yours,

Joyce K. Somers

BACKGROUND INFORMATION ON ROUNDTABLE PARTICIPANTS

Russell "Russ" Harrington, Jr., President and CEO, Baptist Health System

- Russ Harrington has been President and CEO of Baptist Health since 1984, and he has been a part of the Arkansas medical community his entire career.
- Russ leads overall business development for the entire Baptist Health system and is responsible for the system's operation and financial performance.
- Russ has seen the dramatic increases in the cost of health care as a direct result of the medical liability crisis in Arkansas, and he has watched as doctors retire early in his State or reduce their practices because of the rising malpractice premiums.
- He is worried about access to health care, particularly in rural areas of his State. He says it has become difficult to recruit and retain doctors in these rural areas. Hospitals in these areas are also struggling. Two rural hospitals that are part of the Baptist Health family have struggled and would have closed had they not been a part of the system.
- The system had to renegotiate its medical malpractice rates in 2002. The system had budgeted for $1.5 million, but the rates increased to over $4.2 million. These premiums continue to rise.

Dr. Sara McBee, family practitioner (Fayetteville, Arkansas)

- Dr. McBee has lived and practiced in Fayetteville, Arkansas, for the last 16 years. As a family physician practicing in a rural community, she provides health care to entire families, including all ages and both sexes.
- The unique patient-doctor relationship she has developed and nurtured as family practitioner with these families has been destroyed because of Arkansas's medical liability crisis.
- An integral part of her practice has been the delivery of babies, and until last year she delivered between 80 to 100 babies per year. In July 2002, her premiums more than doubled. Her two partners' premiums also skyrocketed, and they made the tough decision to no longer deliver babies.
- Because she hated to abandon the pregnant women to whom she was already providing prenatal care, she struggled to pay her premiums through July 2003 so she could keep her promise to her patients. She and her partners have stopped delivering babies, and they are forced to turn away her patients and their families who want her to deliver their babies.
- She has indicated that people in Northwest Arkansas have been deprived of access to family physicians because of the greed of trial lawyers and the exploding costs of malpractice suits.

Dr. John Wilson, orthopedist (Little Rock, Arkansas)

- Dr. Wilson specializes in orthopedic surgery and is the President of the Arkansas Medical Society.
- Dr. Wilson has a thriving private practice in Little Rock, Arkansas, and he has done short-term medical missionary work in the Republic of Guyana in South America.
- In the early 1980's, he also began giving back to his community by providing care to families in the Arkansas Delta, a poorer region in the southeastern part of the State. Each week, he would pilot his small private plane to rural Helena, Arkansas. This area did not then, and still does not, have a resident orthopedic physician.
- For residents in and around Helena, the closest physicians specializing in orthopedic medicine are in Memphis, Tennessee. Dr. Wilson's visits made orthopedic care available for this community.
- For 21 years, he provided outpatient services in the Helena community. He served mostly low-income families, and he has said that some of his care was provided free of charge.
- Dr. Wilson had not been sued until a couple of years ago, when several of his Helena patients filed lawsuits against him alleging injuries. All of these cases were dropped or dismissed even before they got to depositions. However, the cases had to be reported to his insurance company. His insurer dramatically increased his medical liability premiums, forcing Dr. Wilson to choose between being placed in a high-risk insurance category or giving up his practice in the Arkansas Delta. He chose to give up his practice in the Delta.
- Several of his patients continue to travel the long distances between Helena and Little Rock when they need orthopedic care.

Sullivan "Sully" and Mary Ligon, patients (Helena, Arkansas)

- Sully (age 70) and Mary (age 69) have lived in Helena, Arkansas, for most of their lives.
- They are both longtime orthopedic patients of Dr. John Wilson (also a Roundtable Participant), and had come to rely on his services in Helena. After lawsuits were filed against him in Helena, and Dr. Wilson was effectively forced by his insurer to give up his visits to this rural Delta community, they now travel almost two and a half hours to Little Rock when they have injuries that require his attention.
- Mary was first treated by Dr. Wilson in 1992, in Helena. She required surgery to repair a dislocated shoulder after she fell while decorating the church Christmas tree. She has had numerous other visits because of both knee and back injuries.
- Since he suffered a dislocated knee and a broken bone in his leg from loading cattle in late 2003, Sully has been under the care of Dr. Wilson. Because the community lacks an orthopedic doctor, he initially saw a general physician who missed the fractured bone. He knew something was wrong and drove to Little Rock, where Dr. Wilson immediately identified his injury.
- Sully and Mary are both retired and are living on a fixed income, and they would prefer not to have the added expense of traveling to Little Rock to see a physician they trust and need.

Frank Wise, Administrator, Fulton County Hospital (Salem, Arkansas)

- Frank Wise has been the Administrator at Fulton County Hospital for ten years. The hospital is a small, rural facility with 49 beds serving approximately 6,000 residents in North Arkansas. The next closest hospital is approximately 50 miles west and over an hour away.
- In May 2002, the hospital was forced to identify a new medical liability insurer because its existing carrier withdrew from the State. The new insurer refused to provide coverage for obstetrics, even though the hospital had only been sued once in the last 11 years, and that suit was immediately dismissed.
- Even after the hospital stopped delivering babies, its medical malpractice premiums doubled in 2002, and increased 28 percent in 2003.
- The community has suffered, and pregnant women are now forced to drive long distances to deliver their babies. Many do not make it to these other facilities. Frank has indicated that since the hospital's obstetrics ward was closed, there have been deliveries in ambulances on their way to hospitals, a delivery in their parking lot, and one in their Emergency Room.

D'borai [de-BORE-uh] Lynn Cook, emergency room nurse (Little Rock, Arkansas)

- D'borai has been an emergency room nurse at Baptist Health Medical Center for 27 years and a practicing nurse for over 35 years.
- As a case manager in the emergency room, D'borai is primarily responsible for caring for emergency room patients after they have been stabilized. If follow-up tests or evaluations are required after stabilization, she arranges this additional medical care for the patient.
- In her position as case manager, D'borai has seen first hand the results of the medical liability crisis. She says that doctors and nurses are so vulnerable to trial lawyers and the threat of medical malpractice litigation that they practice defensive medicine by ordering expensive tests and evaluations that would not otherwise be ordered and are not medically necessary.
- D'borai believes that more patients are now covered "head to toe," especially emergency room patients, because the doctors and nurses are always looking over their shoulders. Costs are out of control and quality is suffering.

Ms. Harriet Miers
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Ms. Miers:

In accordance with the authority granted to me by the Presidential Records Act, Section 2203(c) (2), I approve of disposal of the category of public faxes described in your letter of October 31, 2002. This category is:

- Certain categories of public faxes to the President, the First Lady, and their staffs, received through the electronic fax system and maintained on that system. These categories include anonymous correspondence, correspondence with an incomplete address, faxes from prolific writers, and public opinion faxes.

As in the past, I recommend that representatives of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), in coordination with the White House Office of Records Management, and the appropriate staff in the Correspondence Office, review these records before disposal and take samples when appropriate. These samples will be retained permanently. NARA will inform you if we identify groups of materials that should not be destroyed during sampling.

I do not intend to take any congressional action with regard to this request as provided for by Section 2203(e) of the Presidential Records Act.

I support your effort to continue the disposal of bulk mail. This practice has been very successful since it began in 1982.

Sincerely,

JOHN W. CARLIN
Archivist of the United States

REQUEST FOR THE ARCHIVIST'S VIEWS ON DISPOSAL OF INCUMBENT PRESIDENTIAL RECORDS

SUMMARY OF REQUEST

President George W. Bush's Staff Secretary, Harriet Miers, has requested the Archivist's views on the disposal of electronically received bulk faxes in accordance with the requirements of the Presidential Records Act, 44 U.S.C. 2203 ©(1). Specifically, the request includes:

- Certain categories of public faxes to the President, the First Lady and their staffs received through the electronic fax system and maintained on that system. These categories include anonymous correspondence, correspondence with an incomplete address, faxes from prolific writers, and public opinion faxes.

The overall policy of Presidential bulk mail disposal was initiated in the Reagan Administration, and was extended to the George W. Bush Administration through the Archivist's letter to Harriet Miers of April 17, 2001. This policy included the disposition of paper faxes. In August of 2001, the Office of Correspondence installed a new system to receive public faxes electronically. The electronic fax system which has been installed has no search or indexing capability. The Bush White House is now requesting disposal of these electronic faxes only after the materials have been sampled as needed under the guidance and auspices of NARA's staff and a textual sample retained of the electronically received bulk faxes.

SUMMARY OF RECORDS

Since 1982, NARA has provided the President with a recommendation for disposal of bulk mail after a selected sample has been taken. At White House request, NARA staff including Sam Watkins, NHT, Nancy Smith and Kate Dillon McClure of NLMS, participated in a meeting on February 6, 2002, with Terry Good of WHORM and representatives from Mail Analysis in the Correspondence Office to discuss sampling protocol for bulk faxes received through the electronic system. The sample will be kept in hard copy. Since Correspondence Office personnel routinely prepare a report of "propaganda" mail, this will serve as the basis for the sample and personnel will print out examples of the types of faxes that they have received each week. These will be retired as the sample. NARA staff will work with the Correspondence unit to ensure that the sample is taken using appropriate criteria and a NARA staff member will periodically review the samples, as we currently do with the textual bulk mail. It is important to note that faxes that are acted upon with return letters or further responses from the White House would be tracked and preserved separately. In other words, these faxes are basically removed from the bulk fax category by virtue of the action taken on them.

The previously established sampling procedure for Presidential bulk public mail has resulted in the disposal of 65,000 cubic feet of records over the last 5 Presidential administrations. I recommend disposal for these bulk faxes after a sample has been taken.

RECOMMENDATION

__X__ 1. CONCURRING VIEW ON PROPOSED PRESIDENTIAL RECORD DISPOSAL REQUEST. The Presidential records described in this request are disposable because they no longer have sufficient administrative, historical, informational or evidentiary value to warrant their continued preservation by the incumbent President.

_____ 2. RECOMMENDATION THAT THE ARCHIVIST REQUEST THE ADVICE OF CONGRESS ON PROPOSED DISPOSAL. The Archivist should request the advise of the Committee on Rules and Administration and the Committee on Governmental Affairs of the Senate and the Committee on House Administration and the Committee on Government Operations of the House of Representatives, in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 2203 (e), when (1) these particular records may be of special interest to the Congress; or (2) consultation with the Congress regarding the disposal of these particular records is in the public interest.

DRAFT

Dear Mr. Carlin:

In accordance with the requirements of the Presidential Records Act, 44 U.S.C.(c)(1), I propose to dispose periodically of the following category of Presidential records:

- Certain categories of public faxes to the President, the First Lady and their staffs, received through the electronic fax system and maintained on that system. These categories include anonymous correspondence, correspondence with an incomplete address, faxes from prolific writers, and public opinion faxes

The White House Office of Record Management will dispose of these materials only after an appropriate sample has been preserved. The sampling protocol has been established with the National Archives and Record Administration using the guidelines followed in the preservation of samples from hard copy public mail. The sample of public faxes would be maintained in hard copy.

This would continue a policy initiated under President Reagan and agreed to by the National Archives.

Sincerely,

Harriet E. Miers
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary

Mr. John W. Carlin
Archivist of the United States
National Archives and Records Administration

Electronic Bulk Faxes:

Background: In the past, the Office of Correspondence had two paper fax machines that basically ran twenty-four hours a day printing off all incoming faxes. This is the fax number that the White House Switchboard gives out if members of the public call and ask for a way to fax the White House. These faxes were all then reviewed and a decision made regarding further action. Either materials were deemed "NRN" (no response necessary) or were sent to other analysts for appropriate action. In this system, the "NRN" fax printouts went into the traditional textual bulk mail which is routinely sampled.

Life Cycle: In August, 2001, the Office of Correspondence installed a new system to receive these public faxes electronically. The system used is Zetafax. There are two fax lines that come into the server. This part of the system is not used for viewing, but is where all the information resides. Each day's incoming faxes are stored on the system. These are simply image files. There is no indexing or search capability. A paper back-up does exist if the electronic fax server should stop working. The server also has a tape backup. The system automatically sends everything from the server to the client, or viewer. The system is "receive" only. The personnel who previously screened the printouts simply read the incoming faxes on the viewer. This is the main difference between the current system and the earlier one. Experienced reviewers read the faxes for a given day on the viewer and print out materials that need to be further analyzed. These then pass to analysts who decide on further actions to be taken. Once printed off, those particular faxes that demand action rise above the level of "bulk mail" and are preserved appropriately through the normal record keeping practices of the Correspondence Office. "NRN" faxes, mostly consisting of propaganda mail from various organizations, are no longer printed out in toto. Only a small number are printed to produce a weekly "prop report" that documents the types of issues that have been addressed in that week's faxes.

Actions taken (the fact that a fax is printed for further analysis and/or action) are not tracked on the system. It is basically a chron file of images. The analysts who read the faxes online and then print for further action do not track any actions on this system. Recreating the software for NARA would not provide any advantages and in fact, could lead to the troublesome position of maintaining software that has no long-term value.

Decisions: Based on the electronic system and the fact that this mirrors exactly the previous paper bulk fax system, meeting participants felt that the sampling of this type of mail could be done most effectively in hard copy. Sampling in any electronic manner would not be cost- or time-effective for NARA. Since the personnel already prepare a "prop report", that would be the basis for a hard copy sample and these personnel would simply print out examples of the same types of propaganda mail that come in. These would be retired as the sample. NARA will work with Correspondence to ensure that the sample is taken using appropriate criteria. A member of the Archives would periodically review the samples. It is important to note that the faxes that are acted upon with return letters or further responses would be tracked and preserved separately; these are basically removed from the bulk fax category by virtue of the action taken on them.

The future letter granting disposition authority for the files will only deal specifically with electronic bulk faxes. Email will have to be addressed separately.

Filed by George W. Bush Library Staff

The sampling protocol envisioned here would ensure that there was an adequate sample preserved of those materials that do not get printed off because they are deemed "No Response Necessary" (NRN).

The Correspondence Office has provided useful flowcharts for its entire process. The electronic fax system is only one aspect of a much larger and more complex function. It is, however, something that can easily be sampled, with minimal disruption to current work processes and minimal investment by NARA, in order to ensure adequate documentation for the future.

OFFICE OF RECORDS MANAGEMENT

RE: INCOMING COMMUNICATIONS RECEIVED AS FAXED DOCUMENTS

We have an opportunity to apply a technological solution to what has become a fairly expensive and burdensome challenge within the Correspondence Office. If employed, the result could decrease significantly the costs and the time required to read and process incoming communications from the public that are sent to the White House fax number.

The Correspondence Office, the Post Office's White House Mail Room , the Information Systems and Technology Division (IS&T) of the Office of Administration, and the Office of Records Management all endorse the following recommendation.

Currently all incoming faxes, averaging 28,000 per month, are printed out in the Mail Room and transferred to the Mail Analysis Section where they are individually read and sorted. Approximately, 10% are culled for further action. The other 90% are boxed and stored, along with other correspondence from the public that has been marked for disposition, pending a request from the Office of Records Management to the National Archives (NARA) to review and sample these communications prior to being macerated.

It is worth noting that the majority is, as it has been true in previous administrations, almost exclusively "propaganda mail" from special interest groups lobbying for their individual interests.

The offices involved are in agreement that much is to be gained by switching to a system that allows the communications to be read and sorted at computer stations. Only those requiring further action would be printed out. The rest would be stored in their electronic format and transferred to the National Archives at the Administration's conclusion or, if an agreement with NARA can be reached, deleted, as has been the case with paper based communications since the Carter Administration.

I might add, that if this proposal offers advantages for the Office of Correspondence, it might provide an appealing option to other White House offices that receive large quantities of faxes from public interest groups.

If you see no legal problems with this approach, we will move forward with the technological requirements.

MEMORANDUM FOR: TERRY GOOD

FROM: MARKUS K. MOST

RE: INCOMING COMMUNICATIONS RECEIVED AS FAXED DOCUMENTS

In an effort to reduce the resource burden of the approximately 28,000 pages of faxes the White House receives every month, I have prepared the enclosed proposal and cost/ benefit analysis for consideration.

Introduction
The White House is currently receiving on average, 28,000 faxed pages a month. The volume of faxes is placing a financial and human resource burden on the offices that must print out and process the documents. By implementing a separate system to handle the incoming volume of faxes, one would free these resources to focus on other mission critical areas.

Process
Currently, the Mail Office has two faxes running uninterrupted to handle the incoming faxes. An incoming fax is printed out and placed in a mail tub. When the tub is full, it is sent to the Office of Correspondence where staff look at each fax and decide if a response is necessary. Those chosen to be responded to are entered into the Quorum system for further tracking. The majority of documents, about 90%, are not responded to and are transferred to archival boxes. After a period of time, the untracked faxes are macerated.

Proposal
In an effort to more effectively utilize resources, it is proposed that a separate fax system be implemented to handle incoming faxes. Rather than having two fax machines print out every fax, a fax server would be installed. The new system would receive the incoming faxes in electronic form and would store them in electronic form on a server. This fax server would be tasked only with serving and storing faxes. These electronic faxes could then be viewed by the Office of Correspondence staff: those that will be responded to, are printed out and data entered. Those faxes that do not require a response will remain on the server for storage and eventual transfer to the National Archives. At no point in the process will faxes be disposed of.

Difficulties
The faxes will be retained on the fax server in an image format. One could perform an Optical Character Recognition (OCR) function on the images. However, due to fax transfer quality and handwritten messages, performing OCR is not an option.
Faxes will be viewable as they were received, however, there will be no searchable metadata associated with the images. Eventually, only those faxes that were responded to will have metadata. This means that only the faxes that the White House took action on would be searchable, all other faxes would be retained, but would not be searchable. (It might be possible to automatically capture "sent date", "sent time", and "sent phone number", but only to the extent that this information is not blocked by the sender.)
Question to be addressed:

- Do the received faxes need to have metadata to make them searchable even if no action was taken on them by the White House? (In other words, does one need to treat these electronic faxes as email, or can one apply current paper disposition practice to these faxes?)

Risk Analysis
There is a certain risk involved in continuing to print out faxes. Two areas stand out as introducing the greatest risk:

- Sometimes a fax machine will jam or run out of paper. The fax machines have a 250 page memory, which might cover a one day volume of faxes. However, if a machine were to jam or run out of paper on a Saturday, one would simply not receive those faxes that are sent after the 250 page memory is filled. Those who attempted to send faxes while the memory is filled would get a busy signal and would be forced to re-send their faxes at a later point. Currently, whenever the fax machines are busy, the White House operators receive many phone calls from irate public citizens asking about the fax machines.

- Because of the demand placed on the print cartridges, it is possible for the cartridges to run out while printing faxes. If a print cartridge were to run out on a weekend, one could lose approximately 2000 pages due to faded or blank printouts. Also on a regular work day, if a dry cartridge is not noticed, one might print a fair number of illegible faxes.

An electronic fax system would address both of these risk areas by providing a virtually limitless storage capacity and eliminating the need to print all faxes.

Cost/ Benefit Analysis

Costs incurred by the current system that could be avoided by switching to a fax server:

- Each fax machine requires 2 toner cartridges every week.
  The average cost of a toner cartridge is $75.
  2 toner cartridges * 2 fax machines * $75 per cartridge = $300 cost per week
  Cost per year = $15,600

- The White House receives approximately 28,000 faxed pages per month
  500 pages in a ream of paper
  A ream of paper costs $2.50
  28,000 pages per month / 500 pages = 56 reams per month
  56 reams per month * $2.50 cost per ream = $140 cost per month
  Cost per year for paper = $7280

- The high volume of faxes causes the fax machines to degrade quickly. The current fax machines are no longer sold and would have to be replaced by a comparable system. Currently a similar Canon product costs approximately $2,000 and two machines would be required.

- The Office of Correspondence fills approximately one archival box with faxes every day.
  An archival box costs $2.20
  250 work days a year * $2.20 = $550 a year for boxes

Total Cost: $27,430

Additional costs to consider:
Maintenance contract with Canon
Post Office Mail Room staff time
Box maceration

Cost of switching to a fax server:

|---|---|
| Server and FAX Software Installation: | $2500 |
| Server: N/A (use a spare server) | $0 |
| Server memory: | $3224 |
| Fax Modem: | $194 |
| On-site support: | $500 |
| Fax Server Software: | $39 |
| Fax Server Software Node License: | $629 |
| FaxWare Port License: | $430 |
| Installation Cost: | $7516 |

Continued yearly maintenance to be handled by IS&T.

Regardless if one purchases a fax server or continues to print incoming faxes, certain types of costs will remain the same, but at different levels. For example, certain faxes will continue to be printed out even under the new system. Theoretically though, only 10% of current volume would be printed.

Final Analysis

By moving to a fax server, one would mitigate the risks of not receiving faxes and print cartridges running out. One would also be able to reduce the overall cost of providing a fax service to the public. After implementation, the cost of the fax server would most likely be recuperated within a short period of time.

Redundant System

As a backup to the fax server, one could design the system to send faxes to the old fax machines if the server were to malfunction.

Kerry takes the field

In Anaheim visit, the Democratic presidential hopeful criticizes Bush's energy polic

By MARTIN WISCKOL
THE ORANGE COUNTY REGISTER

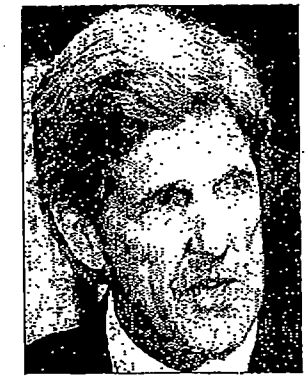
ANAHEIM

Democratic presidential candidate John Kerry said Thursday that the federal government should buy back undeveloped oil leases off the California coast in order to halt new oil drilling.

Appearing at a fund-raiser before the Democratic Foundation of Orange County at Edison Field's Diamond Club, the senator from Massachusetts sharply criticized President George W. Bush for pushing for drilling in California while protecting Florida.

"You should not have to have a brother who is governor to do the right thing," Kerry told about 150 people who paid $65 a plate, many of whom also attended a $1,000 per head reception beforehand.

Bush said last year that $235 million would be spent to buy up oil leases in Florida – an announcement made with his brother, Florida Gov. Jeb Bush, at his side during a break from Jeb Bush's re-election campaign.



Sen. John Kerry

In California, meanwhile, Gov. Gray Davis is seeking to review 36 undeveloped leases to study potential environmental impacts before they are reissued by the federal government. The Bush administration has tried to proceed without the review – but has lost two legal rounds and is now considering taking the matter to the Supreme Court.

Davis wrote to Bush on Thursday, urging him to set aside further legal challenge and allow the review.

The White House referred calls to the Interior Department. No one could be reached for comment at the department regarding the Kerry or Davis oil issues.

Kerry, on a two-day fund-raising trip to Southern California, was making his first public appearances since prostate cancer surgery Feb. 12. He was jovial and energetic, telling a string of jokes before launching into his formal speech, and peppering that speech with anecdotes. He spoke for 40 minutes, th talked with reporters befo leaving for a San Diego fun raiser. He attended three L Angeles fund-raisers Wedne day.

Kerry emphasized the ne to develop alternative sourc of energy. He said that just percent of the world's oil is the United States, with 65 pe cent in Arab countries.

"There is no possible w for America to drill its way o of this problem," he said. "W have to invent our way out this."

Kerry is among the fron runners for the Democrat nomination, along with Sen Joe Lieberman of Connectic and John Edwards of Nor Carolina, and Rep. Dick G phardt of Missouri.

President George W. Bush
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

In December, Fred Smith (CEO, FedEx), Michael Armstrong (Chairman, Comcast, and former CEO, AT&T), and I co-chaired a CEO Summit under the auspices of Booz Allen Hamilton. The CEO summit was attended with representation from our most critical industries, including financial services, energy, communications, and the transportation sectors. The Summit focused on:

- How, in the aftermath of September 11, 2001, government and private industry can more effectively work together to secure the nation's infrastructure and help prevent, or at the least minimize the effects of, any future terrorist attacks on our country.
- How the current threat environment has altered and added to the risks faced by private industry, and how it requires bold responses.

The purpose of the attached short report of our meeting is to share some initial thoughts and suggestions with you in the hopes of strengthening the dialogue between the public and private sectors. We plan to meet again, including other CEO's in our efforts, and we hope thus to help build and foster partnerships both within industry and with the government to enhance business resilience, protect our economy, and promote national security. We concentrated on three areas, spelled out in the short attachment: what business can do on its own, what government can do, and what we can do together.

We would be happy to meet with Governor Ridge or anyone you might designate in the Administration to discuss the group's recommendations in detail and any further ways we might be helpful.

Respectfully,

R. James Woolsey

CEO Summit: Initial Thoughts and Suggestions

1. What Business Can Do On Its Own

- Forge collective agreements within industries, possibly coordinated by their trade associations, on actions to cope with national security emergencies – early emphasis should be placed on industries on which many others depend.

- Use enhancements in corporate accountability to encourage businesses to adopt resilience improvements and protect the key operations that drive their earnings and hence the economy.

- Search out alternative supply chain links to which businesses can turn in the event of an emergency.

- Expand participation in the CEO Com Link (Critical Emergency Operations Communications Link), a secure telecom system enabling CEOs to communicate with each other and with government officials during a crisis.

2. What The Government Can Do

- Encourage R&D and investments in new technologies promoting security and resiliency and use government purchases to promote the commercialization of these technologies.

- Offer economic incentives for stockpiling materials, such as transformers for the electricity grid, specifically purchased to keep critical industries operating after a terrorist attack.

- Bring back 30-year bonds (War Bonds) using a WW II-like bond drive to help finance economic incentives for industry and to allow purchasers to feel they are helping in the war effort.

- Develop ways to share relevant intelligence with the private sector and at the same time seek out and include open source intelligence and private sector vulnerability assessments in the decision-making process when planning against future attacks and crises.

- Increase its own ability to make sound decisions about infrastructure resilience and security issues by recruiting for government laboratories, FFRDC's, or other government positions some of the talented engineers and high-tech experts who are recently retired, available as "dollar-a-year" volunteers, or available because of transitional unemployment in telecomm and other fields.

3. What Public/Private Sector Partnerships Can Do

- Look for ways to create incentives for improving resilience and thus help avoid the us-versus-them mind-set attendant on regulation and control.

- Support one another in ensuring that remedies are solidly based on careful assessments of threats and vulnerabilities, not on temporary or superficial appeal. For example, develop less-than-drastic responses to crises that don't necessarily shut down entire systems (e.g., all airports, entire computer networks), but rather, keeping an eye on cost, determine the probable scope of the threat and reasonable responses, particularly for operations central to the economy.

- Form alliances to mesh corporate continuity of operations programs with continuity of government programs, using joint task forces to study and accomplish specific tasks.

- Hold government-sponsored sessions with industries having similar security needs to develop contingency plans for continuity of supply chains (for food, pharmaceuticals), continuity of communications networks (for transportation, finance), etc.

- Set up direct lines of communication between the government and trade groups so that crucial information can be disseminated, as well as gathered, quickly and efficiently.

- Prioritize resilience improvements, with advice from industry, so weaknesses that can be catastrophically exploited (e.g., flimsy cockpit doors) get fixed first.

STATEMENT ON IRAQ

Most Reverend Wilton D. Gregory
President
United States Conference of Catholic Bishops

February 26, 2003

As our nation and world face grave choices about war, peace, security and justice, this is a time for renewed prayer, continued moral reflection, and active and faithful citizenship. This is a time to reaffirm and raise again the serious ethical questions and concerns our Conference has expressed in a letter to President Bush last September and in a major statement of the full body of bishops last November.

We have no illusions about the behavior and intentions of, or dangers posed by, the Iraqi government. Once again, we renew our calls for the Iraqi leadership clearly to abandon efforts to develop weapons of mass destruction and to meet its obligations to destroy such weapons. We join with Pope John Paul II in insisting that Iraq make concrete commitments to meet the legitimate demands of the international community and to avoid war. The Iraqi regime has to recognize that it has not to date responded adequately to these demands and that it must act immediately and effectively to meet them, both to avoid armed conflict and to prove that it intends to change its ways.

We join with Pope John Paul in the conviction that war is not inevitable and that war is always a defeat for humanity. This is not a matter of ends, but means. Our bishops conference continues to question the moral legitimacy of any preemptive, unilateral use of military force to overthrow the government of Iraq. To permit preemptive or preventive uses of military force to overthrow threatening or hostile regimes would create deeply troubling moral and legal precedents. Based on the facts that are known, it is difficult to justify resort to war against Iraq, lacking clear and adequate evidence of an imminent attack of a grave nature or Iraq s involvement in the terrorist attacks of September 11. With the Holy See and many religious leaders throughout the world, we believe that resort to war would not meet the strict conditions in Catholic teaching for the use of military force.

In our judgment, resort to war in this case should have broad international support. As crucial decisions draw near, we join the Holy See in once again urging all leaders to step back from the brink of war and to continue to work through the United Nations to contain, deter and disarm Iraq. We hope and pray that leaders in Iraq, the United Nations and in our own land will hear and heed the persistent pleas of Pope John Paul II to take concrete steps to avoid war and build peace based on respect for international law and for all human life.

If the decision to use military force is taken, the moral and legal constraints on the conduct of war must be observed. This is expected of every civilized nation. It surely is expected of ours. We are threatened by regimes and terrorists who ignore traditional norms governing the use of force; all the more reason that we must uphold and reinforce them through our own actions. Any implied or express threats to defend against Iraq s weapons of mass destruction by using our own weapons of mass destruction would be clearly unjustified. The use of anti-personnel landmines, cluster bombs and other weapons that cannot distinguish between soldiers and civilians, or between times of war and times of peace, should also be avoided. In all our actions in war, including assessments of whether collateral damage is proportionate, we must value the lives and livelihood of Iraqi civilians as we would the lives and livelihood of our own families and our own citizens.

If there is armed conflict, we must be prepared for all of its implications and its aftermath. An already long-suffering Iraqi population could face terrible new burdens, and a region already full of conflict and refugees could see more conflict and many more refugees, with ethnic and religious minorities particularly vulnerable. A post-war Iraq would require a long-term commitment to reconstruction, humanitarian and refugee assistance, and establishment of a stable, democratic government at a time when the U.S. federal budget is overwhelmed by increased defense spending and the costs of war.

As pastors and teachers, we understand that there are no easy answers. People of good will may differ on how traditional norms apply in this situation. The gravity of the threat and whether force would be preemptive are matters of debate, as are the potential consequences of using or failing to use military force. We urge Catholics, especially lay men and women who are called to be leaven in society, to continue to think deeply about the choices we face, to review carefully the teaching of our Church and to speak out strongly in accord with their conscience. Our hearts and prayers go out especially to those who may bear the burden of these terrible choices -- the men and women of our armed forces and their families, the people of Iraq, and the leaders of our nation and world who face momentous decisions of life and death, of war and peace.

At times like these, we turn to the Lord and ask for wisdom and courage. We Christians are called to be sentinels of peace, the Holy Father reminds us. We join with him in urging Catholics to dedicate fasting on Ash Wednesday for the conversion of hearts and the long-range vision of just decisions to resolve disputes with adequate and peaceful means. In the days ahead, our community of faith is called to reflection and discernment, dialogue and action, and especially to prayer and worship. As we approach the Lenten season, let us pray and fast that our nation and world will find effective ways short of war to secure justice, increase security and promote genuine peace for all of God s people.

Office of the President
The White House
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Ms. Styles;

Thank you for your courtesy and attention during a February 6, 2003 visit on behalf of the National Task Force for Veterans Entrepreneurship (TFVE).

As you remarked, more time was necessary to properly explore the issues raised during the meeting and in previous February 5, 2003 testimony to the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Veterans Affairs by TFVE members.

As representatives of the TFVE, we are pleased that a subsequent TFVE meeting will be hosted March 11, 2003 at the White House Conference Center. Perhaps, we can continue to discuss the concerns of service disabled veteran entrepreneurs at that meeting as well the proposed supportive statement of the President in a Presidential Executive Order regarding service disabled veterans entreprencurship.

By copy of this letter, I am requesting that you, Mr. Karl Rove and Mr. Mitch Daniels subsequently meet with myself and several members of the majority staff of the House Committees on Veterans Affairs, Small Business and Armed Services to discuss a "separate philosophical view" of these specific veterans issues.

Sincerely,

David Trimble's unequivocal support for President Bush is reflected in the following Hansard extract.

House of Commons Debate on Iraq – February 26, 2003

Mr. David Trimble (Upper Bann): I should make it clear at the outset that my hon. Friends and I will support the Government in the Division Lobby this evening. The Government have said that this motion is not a vote for war, but we are under no illusion about the fact that it is a further step along a route that might end in war. We do not support such a motion lightly, therefore, because we are well aware of the consequences that might flow from it. Indeed, all right hon. and hon. Members will be deeply conscious of the fact that thousands of servicemen are on their way to the Gulf, and we know what the consequences for them may be. I remark parenthetically that among those going to the Gulf are the two Irish regiments: the Royal Irish Regiment and the Irish Guards. Consequently, well in excess of 1,000 people from Northern Ireland—and, indeed, a not insignificant number from the Republic of Ireland—will shortly be deployed in the Gulf.

Time is pressing, and I want to make just a few short and simple points. We have no doubt about the nature of the regime in Iraq. I was amazed at the comment by the hon. Member for Glasgow, Kelvin (Mr. Galloway), who referred to Texas as the execution chamber of the world. Does he know nothing about Iraq? Does he know nothing about what has happened in Baghdad in the past 30 years? That was an appalling statement for him to make, and he needs to look at the regime that he has befriended a little more clearly.

We have no doubt about the threat, about the wars that have been started, or about the weapons of mass destruction that have been accumulated, and which continue to be there. There is also no doubt about what the United Nations requires. There are United Nations resolutions that require Saddam Hussein to disarm. There has certainly been a failure to comply. There was a material breach before 1441, and there is a material breach now.

What should we do? That is the question. It is only the credible threat of force that has achieved the little progress that there has been, and that has made Saddam Hussein permit the admission of inspectors. That comes after the failure of earlier UN resolutions. All the resolutions in the 1990s failed. The UN and the world community allowed themselves to be bluffed and manoeuvred out of Iraq. Against that background, 1441 had to be clear, and backed up by a credible threat of force. That credible threat has to be maintained.

The paradox is that, in order to obtain compliance with UN resolutions, there has to be the threat of force. Unless Saddam Hussein complies, it is inevitable that that force will have to be used. The time involved may be long or short, but hon. Members who have supported the UN and its resolutions, including 1441, must be aware that, as a consequence, they must support the credible use of force, right down to the point of its use. If they fail to do so, they will weaken the UN gravely.

The UN has been weakened badly enough by the failures of the 1990s. It has again set its hand to trying to carry through its will in this matter, and it must succeed. If not, enormous damage will be done to the possibility that the UN can be credible in the future, and that will have implications for world peace. The paradox is that those who want peace and a UN that succeeds in the world must therefore support the Government, right down to the use of force if that becomes necessary.

I appreciate that some people find that difficult to live with. Some of those who are reluctant to go down the route that I have described are well meaning, and others are engaged in wishful thinking. We have seen some evidence of that in the debate.

Other people are influenced by less noble motives. I have been distressed by the degree of anti-Americanism that has been expressed in the debate, and the personal hostility to the President. I consider that wholly misplaced. I have been appalled at some of the comments about President Bush, and at the false caricature of him that has been presented. I base that opinion not only on the fleeting personal acquaintance that I have had with him, but on what he has said and done over the past couple of years, which I have looked at closely.

The record is clear, especially in the period since 11 September. The US has moved slowly, deliberately and proportionately. That is the evidence of the past year and a half. I have listened to the caricatures of President Bush that have been presented, and I think that hon. Members should get away from the propaganda—coming from elements in the American Democrat party—that they have swallowed. They should look at things a little more clearly.

People have been concerned about what will happen in Iraq and the region if force has to be used. However, we must realise that the region is highly unstable. That is another of the lessons of 11 September: it brought home to us just how unstable the region is. We need to think about the causes of that instability, and about how we can resolve or do something to improve the situation there.

This is a complex issue, and I cannot go far into it in the couple of minutes remaining to me, but we need to ask ourselves what we can do about it. If there were no oil in the region, there would be a series of failed states there. The region has failed to deal with the challenge of modernisation.

26 Feb 2003 : Column 315

I emphasise that I am talking about the middle east region as a whole and the Arab states there, not about Islam. A distinction must be drawn between Islam and what is happening in the middle east in respect of a particular and virulent strand of that religion. That strand is a distortion of Islam.

We need to ask why modernisation has failed. Saddam grew out of the Ba'ath socialist party, although he is, in fact, a crude anti-Semitic nationalist. Why have such people obtained and retained power? How do we change that?

I am not just talking about regime change, but asking how we change the culture in the middle east and the orientation of those states because, until we do that, we will not achieve stability. Just talking about the problem in Israel and Palestine is not terribly helpful. That problem cannot be dealt with in isolation. It is part of the instability generally, and dealing with that instability generally will make it easier to deal with Israel and Palestine; but we cannot deal with that in isolation.

The issue this evening is whether we support the Government in what they are doing—whether we want the UN resolutions to be enforced. That is the challenge. The resolutions have got to be complied with or enforced—if not complied with, then enforced—and that has to be done as and when we can to maintain the threat, and it may have to be done soon.

Bill Funding CPC Ultrasound Machines Introduced

By Stuart Shepard, correspondent

Three million dollars to open windows to the womb. A bill recently introduced in Congress would allocate $3 million to assist pro-life crisis pregnancy center clinics in purchasing ultrasound machines.

When Dr. Lois Johanson, a radiologist, demonstrated how she uses the ultrasound machine at a Colorado Springs crisis pregnancy center (CPC), she said even the grainy pictures an ultrasound produces can really open the eyes of someone considering abortion.

"It helps the mom really know what it is that she's dealing with," Johanson said. "(She sees) that it really is a live little creature in there."

Tom Glessner, with the National Institute of Family and Life Advocates, helped write a new House bill that would help CPCs buy ultrasound machines.

"If we can provide the funds for these centers to obtain a machine, we're going to have more centers using them, and more women choosing life, and more babies saved from abortion," Glessner said. "The woman's natural, God-given instincts, maternal instincts take hold when she sees her baby and her baby's heartbeat."

The bill would set aside about $3 million each year for the next four years, with the federal money paying for half the cost of each machine. That could buy about 240 ultrasound machines each year. The bill also requires that women see the images of their unborn child. To use the machines, crisis pregnancy centers must be upgraded to medical clinics, including having a licensed physician as the medical director.

Julie Parton, who heads Focus on the Family's outreach to

REV_00267467

CPCs, said the ultrasound is a "powerful tool" to show a woman a picture of not just any baby in the womb, but her baby.

"(An ultrasound) gives reality to it," Parton said. "It completely defuses the notion that it's just a blob of tissue. You don't see blobs of tissue that have a beating heart, that have ten fingers and ten toes and are doing somersaults."

The major hurdle for the bill will likely be the U.S. Senate.

TAKE ACTION

If you believe that CPC medical clinics ought to be eligible for federal help in purchasing ultrasound machines, please contact your representative and ask him or her to support the Informed Choice Act (H.R. 195), sponsored by Rep. Cliff Stearns, R-Fla. Call the Capitol switchboard at 202-224-3121, or for help in contacting your lawmakers, please see our Legislative Action Center.

In addition, Focus on the Family offers a number of materials that discuss the sanctity of human life — a sanctity which abortion violates. We suggest "You Are a Masterpiece: Teaching Your Child About Life Before Birth."

Hagel Praises President's Announcement on a Road Map for Israel-Palestine

Washington, D.C. – U.S. Senator Chuck Hagel (R-NE) expressed his strong support for President Bush's personal commitment today to move ahead with a "Road Map" to help bring an end to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

"The President understands that there will be no stability in the Middle East until we get the peace process back on track. Only American leadership and engagement can get this vital process back on track," Hagel said.

President Bush said that implementation of the Road Map– developed in consultation with Russia, the United Nations and the European Union– would proceed once the Palestinian Authority has formalized the arrangements for a new Prime Minister. On Monday, the Palestinian Legislative Council (PLC) adopted an amendment to the Palestinian Basic Law creating the position of a Prime Minister.

"The Israeli and Palestinian people have suffered too long. I support the President's vision of two states, Israel and Palestine, living side-by-side, in peace and security, without terrorism and violence," Hagel added.

On another issue related to Middle East stability, Senator Hagel also supports President Bush's decision to hold a diplomatic summit with British Prime Minister Tony Blair and Spanish Prime Minister Jose Maria Aznar in the Azores Islands this weekend.

"Our allies are crucial for American diplomacy and interests in Iraq and the Middle East. I support President Bush in working with Blair, Aznar, and other allies to get a second UN Security Council resolution on Iraq," Hagel concluded.

STATE BASED THINK TANKS, FAMILY POLICY COUNCILS AND GRASSROOTS ACTIVISTS BRIEFING

Thursday, March 13, 2003
2:30 p.m. – 2:50 p.m.
Eisenhower Executive Office Building
Room 450

I. PURPOSE

To build support for the President's economic jobs and growth package and expanding the war on terror among state based think tanks, state based family policy councils, Washington D.C. based think tanks and conservative activists.

II. BACKGROUND

The number of state think tanks and state family policy councils has tripled during the past decade. In 1989, there were 12 independent, market-oriented, state-based public policy research organizations. Now there are 40 groups in 37 states, complementing the many national groups promoting free market policy solutions.

Mr. Karl Rove
Senior Advisor to the President
Second Floor, West Wing
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Karl,

I'm looking forward to our meeting next Monday in Washington, and want you to know how much I appreciate the time you are sharing with us. The purpose of this meeting is to tell you about IDT's two-pronged outreach program to the Hispanic community.

IDT is starting a non-profit organization which will use IDT's database information for outreach to members of the Hispanic community who buy our calling cards. They will be invited to join a Hispanic-American membership organization called Logra (which means Achieve! in Spanish.) The mission of Logra, or Latinos for Opportunity and Growth in America, is to provide a voice for this community in preserving the principles of our free society, and to advance a public policy agenda consistent with these principles. This agenda includes promotion of school choice, market based, choice driven health care alternatives, and individually owned retirement accounts to displace social security. As the largest marketer of prepaid phone cards to the Latino community, IDT can make its phone card platform available to Logra for its initial member acquisition campaign.

The second aspect of our outreach efforts is the purchase of WMET (1150 AM) which is IDT's first owned and operated radio station. We have a construction permit to increase the power of this station to 50,000 watts. This will allow us daytime programming to the entire Washington market. Our plan for WMET is to provide balanced, intelligent, informative, articulate and entertaining programming. We already have agreements in place with Linda Chavez, William Kristol, and Charles Krauthammer, and anticipate that this new programming format will begin in the spring of 2003.

Current studies indicate that the Republican party is losing the Hispanic voter by a margin of 2 to 1. We believe that this trend can and should be reversed, and that the initiatives described above can contribute to this effort.

Joining me in Monday's meeting will be Howard Jonas, our founder and Chairman, Ed Miller, Jerrold Rappaport, Mike Benson, and Rabbi Shmuel Boteach. I believe you will enjoy meeting all of them.

Karl, I deeply appreciate your making time for this meeting, and look forward to seeing you next Monday.

Sincerely,

Jim Courter

Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

I read with great interest the Wall Street Journal article of November 20, 2002, "Bush Team Considers Proposal to Boast SUV Fuel Efficiency," in which it is proposed that CAFE standards be increased by one and one half miles per gallon from 2005 to 2007.

I am writing to you today to respectively urge you to reconsider this proposal. In my opinion, this may not be the best way to solve the energy problems our country faces. As you have articulated, the U.S. needs to increase energy production, which would help the economy. Raising CAFE standards, in contrast, would place a burden on the American economy.

Let me elaborate. When September 11, 2001, occurred we were already facing an economic downturn. The stock market fell. American industry and the American people faced uncertainty. Fortunately, with you as President of the United States we had the necessary leadership. We also had some leadership from the business community. General Motors Corporation, with Ford and Chrysler following suit, came out with zero percent financing for their vehicles. This was a stroke of genius from the automotive sector because it resulted in motivating the American public to go out and buy cars. This was very helpful to an otherwise fragile and staggering economy. Without it, we might have had a deeper economic downturn.

Now we are in a period where we have some prospects for future economic growth. But we are not out of the woods yet. From my perspective, the proposal to increase CAFE standards would not be helpful to economic prosperity, and could have the reverse effect.

The automotive sector is already predicting slower sales in 2003. Increased CAFE standards would make the situation worse for the auto sector because it would force the manufacturers to reduce sales of highly popular SUVS, which provide most of the current profit of automakers.

As you make plans to protect America both here and abroad, the American people are with you. They like and appreciate your leadership. Out in the heartland of America they sing your praises. But the American heartland will be hurt if the proposed new rule on CAFE goes into effect because it will eliminate jobs in states such as Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin where SUVS are made.

If the proposed new rule is fully implemented, it will still not be enough for the radical environmental movement. They will attack you. But it will make it more difficult for the economy to recover, it will hurt vehicle sales and it could produce layoffs. It will ultimately hurt families. The American family wants SUVS because these vehicles can accommodate large families. They provide safety and security for single moms in these tense and difficult times. The American people want to feel secure in their vehicles in an insecure world.

I have always considered families to be the foundation of our country. Let us not create additional difficulties for families and for people who are trying to move us forward economically with this proposed rule. I urge you not to take this course of action. Instead, I hope you will issue a renewed call for Congress to do the right thing and let us produce more energy. This is the only way I believe we will effectively meet the demands of the future.

Sincerely,

Paul

Karl --

I do not agree with Dan Werner's statement that his re-invitation to the President for the Philadelphia foreign policy National Issues Convention is too long -- he says it much better than can I.

Partly for the old days, but more importantly for the here, now and future, I hope very much that the President will accept.

Charly

My congratulations on your award. Very cool. Looking forward to seeing your remarks. As for the information you might need for Rove, I'm sure you straight to the point contact will give him the information he will need. Here's a more formal and far too wordy draft on an invite. Best, Dan.:

We would like to follow up on the earlier e-mail inviting the President to participate in a nationally televised town meeting on international issues that will be hosted by University of Texas Center for Deliberative Polling working with MacNeil/Lehrer Productions. This Sunday morning, January 12th event will be held in at the Annenberg Center in Philadelphia and will be a virtually virtually unique gathering of citizens from around the nation. Jim Lehrer will be the anchor. This broadcast will be the highly visible culmination of the weekend's Deliberative Opinion Poll that UT Professor Jim Fishkin is overseeing. What makes this town meeting very much out-of-the-ordinary is the fact the audience participants as a group will be an accurate reflection of the American people. They will come to Philadelphia from around the nation, each recruited in a process built around a rigorous set of academic protocols. And, as in the 1996 Deliberative Poll in Austin at UT, the 350 to 400 citizens attending this town meeting live in more than 200 different locations around the nation and, once gathered together, will be a statistically accurate demographic, geographic, economic and educational microcosm of the nation.

These are uniquely special times for the nation. We think the Deliberative Poll provides the President and the administration with a strong communications opportunity to talk with citizens about the values and long term goals underlying policy decisions, not just the more superficial focus of most television coverage. The nature and the immediacy of the challenges facing "America in the World" make this an extremely timely event that provides a unique communications vehicle. The one-on-one conversation of the Philadelphia town meeting makes possible significant connections, always useful and increasingly important as potential conflict nears. Again, as in the 1996 Austin National Issues Convention, where then Governor Bush welcomed the delegates to Texas, this national project has deep local roots -- many of the participants likely to the subjects of local print and broadcast news coverage. Along with its communications and educational components, the Deliberative Opinion Poll, which surveys participants at the beginning and then the end of the process, provides a textured picture of the views of informed citizens.

The Philadelphia town meeting is the first event in a year long local/national television and community project called By the People. Organized by MacNeil/Lehrer Productions, the project's sole purpose is to help broaden the national conversation about foreign affairs issues. Guided by the NewsHour's standards of objectivity and fairness, the project endorses no positions, points-of-view or policy, but rather works to further the national conversation. Other events through the year will include local public broadcasting station programs and community activities organized by partner organizations which so far include the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the Kiwanis Clubs, the National Black Chamber of Commerce, the American Library Association, the 4H Clubs, the National Issues Forums along with the League of Women's Voters and the 90 local World Affairs Councils. Funding for the By the People project comes from the Hewlett Foundation with the broadcasts supported by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting and PBS.

In our view, the perfect event would be for the President to join the citizen-participants in Philadelphia on Sunday morning, January 12th for an extended conversation that would last slightly less than an hour, covered live. While there are decided benefits of a face-to-face conversation, we would, if you thought more convenient, be able to arrange his participation through an interconnection. We very much hope you find this unusual invitation worthy of Presidential consideration because of the extraordinary opportunity it provides for informal conversation with the American people, assembled in Philadelphia in a highly usual local/national event at a critical time in the administration's and the nation's history.

We understand that the President's intensely busy schedule might make his participation in this event very hard to schedule. That said, and while, of course we very much hope the President could join us, it is critically important that the Philadelphia event provide the administration with a substantive opportunity to talk with the citizen delegates in Philadelphia. Therefore, if this cannot be fit into the President's schedule, we would very much appreciate your support and assistance in our efforts to secure the participation of Vice President Cheney, Secretary of State Powell or National Security Adviser Rice.

The Honorable J. Dennis Hastert
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I write on behalf of the Domestic Policy Committee of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops to express our concern for the workers and their families who will lose federal benefits when the current federal unemployment compensation program expires on December 28, 2002. Just three days after we celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ, we should not allow fellow Americans to be left without hope and support. "If a brother or sister has nothing to wear and has no food for the day, and one of you says to them, 'Go in peace, keep warm, and eat well,' but you do not give them the necessities of the body, what good is it?" (James 2:15-16)

I ask you as Speaker of the House of Representatives to act now and take up this urgent matter. With the Senate already adjourned, you and your colleagues are the only ones who can prevent this from happening. Unless the House--which meets as the 107th Congress for the last time tomorrow, November 22--concurs with the Senate bill and extends the program, no worker can be assured they will be eligible for even a single week of extended benefits in the new year. Indeed, workers who just began receiving their extra weeks of benefits will be cut off completely.

As pastors, we know the human cost of joblessness and the social consequences of inadequate benefits. Pope John Paul II points out that society and the state must protect the worker "either through economic policies aimed at ensuring balanced growth and full employment or through unemployment insurance..." Obviously new jobs are the best answer for those without work, but, in the meantime, we owe these workers some measure of compassion and justice by extending the federal benefits in the unemployment insurance system.

We believe that coming to the aid of unemployed workers and their families is not only good for the economy; it is the right thing to do. Please act now to avoid the tragic consequences of hundreds of thousands of workers without the vital means of support.

Sincerely,

John L. Carr
Secretary

Tom Patrick just called to advise that the "global settlement" matter you discussed is moving even faster than he thought and that it's vital that there be a cooling off period until a new chairman is named.

Steve Cutler at the SEC is being bullied by Spitzer to force all Wall Street firms into a so called "Global Settlement" regarding research and investment banking. Cutler is ill equipped to deal with the important policy matters inherent in this forced settlement. The SEC's credibility will be further eroded if Spitzer is able to force through this ill-conceived plan.

The SEC should simply stop the machinery on this entire matter until a new chairman is in place.

He greatly appreciated your meeting with him. I told him you were working the problem with Lindsey and Hennessey.

Best,

Anne

August 1, 2002

Mr. Karl Rove
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Karl,

On behalf of the University of Virginia Center for Politics, I am writing to invite you participate in the 5th annual American Democracy Conference, a national post-election symposium which features some of our country's top political analysts, journalists, and practitioners. The conference will be held on Thursday, December 12 at the Watergate Hotel in Washington, D.C. The conference is co-sponsored by The Hotline, the leading daily news briefing on American politics.

We would be honored for you to give the keynote address at the conference lunch. Past presenters have included Governors Lamar Alexander, Roy Romer, Mark Warner, and Tom Ridge; Congressmen Tom Davis and Steny Hoyer; and former Clinton press secretary Mike McCurry. In addition to the keynote address, the conference will feature several panel discussions about the 2002 elections and the upcoming presidential election. For a list of participants from past years, visit the Center's website, www.centerforpolitics.org. Each of the previous conferences has been covered by C-SPAN, and we anticipate greater attendance and media coverage with your participation.

I hope that you will join us on December 12 and share your insight and unique perspective on the midterm elections and the upcoming presidential election. If you have any questions, please call or email me (434-977-3472, sabato@virginia.edu) or contact Joshua Scott at the Center for Politics (434-243-3540, jscott@virginia.edu), who will be handling the logistics of the event.

Sincerely,

Larry J. Sabato

CHARLES BARTLETT

THREE-PAGE FAX MSGE

March 5, 2003

Memo to President Bush
from Charles Bartlett

I write to convey the sum of talks with a large number of friends who have one thing in common: they all voted for you; many consider themselves really good friends who would like to count themselves ready to go to the well with you. But they do not relish the notion of going into Iraq with you unless we have UN backing. Their general feeling is that you are presiding over a foreign policy that is more reflective of the expansionist, zionist zeal of your neo-cons and the snotty nationalism of your right-wingers than it is of your own character and personality.

These people, like myself, want a George W. Bush foreign policy which reflects the same cohesive, embrasive warmth and sensitivity that have marked you as a person and as governor of Texas. The George Bush whom we know would not be viewed, as you are now in England, as standing equal to Saddam Hussein as a threat to peace. It cannot be pleasant for you and I hate to have the country in the position of being hated in wide areas of the world. It is really time to pull the check-reins on some of these characters who took office with you. We badly need to reach out to the rest of the world, not to do battle with it.

C. B.

P.S. I enclose a report by your father's ambassador to Morocco, Fred Vreeland, on a month that he has just spent there. You will not need to read it to know its message: these Arabs, our closest friends in the region, say they will turn passionately against us if we go, without the UN's blessing, into Iran.

Dear Karl;

The President was kind enough to invite Carol and me to bring our three girls up for an Oval Office tour. We will come to the White House on this coming Monday the 25th at 11am for the tour at 11:25. I know that you have an incredibly busy schedule, but if you have a minute or two, I would appreciate the opportunity to introduce you to Carol and our girls. I expect that you will be fully booked so if this is not easy, please do not give it a second thought.

I have also wanted to introduce you to a good friend and former Professor: David Kennedy of Stanford who is teaching at the Stanford D.C. program through year end. David specializes in 20th Century American History. He has been awarded the Pulitzer Prize for his recently published book: Freedom From Fear: 1929-45, Oxford American Series; and now serves as editor of the series. Remembering our fascinating conversation at the Shoreline Grill early in the campaign and knowing of your deep interest in American History, I thought that you would thoroughly enjoy meeting David. I believe that you will find him to be exceptionally bright, engaging, and in possession of a lively and penetrating intellect. He is currently working on a book which will focus on the distinguishing aspects of the American character: an update of de Tocqueville. I thought that an overview of how FDR mobilized the nation for WWII might be particularly interesting given the current challenges facing the country.

David joins David Laney, Robert Decherd, and me each year for a fishing trip. He is an avid outdoorsman who loves to fish, hunt, hike, bike, and does everything with great vigor and enthusiasm. If you would like to meet him, he can be reached at: PRA 6

Finally, you will enjoy knowing that we (the directors of the Parks and Wildlife Foundation of Texas) formally elected Mr. C.P. Oles as our Chairman this Tuesday. He acquitted himself well and we're off and running with a new leader. I also serve on the P&W Commission, so Pat and I will have a lot of fun together.

PRA 6

If we see you: great and thanks in advance. If we do not, please accept our sincerest congratulations on the incredible job you and the President are doing. While we know that you're having fun, we also know that you are making a sacrifice and doing a great service. We respect and deeply appreciate your dedication and fine work.

Sincerely;

Phil Montgomery (POB!)

EXEC. OFC. PRESIDENT
WH STRATEGIC INITIATIVES
2003 FEB -4 AM 8:36

The Honorable Karl Rove
Senior Advisor to the President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Rove:

It is with great enthusiasm that I endorse Colonel J. Thomas Burch, Jr. to serve as a member of the United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims. As you can see by the enclosed resume, Tom has an extensive background both in practicing law and with the military and, more specifically, with veterans. Not only does Tom possess the knowledge and experience needed for the position, but he also is a man of impeccable character, integrity and common sense. Tom is someone who will work hard to achieve justice in the manner our great President, George W. Bush, expects and will appreciate.

With my thanks for your consideration and best wishes,

Respectfully,

Jay Katzen

Negative Tone Took A Toll on Image of McCain as Reformer

By THOMAS B. EDSALL
Washington Post Staff Writer

On Feb. 3, a surrogate for Texas Gov. George W. Bush threw a sucker punch at John McCain that set the Arizona senator up for defeat in the crucial GOP primary in South Carolina yesterday.

With Bush smiling at his side, J. Thomas Burch Jr., chairman of the National Vietnam and Gulf War Veterans Coalition, told the crowd that McCain had the power to help veterans as a former prisoner of war but instead "came home [from Vietnam] and forgot us."

Burch is a controversial figure, considered on the fringe of veterans groups, but his comments infuriated McCain, tapping into his combative instincts and baiting his campaign into a negative spiral in South Carolina.

At a news conference after the appearance on the courthouse steps, Bush was asked whether he endorsed Burch's views: "These men have their opinion, they have stated their opinion. The thing I respect is they [Burch and other veterans at the event] have chosen me to be their candidate." Bush added that, in his own view, "John McCain served our country very well." But he did nothing to dispute Burch.

With McCain and his media consultant, Mike Murphy, boiling, the Bush campaign escalated its assault the next day, putting on a TV commercial declaring that a McCain ad attacking Bush's tax plan "isn't true, and McCain knows it."

For three days—Friday, Saturday and Sunday on that first weekend in February—McCain and Murphy had to sit on their anger, unable to buy television time to counter Bush.

During those three days, two other Bush surrogates, former South Carolina governor David Beasley and former Christian Coalition director Ralph Reed, appeared on talk shows portraying McCain as a politician with a double standard—behaving like a wheeler-dealer in Washington and a reformer on the campaign trail.

If it was meant to be bait, McCain took it. By Monday, McCain and Murphy were firing back. McCain aides insisted they would not let Bush turn McCain into "a Bill Bradley," or worse, a Mike Dukakis: a politician who let the competition kick without kicking back.

The problem was that this strategy turned McCain from a politician who built an image as a reformer above the fray of negative campaigning to one who would sling mud with the rest of them. That night, McCain put up an ad suggesting Bush was no more trustworthy than Bill Clinton. "Do we really want another politician in the White House America can't trust?" it asked. Another ad raised the stakes even higher.

Within days, reaction to the ads was so adverse that he pulled them. Now the campaign acknowledges its mistake.

"We may have underestimated the image the voters had developed of John McCain," said McCain communications director Dan Schnur. "We didn't realize how much distance there was between John McCain and the typical politicians. The ads shortened the distance."

Bush, McCain fight for military vote

Monday, Feb. 7, 2000 THE REPOSITORY Canton, Ohio A-3

By ALLEN G. BREED
Associated Press writer

SUMTER, S.C. — Seems like a great presidential campaign strategy in a state with 400,000 veterans and four major military installations.

If you're Texas Gov. George W. Bush, surround yourself with a bunch of retired generals and admirals. If you're Sen. John McCain, when Bush shows up with three of the state's four surviving Medal of Honor winners, find the fourth. Bush touts his service in the Air National Guard; McCain shows photos of himself as a prisoner of war in Vietnam.

But there's one problem: The strength of the military vote here is unclear.

"I've never found (the military) to be a cogent group of voters in South Carolina, a convincing group of voters," said Dave Woodard, political science professor at Clemson University. "Not like the NRA or the AARP. ... They have a lot of other allegiances besides the military service that pull them one way or the other. ...

"It's kind of crazy to think that the military vote is going to somehow emerge as a political sledgehammer and win the election."

In exit polls for the New Hampshire primary, 63 percent of Republican voters said McCain's military experience was a very or somewhat important factor in their vote. Just 15 percent said it was "not at all" important, and Bush, followed by Steve Forbes, took most of those votes.

McCain, a Navy pilot who spent 5 1/2 years as a POW, is counting on South Carolina to continue the momentum started by his 18-point victory over Bush in New Hampshire. But Bush supporters mobilized quickly to deny McCain the high ground.

At a rally Thursday in Sumter, Bush stood before a huge American flag, flanked by three Medal of Honor winners. John Baker Jr. of Columbia was there, the distinctive powder-blue ribbon buttoned neatly beneath his shirt collar, to let McCain know that being a former POW isn't enough to win the South Carolina GOP primary Feb. 19.

"McCain has paid his dues while he was in the military, but when he was in office he hasn't done a thing for the veterans," said Baker, 54, an Army machine gunner who earned his Medal of Honor carrying wounded to safety in Vietnam.

In a state that boasts more Medal of Honor winners than any other, the two GOP rivals are focusing on military issues. Each has decried reports of military unreadiness and the fact that 12,000 enlisted personnel are so low paid they qualify for food stamps.

But analysts say it's important to put the military's role in the race in perspective. The State newspaper in Columbia did a computer analysis last week to dispel the notion that South Carolina's per capita veteran population was the largest in the nation — the paper said the Palmetto State ranks 28th.

Neal Thigpen, political science professor at Francis Marion University in Florence, agreed that South Carolina has never had a definable military voting bloc. He said there are two traditional "rails" in the state GOP — party regulars and Christian conservatives.

He said McCain would have to create a third rail, of which veterans and active military personnel would be a key component.

"It just simply depends on how many of them he's been able to reach and mobilize and get them in," said Thigpen, a Marine veteran and McCain supporter. "If indeed he can get half of that 400,000, he'd be in like a burglar. But my guess is he hasn't. He's got some loose support from veterans, but how well organized it is, that's in question."

Retired Marine Maj. Gen. Roy Moss of Mount Pleasant, who commanded the last infantry battalion to leave Vietnam, said McCain can't expect his war record to carry him into the White House.

"Nobody will deny that Senator McCain is a dedicated American patriot who served his country," Moss said.

"But that in itself, you see, does not give him immediate capabilities to be an effective president."

BUSH OUT OF THE BOX

Copyright June 25, 2002
[All Rights Reserved]

JOHN M. CURTIS

(310) 204-8700

Breaking new ground, President George W. Bush charted a bold course for Middle East peace, calling for a top-down overhaul of the Palestinian political machine. Bucking prevailing wisdom—including Yasser Arafat and the Palestinian Authority—the White House concluded that the path to peace didn't go through Ramallah. Former President Clinton found out the hard way watching Arafat shred the 1993 Oslo Accords, resort to violence and launch his "save Al Aqsa" intifada in Sept. 2000. Under Bush's steady hand, U.S. policy turned an unmistakable corner Sept. 11, unwilling to tolerate "terrorism" for any reason or rationale. Arafat couldn't change directions, euphemistically calling suicide bombing "heroic resistance." No matter whom Bush sent to the Middle East, special envoy Admiral Anthony Zinni, Vice President Dick Cheney, Secretary of State Colin A. Powell and Secretary of Defense Donald H. Rumsfeld, they were met with unending suicide bombing. Preserving the "Bush Doctrine," the president had no other choice but calling for new leadership.

World leaders haven't caught up with changes in U.S. foreign policy since 9-11. "Peace requires a new and different Palestinian leadership so that a Palestinian state could be born," said Bush, reversing 40 years of U.S. policy, unwilling to draw an unequivocal line against violence. Sept. 11 brought into clear focus that terrorism threatens not just Israel but now the United States. "I call on the Palestinian people to elect new leaders not compromised by terror," alluding to Arafat's role in encouraging terrorism, despite slick public relations. Palestinians can't have it both ways: Both condemning terrorism and legitimizing it as a form of resistance. Nor does it work to blame Israel for dismantling Palestinian security forces or implicate a litany of independent radical groups. Despite denials, compelling documents found in Arafat's compound placed his signature on pay invoices for terrorists. When Secretary of State Powell went to Ramallah, he gave Arafat an ultimatum: End the suicide bombing or go it without the U.S.

U.S. Middle East policy now sends an unambiguous message to Palestinian leadership: Suicide bombing, guerrilla war and armed struggle won't win a Palestinian state. Whether Arafat orchestrates suicide bombings or has no control of radical groups indicates that he's no longer in command. "Finally, you have to say something has to change, something has to be different," said an unnamed White House official, signaling that Bush broke new ground. Few experts expected a radical departure from the typical State Department platitude that "it takes two to tango." Bush's doctrine makes the deliberate slaughter of innocents totally unacceptable. "President Arafat was elected by the Palestinian people in a direct election . . . And President Bush must respect the choice of the Palestinian people," said Palestinian Cabinet Ministers Saeb Erekat, failing to mention that Arafat was the only candidate on the slate. Even well meaning diplomats can't speak their minds under a tyrannical grip.

Bush's new policy dashes hopes of a Palestinian state without sweeping reforms, including democratizing its institutions. "A Palestinian state will never be created by terror. It will be built through reform," said Bush, reminding critics that there can be no compromise when it comes to terror. "The president has set U.S. foreign policy and U.S. Arab relations back," said James J. Zoby, president of the Arab American Institute, demonstrating how American lobbying groups are hijacked by foreign interests. Bush's policy doesn't set back U.S. foreign policy or Arab-American relations: It establishes moral clarity for stepping into the future. Zoby's lost in Palestinian propaganda, unable to see the bigger picture in the war on terrorism. Even the United Nations seems muddled in Middle East politics. "The issue of who should lead the Palestinian people is one that only the Palestinian people can decide," said U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan, failing to get Bush's message. Palestinians may choose Arafat and suicide bombing, but they won't get a state subsidized by the U.S.

Renouncing terrorism is only one part of Bush's plan calling for more accountability and democratic reforms. Before the latest revolt, the Palestinian Authority was in financial ruins, unable to pay its bills. With the current mismanagement, it's difficult to imagine the U.S., Europe, World Bank or International Monetary fund handing over more cash without outside supervision. "When the Palestinian people have new leaders, new institutions and new security arrangements with their neighbors, the United States of America will support a Palestinian state . . ." said Bush, setting clear parameters for future discussions. Palestinian, Arab, and European leaders must come to grips with how the U.S. changed since Sept. 11. With 3,000 U.S. citizens exterminated by terrorism, the U.S. can't accept any excuse for civilian carnage. Palestinian leaders – and those sympathizers in the U.S. –must fully comprehend Bush's message that terror won't win political concessions.

Still reeling from the harsh reality of Bush's speech, the Palestinian Authority must now make an all out push to fight terrorism and begin reforms. Arafat must convene his cabinet and take a searching inventory for fresh leadership. Having badly failed the Palestinian people, it's time to pass the baton to new leaders capable of accepting Bush's prescription for peace. "The hatred of a few holds the hopes of many hostage," said Bush, inviting Palestinians to begin the painful process of reform. Having crashed the ship of state, Arafat should quietly step aside and allow moderate elements to fix the damage. Bush "showed strong moral leadership by acknowledging that the path to peace doesn't run through Arafat's compound," said conservative House Majority Whip Tom Delay (R-Texas), echoing both sides of the aisle. While some grumble that Bush took sides, his plan is the only practical step to find a workable solution to the Mid East crisis. Many opportunities have already been missed. But the worst sin would be to backslide and make the same mistakes all over again.

+ Asked only of registered voters.

9. Now I'm going to read you two statements. Please tell me which one comes closer to your point of view.

Statement A: In a time of war when we have a Republican president, it is much better to have a majority of Republicans in the House and Senate as well to provide the president with the kind of support and unity needed on both the domestic and international fronts. OR

Statement B: When issues like prescription drugs, the environment, and strengthening regulations on business are being debated and we have a Republican President, it is much better to have a majority of Democrats in the House and Senate to provide checks and balances on domestic issues.

13. A proposal has been made that would allow people to put a portion of their Social Security payroll taxes into personal retirement accounts that would be invested in stocks and bonds. Some people think that individuals would have more money for retirement if they were allowed to invest and manage some of their Social Security payroll taxes themselves. Others think that it is too risky and could leave some people without adequate money for retirement if the stock market were to decline in value significantly. Do you favor or oppose this proposal?

Subject: 9/11 Television interview requests

Attached is the current grid of 9/11 network television interview requests. Please run the requests by your principals (I have run by Bartlett, and he is 100% fine with all.)

After they sign off, I will have the producers contact you all directly and so that a date and time can be scheduled -- I have told them that 15-20 minutes is pretty much all they are going to get....but we may let CBS go a little longer since the President is participating in their project.

Once you schedule a time and date, contact Harry Wolff and he will figure out the best location (either the studio, the north lawn or the south lawn drive way) he will contact Lois for make-up and either he or I will accompany them to the interview.

I would strongly suggest NOT doing them in the principal's offices because the set-up and break down will kill two or so hours...

These can also be done in Crawford, or pretty much anywhere that works for the principals...

Let Harry or me know if there are any problems or questions....

Adam

Dear Mr. Gomez:

Thank you for your letter inviting the President to attend the 30th Anniversary Convention of the Hispanic National Bar Association on October 16-19, 2002.

We appreciate the invitation and the valuable opportunity it represents. Although we have not made a decision about the President's participation, your comments will certainly be considered as the President's schedule develops. If you have any questions regarding your request, please contact the Presidential Scheduling Office at 202-456-5324.

Please be assured that as soon as a final decision has been made regarding your request, my office will contact you directly.

Sincerely,

Bradley A. Blakeman

HISPANIC NATIONAL BAR ASSOCIATION

July 17, 2002

The Honorable George W. Bush
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. President:

On behalf of the Hispanic National Bar Association, we would like to extend you an invitation to be our special guest at our 30th Anniversary Convention to be held at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia from October 16 -19, 2002. We would be honored by your participation and are more than willing to accommodate the program to fit your schedule.

The Hispanic National Bar Association (HNBA) is an incorporated, non-profit, national association representing the interest of over 25,000 Hispanic American attorneys, judges, law professors, and law students in the United States, including Puerto Rico. .

The primary objectives of the HNBA are to increase professional opportunities for Hispanics in the legal profession and address issues of concern to the national Hispanic community. Legal education and civil rights have been fundamental concerns of the HNBA from the beginning. Judicial appointments and political representation are also priorities of the HNBA.

The HNBA has been called upon to take a leadership role within Hispanic communities due to the rapid growth it has experienced during the last five years. The HNBA is a member of the National Hispanic Leadership Agenda (NHLA), a group comprised of representatives form 21 Hispanic national organizations, representing over 160,000 active Hispanic community leaders.

The HNBA holds a seat in the American Bar Association House of Delegates, which represents over 500,000 attorneys. The HNBA has taken a leadership role, along with other minority bar associations, in sponsoring programs to increase the number of minority law school students. Concurrent with the obligation, the HNBA has developed proposals for law school admission committees to study factors leading to the decline in the number of minority law students and the Bar passage rate of minority students.

Since 1975, the HNBA has held an annual national convention offering public policy seminars, continuing legal education classes, and social functions that have attracted thousands of members and friends, including members of the legal profession, prominent speakers and guests from all corners of our country.

We would be honored to have you at our Annual Convention. Your office can contact Lisa Renzi, Conventions and Meetings Manager, at (703) 610-1273 or lrenzi@hnba.com with further questions or coordination regarding this event. Thank you for you time and consideration and we look forward to seeing you in Atlanta.

Sincerely,

Angel Gomez, Esq.

Mr. Karl Rove
Senior Advisor to the President
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Rove:

On September 18-20, 2002, I will be hosting a National Issues Forum in Washington for over 60 business leaders and elected officials from my Congressional District. I would be honored if you would consider taking time out of your busy schedule to be the keynote speaker for this Forum at a breakfast on Friday, September 20, 2002 at 8:30 a.m. The breakfast will be held at the Capitol Hill Hyatt, 400 New Jersey Avenue, N.W.

The goal of the Forum is to promote awareness of and participation in federal policy by my constituents, and I believe that your knowledge and expertise of federal issues that impact states and local communities will be of great benefit to those in attendance. As a top advisor to the President, I would ask that you speak to the group about the President's domestic agenda for the remainder of this crucial election year, as well as his initiatives to secure the lives of our citizens at home and abroad as we fight the War on Terror.

Ellen Weaver in my DC office will contact your scheduler to confirm your participation. She may also be reached at (202) 225-6030 or by email at ellen.weaver@mail.house.gov. I appreciate your consideration of this request and thank you in advance for your help.

Dear Ms. Beers:

I have had the honor of serving, both under Presidents Reagan and Bush Sr. as a pro bono private sector international advisor. I am a bicultural American born in France, a registered Republican and a member of the Republican Task Force. Enclosed herewith are some letters from previous administrations. I am writing to let you know that I am ready to serve again.

I have resolved many issues with European governments and media organizations for both Fortune 500 companies and the US Government when the US Administrations were unable to do so. I have a deep knowledge of the French scene in particular, Europe in general. Many of its leaders know me and acknowledge my input, from the French President on down the line, including those on the Socialist side.

I am concerned about current media management of the war on terrorism, particularly the distorted presentation, including the anti-American bias with which some European coverage resounds of late.

Beyond France, my expertise in Public Affairs, Troubleshooting and Public Relations extends to Western continental Europe. I am also a member of the USO's World Board of Governors in Washington, D.C. (where I worked with Senator Chuck Hagel) and Chairman of its Council in France.

We have an alma mater in common: J. Walter Thompson, where I spent 19 years in an executive capacity in Europe and as an officer of the US Company before the WPP takeover. I have since opened my own business in the United States and Europe and sit on boards of multinational corporations. Prior to JWT, I served as a Public Information Officer for NATO's largest air command with Cosmic Top Secret security clearance.

The creation of your new post has been long overdue. My sincerest congratulations on your new, challenging appointment and my best wishes for the success of your mission. If there is anything you feel I can do, please do not hesitate to let me know.

Sincerely,

Enclosed please find self-explanatory correspondence between Mr. Gerard Souham and the President-elect, among others, which Mr. Souham has asked me to send along, as he is traveling overseas at present. Also enclosed are letters of appreciation for some of his erstwhile pro bono contributions. He has also been involved with the USO for a long time.

Dear Mr. Rove,

As the Administration continues to take a leadership role in working with both Congress and the private sector to address our nation's most challenging healthcare issues, I extend an invitation for you to be the keynote speaker at our upcoming Board of Directors meeting for Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans across the United States. The 43 independent, locally operated Blue Cross and Blue Shield companies collectively provide healthcare coverage for 84.4 million individuals – nearly 30 percent of all Americans.

The meeting will be held September 18-19, 2002 at the Willard Hotel. We are hosting a dinner for the attendees on Wednesday, September 18 from 7:00 – 9:00 p.m., which would be an ideal time for your presentation. If, however, you are unable to at that time, we do have the flexibility to adjust our Board schedule to accommodate your availability on either September 18 or 19.

The Board of Directors of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association is made of up the Chief Executive Officers from each of the 43 independent Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans. Our Plans are active participants in every aspect of health coverage from Medicare and Medicare+Choice to the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program to the large and small employer group markets and the individual healthcare market.

With the mid-term elections just around the corner, our CEOs would be interested in your views on the role healthcare will likely play as voters head to the polls in November. We also would be very interested in the Administration's legislative agenda for healthcare, particularly in the areas of Medicare, the uninsured and the rising cost of healthcare.

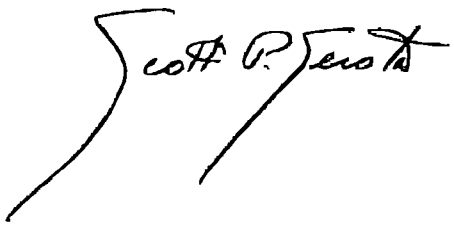
I would suggest that your presentation could be 10 to 15 minutes of remarks followed by questions and answers from the audience.

I look forward to hearing from you and hope that you will be able to join us.

Sincerely,



Scott P. Serota

Dear Karl:

On Friday, September 20, 2002 CRISIS Magazine will host its 20th Anniversary Partnership Dinner at the Four Seasons Hotel in Georgetown.

Not only will we be honoring Robert Novak, the well-known television commentator and columnist, we wish also to recognize you by inviting you to be on our first Honorary Committee.

Kate O'Beirne and Fred Barnes will help pay tribute to Novak's years of service as a journalist to our country and now, as a convert, to the Church.

The Chairs of our Honorary Committee will be Mr. & Mrs. Frank Hanna, III of Atlanta. ; Already committed to serve on this committee are Mr. and Mrs. George Weigel; Mr. & Mrs. John M. Klink, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reilly, Dr. and Mrs. Tim O'Donnell, president of Christendom College, and Fr. David O'Connell, president of The Catholic University of America.

Please contact Lisa Brown, our Special Events Director, at 202-861-7790 ext. 18 or at brown@crisismagazine.com to convey your response.

We have much to celebrate this year as our circulation has reached an all-time high of 22,752, and our new www.crisismagazine.com website is expanding our influence further: just last week we received 40,000 hits within 24 hours' time.

This year's anniversary dinner, then, will be a time to give thanks to all of those who have helped us to be where we are today.

Here's to another 20 years of faithful friends like you.

Yours truly,

To: Kelly Tiedge (Via Facsimile)

From: Luther Strange

Date: September 6, 2001

Subject: Meeting with Karl Rove

On behalf of Alabama Attorney General Bill Pryor and myself, I would like to request a meeting with Karl Rove on Wednesday, September 19th. The purpose of the meeting would be to update Karl on issues facing the Attorney General, the Republican Attorneys General Association and the State of Alabama.

As you know, General Pryor will be running for re-election in 2002. I have agreed to serve again as his statewide campaign chairman.

Thank you very much for your attention to this request.

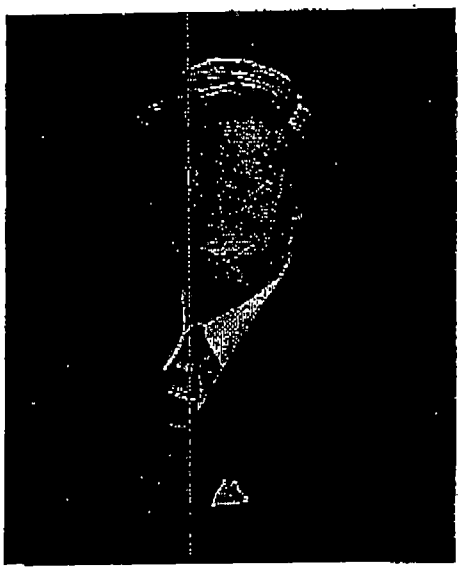
I am keenly interested in receiving an invitation to the upcoming economic forum on August 13 in Waco, Texas. I am CEO and President of a fast growing software development firm, Hansen Information Technologies, in Sacramento, California. Despite the recent downturn in the economy, Hansen continues to thrive. I believe that I offer a unique perspective on how government and private industry can work together to get the economy rolling again. Hansen is also working on a number of Homeland Security and Asset Infrastructure assurance initiatives with the FBI and CIAO as they relates to state and local government. Please accept my request to participate in your upcoming forum. I look forward to your speedy response.

Sincerely,

Charles A. Hansen

President and CEO

Hansen Information Technologies



Mr. Hansen is President and CEO of Sacramento-based Hansen Information Technologies. Founded in 1983, Mr. Hansen's client's include 34 of the 50 largest cities in the United States that have uniquely identified, assessed, and stored information on over 20 million critical assets. Client data includes 160,000 miles of railroad, 100,000 miles of roads and streets, 110,000 bridges, 100,000 miles of water & sewer main, over 2 million meters, 1.5 million manholes, 400,000 hydrants, 1 million valves, and 1 million buildings. Hansen's largest infrastructure client is the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans), where the company is currently overhauling its entire infrastructure management capability and deploying a new statewide system.

In addition to supplying information technologies that manage some of the nation's largest state and local government infrastructures, Hansen's advanced systems have recorded over 3.5 million service requests, 14 million work orders, over 6 million field inspection readings, and captured over $2.5 billion in labor, material, and equipment costs, associated with the repair, rehabilitation and replacement of infrastructure.

Mr. Hansen is a recognized expert in the field of infrastructure management and streamlining government operations, earning his B.S. from the University of California, Berkeley and M.B.A. from UCLA.

Dear Mr. Rove:

The American-Scandinavian Foundation (ASF) will hold its Annual Gala Dinner on Tuesday, October 15, 2002 at the New York Grand Hyatt Hotel, and we are most privileged to have Their Majesties King Harald V and Queen Sonja of Norway as our special guests.

At a recent meeting with Robert B. Willumstad, President of Citigroup, Inc., he mentioned the pride you take in your Norwegian heritage, and I write you now to invite you to be an Honorary Member of the Gala Dinner Committee for this memorable evening. I hope you will give serious consideration to playing a role in this event, and help the Foundation celebrate the strong bonds between Norway and America promoted by the ASF for more than 90 years.

Since its founding in 1910, the ASF has been dedicated to promoting international understanding by means of educational and cultural exchange between the United States and Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, and Sweden. To this end, the ASF carries on an extensive program of fellowships, grants, trainee placement, publishing, membership offerings, and cultural activities, as well as operating Scandinavia House: The Nordic Center in America on Park Avenue in New York City.

The Annual Gala is a unique celebration of the close bonds that exist between the five Nordic countries and the U.S. It will also be an occasion for all of us, regardless of national connections, to join our Norwegian friends and pay tribute to Their Majesties King Harald V and Queen Sonja of Norway.

As an Honorary Member of the Gala Dinner Committee, you would be asked to lend your name to the invitation and program. Furthermore, your attendance at the Gala would be a wonderful addition to the evening. In addition to our honored guests, Nordic and American leaders from the realms of politics, business and culture will join us for this important event.

Dear Mr. President,

My name is Harold Pollard - I was one of the obstetricians on the Roundtable panel on medical malpractice liability in High Point N.C. Thursday 7/25/02. I realize you may not get this letter but I thought I would write it anyway to say thank you for coming to North Carolina and thank you for taking a strong position on the liability issue.

I was impressed with your knowledge and the grasp you have of the issue. Your position and proposals are clearly in the best interest of physicians, hospitals, and other health care providers. More importantly, your position is in the best interest of patients and the public.

I must say that last Thursday along with the events of the last year have made me prouder than ever to be an American.

Thank you for all you do for all of us!

Harold Pollard

MEMORANDUM PREPARED FOR: Friends of the OSI Lecture Series

FROM: Barry Jackson

SUBJECT: Tevi Troy book

Enclosed you will find a copy of Intellectuals and the American Presidency, written by the White House's own Tevi Troy. Tevi recently spoke as part of our OSI Lecture Series. As a friend of this series, we thought you might like to have a copy of this insightful look at the modern history of the relationship between intellectuals and presidents.

We hope to see you in September when the OSI Lecture Series returns with Robert Remini, one of the foremost historians of the Jacksonian Era, and Robert Kaplan, author of Warrior Politics and Eastward to Tartary.

Dear Karl,

I was sickened by the attack that Terry McAuliffe made on GW at the Convention in Las Vegas. I don't know what the ultimate outcome of Ursula's constitutional challenge to the Foundation Agreement will be (I don't know if the Solilicitor General has had a chance to peruse it), but if successful I would have no problems in expressing my opinion, which I have already done in the newspapers, that this was the biggest fraud perpetrated on American Jewry (except of course for the stipend that is being paid for Russian Jewish emigration to Israel) by President Clinton and his Democratic Administration. The Japanese courts are paying $85,0000 apiece per slave labor. The Germans are paying $3400 and over 90% of the beneficiaries are non-US citizens and non-Jews. Restitution is another matter altogether.

As always,

Karl,

Congressman Souder asked me to forward to you the attached summary and language of legislation he introduced at the end of last session. He believes this is a functional compromise, one that he's already negotiated with Reps. Bobby Scott, Chet Edwards, and Jerry Nadler, who are original cosponsors along with Reps. Mark Green and Mark Kirk on our side. The Senate won't move without the core Dem groups in the House (e.g., Black Caucus, Jewish members, etc.), and Lieberman and Daschle are already talking with them. Mark feels that if we push any further than what's in this bill, the Dems will reject. Even hard-core conservatives are divided on the broader charitable choice issue (i.e., getting churches involved with government money), which we'll have to re-fight when we take up welfare reform reauthorization. Mark thinks we should pass the tax credit and technical assistance and scream victory. The bill consists of 2/3 of the Santorum proposal--Dems wouldn't agree to the other third (charitable choice).

If you want to discuss further, I can be reached at 225-4436, or you can call Amy Horton who's handling this at Mark's subcommittee at 225-2577.

Angela Flood
Chief of Staff
U. S. Rep. Mark Souder

Charitable Giving and Compassion Assistance Act of 2001

Overview
(12/19/01)

Title I: Charitable Giving Incentives Package

Sec. 101 Charitable Deductions for Non-itemizers
Under current law, taxpayers who take the standard deduction (i.e., who do not itemize deductions) may not deduct charitable contributions. It is estimated that over 80 million taxpayers do not itemize.

This section permits individuals who do not itemize deductions on their income-tax returns to deduct from gross income contributions made in cash to charities in the amount of $500 over ten years.

In the case of joint returns, the applicable amount is twice the amount for individuals listed above. While the Joint Tax Committee (JTC) has yet to determine a cost estimate for this provision, a more scaled-down version of this tax deduction found in H.R. 7 reduces revenue by $6.4 Billion over 10 years.

Sec. 102 Tax-free Contributions from IRAs
Under current law, there are two types of individual retirement accounts (IRAs)- traditional IRAs and Roth IRAs. Withdrawals from a traditional IRA are taxable as part of one's gross income, while withdrawals from a Roth IRA generally are not taxable. However, in some cases, withdrawals from Roth IRAs are not considered "qualified" withdrawals and are taxable to the extent attributable to earnings.

The bill permits tax-free withdrawals from a traditional or Roth IRA for qualified charitable distribution. This provision would apply only to withdrawals that are otherwise taxable and made by those at least 70 years, 6 months old. Under the measure, the charitable contribution would have to be made directly to the charity, a charitable remainder annuity trust or charitable remainder trust, a pooled income fund or a charitable gift annuity.

The JTC estimates this section will reduce revenue by $2.8 billion over 10 years

Sec. 103 Increase Cap on Corporate Deductions
This provision immediately increases the allowable percentage for corporate charitable giving to the following rates:

| Year | Applicable % |
|---|---|
| 2001 through 2005 | 15% |
| 2006 | 17% |
| 2007 | 19% |
| 2008 | 21% |

|---|---|
| 2009 | 23% |
| 2010 and thereafter | 25% |

There has not been a cost estimate regarding this provision but the provision included in HR 7 reduces revenue by $917 million over 10 years

Sec. 104 Deductions for Food and Book Inventory
Provides that any taxpayers engaged in trade or business would be eligible to claim an enhanced deduction for donations of food or book inventory.

The JTC estimates this provision (without books) to reduce revenue by $626 million over 10 years.

Sec. 105 Reform Excise Tax on Private Foundations
Replaces the two rates of tax on net investment income of private foundations with one rate at one percent.

The JTC estimates the provision will reduce revenue by $2.2 Billion over 10 years

Sec. 106 Modify Tax on Unrelated Business Taxable Income of Charitable Remainder Trusts
In lieu of removing the income tax exemption of a charitable remainder trust for any year in which the trust has any unrelated business taxable income, this provision would impose a 100% excise tax on the unrelated business taxable income of the trust. Because the effect of the excise tax would be the same as if the unrelated business taxable income had not been incurred by the charitable remainder annuity trust or charitable remainder unitrust, the provision would exclude such from the determination of:
(1) the value of a charitable remainder unitrust's assets
(2) the amount of charitable remainder unitrust income for purposes of determining the unitrust's required distributions
(3) the effect on the income character of any distributions to beneficiaries by a charitable remainder annuity trust or charitable remainder unitrust

Sec. 108 Basis Adjustment to Stock of S-Corporation
Under present law, if an S corporation contributes money or other property to a charity, each shareholder takes into account the shareholder's pro rata share of the contribution in determining its own income tax liability. A shareholder of an S corporation must reduce the basis in the stock of the S corporation by the amount of the contribution that flows through to the shareholder.

The provision would allow a shareholder in an S Corporation to increase the basis of the S corporation stock by an equal to the excess of the charitable contribution deduction that flows through to the shareholder's pro rate share of the adjusted basis of the property contributed.

Title II. Individual Development Accounts (IDAs)

Purpose

To enable working-poor families to save, build wealth, and enter the financial mainstream through the use of Individual Development Accounts, or IDAs.

Authorization Level

$1 m for FY'03 through FY'09; available until expended; for implementation of the act (reporting, monitoring, and evaluation)

Details

IDAs are matched savings accounts restricted to three uses:

- receiving post-secondary education or training
- buying a first home
- starting or expanding a small business

Individual and matching deposits are not co-mingled; Individual contributions are after-tax dollars; all matching dollars are kept in a separate, parallel account, and those dollars and earnings thereon are tax-free. When the account holder has accumulated enough savings and matching funds to purchase the asset (typically over two to four years), and has completed a financial education course, payments from the IDA will be made directly to the asset provider.

IDAs would be available to citizens or legal residents of the U.S. between the ages of 18 and 60, and whose federal AGI does not exceed $20,000 (single), $30,000 (head of household), or $40,000 (married). Eligible individuals may use their IDA for the benefit of a spouse or dependent. All IDAs must be held at a qualified financial institution, which is any financial institution eligible to hold an IRA.

Qualified financial institutions, non-profits (501(c)(3) s, Community Development Financial Institutions, credit unions, and public housing agencies), and Tribes would be eligible to run a qualified IDA program.

Savings from any source would be matched on a 1-1 basis, up to $500 per person per year. Individual contributions into an IDA would not limited. Both private sector and non-federal public funds could also be contributed to the accounts and matched in accordance with ratios set by the providers.

Financial institutions (or their contractual affiliates) would be reimbursed for all matching funds provided plus a limited amount of the program and administrative costs incurred. Specifically, the IDA Tax Credit would be the aggregate amount of all dollar-for-dollar matches provided (up to $500 per person per year) plus a $50 per account credit for accounts with balances of at least $100. The tax credits would be available between the years 2003-2009 for all accounts opened by the end of 2007

Title III. EZ Pass Recognition of Section 501(c)(3) Status

Requires the Secretary of the Treasury to adopt procedures to expedite consideration of a qualified organization's (community- based or faith-based) application for tax-exempt status under 501(c)(3) of IRS Code. Expedited procedures are limited to organizations whose primary purpose is providing social services for the poor and needy and employ no more than 4 full-time employees with an annual social service budget of not more than $300,000.

This title would also require the Secretary of the Treasury to develop model articles of incorporation, model bylaws and model application for 501(c)(3) for these small nongovernmental organizations. In addition, the Secretary would be required to provide a list to qualified small nongovernmental organizations of organizations funded under the Compassion Capital Fund (Title VI) that provide legal assistance with incorporation or tax exempt status.

Title IV. Grants for Mentoring Children of Incarcerated Parents

Purpose

To provide grants to local governments in areas where there is a substantial population of incarcerated parents. These grants will support the establishment; expansion and/or operation of public/private community organizations that offer mentoring services to children of incarcerate parents. This is a Presidential priority item.

Details

*To be eligible, the appropriate local government official must apply to HHS.

*Application requirements include:

1) a description of the program design,
2) a demonstration that the potential grantee will appropriately coordinate with all relevant federal, state and local government officials, as well as private community organizations,
3) assurances that all eligible public and private groups can participate on an equal basis,
4) assurance that grants under this section will not be used to replace funding for existing services derived from other sources, and
5) the usual record keeping, audit, report and evaluation requirements.

*The federal share of a program's total costs is restricted as follows:

80% for the first fiscal year of the grant
60% in the second fiscal year
40% in the third
20% for each fiscal year thereafter

*Amounts of grants are restricted as follows:

2/3 of individual grant amounts are capped at $5 million
1/3 can be an amount up to $10 million

*The program is authorized from FY '02 through FY '06.

*FY '02 authorization level is $67 million & such sums as necessary for FY '03 - '06.

Title V. Maternity Group Homes

Purpose

Under the Runaway and Homeless Youth Act, grant funds are available to eligible to applicants to establish programs and provide services to runaway and homeless youths.

This provision will expand the permissible uses of grants under this law to include maternity group homes.

Details

*"Maternity group home" is defined as a community-based, adult-supervised group home that provides young mothers and their children with a supportive and supervised living arrangement.

*Under this arrangement, mothers are required to learn parenting skills, including child development, family budgeting, health and nutrition, and other skills to promote their long-term economic independence and the well being of their children.

*Requires the Secretary to contract with a public or private entity to evaluate the homes supported by grants under this program. The usual reporting requirements apply.

*Maternity Group Homes program is authorized for FY '02 and FY '03.

*Authorization levels are as follows:

$33 million for FY '02
Such sums as necessary for FY '03

Notes

Amends the Transitional Living Grant Program under 42 USC 5714-2.

Title VI. Compassion Capital Fund

- Authorizes the Secretary of HHS, the Corporation for National Service (Americorps), the Attorney General, and the Secretary of HUD to award grants or enter into cooperative agreements with nongovernmental organizations to provide technical assistance to small community based organizations.

- Small CBOs are defined as up to 4 full-time employees and an annual budget of no more than $300,000.

- Technical assistance includes the following services:

(1) Grant writing and grant management assistance;
(2) Legal assistance with incorporation or assistance to obtain tax-exempt status;
(3) Information on and referrals to other nongovernmental organizations that provide expertise in accounting, legal issues, tax issues, program development, and other organizational topics;
(4) Information and assistance on capacity building;
(5) Information on and assistance in identifying and using best practices for delivering assistance to individuals and communities in need;
(6) Information on and assistance in utilizing regional intermediary organizations to increase and strengthen capabilities of community based organizations;
(7) Replicating social service programs of demonstrated effectiveness
(8) Research on the best practices of social service organizations.

- Limits grants and cooperative agreements to one per community-based organization.

- Authorization levels per department/agency:

|---|---|
| HHS | $89 M for '02 and such sums for '03 through '06 |
| Americorps | $15 M for '02 and such sums for '03 through '06 |
| DoJ | $35 M for '02 and such sums for '03 through '06 |
| HUD | $15 M for '02 and such sums for '03 through '06 |

- Total Authorization = $154 M for '02 and such sums thereafter, which is the same as the Senate Compromise draft.

- Previous funding levels for technical assistance:
  President's Budget Request $ 89 M for FY02
  Senate Labor/HHS bill $89 M for FY02
  House Labor/HHS bill $30 M for FY02
  HR 7 $25 M (introduced)
  HR 7 $50 M (with Scott amendment)

- Explicitly prohibits the use of funds under the title from being used to provide social services.

CC: Lezlee Westine, Director -Office of Public Liaison
From: Abel Guerra & Leonard Rodriguez
Date: 04/01/02
Re: Cinco de Mayo

Cinco de Mayo

History/Background

The origination for Cinco De Mayo, The Fifth of May, commemorates the defeat of the French Army by the Mexicans at The Battle Of Puebla in 1862. The holiday is celebrated throughout the Mexican State of Puebla and in many U.S. cities with a significant Mexican-American population.

Last Year at the White House

Cinco de Mayo was celebrated with a historic Fiesta on the South Lawn. Over 350 guests celebrated with President and Mrs. Bush as Mariachis, Ballet Folklorico and recording artists Pablo Montero and Talia performed. Guests also enjoyed traditional Mexican snacks prepared by the White House Chef. The event was emceed by Don Francisco and featured on his show "Sabado Gigante", the highest rated Spanish language television show in America.

This Year at the White House

May 1st-5th

- Display the work of Mexican Artists throughout the East Wing. Similar to the White House Christmas poster, we would commission an artist to design original work that will commemorate Cinco de Mayo at the White House, 2002. Poster copies of the original design will be distributed to guests and supporters.

May 3rd

- A Cinco de Mayo reception held on the State Floor with POTUS, FLOTUS and 300 guests. POTUS would give brief remarks followed by a performance by recording artist Alejandro Fernandez and a "to be determined" Mexican-American Poet/writer who will read an inspirational piece honoring the Mexican culture. Additional guests would include, Hispanic celebrities, athletes, academics, military and new political supporters.

May 5th

- T-Ball on the South Lawn will feature two predominately Hispanic teams from the NY/NJ area. The little-leaguers will celebrate Cinco de Mayo playing America's favorite pastime. A tbd Latino recording artist will perform the national anthem while the "play by play and color commentary" will be provided in English and Spanish by ESPN personalities. Hispanic athletes/celebrities will help coach 1st and 3rd base during the game.

Washington, D.C.

Dear Karl:

Thank you for taking the time to meet with me and members of our campaign staff during our visit to Washington, D.C. I know there are tremendous demands for your time, and I appreciate the opportunity to discuss Jim Ryan's candidacy for Illinois Governor with you. We have much to gain from White House involvement in our campaign. Your support is a tremendous encouragement, and I appreciate your willingness to share your insights about our campaign strategy and our fundraising program.

We are grateful to President Bush for taking the time when he is in Chicago on May 13th to lend his support to our efforts. With your assistance, I am confident that we will win in November and help put Illinois back in the Republican column in 2004.

Thank you again for your time. I look forward to working with you as we move toward victory in November.

Sincerely,

Steve

Dear Karl,

I was sickened by the attack that Terry McAuliffe made on GW at the Convention in Las Vegas. I don't know what the ultimate outcome of Ursula's constitutional challenge to the Foundation Agreement will be (I don't know if the Solilicitor General has had a chance to peruse it), but if successful I would have no problems in expressing my opinion, which I have already done in the newspapers, that this was the biggest fraud perpetrated on American Jewry (except of course for the stipend that is being paid for Russian Jewish emigration to Israel) by President Clinton and his Democratic Administration. The Japanese courts are paying $85,0000 apiece per slave labor. The Germans are paying $3400 and over 90% of the beneficiaries are non-US citizens and non-Jews. Restitution is another matter altogether.

As always,

Michael Benages

Senator Bill Frist, M.D.
NRSC Chairman

August 6, 2002

Mrs. Edward C. Amorello

PRA 6

Dear Mrs. Amorello:

I write today to ask you to be part of a select group of business and community leaders and to attend a special tribute to our Republican Senators, featuring President George W. Bush as our special guest.

The Republican Senatorial Inner Circle will host its Fall National Meeting in Washington, D.C. on September 24-25, 2002. The Fall Meeting has been scheduled in conjunction with the Eighth Annual Republican Senatorial Dinner featuring President Bush on Wednesday, September 25. I hope you will be able to join us for both events.

You are receiving this invitation today because you were recently recommended to the Republican Senate Leadership for membership in the exclusive Republican Senatorial Inner Circle as one of the 60 members from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Congratulations. I hope you will accept your invitation immediately.

The Republican Senatorial Inner Circle was chartered in 1979 as an informal sounding board for our nation's decision-makers. Former President George H.W. Bush, General Norman Schwarzkopf, former British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and Rush Limbaugh are just a few of the national and international leaders who have personally addressed the Inner Circle in the past.

Because the Inner Circle is comprised of physicians, attorneys, small business owners and responsible citizens from all across the country who pay taxes, raise families and participate in their communities, Inner Circle Members offer real-life perspective and valuable input on today's issues.

In much the same way that my years of practicing medicine have given me unique insight into legislating health care as a U.S. Senator, I know your professional and personal experience will offer our nation's leaders important insight into your area of expertise.

The Inner Circle meets at least twice a year here in Washington for Fall and Spring National Meetings. These national gatherings include a balanced mix of business and social meetings including briefings by Members of the U.S. Senate and House as well as policy experts and other party leaders on pressing issues of the day..

The Republican Senatorial Inner Circle Fall National Meeting will be held on September 24-25, 2002 at the grand and historic Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D.C. Invitations have already been sent to our nation's most notable political leaders and I know you will be impressed by the slate of panelists and speakers we gather for our Fall Meeting.

The Republican Senatorial Medal of Freedom Awards Dinner is traditionally the highlight of the Inner Circle's Fall Meeting. Each year, the Republican Senate Leadership honors a national or international public official and celebrates their accomplished career. Past Medal of Freedom recipients include former President Ronald Reagan, former British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, and Retired General Norman Schwarzkopf, among others. I know you will be thrilled to be part of this important tradition.

For 2002, the true highlight of the Fall Meeting will be the Republican Senatorial "Regain the Majority" Dinner with special guest, President George W. Bush. A sitting President has never attended this annual celebration before and the President's attendance this year sends a clear message to all Republicans.

President Bush needs us to return the Senate to Republican control in November.

Because we must deliver a Republican Senate to the President, I am making a special pre-election offer to new Inner Circle members. I have arranged for each new Inner Circle member to receive one complimentary ticket to the Republican Senatorial Dinner.

This year, tickets to the Senatorial Dinner are $2,500 each. However, I am making this special offer to encourage Inner Circle nominees to accept their invitation and join this important group in time to help our Republican Senate candidates get elected in November.

The opportunity to see the President, attend the Republican Senatorial Dinner and participate in the Medal of Freedom Dinner in a single trip to Washington is quite an extraordinary occurrence. I am delighted to be able to offer such an exciting opportunity.

However, if you are unable to attend the Republican Senatorial Dinner, I encourage you to support the Dinner's goal to Regain the Majority by signing on as a member of Team 2002. We will only achieve our goal to return Republican control of the Senate to President Bush if we work as a team....and I am hoping to have you on our side.

At the Republican Senatorial Dinner on September 25, I will personally present President Bush with a list bearing the names of every Team 2002 member who has given their support to our goal of Regaining our Republican Majority. There is no more important political challenge for President Bush than regaining the majority and I want him to know the names of every dedicated Republican who stands with him in this critical pursuit.

In addition to being included on the list, each Team 2002 member will receive a commemorative gift package in appreciation of their support. Each gift package will include a Regain the Majority Lapel Pin (which I hope you will wear to the polls on November 5) and a Team 2002 Certificate packaged in a commemorative box.

Please mark your calendar today and make plans to join us for these extraordinary events.

This strikes me as bizarre. He will not read them.

I certainly understand if you are unable to travel to Washington for this event, but know that Inner Circle membership features many benefits beyond our meetings and celebrations and even beyond special recognition opportunities like membership in Team 2002.

As an Inner Circle member, you will also receive e-mail updates alerting you to breaking political news as well as the current state of the 2002 elections and other information on Washington's political activities. In addition, you will have the full services of the Inner Circle office here in Washington available to you, including your own personal representative, and constant access to political information on both our public and members-only web sites. Further, as an Inner Circle Member, you will have the opportunity to join interactive conference calls with many Republican Senators.

Inner Circle membership lasts for one full calendar year – regardless of when you join. As a member in good standing in the Republican Senatorial Inner Circle, in addition to the Fall National Meeting and Republican Senatorial Dinner featuring President George W. Bush, you will receive special invitations to attend many of the Republican Party's most important national events.

During presidential election years, Inner Circle members are invited to attend the extraordinary celebrations that surround the Republican National Convention and the Inauguration of a Republican President. Although these events are two years away, I cannot guarantee that the Inner Circle will be accepting new members as we approach the 2004 elections. Accepting this invitation now is the only way to guarantee your membership for the next GOP Convention and Republican Presidential Inauguration.

There are many other benefits to Inner Circle membership. I have enclosed an official Inner Circle Membership Prospectus that outlines those benefits in more detail.

Losing our Republican Senate Majority last year served as a wake-up call for Republicans all across the nation. This is no time for us to be complacent.

As the November elections approach, Democrats are increasingly desperate. They know that if President Bush stays popular, they could lose the Senate. They've turned up the rhetoric, increased the attacks on our President and proven that they will stop at nothing to maintain their obstructionist control over the Senate.

It's up to us – as a Team – to defend the President and his agenda.

We are blessed with a true leader in the White House. George W. Bush is a man with a vision for the future of our country and the courage to pursue it. A future that ensures we will meet our commitments to our nation's citizens while setting a bold new course for the next generation. Our President will provide us with a strong defense, superior education system, and security for our homeland. He will continue the fight for a robust economy, job stability and lower taxes, but he needs your help. He needs a Republican Majority in the U.S. Senate.

As Chairman of the National Republican Senatorial Committee, I count on the Inner Circle to deliver the commitment and the resources we need to guarantee a Republican Majority in the United States Senate. Republican Senatorial Inner Circle dues are used to help elect and re-elect Republicans to the U.S. Senate.

I hope you will take this opportunity to become a member of the Republican Senatorial Inner Circle today. With a full membership payment of $2,000 for a single membership or $3,000 for a double membership, you can make a difference by helping to Regain a Republican Senate Majority.

And by accepting your invitation now and attending the Inner Circle Fall National Meeting, each new member will receive one complimentary ticket to the Eighth Annual Republican Senatorial Dinner featuring President George W. Bush. I am making this special offer to encourage you to send your membership dues in time to help our Republican candidates get elected on November 5. So please, don't delay.

The Senatorial Dinner, with President Bush as our special guest, will sell out. Tickets will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. To absolutely guarantee your reservations for the Senate Dinner, as well as your attendance at the Fall National Meeting, please call the Inner Circle at (800) 877-6773 and receive your confirmation code today. A nominal conference fee will required for Fall Meeting attendance.

Even if you cannot join the Inner Circle today, I strongly encourage you to send a contribution of $500, $250 or whatever you can to support our campaigns to return a Republican Senate Majority to President Bush in the November elections.

With your contribution of $100 or more, you may officially join Team 2002 and receive the special Team 2002 gift package including a Certificate and a Regain the Majority Lapel Pin. Your contribution will also keep your invitation to join the Inner Circle active, in case you choose to join at a later date.

Membership in the Inner Circle is limited. If you are interested in joining this influential group, and attending our exclusive national events, including the first-ever Senatorial Dinner with President George W. Bush, please return your RSVP and your membership dues or special contribution right away to guarantee your space.

It is my goal to be sure you are always proud of the support you give the Inner Circle and I know you will be proud of the role you play in removing bitterly partisan Democrats from their leadership positions in the U.S. Senate.

I hope you will take advantage of this exceptional opportunity and join us by calling the Inner Circle office and returning your RSVP card in the next few days. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Bill Frist

Senator Bill Frist, M.D.
Chairman

P.S. Please take a moment to review the material I have enclosed. I believe you will be a valuable member of the Inner Circle and I look forward to exchanging ideas and experiences with you.

Regardless of whether you can attend Inner Circle National Meetings or the Republican Senatorial Dinner, I hope you will return the enclosed RSVP Card right away with your full membership dues of $2,000 per person or $3,000 per couple. Even if you cannot join at this time, I urge you to return a contribution of $500, $250 or whatever you can to support our goal to Regain the Majority and to join Team 2002.

The Honorable Karl Rove
Senior Adviser and Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, DC 20502

Dear Karl:

I am writing to ask a favor—that you meet with the AEI Board of Trustees and others here sometime on Thursday, December 12, 2002, the day of our annual Board meeting.

We will be holding a series of policy briefings during the day—a sort of mini-World Forum involving the trustees and their spouses, a few outside guests (mainly our largest financial supporters), and AEI scholars. You could give remarks at breakfast or lunch or during the morning or early afternoon—or a dinner talk at our Chairman's Dinner in the evening. All the sessions will be private and off the record. A list of our trustees is attached.

In all events I hope that you and your wife might attend our Chairman's Dinner in the evening, which is usually an interesting and festive affair and includes several friends from the government. I should mention that I have also invited Don Rumsfeld to give the dinner talk at the Chairman's Dinner.

I would be very grateful to you if you were able to participate, in any way that suited your schedule, in this highly important day in the AEI calendar.

Many thanks for considering.

Yours cordially,

Chris

Since 1862 there have been 15 midterm elections during the first-term of a Republican president in the White House.
-Democrats averaged a 34-seat pick-up in the House in those midterms.
-Republicans averaged a 28-seat loss in the House in those midterms.

Since 1922 (when the House went to 435 seats) there have been 6 midterm elections during the first-term of a Republican president in the White House.
-Democrats averaged a 32-seat pick-up in the House in those midterms.
-Republicans averaged a 32-seat loss in the House in those midterms.

The last time Democrats failed to pick-up House seats against a first-term GOP president was 1878 when Rutherford B. Hayes was in the White House; independents took 6 seats from Democrats and 9 nine seats from Republicans that year.

The ONLY time Republicans gained House seats with a first term president was in 1902, and that was only because the size of Congress expanded 29 seats (from 356 to 385); Republicans gained 9 seats, but Democrats gained 25 seats that year.

Dear Karl,

I will be in DC for most of next week working on a new ACU project – the National Lawsuit Abuse Task force – a project designed to unite the action of all interested parties on this subject.

I would enjoy a opportunity to discuss this with you briefly, and also introduce you to our new Executive Director, Chuck Muth.

If you had ten minutes open on your schedule next Wednesday or Thursday (11/6, 11/7) (after we keep the House and get the Senate back of course), we would be delighted to stop by briefly.

Please let me know if this is at all possible next week.

Hope all is well with you – and that you have some time to stop and smell the pumpkins tomorrow night!

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

K.

Mr. Karl Rove
Senior White House Advisor
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, D.C. 20502

Dear Mr. Rove:

I am pleased and excited that you will consider delivering the 2002 Rocco C. Siciliano Lecture at the University of Utah. The forum's inspiration comes from Mr. Siciliano's extensive involvement in both the public and private sectors. He served as Assistant Secretary of Labor and then Special Assistant to President Eisenhower and later Under Secretary of Commerce for President Nixon. Currently, Mr. Siciliano chairs the Dwight D. Eisenhower Memorial Commission.

We are extraordinarily proud that a former University of Utah student and Hinckley Institute intern has risen to your position of respect and trust as a key member in the inner circle of advisers to the President of the United States. Thus, I would be deeply honored if you could present the keynote address for this influential forum that has developed into a premiere event for the University of Utah. Anthologies from recent Siciliano Lectures are enclosed.

We will work to schedule the 2002 Siciliano Lecture to fit your availability and convenience, but want it to occur between the 2002 elections and the last day of fall classes on December 5th. The best dates for us, listed in order of preference are: Monday, November 18; Wednesday, November 13; Wednesday, November 20; Monday, November 25; Monday, December 2; Tuesday, November 12; and Thursday, November 14. If none of these dates is convenient, we can discuss alternatives.

We will coordinate scheduling and travel details through your assistant. We hope you will be able to arrive in Salt Lake City in the late afternoon on the day before the Siciliano Lecture and leave either the evening following your lecture and the follow-up panel discussion at the Hinckley Institute of Politics, or the next morning. Steven Ott, Dean of the College of Social and Behavioral Science, will be your primary contact at the University of Utah for these events. Dean Ott and his staff will handle all arrangements for you and any others who may join you. I will ask him to make contact with your assistant in the next few days. I have also enclosed his business card.

Karl, we would be very pleased for you to deliver the 2002 Rocco C. Siciliano Lecture. This will be a wonderful occasion for us, and we trust for you also. Thank you again on behalf of the University of Utah community.

Sincerely,

J. Bernard Machen

Rocco C. Siciliano Forum

Considerations on the Status of the American Society

The Siciliano Lecture is the cornerstone of the annual Rocco C. Siciliano Forum. The lecture defines and shapes the issues and debates for other Siciliano Forum events that will surround and support your lecture. These will include a dinner to honor you as the Siciliano Lecturer, special courses offered in the Department of Political Science, and panels and colloquia at the Hinckley Institute of Politics. We particularly hope that you will be able to participate on an always-lively panel discussion at the Hinckley Institute, hosted by Ted Wilson immediately following your lecture.

In your lecture, we hope that you will address the implications of the changes in demographics in the United States on political processes. Population changes have attracted widespread public attention this year in Utah because of the dramatic 2000 census findings, redistricting, and the media coverage that the 2001 Siciliano Forum and Alejandro Portes attracted. Also, Rocco Siciliano is a second-generation immigrant who has had a life-long fascination with the political, social, and economic effects of immigration and changing demographics. Thus, this topic would please him greatly. You know well that this suggestion leaves considerable latitude to address a variety of rich issues including, for example, the politics of the "new demographics" in the U.S., and ethnic-related political initiatives and strategies. If this area does not fit well with your interests, however, we will be glad to talk with you about alternatives.

We look forward to offering an exciting set of programs around your lecture in collaboration with the Siciliano family, the Department of Political Science, the Hinckley Institute of Politics, and the College of Social and Behavioral Science, including the panel discussion at the Hinckley Institute of Politics.

Subject: Airline Itinerary for Mr. Rove

Ms. Ralston,

Please find two attachments to this email with Mr. Rove's travel itinerary. He will be leaving Dulles on Tuesday, November 12 at 2:00PM on United #435 connecting through Denver and arriving in Salt Lake City at 6:38PM. This is a change from the original information. The United #1295 was cancelled. The #435 flight leaves 25 minutes earlier. If there is a problem with this change, please let me know.

The second attachment is the return flight. He will be on Delta #1800 leaving Salt Lake City at 4:40PM and arriving at Dulles at 10:35PM.

These attachments serve as Mr. Rove's electronic tickets and he will need to take a copy of them to the airport.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need me to make any changes. I look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,
Becky Murphy

2002 Rocco C. Siciliano Forum

Considerations on the Status of the American Society

Mr. Karl Rove

Senior Advisor and Assistant to President George W. Bush

Wednesday, November 13th

Topic of the Lecture: We hope that you will address the implications of the changes in demographics in the United States on political processes. Population changes have attracted widespread public attention this year in Utah because of the dramatic 2000 census findings, congressional redistricting nationally and in Utah, and the media coverage that the 2001 Siciliano Lecture by Professor Alejandro Portes attracted.

Also, as a second-generation immigrant, Rocco Siciliano has had a life-long fascination with the political, social, and economic effects of immigration and changing demographics. Thus, this topic would please him greatly. You know well that this suggestion leaves considerable latitude to address a variety of rich issues including, for example, the politics of the "new demographics" in the U.S., and ethnic-related political initiatives and strategies.

If this area does not fit well with your interests, however, we will be glad to talk with you about alternatives.

We look forward to your visit and to an exciting lecture. All events will be coordinated with the Siciliano family, the Department of Political Science, the Hinckley Institute of Politics, and the College of Social and Behavioral Science. A preliminary schedule is attached.

Ms. Susan Ralston
Executive Assistant to Mr. Karl Rove
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Susan:

Attached is our draft of the plans for the 2002 Siciliano Forum. As you can see, we have Mr. Rove arriving in Salt Lake City on Tuesday, November 12, at 9:02 p.m. The schedule for Wednesday is crowded but it will allow him to return to Washington, D.C. on Wednesday evening. We have two first-class tickets reserved for these flights.

No

As you can imagine, we are most excited about Karl's visit and hope to begin publicizing the Forum as soon as you confirm the schedule.

Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

J. Bernard Machen

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20502

October 24, 2002

MEMORANDUM FOR DOUG HOLTZ-EAKIN

FROM: BOB CARROLL AND ADAM SAUNDERS

SUBJECT: State fiscal distress and state spending behavior

It has been widely reported that state governments have been subject to increasing fiscal distress due to a sharp down turn in revenues. For the first quarter of 2002, total state tax revenue was down 7.9 percent from a year earlier. The second quarter year-over-year decline is even larger – 10.9 percent.

The National Conference of State Legislators' estimates that in FY 2003, 14 states will have a budget gap, a measure of state fiscal distress, of 10 percent or more as a percent of their general fund budget. All states, however, are not facing severe distress – in FY 2003, 8 states are estimated to have no budget gap and another 5 states are estimated to have a budget gap of less than 1 percent.

States that anticipated the transitory nature of the revenue surge of the late 1990s, and put aside revenue in so-called "rainy day" funds, appear to be in a much better position, in contrast to states with substantial spending increases and tax cuts in recent years.

An analysis of current state revenue gap and state spending and revenue patterns during the last decade reveals that the states facing the greatest distress are those states that allowed spending growth to rise and revenue growth to fall during the late 1990s relative to their historical growth. In contrast, states that maintained spending and revenue growth at levels more consistent with their historical growth appear not to be facing severe fiscal distress.

State Budget Gap

The figure below considers whether the state budget gap (as a percent of the general fund) is, on average, higher for states with higher spending growth and lower revenue growth during 1997 through 2000, the period of the surge in state revenue, relative to their historical spending and revenue growth. The average state budget gap is a measure of state fiscal distress reported by the National Conference of State Legislators.

States are divided into two groups depending on whether they had high or low expenditure growth from 1997-2000 relative to their expenditure growth for the entire decade. The same grouping is done based on revenues, and the average state budget gap is reported for each combination on the chart shown below.

The pattern that emerges is that states with low revenue growth and high spending growth in the late 1990s, relative to their historical growth, are more likely to experience distress than states that kept spending and revenue growth in line with historical norms. In FY 2002, states with high spending growth and low revenue growth faced an average 11.6 percent budget gap. In contrast, low-spending states with high revenue growth faced only a 5.3 percent budget gap in FY 2002. A similar relationship is found for the 2003 budget gap and is confirmed in a more detailed statistical analysis.

Fiscal Year 2002

| Revenue Growth \ Expenditure Growth | Low | High |
|---|---|---|
| Low | 5.417 states | 11.68 states |
| High | 5.38 states | 6.317 states |

Fiscal Year 2003

| Revenue Growth \ Expenditure Growth | Low | High |
|---|---|---|
| Low | 5.916 states | 14.27 states |
| High | 3.58 states | 8.316 states |

*Projections for Indiana, Kentucky and Maine were unavailable for FY2003

MEMORANDUM

DATE: 6 November 2002
TO: Susan Ralston,
Executive Assistant to the Senior Advisor to the President
FROM: Claire Taplett, Deputy Director
Reference: Gift #208751 from Mr. Richard McElroy to the Senior Advisor of Two books by donor: "American Presidents and First Ladies, Vol. 3" and "James A. Garfield: His Life and Times"; together with a framed picture of a book jacket for donor's book "William McKinley and Our Country" and a mortgage note signed by McKinley.

Dear Susan,

As I reviewed the items on Mr. Rove's shelf, I found the two cited books that should have been returned to your office back in June together with the framed print. At the time I was so concerned about the safe return of the print that I overlooked this other part of Mr. McElroy's gift. Attached are relevant paperwork copies supporting the return of these items to your office.

I apologize for any inconvenience this has caused.

On an unrelated matter, I still have a number of "pending" gift items for Mr. Rove for which I am seeking clarification from counsel on both decision and disposition recommendation. A number of these unresolved items date back to the spring prior to Ms. Everson's arrival. I just wanted to assure you they have not been forgotten.

With kind regards,

Claire

Karl - thanks for the prompt reply. Lets look forward to November and we can try for what looks good in early December to see the White House. Thank you for the offer.

If you coul dhave an assistant let me know the plans for November I will plan for that day and we can get together sometime. I can see with mid-term elections it will be a hectic time - good luck with al of that.

Thanks

Scott

I am coming to the U in Nov and would love to see you then.

As to coming to DC, why not wait until Dec (the election will make my Oct crazy and I will be on the road most of the month) and in Dec, I can get you a nifty tour of the WH and its spectacular decorations.

Subject: Visit to SLC !!

I was a t alocal political fundraiser last night. The director for KUED mentioned that you were coming to SLC to make speech sometime in November ?? Karen and I woul dlove to visit with you or do dinner if you had any time.

We haven't made a Washington visit yet - is October a time to visit where you had any openings or when is a good time.

Hope all is well with you. Please tell the powers to be they need to stop the ILWU strike if it happens - my future hangs in the balance. I don't think the public realizes how fast the shelves at WalMart and Target would empty if that went on for long.

The Queens County Republican leadership supports President Bush's move to depose Saddam Hussein from power in Iraq

On behalf of the Queens County Republican Party, Chairman Serf Maltese and Vice-chairs Vincent Tabone and Phil Ragusa have sponsored and endorsed a resolution supporting President Bush's plans for a preemptive strike against Saddam Hussein and his arsenal of nuclear and biological weapons.

Attached hereto is copy of the resolution.

Chairman Senator Maltese: "As both Americans and as New Yorkers, we stand in solidarity with the President as he rightfully seeks to rid America and the free world of dangerous regimes that have harbored terrorists and sponsored terrorist attacks upon our country. It is imperative that President Bush receives bipartisan cooperation and support so that a despot like Saddam Hussein is prevented from using weapons of mass destruction against the free world. This resolution shows that the Queens County Republican Party supports the President's decision to use force against this vile dictatorship."

Vice- Chairman Phil Ragusa: "It is unfortunate and disappointing that the New York State Democratic Party opposes the preemptive war in Iraq and unwittingly allows this Iraqi regime to further increase its nuclear and biological capability inevitably posing an ominous threat to the security of New Yorkers and the rest of America. I would ask that they reconsider their September 23rd resolution in which they expressed disagreement with President Bush's decision for regime change."

Vice- Chairman Vincent Tabone: "This is not a time for rank partisanship. We, as Americans first, should stand united behind our President to ensure that tyrannical governments do not threaten the security of American citizens by continuing to actively sponsor terrorist acts here and abroad."

RESOLUTION

TO SUPPORT OUR PRESIDENT- GEORGE W. BUSH

In recognition of the grave and increasing danger presented by the ongoing illegal conduct of the Iraqi Dictatorship and its active weapons of mass destruction development and procurement programs. The Queens County Republican Committee resolves to publicly support, acclaim and voice our solidarity with President George W. Bush and his efforts to effect regime change. Furthermore, The Queens County Republican Committee urges the United States Congress to act in a bipartisan fashion and in the national interest to quickly and conscientiously pass a resolution ratifying our Commander-in-Chief's constitutionally mandated responsibility to take all necessary steps to protect the health, welfare and common defense of the United States of America. Such a resolution must appreciate the need to act preemptively rather than reactively because the Iraqi Dictatorship is known to have supported terrorist groups monetarily and logistically and has used biological and chemical weapons against minority citizens within its own state and against its enemies.

[It was felt necessary that the Queens County Republican Party put itself on record in support of President George W. Bush to counter any impression that the citizenry of New York State are not behind the President and the Congress and our Troops; given the unfortunate and ill-timed resolution passed by the New York State Democratic Committee opposing preemptive strike against Iraq adopted by hundreds of delegates at the party's semiannual meeting in Syracuse on Monday September 23rd].

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN

The President
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. President:

Just a note to tell you how pleased and appreciative I am, both personally and on behalf of the people of the state of Louisiana, to have had the assistance of the Department of Justice in the settlement of the longest standing desegregation case in the country.

Quite often the boss does not get letters complimenting his staff but that is exactly what this is. Attorney General John Ashcroft honored his commitment to me and helped us to conclude a very complicated desegregation lawsuit in Louisiana. It goes without saying that 48-year-old lawsuits have no rational reason to exist. Rational or not, they exist unless people of goodwill take time to make a real effort to wind them up.

My good friend and yours, my executive counsel Bernie Boudreaux, and Bob Driscol, attorney for the Department of Justice, did what most thought was impossible. People in Louisiana are ecstatic, especially those in East Baton Rouge Parish, and your administration deserves a lot of the credit.

Thank you for having people like John Ashcroft in your cabinet.

Sincerely,

M.J. "Mike" Foster, Jr.

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN

President George W. Bush
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. President,

You have honored not only those of us in leadership of The Salvation Army who had the privilege of meeting with you this recently, but also the thousands of officers and volunteers on the front lines of service of The Salvation Army.

Thank you for allowing us the opportunity to meet with you in the Oval Office and share something of the ministry and service that takes place daily by the Salvation Army on behalf of God's love for mankind.

It was an honor to share those moments in prayer with you, as you are daily brought to God in prayer by thousands of people, many of whom are Salvationists.

We are grateful to God for the moral character and strength of leadership that you bring to your position and pledge to you, as our country's leader, the ongoing support of The Salvation Army

May God bless you.

Sincerely,

W. Todd Bassett

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN

June 9, 2003

Dear Mr. President,

My wife Patti and I would like to thank you for your recent letter to our little girl, Annie. Annie is now two months old and she has brought great joy to our family.

We really appreciate your thoughtfulness. With Annie, we are now blessed, like you and Mrs. Bush, with two daughters. Best Regards,

State of Illinois

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN

President George W. Bush
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, D.C. 20502

Dear President Bush:

Thank you so much for the privilege and the honor of having the Ladies' Home Journal editorial team to the White House for our meeting with you and the First Lady. I'm especially appreciative of the generous amount of time you allowed us for both the photo shoot and the interview by Peggy Noonan, both of which I felt went terrifically well, and I hope you agree.

This was an historic opportunity for Ladies' Home Journal, and I know that our 13 million readers across the country will feel similarly privileged to learn your thoughts on everything from fatherhood to life in America post 9-11. I believe your staff has indicated that our October issue (hitting newsstands 9-9), of which you and Mrs. Bush will grace the cover, will include a special dedicated section on the lives of women who have tried to fashion some positive outcome, for themselves and the nation, from the Trade Center tragedy.

On a very personal note, I do want to share that my father was a Marine in the Korean War, and went on to serve as a New York City police officer for 33 years before he retired. He was particularly moved and proud that his daughter, as Editor-in-Chief of Ladies' Home Journal, was able to meet with the President of the United States, on this, the second anniversary of 9-11. So I thank you, also, for that.

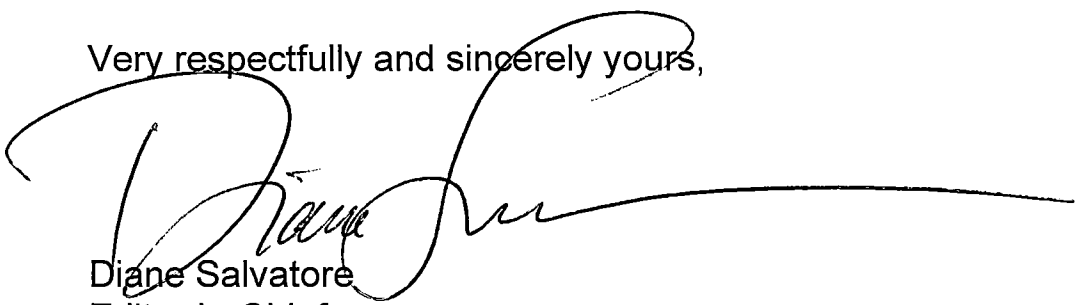
I look forward to being able to send you Ladies' Home Journal's October 2003 issue.

Very respectfully and sincerely yours,



Diane Salvatore

(Translation)

June 24, 2003

Dear Friend,

I am delighted, on behalf of myself, the people of Afghanistan and the Transitional Islamic State of Afghanistan, to convey my most sincere wishes to Your Excellency and the people of the United States of America, on the occasion of your National Independence Day, 4th of July.

As you are well aware, our nation together with the international community has aimed to restore rule of law in order to bring an atmosphere of peace and stability and to create a civil society based on democracy and social justice. The strengthening of peace and stability in Afghanistan will serve as a beneficial factor in maintaining regional and global peace and security.

The people of Afghanistan highly appreciate the active participation of the United States of America for its efforts in establishing a civil society, restoring peace and stability which would enhance the reconstruction process of Afghanistan.

We wish for continued cooperation by the United States of America in bringing peace and stability and to ending terrorism, which will result in the strengthening of relations between the peoples of our two countries.

In the end, availing myself of this opportunity, I wish Your Excellency much success, good health and the well being and prosperity of the people of the United States.

Respectfully,

(Signed) Hamid Karzai
President of the Transitional Islamic State of Afghanistan
Kabul – Afghanistan

EMBASSY OF PAKISTAN
3517 International Court, N.W.
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20008
Tel: (202) 243-6500

No.Pol-1/13/2003

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN 6/26/03

June 23, 2003

The Embassy of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan presents its compliments to the U.S. Department of State and has the honor to forward a message of greetings from the President of Pakistan to the President of the United States of America on the occasion of the Independence Day of the USA falling on July 4, 2003.

Begins

"Excellency,

I have the pleasure in conveying to you warm greetings and felicitations on the occasion of the Independence Day of the United States of America.

Bilateral relations between our two countries are of long-standing and are characterized by mutual respect and shared interests. It is our consistent endeavour that this important relationship is further augmented to the mutual benefit of our two peoples.

Our common objectives are also characterized by our quest for peace and stability in our region and our joint struggle in the global war against terrorism, to which we are firmly committed. We deeply appreciate the U.S. role in defusing tensions in our region and in the revival of the Pakistan-India dialogue process.

I take this opportunity to convey my very best wishes for your health and happiness and for the everlasting progress and prosperity of the people of the United States of America.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.

General Pervez Musharraf
President of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan

Ends"

His Excellency Mr. George W. Bush,
President of the United States of America.

It is requested that the above message may be conveyed to its high destination.

The Embassy of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the US Department of State the assurances of its highest consideration.

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN
6·27·03

Honorable Mr. George W. Bush
President of the United States of America

Your Excellency,

I write this letter to you as a token of my esteem for your cause. I am a friend of your father's, since the days when we lived in China. In you, I see many similarities in temperament and values. Your fight for freedom has enlightened many people globally, and though many are opposed to it, you have stood by your cause and are willing to go to any extreme to attain your quest for justice, humanity, and peace. Only a man of integrity can endure such a battle, and you have proven to the world that you are that man. I speak on behalf of the majority of Kuwaitis, who lived under barbaric circumstances during the invasion of Kuwait. Seven months of occupation under the tyrannical regime of a brutal dictator. Your father is a hero to our country, and now, you have become a hero to our country and Iraq. I wish you the best of luck in all your endeavors as you are a competent and sincere leader worthy of admiration.

Yours sincerely,

Qasim Omar Al Yagout
(Former Ambassador of Kuwait to Italy)

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN

Dear Mr. President and Mrs. Bush,

Thank you so very much for hosting Sally and I and the many other members of the Yale class of '68 at the White House last Thursday evening. It was a thrill for both of us, and I heard many similar comments from our classmates over the weekend.

Mr. President, to take time out of your schedule to host that event was truly extraordinary. I am well aware you were there over 5 hours, had little or nothing to eat or drink, and had a rather important trip early the next morning. I did not want to take up your time during the receiving line, but please know how much we appreciate all you have done and continue to do for our country. Our thoughts and prayers are with you as you continue your difficult task.

Mrs. Bush, please accept our special thanks for co hosting the event. In just the few moments we had to greet you, you made us immediately feel comfortable and welcome.

Again, we thank you both for your graciousness and hospitality. It was an experience we will treasure.

Sincerely,

Mike Buckley

Dear Mr. President and First Lady,

It was both thoughtful and generous of you to share the great privilege of the White House and your Presidency with your classmates. It was a unique and unforgettable overture to a thoroughly satisfying Class of 1968 35TH reunion. My wife Adele Ernst Wick, and I had a marvelous and magical time visiting with classmates/wives and seeing the storied rooms of the White House. Regardless of what pundits and (jealous) members of the media have opined about your relationship with Yale, I have witnessed with my own eyes your extraordinary generosity of spirit, visiting non-stop with our class from 5:00 pm until nearly 10:20 pm without a crumb of food or a drop to drink. And to think that shortly thereafter you boarded Air Force One to fly to Cracow, then Evian for the G8 Summit...

Thanks ever so much for our visit to the White House, but more especially for your strong, indefatigable leadership in, arguably, the most challenging moral and ethical crises here and abroad during any Presidency of our lifetime. You both have been continuously in my thoughts and prayers since September 11.

In the "small world" department, you might be interested to know that I was in charge of the Portsmouth (NH) Bush 41 Medical team, on call whenever your father and mother flew into Pease AFB en route to Walker's Point. Met Air Force One on several occasions and know how quickly to prostrate myself on the tarmac if the SS or CAT teams get "nervous"...

Finally, welcome as a fellow '68 Whiff! I love your nickname "Jermezda" authored by Robert Guthrie, but bobbled long and hard for my "Epluri" in reference to "Epluribus unum", which, though not as cynical and irreverent as most Whiff nicknames, struck me as being Presidential and poetic, reflecting the broad and strong consensus you have achieved.

Respectfully and gratefully yours,

Rick

Clinton Frederick "Marsh" Miller

P.S. Please extend my thanks to White House Social Secretary, Cathy Fenton & her staff, Jeanne and others who were most cordial and informative.

This is just to let you know how much I, and all of the members of our class, appreciated your willingness to host the reunion dinner at the White House on May 29th. If anything, the rain, and the move of the event indoors, only added to the festive nature of the occasion. Your presence and willingness to spend as much time with the class as you did, was absolutely wonderful!

For my wife, Beth, and I, it was a special occasion which we will long remember.

Thank you again.

Dear Mr. President and Mrs. Bush,

The '68 Reunion at the White House was the best reunion I have ever been dragged to (Jeff's or my own)! We enjoyed every minute of our time with so many friends in such a majestic setting.

It was a real honor to shake both of your hands (and to have the President graciously pose for yet another picture)! We have been great admirers of President G.H.W. Bush and Mrs. Bush over the years but we are overwhelmed by your determination to seek office and restore dignity, integrity and humility to the White House.

We support you and salute you.

The Alamo

Mission San Antonio de Valero, later to become famous as the Alamo, was established in 1718. It was founded in San Antonio to Christianize and educate resident Indians. In 1836 the Alamo became the setting for a seige lasting 13 days which cost the lives of all 189 Texas volunteers, among them such renowned names as William Travis, Davy Crockett, and Jim Bowie. The brave troops who gave their lives here in defiance of insurmountable odds provided the time necessary for other courageous Texans to gather near Houston for the battle of San Jacinto. There under the leadership of Sam Houston, the Mexican army was routed and Santa Anna was captured ending the war and ensuring the liberty of settlers in the area from Mexican rule.

Mr. President,

So many of your classmates are with you 100% (and the yellow dog Dems don't matter!).

I'm doing the annual Andover Fund solicitations, and want to thank you for your contribution already made. Last year you contributed to your dad's scholarship and made an annual fund contribution, which went toward this year.

Your participation is much appreciated.

One day we hope you and Clay can join our now annual golf outing. This year we're going to Tahoe for 3 days of golf. 14 guys, including Hobson (France), Tony Bryant (Toronto), Steve Spare (N.C.), Vermin, Cathcarts, Peter Smith, Pfeifle (Texas), Tony Sapienza (Mass.). Pfeifle is the Commish, assigning handicaps.
Great fun.

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN 6/23/03

Dear Mr. President,

It was great to have the opportunity to spend time with you and the First Lady. You are wonderful hosts and we really enjoyed the chance to have a nice visit. We miss you in Austin and it's been far too long since we had a chance to catch up.

Here is the fishing shirt I promised and also a great summer read.

If you have a chance to visit Austin Golf Club this summer, Ben and I would love to have you - or if you need some playing partners in Waco we'll try to keep up. Ben could use some inspiration right now.

Please let us know if we can be of service.

Best regards,

Scotty

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN

The President
The White House

Dear Mr. President —

I want to thank you for the time you so graciously spent with my son and me when we were recently in Washington. John Charles was overwhelmed by the opportunity to meet you and by the entire Oval Office experience, a true story for his grandchildren. Surely no other intern can boast of a briefing on world affairs given by the President! His father was no less overwhelmed, as always, by his friend, The President of the United States of America.

I am grateful for the positive and encouraging remarks you made regarding my service as your Ambassador to Costa Rica. Embassy Costa Rica continues to strongly advance the CAFTA negotiations, the establishment of the International Law Enforcement Academy here in Costa Rica as the Western Hemispheric headquarters for combating transnational crime and our Bilateral Counter-Drug Maritime Agreement. President Pacheco's doctors have sent him home today as a result of high blood pressure and general fatigue but he is expected to be back on the job soon.

Irene and I, and of course our son John Charles, wish you and the First Lady all the very best.

With warm regards,

Sincerely,

John Danilovich

Dear Mr. President,

On behalf of Sylvia and myself, I want to thank you, George, for your and Laura's kindness and generosity in opening the White House to your Yale classmates on May 29th last.

Your and Laura's warmth and easy grace as host and hostess made us feel welcome - indeed, made me feel as if the years between us since Yale and DKE were but a few instead of thirty-five.

I mentioned that both of us are so very proud of all you both have done, the examples you have set and the leadership-by-doing that characterizes your role. Your welcoming presence at the White House reunion, given all that you've been preparing for, was a gift that we both feel fortunate to have received.

I can only trust that you might consider a similar get-together at our 40th - toward the end of your second term. If I can be helpful in your campaign even now for '04, perhaps your staff can point me in the right direction for ways I can contribute. It would be a privilege.

Sincerely, and with all good wishes for you and Laura and your family,

Barry

Re: Yale Class of 1968 Reunion

Dear President and Mrs. Bush,

I write to express my gratitude and appreciation for your gracious hospitality in opening your home to my wife Linda and me, and some 1,000-plus others in our reunion class and their guests, on Thursday, May 29. We left for, and arrived, in New Haven the next day bursting with pleasure and excitement following the event. The Class of '68 was the envy of all other reunion classes.

You were most gracious to host the event, particularly given the President's critically important trip scheduled for the very next morning. We were pleased to see him relaxing with his old friends before undertaking such an important task. And we were very impressed with the professionalism and warmth of the White House Staff, who treated us all as favored guests.

It was great fun. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Steve Finley

Dear Mr. President:

This is a thank you note for your extraordinary hospitality in opening the White House to the Yale Class of 1968 Reunion.

As a former Baseball Team Owner how many times can you remember a rain date that worked out better than the original plan? I am pleased for all of our class that the rain forced the event into the White House. Your hospitality in opening the White House to 1,000 people was exceptional. Plus the circumstances showed off your amazing stamina.

The balance of the Reunion was set in motion by your party. As you went off to Poland and Russia, the Class's conversation keyed off of the privilege and the stimulation of starting the weekend by being with you at the White House. You will remember that Michael Mandelbaum of Johns Hopkins' SAIS could hardly be called a Republican. I thought that a comment that me made captured the sense of it. He concluded a seminar on foreign policy with the comment:

"I have two things to say. First, we certainly wouldn't want anyone from Harvard making foreign policy! And, second, say what you will, George Bush has already made himself into one of the major Presidents in American history on the basis of what he has done so far."

Mr. President I look forward to the rest. Please call on me anytime if I can be helpful. I will continue to look for ways that I can contribute to the cause and I will stay in touch.

Sincerely yours,

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN

Dear Mr. President:

As one of the members of the Yale Class of 1968 who attended dinner at the White House on May 29, I would like to express my sincere thanks to you for opening your home to your classmates. For a man whose responsibilities are so great and whose time is so scarce, it was a truly gracious thing to do. But that comes as no surprise to me. That is the kind of person you are and, I suspect, one of the reasons you are our President.

Everything about the occasion was memorable. It was the most efficiently-run social affair that I have ever seen. One thousand people never had to wait for food or drink. There was always a cheerful person at hand to assist your guests in any way they wished. For that your military aides deserve great credit. The security, though unobtrusive, was both broad and deep—as it certainly ought to be. Your home is lovely, and I appreciate the fact that you opened up much more of it to your classmates than most visitors to the White House ever get to see. Finally, if you will excuse a politically incorrect observation, I was struck by how handsome a couple are you and the First Lady. Mrs. Bush especially, whom I watched standing on a small balcony talking to a friend below, was stunning. Television images are no substitute for a personal appearance.

On a more serious note, I am grateful that the nation's chief executive is a man of vision, principle, candor, and determination. With these characteristics, you have confounded both America's cynical allies and its enemies and by so doing have significantly increased the security of this country. I am proud to be your classmate and proud to be a citizen of the United States during your administration.

Dear Mr. President and Mrs. Bush,

Thank you, thank you, thank you! My wife, Gwen, and I want to thank you both so very much for making the effort to have our 1968 class reunion dinner at the White House. It was so very good to see you again, Mr. President, and to see that you have lost none of that personal warmth and friendliness that you had at Yale. Both Gwen and I were sure that we would receive a hospitable welcome , but we were astounded by your willingness to mix with the crowd, to talk with us, have your photos taken, and to graciously put up with some of the silly antics and remarks.

As an American Studies major at Yale, just being in the White House was a moving experience, but you personal attention and warmth made it an unforgettable night. I especially treasure the opportunity that we had to talk about world poverty for even a brief few minutes. Please do put even more emphasis on the USA helping out.

Again, we are truly appreciative for the wonderful personal attention that you gave to us and for your inviting us and our Yale class to the White House for the reunion dinner. We have voted for you, donated what little we can and prayed for you both. We will continue with renewed fervor.

If there are ways that we can help out, do please let us know.

Dear Mr. President:

Thank you and Mrs. Bush for inviting our Yale Class of 1968 to dinner at The White House on May 29th. It was a pleasure for me and my 11-year old son Geoffrey Goddard to attend. Geoffrey particularly enjoyed looking into the Oval Office and seeing all the portraits of former Presidents of this country. I know that everyone present appreciated the opportunity to visit The White House in such an informal and congenial atmosphere.

Our classmate Don Etra (with whom I am close friends) told me that he is very pleased to have been appointed a Director of the Holocaust Museum and also to have made a recent trip to Poland on your behalf. Don is certainly one of the finest members of our class.

If your staff has a moment, my son Geoffrey would greatly appreciate a note from you acknowledging his special visit to The White House.

Dear George and Laura,

Wow! Fantastic! Over the top! The Yale Class of '68 reunion party was truely wonderful. What a great environment to renew old friendships and socialize. The paintings and decor were inspiring and rekindled my sense of patriotism. The flower arrangements were awesome, the food was tastey and our hosts were so relaxed and personable.

George, when you told me at Yale that you were playing rugby, I was impressed because it takes a lot of courage and toughness to play that sport. I still admire your toughness and courage, and now I also admire your generosity. Thank you again for the great White House bash!
